SALE OF NAVAL VESSELS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
Feb'ruary 27, 1877.

The Navy Department will offer for sale at public auction the following named vessels:

At the United States Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., on Tuesday, the 27th of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock, M., the U. S. Ship "SARNE" of 1,475 tons measurement.

At the United States Navy Yard, New York, on Thursday, the 29th of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock M., the U. S. Steamer "SUSQUEHANNA" of 3,990 tons measurement.

At the United States Navy Yard, League Island, on Saturday, the 31st of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock M., the U. S. Ship "POTOMAC" of 1,457 tons measurement.

The vessels will be offered as they lie on the day of sale. They may be examined at any time previous to the day of sale on application to the commandant of the yards where they are respectively, who will exhibit so persons desiring to bid an inventory of such articles as may be sold with them.

Thirty (30) per centum of the purchase money must be deposited at the time of sale, and the balance paid in cash when the sale is confirmed by the Department, the result to be reported within ten days from the date of such confirmation.

The Government reserves the right to withdraw the vessels, or either of them, from sale, to confirm the sale, and to reject any bid or offer which may be considered inadequate. 11wtdec27

ESTABLISHED IN 1853.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL

IN THE
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1858 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their special accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have jeopardized their health and destroyed the vigor of their youth, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage, with 125 pages—full of plates, price 25 cents, sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only genuine Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to DR. S. V. H. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y (Late Teller). Daily from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sunday 10 A. M. and 3 to 5 P. M. Omnyr47

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.00; FOUR COPIES, $6.00, and an additional copy for the year free to the order of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the order of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the best Farmers of all Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the business of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock and every kind throughout the country; and commends to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to Markets and Commercial Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly gives to a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pains so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 23, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me good, more than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain, for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of their chronic diseases from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS in the place they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I induced him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had on you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheuma le Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them, I know of. I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the good news of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, NOV. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and spent only get no relief. I also tried many patent nostrums with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time during the last twelve years, travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that I will cure my disease, but will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Lamar, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative, could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious climate of New England

AND

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon House labor. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, D. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each reader can find something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $8; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1846, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in preference, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

The paper is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room: in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS; In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & Co., 37 Park Row, New York.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is always learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent Information and sounest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in three features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attentio to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer."

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story by the great Scottish Magical writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

by P. G. Wilhelm Blake, of Upsala University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PARIS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—THIS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never be false to its republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all citizens at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable inaugural address.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Reports, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS OF THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are received every week-day almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American population of the South, than of any newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS OF THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in the pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the honest and self-respecting course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in the one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is easier to admire and needless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It contains reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to please the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Rossetti, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the above, or any other magazine or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscription will at small cost be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra copy will be made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend no periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Lincoln as a Lawyer.

As a trial lawyer Abraham Lincoln had few equals, and no superiors. He was as hard a man to beat in a closely contested case as I have ever met. He was wise in knowing what to attempt, and what to let alone. He was fair to the court, the jury, and his adversary, but candor compels me to say that he by practice learned there was power in this. As he entered the trial, where most lawyers object he would say he "reckoned" it would be fair to let this in or that; and sometimes, when his adversary could not prove what Mr. Lincoln knew to be the truth, he would say he "reckoned" it would be fair to admit the truth to be so and so. When he did object to the court, after he heard the objection answered, he would often say, "Well, I reckon I must be wrong." Now about the time he had practiced this three-quarters through a case, if his adversary didn't understand him he would wake up in a few minutes finding that he had feared the Greeks too late, and wake up to find himself beat. He was wise, as a serpent in the trial of a cause, but I tell you I have got too many scars from his blows to certify that he was harmless as a dove. When the whole thing is unravelled, the adversary begins to see that what he was so blandly giving away was simply what he couldn't get and keep. By giving away six points and carrying the seventh, he carried his case, and the whole case hanging on the seventh, he traded everything off which would give him the least aid in carrying that. Any man who took Mr. Lincoln for a simple-minded man would soon wake up on his back in a ditch.—Ex.

Some Extraordinary Weddings.

The first was in the Raleigh, N. C., jail last week. Rames is serving a three months' sentence for stabbing three men. He fell in love with Louisa, who lived across the way; she showed him little attentions, and he courted her and proposed through the bars. The sheriff gave out invitations to the wedding, which was a brilliant affair, and after the ceremony the bride entered the cell to finish the sentence with her lord.

A queer old German, past seventy, called at the Baltimore City Hall last week for a permit to go to the Bayview Asylum and take his choice of a wife from the female inmates. He said that seven years ago he went there on a similar errand, selected a woman, popped the question and was accepted and married at once. She made a good frau, and they lived happily together; but she had been dead three years and he was lonely, and wanted to try a Bayview woman once more. The permission was given him and the old fellow got another one.

There was a romantic wedding at East St. Louis recently. The couple were engaged in Illinois in 1856, but the girl suddenly married another man, who afterward became a prominent railroad official. The disconsolate lover, J. H. McCullough, enlisted in the regular army and finally became a lieutenant. The two knew nothing more of each other till a year ago, when the husband died. McCullough's old love revived. He resigned the army, found the widow keeping a boarding-house for conductors, engineers and clerks at St. Louis, was accepted and on a recent Sunday night married her. The boarders procured all the locomotives not engaged, took them near the house and kept the whistles going during the ceremony.

The Burning of Moscow.

The burning of Moscow, in 1812, is one of the most noted conflagrations on record, not only on account of its magnitude, but for its historical importance. The French entered the city November 14th, Napoleon proposing to make it his winter headquarters. On that very day several fires broke out, but little attention was paid to them by the invading army until the next two days, when they had acquired great headway. On the seventeenth a high wind arose, and the flames spread rapidly in every direction; by the eighteenth the whole city appeared as a sea of flame, and by the twentieth nine-tenths of it was reduced to ashes. The total number of buildings destroyed is stated at between 13,000 and 15,000.

The Russians at the time, in order to cast odium on the French, attributed this conflagration to the order of Napoleon. It is now, however, generally acknowledged that the fires were the work of the Russians themselves, and that they were kindled by the order of the governor, Rostoptchin, acting, beyond all doubt, under the sanction of the Emperor Alexander, without which it is hardly conceivable that the governor would venture such a step. The object was to deprive the French army of shelter from the winter. Ample preparations had been taken to insure the entire destruction of the city. Inflammable materials were placed in deserted mansions in every quarter, and the torch was applied simultaneously all over the city.

In burning the French out of their proposed winter quarters, no provision had been made for the safety of the inhabitants, who were driven to seek shelter in the surrounding woods; and it is affirmed that more than 20,000 sick and wounded perished in the flames. The direct loss to the French is put down at 40,000, and beyond this it in the end involved the retreat in the dead of winter, and the almost complete annihilation of the great French army.

News and Notes.

Snow has fallen at Eastport, Me., since Saturday, to the depth of two feet. It is the biggest storm for five years. The roads are completely blocked.

In the case of Mary E. Oliver vs. ex-Senator Simon Cameron, an action for breach of promise in which $50,000 are claimed, the defendant has filed a plea that he never promised as alleged.

The Pennsylvania Legislature on the 20th elected J. Donald Cameron to the United States Senate, to fill the unexpired term of Simon Cameron, resigned.

Assistant Secretary Conant, referring to the charges published in the New York Sun and elsewhere, says that he intends to very shortly prove that the entire statement is a shameless and infamous libel, for which he will hold the authors responsible in courts of justice.

Inez Pease, nine years old, was crushed to death in the elevator of the Westminster Hotel, Boston Highlands, on the 20th.

While stagnation has prevailed in every other branch of business, the dull times appear to have sharpened the wits of the inventor, for a larger number of applications for patents are being filed now than at any previous time in the history of the Patent Office. Under the management of Mr. Spear, Commissioner, the work of the office has been systematized and a number of abuses that had sprung up have been eradicated, and the weekly issue is now greater than ever before, running up to an average of 400 patents each week. Rumors of the removal of the Commissioner or Assistant Commissioner are without foundation.

John D. Lee, who is now awaiting in the Utah Penitentiary the execution of his death sentence, will leave 64 children to bear the stigma of a murderer's name. He had 18 wives, but when Brigham Young cut him off from the Mormon Church eight of them were divorced from him within twenty-four hours, and now only three are faithful to him. The Mormon leaders have utterly deserted him. Mormons testified against him, and a Mormon jury brought in a verdict of guilty, but he still pins his faith to the Mormon doctrines and expects to have his share of bliss in the Mormon Hereafter. He hates Brigham Young. He is writing an account of his life, his conversion to the Mormon faith, his part in the Mountain Meadow massacre twenty years ago, and his relations with the Mormon leaders.

A post-office is to be established at the Black Hills this Spring.

The steamship Rusland, ashore at Long Branch, N. Y., about two miles from the stranded steamship Amerique, struck exactly on top of the ship Adonis, which went ashore nineteen years ago and has been buried in the sand ever since. The Adonis had a cargo of grindstones and millstones, which still remain in the wreck; and as the Rusland lies, head on to the beach, the wreck of the Adonis is right under her mainmast, at right angles with the Rusland's hull. Many pieces of the Adonis, knocked to splinters by the pounding of the Rusland, have washed ashore and been carried off by visitors as souvenirs of the two disasters.

The first steamship ever freighted in New York with a cargo for the Orient via the Suez Canal left Saturday. Her name is Spartan. Her cargo consists of 393,000 gallons of petroleum, bound for Java. The object of her cargo is to head off the arrival in Java of 250,000 gallons of refined oil shipped from New York by sailing vessels in January and February.

Mrs. Sartoris has made Gen. Grant the grandfather of a bouncing boy.

Barque "Sunny Region," Capt. Kenney, 674 tons register, of and for St. John, N. B., from St. Thomas, in ballast, went ashore on Little Spoon Island, near Isle au Haute, off the coast of Maine, during the snow storm of Sunday morning, the 18th, and is a total loss. The crew, twelve in number, got ashore on Little Spoon Island and succeeded in lighting a fire, but were without shelter until Monday afternoon, when they were taken off, badly frostbitten.

Twenty-five men have just left Rockland, Me., for the Black Hills.

A letter from Rome says that the Jesuits are taking steps to restore the temporal power of the Pope. The letter invokes the aid of the Emperor of Austria, the King of Belgium, President MacMahon, and ex-Queen Isabella. At the Consistory at Rome, Tuesday, the 20th, the Pope nominated several bishops, among them Rev. Michael Hanney for Halifax, and Rev. John Moore, for St. Augustine, Florida. The Pope pronounced a brief allocution, reaffirming with increased vehemence his declarations of March 12, and adding that he would raise a protest before the whole world against the attempt to deprive him of the liberty of speech.

Ex-Mayor A. Oakey Hall of New York has disappeared. He had not been seen from Friday, the 16th, to Wednesday, but his absence at first excited no alarm among his friends, as he rarely slept at home. "A woman in the case" is hinted at as the cause of his sudden disappearance, but this is discredited by his friends. Another surmise is that the return of Peter B. Sweeney frightened him into running away, for fear Sweeney's revelations might involve him in some of the suits against the Tweed-Sweeney-Hall-Connolly ring.

New Hampshire Items.

The Manchester Mirror editorially gives assurance that Governor Cheney and his Council will not follow the action of Governor Weston and refuse to give a certificate to Frank Jones, member of Congress elect, although his name is Franklin, and not Frank, under which latter name he was voted for. The assurance is entirely superfluous; nobody ever supposed Gov. Cheney was a conscienceless rascal, and utterly indifferent to the preservation of his good name.

At a meeting of the Governor and Council, Tuesday, Thursday, April 12th, was appointed as a day of fasting and prayer.

Arthur Durgin of Greenland fell from a tree at Long Hill in Stratham on the 12th, striking his head on an axe and shockingly mutilating his face.

The new City Government of Manchester was inaugurated on the 20th. Mayor Cross gave the following account of the city's finances: During the past year the disbursements amounted to $343,233.71; unpaid bills, $23,919.26; cash on hand January 1, 1877, $80,819.91; amount of funded debt January 1, 1877, $976,000; interest estimated, $21,000; notes due, and interest, $254,765; total indebtedness, $1,022,991.99. The increase of net indebtedness during the year was $38,482.95, which is accounted for by the extension of the city water works, as the decrease of debt, exclusive of the water works, is $38,904.72. Outstanding taxes since 1871 are $67,184.47. The Mayor recommends appropriations by which average annual payments of about $40,000 may be made in reduction of the debt. School expenses for the past year were $56,991.61. There is already appropriated for the soldiers' monument $6000, which is now invested in bonds, and the Mayor suggests that measures be commenced the present year to construct the same.

The new city government of Concord was inaugurated on the 20th. Mayor Pillsbury, in speaking of the city's finances, said the indebtedness of the city had been reduced during the past year $13,386.49, and now stands at $331,537.76; deducting from this amount available assets, as shown by the report of the Finance Committee, amounting to $44,398.15, leaves the debt, over and above these assets, $187,139.86. The debt of the precinct amounts to $439,000, divided as follows: State House precinct notes, $49,000; water works debt, $350,000; sewer loan, $40,000. The water works will, without doubt, in a few years afford a revenue sufficient to pay the expenses of operating and keeping them in repair, and also pay the interest on the debt, and at no distant day will become a source of revenue to the precinct. Allowing this to be a part, and deducting the amount of their cost from the precinct debt, we have the sum $89,000 as the debt on which interest is to be paid. The total amount expended for schools last year was $29,683.29, of which sum $24,150.96 was expended in Union School District. The whole number of scholars attending school in 1875 was 3513; average amount to each scholar, $8.44. John Conwell was unanimously re-elected City Marshal by the new City Government for his eighth term.

Political.

Speaker Randall says that the roll of the next House, when made up, will show a democratic majority of ten.

There is great interest in Cincinnati respecting the trial of "Eph" Holland, who managed a large part of the democratic repeaters in that city last October. It is intimated that he will offer testimony which will lead to the punishment of the leaders of gangs of repeaters from Chicago, New York and Baltimore. What the public desires most to know is who incited these roughs and gamblers to commit the frauds, and who furnished the money.

At a Cabinet meeting on Wednesday it was decided to send a commission South to examine and report upon the condition of affairs in South Carolina and Louisiana, and until such commission makes such report matters to remain in status quo, so far as the general government is concerned; also, to issue a proclamation convening Congress in extra session on Monday, the 4th of June.

Partisan papers go in mourning and partisan flags are set at half-mast at the inauguration of Hayes. But when we remember that a dozen papers in the North went into mourning when Lincoln was inaugurated, and that one in Philadelphia and half a dozen in New England put on turned column crape when Jefferson "usurped" the Presidential chair seventy-six years ago the present expression of grief becomes endurable.—Ex.

The London correspondent of the New York Times represents a distinguished politician and member of the House of Commons as contrasting in private conversation President Hayes, with his consistent and unblemished career, with some of the prominent public men of England. He says: "A man, sir, who can go through a Presidential election and stand the investigation of every action of his life, as this man has done, is an example of the sort of public man that is possible under a republic. Take our two great party chiefs, Gladstone and Disraeli; they are model men in their way, but they both changed their principles because they saw profit and power in contrary directions. Gladstone commenced his political life as a rabid Churchman and liberal. He has destroyed the Church in Ireland, and he is now a red hot radical, divided from the party which he led so fatally from a glorious majority into a squabbling minority. Disraeli began as a radical, a republican, a leveller; he ends his days in the sanctity of ermine as a peer of the realm, and the champion of monarchies and divine right."

Enough in One Bed.

Emigration to the State of Michigan was so great during the year 1835-6, that every house was filled every night with travelers wanting lodging. Every traveler there at that time will remember the difficulty of obtaining a bed in the hotels, even if he had two or three "strange bed-fellows."

Rev. Hosea Brown, an eccentric Methodist minister, stopped one night at one of the hotels in Ann Arbor, and inquired if he could have a room and bed to himself. The bar-keeper told him he could, unless they should be so full as to render it necessary to put another in with him. At an early hour the reverend gentleman went to his room, locked the door, and soon retired to his bed and sunk into a comfortable sleep. Along toward midnight he was roused from his slumbers by a loud knocking at his door.

"Hallo! you there," he exclaimed, "what do you want now?"—particular stress on the last word.

"You must take another lodger, sir, with you," said the voice of the landlord.

"What! another yet?"

"Why, yes—there is only one in here, is there!"

"One! why, here is Mr. Brown and a Methodist minister, and myself, already, and I should think that enough for one bed, even in Michigan."

The landlord seemed to think so, too, and left the trio to their repose.—Star Spangled Banner.

—"It is a social death," says a fashionable magazine, "when it becomes known that a young man wears corsets." This is as it should be, too. It's all very well for an enterprising young man to wear corsets for a day or two, just to become an expert with them, but to wear them as a practice is miserable.

—A married man up town had blue glass put in his wife's sitting-room, to match her eyes, he said. She returned the compliment by having red glass put in her husband's library, to match his nose, she said. He didn't seem to appreciate the compliment.—Norristown Herald.

—A remarkable fondness for canned oysters having been noticed among the inmates of the Albany jail, one of the keepers made an examination and found that the cans supposed to contain oysters contained whiskey—both being luxuries denied to poor but honest people who are so unlucky as to be out of prison.

A Result of Obstructed Digestion.

Among the hurtful consequences of obstructed digestion, is the impoverishment of the blood, and since a deteriative condition of the vital fluid not only promotes dangerous organic weakness, but, according to the best medical authorities, sometimes causes asphyxia, it is apparent that to improve the quality of the blood by promoting digestion and assimilation, is a wise precaution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely the remedy for this purpose, and it stimulates the gastric juices, conquers those bilious and evacuative irregularities which interfere with the digestive processes, promotes assimilation of the food by the blood, and purifies as well as enriches it. The signs of improvement in health in consequence of using the Bitters are speedily apparent in accession of vigor, a gain in bodily substance, and a regular and active performance of every physical function.

—Nicolini, the tenor, who has been so conspicuous in the Patti-Caux scandal, is anxious that she should unite her fortunes with his for a grand operatic tour through the United States, and it is is not unlikely that such an engagement may be made. It is said that the effect of the scandal has been such as to shut the doors of fashionable Parisian society upon Patti, and to make the future admission of any opera singer extremely difficult.

—About midwinter city editors throw out valuable hints and suggestions to farmers—something after this fashion: "Now is the time to paint your peabrush and perform other indoor work. Whitewash your snow shovels now. Now look after your next season's bean poles, and trim off all superfluous sprouts. Oil your garden rakes before spring sets in. Bury your grindstone in the cellar to prevents its freezing," etc., etc. Farmers can save more than fifty dollars by not following this advice.

JOTTINGS.

Schooner G. W. Raitt, of this port, which has been laid up all winter, sailed on Monday for Rockland, to load with lime for Dover. Schooner Emily A. Staples, also laid up for the winter, sailed on Tuesday for Boston.

The attention of capitalists is invited to an advertisement in another column of the sale by auction, (if not previously disposed of at private sale) on Thursday, April 2d, of the Cotton Mill in Pittsfield, in this State, — claimed to be one of the best chances for profitable investment offered for years.

The New York Tribune says: "Mr. Jones, who brews a disingenuous and uncertain article of beer, up in New Hampshire, is intoxicated with the delusion that he is a member of Congress." That's hardly fair. We didn't want Mr. Jones to be Congressman, and do not admire or approve the means he employed to secure his re-election; neither do we believe he can begin to represent the district so creditably and advantageously as Gen. Marston would have done; but his beer—we take the word of those who drink beer, among whom we are not to be numbered—is a first-class article of its kind, and contains as much "drunk" and fattening elements to the cubic foot as any beer made. Do not be unjust, Tribune.

We have received a copy of the "Historical Address on the One Hundred and Fiftieth Anniversary of the Gathering of the Congregational Church, Kingston, N. H.," delivered Sept. 28th, 1875, by Rev. J. H. Mellish, of North Scituate, R. I., a former pastor of the church; with a brief account of the anniversary exercises prefixed, and an appendix giving in a condensed form a great amount of information concerning the prominent worthies connected with the church in its early days,—by Rev. Jacob Chapman, present pastor of the church. The brief mention in the Address of such incidents as "Henry Elkins was slain by Indians," "The Indians killed Samuel Winslow and Samuel Huntoon," "Indians captured Peter Colcord, Ephraim Severance and two children of Ebenezer Stevens," etc., give a vivid idea of the hand-to-hand struggle waged by the early settlers with the wilderness and the savages, and the record of votes of the town on the subject of procuring and paying for pastoral service shows that the hardy pioneers were of the church militant indeed, equally ready to fight the devil with the weapons of the spirit and to combat Indians with powder and lead. The work is published in pamphlet form, and contains much matter of interest to dwellers outside of the boundaries of Kingston; and can be procured of Rev. J. Chapman, Kingston,—price twenty cents.

Schooner M. Sewell, of Deer Island, Me., while on the passage from Calais for Philadelphia, struck on Long Shoal, Vineyard Sound, during the gale of Sunday morning, the 18th, and filled immediately. She lies on her broadside, and will probably be a total loss. The crew boarded a schooner anchored near the spot. The M. Sewell formerly belonged to this port; and like the Jonathan May, recently wrecked near Chatham, Cape Cod, and the Abbott Lawrence, run down and sunk off Boon Island on the night of the 16th by an unknown schooner, was a frequent visitor here during the coasting season.

Rev. E. S. Huntress of this city has been dismissed from his pastorate over the First church in Derry, by advice of a council.

The following jurors from Ward Two have been drawn to serve at the adjourned term of the Supreme Court which assembles here next week: Henry F. Gerrish, Charles H. Rollins, John Hodgdon, Coolidge Perry.

A business meeting of the new Temperance Mutual Relief Association was held Tuesday evening, at which the bonds of the treasurer, Sewell W. Webber, were fixed at $2000. Mr. Charles J. Mason was chosen a vice president and Mr. James W. Marden assistant book-keeper.

The programme for "ye olde folkes concerte" in Rye, appointed for Wednesday evening, the 21st, was a capital thing in its way. In the list of prices it was set forth that "Crying babies may come in without money and without price, as they can make more musick than all ye olde folkes put together;" and a special "N. B." paragraph said "It is expected that ye young men will go home with ye young women after ye concerte"—an expectation which we have no doubt was realized.

A correspondent suggests that "Frank Jones brewed mischief with his money as well as ale with his hops."

Schooner T. J. Trafton, Capt. Hoyt, of this port, while on the passage from Portland for Philadelphia, struck on Long Shoal in the gale of March 17th, and remained fast about fifteen hours; came off leaking about two hundred strokes an hour, and arrived at Vineyard Haven on Monday, March 19th.

A PORTSMOUTH BOY ABROAD.

From the report in the Wisconsin State Journal of the closing proceedings of the Wisconsin Legislature, we take the following account of a high compliment paid to a Portsmouth boy, Mr. Winslow A. Nowell, Chief Clerk of the Wisconsin Assembly, at its late session. On the last day of the session, after the official business had been completed, a recess was taken, and on reassembling a committee was appointed to wait upon Mr. Nowell and request his presence. On his appearing he was presented with a handsome tea-set of six pieces, and a butter dish, all of silver, which during the recess had been set out on a table in front of the reporters' tables, an assemblyman making the presentation in the following brief speech:

"Mr. Speaker:—I have been honored by an invitation to present to Mr. Nowell, our Chief Clerk, this beautiful silver, in behalf of his assistants and the members of this house. You have, Mr. Clerk, by your uniform and unvarying courtesy, made a friend of every one who has come in contact with you, and I am sure that I can give but faint expression to the friendly regard felt for you. Many within the sound of my voice have known former occupants of the position you hold, but I undertake to say that none who have filled it heretofore have had more varied qualifications than yourself. We have seen you, in the lighter moments of your official life, draw pictures of grave and reverend member as they rose in their places to address the Assembly, and hand those friendly caricatures down to excite the irreverent laughter of an unsympathetic lobby. From this we know that you are an artist. The public prints of Madison which have from time to time sparkled with your machine made poetry, attest the fact that you are supplied with the divine afflatus of a true poet. The fact that many members of the Assembly waited over Sunday in anticipation of an address by you to a Sunday School (which unfortunately they were not permitted to hear,) is evidence in what high regard they held the counsel and advice falling from your lips upon religious and moral subjects. What other inducement could have detained the members from the bosoms of their families and the tender embraces of little children? Turning, however, from the pleasantries in which your good nature will permit us to indulge at your expense, I can truthfully say you have drawn us all to you by your manner of performing your official duties. An old legend of Germany relates the fact that a prince brought to his betrothed, as a wedding gift, an iron egg. The lady tossed it from her, and as it rolled along the floor a spring was touched, which disclosed within a silver egg, and as that rolled along another spring disclosed a golden egg, and still another revealed within the golden egg a golden circlet clasped by a rare diamond which was the wedding gift of the Prince to his bride. So we called you, at the commencement of the session, to the difficult and arduous duties of your position. Hard and unpleasant as they sometimes were, your courteous performance of them has stripped the rough covering and disclosed this silver gift from your assistants and friends in this house. Underneath and within the silver is hidden the respect and esteem of those for whom I speak, which will surround you as the lady's wedding ring encircled her finger, as long as you live, and which guerdon of friendship is clasped by a diamond of the purest water—the warm and hearty friendship of all who unite in this gift to you."

THE RIGHT SPIRIT.

It is possible our neighboring town of Rye may soon lose one of its enterprising citizens, who displays the right spirit in looking for employment wherever he thinks it may possibly be found, when he fails to find it at home. The San Francisco Post prints the following letter, which has been filed in the office of the Board of Supervisors of that city, though the Post intimates that the proposal it contains has not yet been accepted by the authorities:

EYE BEACH, Feb. 25, 1877.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of San Francisco: Gentlemen—I noticed in a newspaper that street sprinklers were needed in your city. If that is the case, I should like to come and do the work, if a fair compensation for the labor can be obtained. I have three large sprinklers, pumps and apparatus for sprinkling a city, and have been in the business three years, and if there is an opening for such an enterprise, will you please inform me by letter, and I will send you a letter of recommendation from responsible men. Expecting a reply, I am, yours respectfully,

EDWARD H. BALCH,
Rye Beach, New Hampshire.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 148.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

Hon. Levi Woodbury was a native of Francestown, and took up his residence in Portsmouth as a lawyer in 1819. He was Governor but one year; the political year commencing in June 1823, and ending in June 1824. He was one of the Judges of the Superior Court when elected Governor. The office of Governor was rather sprung upon him. He was not the regularly nominated candidate of the party in power, but Mr. Dinsmore of Keene. Mr. Isaac Hill of the Patriot had a great influence in politics, and supported Mr. Dinsmore, but Mr. Woodbury was elected.

Thanksgiving was in the autumn, but we have not the Governor's proclamation. But that for Fast in the ensuing spring is at hand. It is dated Feb. 23. It is much more lengthy than proclamations usually are now. Gov. Woodbury was accustomed to put considerable work into his productions. His message to the Legislature that year was an able State paper.

The proclamation begins with a preamble, expressing the unworthiness and dependence of man, which ought to excite devotion and humility, and lead to suitable acknowledgements of Him, who rules nations and individuals. He then, with advice of Council, appointed April 8th, for fasting, humiliation and prayer. It was then requested that all assemble on that day in their respective places of worship, with deep contrition confess their sins, implore forgiveness, lament the frailties of passion, appetite and habit, which often betray into error, beseech a justly offended God to avert the judgments our transgressions have provoked, that our fasting may be from all offences, our humiliation reach the spirit, and our prayers prove the incense of true penitence and faith; that the mercies of the past year may inspire with gratitude to the Author, that our liberties may continue to have his saving help; the means of instruction, literary and religious, be blest; our useful institutions be perpetuated; honest employment be prospered; toleration and free enquiry flourish; health, plenty and the happiness of our citizens be uninterrupted; those classes of society which constitute its physical strength, receive light proportionate to their power; the cause of the people in every nation, rather than the profligate designs of faction and despotism be taken into God's holy keeping; and the whole earth be speedily filled with a knowledge of divine truth.

The closing paragraph requests the people to refrain from labor and recreation on that day.

The proclamation is very sentimental and the sentiments are correct. It is literary, patriotic, moral and religious. In fact, it is a model document of its kind.

The member of the Council that year from the Rockingham District was Hunking Penhallow of Portsmouth; Langley Boardman of Portsmouth was Senator from District No. 1, and John Kimball of Exeter from No. 2.

A Dog Story.

Lately a traveler passed in a carriage along the Avenue de Neuilly; the night was dark; all at once the horse stopped, and the traveler saw the animal had met an obstacle. At the same moment a man raised himself from before the horse and uttered a cry.

"Why don't you take care?" said the traveler.

"Ah," cried the man, "you would do better, instead of hallooing, to lend me your lantern."

"What for?"

"I had three hundred francs in gold on my person; my pocket has broken, and all is fallen in the street. It is a commission with which my master has intrusted me. If I do not find the money I am a ruined man."

"It is not easy to find the pieces on such a night; have you none left?"

"Yes, I have one."

"Give it to me."

The man hesitated.

"Give it to me; it will be the means of recovering the others."

The poor fellow gave him his last coin. The traveler whistled; a magnificent Danish dog began to leap around him.

"Here!" said the traveler, putting the coin to the nose of the dog. "Look!"

The intelligent creature sniffed a few moments at the money, and then began to run about the road. Every minute he returned, leaping, and deposited in the hand of his master a Napoleon. In about twenty minutes the whole sum was recovered. The poor fellow, who had got his money back, turned full of thanks toward the traveler, who had now got into his carriage.

"Ah, you are my preserver," said he; "tell me, at least, your name."

"I have done nothing," said the traveler. "Your preserver is my dog; his name is Rabut-Joie;" and then, whipping up his horses, he disappeared in the darkness.—Religious Herald.

—A ventriloquist recently created much excitement in a car on the New York and New Haven Railroad. A lady declared that a man in the seat behind persisted in talking to her. He denied the charge and left the car. The talking went on, and finally it leaked out that it was the work of a ventriloquist, but no one could detect him.

—Not long since, an intoxicated English tar rolled up against Sir Rodney Mundy, and ejaculated, with considerable difficulty, "Get out o' my way!" "How dare you address me like that, sir!" demanded the admiral. "Don't you know who I am? I am Admiral Mundy." "Don't care if you are Admiral Tuesday," persisted the sailor, "Get out o' my way."

—A very remarkable creature has come to the New York aquarium from Japan, called a hair turtle. It derives its name from a wonderful growth of curious vegetable-like fibre, which completely covers the upper shell, and which, when lifted from the water, is strikingly suggestive of a wisp of grass. This hair covering is green in color, about two inches in length, and entirely covers the animal like a mantle. The creature has been frequently represented on Japanese vases or carved upon bronzes.

—The famous Dr. John Brown, the commentator, experienced a full share of the world's vicissitudes. At Dunse, on one occasion, when his funds were low, he went into a shop to purchase the luxury of a halfpennyworth of cheese. The shopman declared his inability to accommodate him with so small a portion. "Then what's the least you can sell?" inquired the doctor. "A pennyworth," replied the dealer, and instantly set about weighing that quantity, which he speedily placed on the counter, in anticipation of payment. "Now," said the doctor, taking up the knife, "I will instruct you how to sell a halfpennyworth of cheese in the future." Upon which he cut the modicum in two, and appropriating the half, put down his coin and departed.

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an expanded reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the Worst CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it effects has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be a I that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

A Mistake Often Made.

Boys and young men sometimes start out in life with the idea that one's success depends on sharpness and chicanery. They imagine, if a man is able always to "get the best of a bargain," no matter by what deceit and meanness he carries his point, that his prosperity is assured. This is a great mistake. Enduring prosperity cannot be founded on cauning and dishonesty. The tricky and deceitful man is sure to fall a victim, soon or late, to the influences which are forever working against him. "His house is built upon the sand," and its foundation will be certain to give way. Young people cannot give these truths too much weight. The future of that young man is safe who eschews every phase of double-dealing and dishonesty, and lays the foundation of his career in the enduring principles of everlasting truth.

—About a year ago a Missouri farmer captured two young wild geese and raised them with the rest of his domestic goslings. They became quite tame, but in November, prompted by instinct to seek a more sunny clime, flew off to the South. This spring, however, they have returned, bringing with them eleven more wild geese, whom they piloted from some Southern bayou, and the whole flock have settled down as if to "the manor born."

SALE OF NAVAL VESSELS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
February 27, 1877.

The Navy Department will offer for sale at public auction the following named vessels:

At the United States Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., on Tuesday, the 27th of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock, M., the U. S. Ship "SARATOGA" of 1,726 tons measurement.

At the United States Navy Yard, New York, on Thursday, the 29th of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock M., the U. S. Steamer "SUSQUEHANNA" of 3,213 tons measurement.

At the United States Navy Yard, League Island, on Saturday, the 31st of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock M., the U. S. ship "POTOMAC" of 1,457 tons measurement.

The vessels will be offered as they lie on the day of sale. They may be examined at any time previous to the day of sale on application to the commandants of the yards where they are respectively, who will exhibit to persons desiring to bid an inventory of such articles as may be sold with them.

Thirty per cent. of the purchase money must be deposited at the time of sale, and the balance paid in cash when the sale is confirmed by the Department, the deposit to be returned within ten days from the date of such confirmation.

The Government reserves the right to withdraw the vessels, or either of them, from sale, to confirm the sale, and to reject any bid or offer which may be considered inadequate. 13wtuths27

ESTABLISHED IN 1823.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
IN THE
UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1823 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gyn Demon, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their comfort, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always concerned at the old office.

Ladies will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving them of the pleasures of manhood, and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates, price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still remains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only Agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Chinese Pills.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where they have been known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as no of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains resulting from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head, or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a bit from the Rheumatism for twenty or more years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, you say they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Three Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines, but none gave results. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case incurable. I had about given up hope, and had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses, and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative at could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,

USE——

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do, that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Müller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving (usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

"Inventors cannot employ a person more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1849, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that relates facts for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication in the world. It is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents comprise the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of Novel Machinery, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of All New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies sent on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are sold or exchanged in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great objects and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to place out in a popular and striking manner the most recent information and sounder views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand or specially engaged, promise a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and its reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issued, with the December part, will be issued gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

by P. of. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The Hyvernon," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's interesting and Piquant

PARIS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it is guided by and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in the fullest suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS AND IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican principle or with republican policy; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the Union of the National, faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed.*

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every business man in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly or almost every article of value, from the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other articles of our great Agricultural Staples, it is the standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advancement of their country, or in questions of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of writers in its editorial and in its literary staff than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness the choicest foreign periodical and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are presented to such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, R. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz: "for one year, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in possession of the cream of literature."

An extra offer, also, is made to new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend a period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best kinds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Raddy and Dimmy—A Story for Boys.

Raddy and Dimmy were playing a game of marbles in earnest. You see at the start that neither of them was a very good boy. But they were the biggest boys in the school, and one or the other of them always claimed the right of ruling over the other boys. They settled which it should be once every four weeks by a game of marbles. The winner was allowed to sit in a particular seat, and to tell the other boys where they should sit. Those whom he liked he placed near the windows, where they could enjoy themselves looking out. But when Dimmy was head boy he made all Raddy's friends fag for him; and, of course Raddy bull-dozed Dimmy's supporters when luck was on his own side.

It happened that Raddy had been unusually lucky. Four times in succession he had won the game, and for the sixteen long weeks Dimmy and his friends had been deprived even of a peep out of the window in school hours. This time Dimmy was bound to win a game. "I bet you've been cheating," he said; "Reform is necessary."

So he picked Raddy's pockets of his marble-bag, and ran away behind a tree to chip all the marbles, especially a very fine chinee alley, so that they shouldn't roll true. Raddy pretended not to know what was going on, but he did know all the time.

When the game began the whole school gathered to see the contest. As soon as it was over each jumped up, crying, "I've won," and each immediately answered the other "You haven't!"

"You shoved when you aimed at that black marble," said Dimmy.

"I didn't. Besides, you snatched it away. I should have hit it if you hadn't. My marble went right over that spot," answered Raddy.

"That don't make any difference, You didn't hit it."

"It does make a difference. It's just the same as if I'd hit it. It's mine, I shall keep it."

"You sha'n't."

"You did just the same with that yellow marble and that red one."

"I didn't. They're mine."

"They ain't either. I've got 'em, and I shall keep 'em."

"We'll see about that. Besides, what about that white alley?"

"Nothing!"

"I guess you'll find something. I've got that and I shall keep it."

"I'll bet you won't. It's no better than stealing."

"Who'll stop me?"

"I will."

"I can lick you, here look," shouted Dimmy.

"You can't and you won't," answered Raddy.

"You darsen't fight."

"I darst to, but I won't."

"Why not?"

"Because I can keep my place without fighting."

"You can't. I'll lick you."

"Oh, no."

"Tell ye what," said Dimmy, suddenly cooling down, "let's leave it to old Uncle Sam."

"Leave what to him?"

"Well, to say whether those three marbles and that alley ought to be yours or mine."

"All right; they're mine, and he'll say so. He was looking on all the time. But I'll leave it to him."

So the two boys shook hands and made up, and said whatever uncle Sam said should be right. They promised to do just as he said. When he had heard what they had to say he gave his decision.

"The black marble is Raddy's."

"No, 'tisn't," interrupted Dimmy. "How do you know? You didn't look at the tracks in the mud."

"Well, did I say I'd get down on my knees in the mud and look at the tracks? Not by a long chalk. You didn't either of you say anything about my doing it. The black marble, as I said, is Raddy's; so is the red one."

"Taint either," again broke in Dimmy. "You've been on his side all the time. I was a fool to leave it to you. Besides I didn't and wouldn't if I'd s'posed you'd have said them marbles was his. He shan't have 'em. But I'll just wait and see what you say about the white alley."

"I say it rightly belongs to Raddy—"

"I won't hear! Yah! yah! yah!"—and Dimmy made that sound familiar to boys which effectually drowns all other sounds. Then he burst into a wail and a cry, "Boo-hoo!" "It's too bad! It's all a lie! He didn't win the game. I won't hear a word you say. I don't care so much for myself, but Uncle Sam, I'm disappointed in you! I thought you was a good man and you ain't. Tell ye what, Rad, don't let's have anything more to do with this old duffer of a Sam. Let's begin all over again,—play another game next week. You don't want to take the lead again on old Sam's word. Or if yer don't want to spoil the knees of your trowsers again, let's pull straws to see who shall have it."

The bell rang about this time, and Raddy coolly walked into the school-room and took his old seat without listening to Dimmy's proposition.

News and Notes.

Joseph N. Woods has secured a verdict of $4000 against Z. K. Pangborn and others, proprietors of the Jersey City Journal, for libel.

James Kingan, the New York produce merchant recently found dead beside the railroad track in New Brunswick, is now considered to have committed suicide, the murder theory having been abandoned.

George Gregory fatally shot his wife in Hartford, Conn., Wednesday night. They had been married but two months.

Profs. Riley of Missouri, Thomas of Illinois and Packard of Salem, Mass., all entomologists, have been appointed a Grasshopper Commission, and leave for the West shortly to investigate that insect, its habits, etc.

Professor William Miller and Professor Theodore Bauer had a wrestling match for $500 a side and the championship, at the New York Riding Academy, Tuesday night. The contest resulted in a draw, after an exhibition that would have been a brutal rough-and-tumble fight had anybody but "professors" been engaged in it.

Miss Van Lew is to be re-appointed postmistress at Richmond, Va.

A later version of the Pope's utterances at the consistory is that whilst inveighing against the desire to deprive him of liberty of speech, he encouraged resistance thereto, saying the time had come to employ force. The Pope will complete the fiftieth year of his priesthood on the 20th of May next. There will be a grand religious celebration at the Vatican, which will commence on the 15th of May and continue one week. Pio Nono was born May 13, 1792.

Dr. James Freeman Clark says that the doctrines preached by Moody are those to which the Unitarians have been accustomed for fifty years.

John La Haye, a merchant and inventor, died recently in Reading, Pennsylvania. His first invention was a passenger car-brake, for which he received $20,000. He invented a box for car wheels, for which he received $5,000 cash from a company of iron manufacturers and a royalty from the railway company. Several years ago he invented an automatic car-coupling, which, after thorough trial, was recently purchased by the Reading Railroad, and the Empire Transportation Company.

It is believed that most of the killing, scalping and plundering occurring at present on the Plains is the work of white banditti, who try to disguise themselves in moccasins and war paint. Not long ago two mail carriers were killed and scalped on the road between Fort Laramie and Red Cloud. The Indians did it, everybody said; yet it was found that only the registered letters had been pilfered from the mail sack. Recently a number of horses were stampeded from a corral on the stage road between Cheyenne and Fort Laramie. Everybody said that Indians were around. As Gen. Crook was going to Cheyenne last week to meet Gen. Sheridan, a telegraph operator at the stage station called his attention to suspicious facts connected with this particular case of horse-stealing. Upon examination Gen. Crook found that the supposed Indian thieves had by means of a duplicate key, unlocked the gate of the corral, and also had removed the lock from a chain which held a huge Newfoundland dog. Gen. Crook thinks that white men stole the horses.—Chicago Times.

Nathan Appleton has returned to Washington from Philadelphia, where he has been in consultation with the late Centennial authorities, and presented to Secretary Evarts a sketch of the organization for the proposed American exhibit at the Paris exhibition, together with an estimate that the necessary expenses will be $300,000, though he thinks $500,000 should be appropriated to make the exhibition creditable to the country.

Miss Helen Jones, of Newtonville, Mass., 27 years of age, shot herself through the heart on Wednesday. She was of a highly respectable family and was greatly esteemed. No cause is assigned for the act.

Samuel P. Stickney, one of the oldest circus performers in the country, and father of Robert Stickney, the champion rider, a native of Boston, died in Cincinnati on Tuesday.

The confession of John D. Lee, the leader in the Mountain Meadows massacre, is published, and fully implicates Brigham Young and many other leading Mormons.

A Benighted Community.

At the recent election in New Hampshire the people defeated the proposed amendment abolishing the religious test which has disgraced the State constitution for ninety-three years. By the old constitution no Catholic is allowed to vote for a Governor or a legislaort, and none but protestants are permitted to hold any position in the common schools. This evidence of intolerance, worthy of the days when the tests of water and fire were applied to witches, would scarcely be looked for in any intelligent community under such a government as that of the United States at the close of the nineteenth century. It is a significant fact that Mr. Blaine advocated the amendment. He is shrewd enough to know that the days have passed for such displays of bigotry, and was no doubt anxious to head off any ill effect of his previous complications with Know Nothingism. The people of New Hampshire, by their adverse vote, have only proved that they are behind the civilization of the age. Let them picture the indignation that would fire the New Hampshire heart if Louisiana should adopt a State constitution stripping Methodists or Congregationalists of the elective franchise on the Governor and shutting out all but Catholics from the public school, and then they will be able to form an idea of the sentiment which their own stupid intolerance excites among the people of less benighted States.

[The foregoing criticism on the rejection by the voters of this State of the proposed amendment abolishing the religious test is taken from the New York Herald, and shows how easy it is to write vigorously and confidently concerning a subject on which the writer is thoroughly well uninformed. It will be news to Catholics that they are not allowed to vote or enjoy school privileges in this State.—Ed. Chron.]

Political.

The "Pennsylvania dukedom" has been a favorite phrase in democratic journals since the resignation of Senator Cameron and the nomination of his son to fill his place. While not defending the transfer, the Norristown Herald shows that the term dukedom is quite as applicable to democratic Delaware as to the republican Pennsylvania. It says: "The Senatorship of Delaware has descended in the line of Bayard from sire to son. The elder Bayard not only put the present incumbent in as a successor, but had himself elected on the same day to fill a vacancy, so that for a time his family monopolized all the Senatorial honors that the State had to confer. Nor is this the only instance of the kind that Delaware has given. Willard Saulsbury held the Senatorship for twelve years, and then turned it over to his brother Eli, who is now serving his second term. There may be valid objections to Mr. J. D. Cameron, but the fact that he is the son of Simon Cameron is not one of them."

The colored members of the Louisiana legislature have all gone back to Packard from Nicholls.

Competition in the Healing Art.

A correspondent of the Boston Transcript writes as follows:

Will you allow a citizen who has wasted a great deal of money on regularly graduated physicians to enter a feeble protest against the passage of any law that will prevent me from employing an M. D., a woman, or a quack to prescribe for sickness in my family. Let us have competition in the healing art, as well as in law, literature, theology, and provisions. I am credibly informed that the order on which the city's petition for the proposed law was based, was instigated by some young South-End physicians who happen to live in the vicinity of, and come in competition with, several "irregular" practitioners; and the reason alleged was that the "quacks" took away a great deal of business which the young "regulars" think they are entitled to. This law would compel people to employ young and inexperienced physicians, and pay them for trying experiments on patients in order to obtain the experience necessary to success. I had the extreme felicity of paying a bill of $25 to a well-known city doctor who experimented on and dosed a child, and finally gave up all hope of curing her of simple eczema, but he kept on coming and charging for each visit until a gentle hint was given him to quit. A very simple remedy shortly afterward administered by an "irregular" effected a permanent cure. The fact is, not one-half the doctors with less than twenty years' experience know what will be the effect of a dose they prescribe, and they have to come again and see what the result is, and if it does not happen to operate right they try something else. The competition growing out of the establishment of the homœopathic and eclectic schools of practice has caused the old-school physicians not only to change their nauseous remedies, but to moderate their prices. Let us continue to have free practice in medicine as we have had; and let each individual exercise intelligent discrimination. If one is not competent to judge it is own fault, is this day and generation. I venture to say that so-called "quacks" perform a dozen cures of chronic cases to one performed by an equal number of regulars. Let every person who sets up in the healing art be required to register his name and place with the city clerk, if you please; but do not pass a law that will impose needless restrictions upon medical practice. Like the prohibitory, internal-revenue and income-tax laws, such a measure would tend to make the public evade its requirements; it could not be enforced, and would be of no practical benefit in giving us more competent physicians.

—Fourteen roses, fully blown, were counted recently, on a single spring bonnet.

—Here comes the arithmetic puzzler—a young colored scamp, who must have been born multiplying or dividing—with the conundrum, "What two whole numbers, multiplied together, make seven?" We guessed and guessed, and then got mad and swore it couldn't be done. After we had abused the urchin to our heart's content he quietly remarked that his mother said if she had a child four years old that couldn't tell, she would send him back to school. We "went for" him, then, and just as we were about to tear him limb from limb, he yelled out, "How much is seven times one!"

—The mansion of Hon. Thomas C. Perrin of Abbeville, S. C., which was recently burned, was the scene of the last session of the Confederate Cabinet. Jefferson Davis and his Cabinet passed through the town on their retreat from Richmond, and were entertained at this house, where, after a final consultation, they determined to disband. Mr. Benjamin, Secretary of State, consulted with the host, who had been the first man to sign the South Carolina secession ordinance of 1860, as to the disposition to be made of the great seal of the Confederacy. Col. Perrin urged him to cast it into the Savannah River which he was to cross the next day, and it is believed that this was done.

Three New Industries.

1st, The flax industry, by which some $25,000,000 annually could be saved which is now paid to Europe. We have the fertile soil and our people are waiting to raise the fibre. Who will see to it that this industry has a helping hand?

2d, The sugar-beet industry, by which we could easily save another $25,000,000, which is now paid to assist slave-holding Spain. There are successful mills in California and one in Illinois. Our farmers want employment, and will not some one give this industry a lift?"

3d, The Alpaca industry, which is apparently more firmly established than either of the others, and is more hopeful of success. The mohair is raised to a considerable extent in Georgia, Kansas and Nebraska, and more largely still in California and Oregon. Three factories are already in existence; one in Jamestown, N. J., one at Chicopee Falls, Mass., and one (the oldest and most successful) at Holyoke, Mass.

These industries are justly a part of the pursuit of our people and should be encouraged and firmly established. It cannot be said that protection to these industries is encouragement to monopolies. The farmer must first raise the beets, the flax and the mohair, and the machinest must furnish the machinery, the lumberman and the brick-maker the building materials, and the laborers and operatives must be employed in all branches to do the work. In the beets there will be food for the cattle left from the product of sugar; in the flax there is seed and tow as well as fibre, and in the mohair the goat furnishes meat, enriches poor soil, and the pelts are so valuable that these animals are raised in one section of California for their pelts alone for mats, mittens, etc. Shall we have these three additional sources of wealth established?

—The sweetest thing in the way of a scarf for young men, that has been brought out for spring wear, is a duck of a thing in black or navy blue satin, that covers the shirt front, and falls back over the shoulders in two long swallow tails, thus taking the place of a dress coat for evening wear.

A Result of Obstructed Digestion.

Among the hurtful consequences of obstructed digestion, is the impoverishment of the blood, and since a deteriative condition of the vital fluid not only produces dangerous organic weakness, but, according to the best medical authorities, sometimes causes asphyxia, it is apparent that to improve the quality of the blood by promoting digestion and assimilation, is a wise precution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely the remedy for this purpose, since it stimulates the gastric juices, conquers those bilious and evacuative irregularities which interfere with the digestive processes, promotes assimilation of the food by the blood, and purifies as well as enriches it. The signs of improvement in health in consequence of using the Bitters are speedily apparent in accession of vigor, a gain in bodily substance, and a regular and active performance of every physical function.

The Gates of Pearl,

JOTTINGS.

At a meeting of the Temperance Mutual Relief Association, in Mechanics' Hall, on Wednesday evening, the President, Dr. E. B. Goodall, read the constitution and by-laws and gave a somewhat extended explanation of the objects sought to be accomplished by the Association and the manner in which it is proposed to attain them. Remarks were made by Ex-President John S. Treat and President James Janvrin of the Reform Club, Col. T. E. O. Marvin and Mr. Frank T. Thurston; and several applications for membership were received. Some provisions of the articles expressly aim at encouraging members to stick to their temperance pledge; for instance, a member who falls from grace for the first time is placed on six months' probation, and if taken sick during that period receives no assistance whatever from the Association; if he behaves all right during his suspension, however, at the end of six months he again steps into good and regular standing, to enjoy all benefits the same as though he had not erred; but if he breaks his pledge a second time—good bye John; out he goes.

"Scott," the Washington correspondent of the Boston Traveller, telegraphs that paper that Ex-Speaker Randall says Hon. Frank Jones' re-election cost him $30,000. "Scott" might have added, "The half has not been told."

From further particulars concerning the accidents to Portsmouth and other vessels on Nantucket Shoals, it appears that a large fleet of coasters was caught on the shoals by the northeast gale and snow-storm on Saturday morning, the 17th, and in running for Cross Rip lightship ran behind Long Shoal, Muskeget Channel. Schooner T. J. Trafton, Hoyt, drawing thirteen feet of water, struck on a spur of Long Shoal, but after doing some heavy pounding which caused her to leak considerably, she beat over the shoal at a point where there was only seven feet, into deep water, and reached Vineyard Haven next day in safety. Schooner Active, Seward, of and from this port for New York, also struck the shoal, but soon came off without apparent damage. Schooner M. Sewall, (before reported wrecked,) made the shoal and anchored close up to its edge, riding out the gale in safety all day Saturday, and through the night; but on Sunday forenoon she swung against the shoal and immediately filled, the crew hastily taking to the boat with what they stood in, and boarding a schooner anchored close by, their own vessel rolling over soon after she was abandoned; she had a cargo of laths, and is a total loss. Schooners D. Sawyer, Bramhall, Flora A. Newcomb and Union all went on the shoal and came off more or less damaged; brig British Queen beat over the shoal, afterward lost an anchor, and was last seen running through Muskeget Channel; schooner Nathan Cleaves beat over in five feet of water, after throwing over part of her ballast; and a number of other vessels touched lightly. Considering the state of the weather, the large number of vessels caught on the shoals and the number that struck, it is most remarkable that but one vessel was lost.

There is a crowd of street Arabs, mostly Irish, that haunts Church Hill and needs looking after the worst kind, most of its members seeming to be in training for State prison. These boys neither attend school nor stay at home, their only occupation and ambition, apparently, being to incite dog-fights, smoke pipes, use profane and obscene language, and in other ways make themselves as obnoxious as possible to decent people. It is a hard matter for the police to catch them at any of their petty rascalities, as they keep the very best kind of lookout for the approach of those "natural enemies" of theirs; but if some of the dwellers or business people of the neighborhood should lay complaints that would send a dozen or so of the young scalawags to the Reform School or House of Correction, it would have a tendency to check the boyish ruffianism now so popular in that district.

Mr. Charles N. Knowles, of Rye, has a sheep which in seven years has produced twenty-three lambs; five of this number, weighing thirty pounds, were brought forth this Spring and are all well and bright.

Sagamore Lodge, No. 258, Knights of Honor, celebrate their first anniversary on Monday evening at the Lodge of the order on Market street. The exercises will commence with an address of welcome to the ladies by Chaplain Stephen W. Clarke, to be followed by readings, vocal music (solos and quartettes) and brief addresses by members. An adjournment will then be taken to Franklin Banquet Hall, for a picnic supper, after which toasts and responses, music, etc., will be in order. Charles A. Shannon, Esq., will officiate as master of ceremonies. Only members of the order will be admitted, each member however having the privilege of introducing two ladies.

It is reported that the company owning the steam colliers which have visited this harbor so regularly for some years, will soon send one of their very largest boats, the "Reading," said to register about three thousand tons, to this port with a full cargo of coal, just to show the capacity of the harbor for accommodating huge vessels of heavy draught of water. There is water enough in the Piscataqua to float anything that can make the turn at the Narrows.

The M. E. Grand High Priest of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of New Hampshire, will pay an official visit to Washington Chapter, No. 3, of this city, on Monday evening, March 27th.

Major Daniel J. Vaughan, having received his commission as captain of the Portsmouth Heavy Artillery, took command Thursday evening.

In this Senatorial district Marcellus Eldredge (dem.) of this city received 2620, E. B. Philbrick (rep.) of Rye, 2454, and there were 12 scattering votes; Eldredge's majority, 154.

Grand Master A. F. Craig, of this city, dedicated the elegant new Odd Fellows' Hall of Washington Lodge, No. 4, at Great Falls, Wednesday night, about two hundred Odd Fellows and ladies being present. The hall is one of the finest in this State, and is handsomely furnished. After dedication exercises a collation prepared by the ladies was served.

Mr. William Berry, of Rye, an unmarried man about fifty years of age, committed suicide on Wednesday. He lived with Mr. Le Roy Trefethen, and not appearing at the usual hour in the morning some of the family at about half-past ten o'clock went to his room, and found him sitting on the bed-side, dead, having apparently been dead for some hours. He was a farmer, and in quite comfortable circumstances pecuniarily. He strangled himself by putting his neck in the bight of a line both ends of which were fastened to a nail driven in the window casing, and then leaning forward.

Why Blue Glass is Useful.

Three distinct principles are found in the rays of the sun—light, heat, and actinism. The light and heat rays are sufficiently well known, and call for no remark in this note. The actinic, or chemical rays, their properties and power, are less generally known, and I offer a few words in regard to them, as furnishing, perhaps, the key to the blue glass discovery (?) It is the actinic ray which fades, bleaches, or rots textile fabrics, tans the skin, and, instead of light, is the ray which performs the operation of (so-called) photography. Its mode of action is by abstracting oxygen from bodies upon which it falls. Hence the reduction of the oxide of silver upon the photographer's plate to metallic silver; and hence the full rays of the sun falling upon the fire will retard the combustion. Blue glass freely allows the passage of this ray, while the red or yellow glass impedes it. That it is an agent of eminent power in the preservation or restoration of health in the animal economy, is shown in the well known effect of red or yellow wall-paper in bringing pallor and generally deficient health to the occupants of rooms thus furnished, and in the equally well-known and favorable effects of blue wall-paper and furniture.

Its extensive and dominant relation to plant growth I do not refer to, as being beyond the purpose of this note. Medical men send sick and ailing people in the open air for more than one reason—that they may find a purer air to breathe, and that they may have, not the light nor the heat rays—for these can be had within doors—but actinism. This they find in largest measure in the spring and summer months, and greatly less from November to April. The blue vault of a cloudless sky is far more favorable than the leaden dome of an overcast day. The conclusion results from these facts that blue glass, by reason of its property of affording free transmission to the actinic ray, is a most beneficent agent in the conservation and promotion of health, and that its use, with especial reference to those who, because of malady or infirmity, pass their time principally within doors, is a most valuable recruit in the field of applied knowledge—for which all thanks to its military sponsor, General Pleasonton. Cor. N. Y. Tribune.

Plucky American Colonists.

Mr. Moore, of the American colony of San Xavier, has again given the Indians a touch of the "grit" in his character. The savages stole fifty cows from his son; he immediately assembled eleven men and a recently rescued captive as guide. They rode seventy leagues into the heart of the Chaco before coming up with the marauders. A fight ensued and the cows were retaken. The Cacique fled, urging a French boy, a captive, with his lance, to keep up with him; a bullet fired with marvelous aim by one of the colonists, rolled the savage dead from his horse, and the boy was free. Suddenly eighty Indians of another tribe fell on the little band, which met the attack in two divisions. Fourteen Indians were sent to the happy hunting-grounds in five minutes. The rest fled, and the heroic little party returned to San Xavier.—Buenos Ayres Standard.

Centennial Results.

We are beginning to reap the fruits of our Centennial Exhibition, in the orders that are coming back to us from Europe for all sorts of American manufactures. The Swiss are clearly discouraged in consequence of the comparison of our watch manufacture with theirs. American silks likewise have attracted very favorable attention abroad. American arms are the ones most in demand in all parts of Europe. And so is our hardware. Large orders have come from Norway and Australia for American agricultural implements. It is a good foundation for prosperity, as the revival of business begins to come in sight. Ploughman.

A One Rail Railroad.

California has a one-rail railroad in operation at Norfolk, on Sonoma Creek, three and a half miles in length, and intended to be extended up the alley. It is called the Prismoidal Railway, and was formally opened on November 14. The track is a continuous prism of beveled boards, twenty-seven inches wide and fifteen inches high, with a single rail laid on top. The car which travels on the line is supported by two wheels, one in front and one in the rear, with independent revolving flanges. The locomotive is the first of its kind constructed in the State. The visiting party took their places on seats which were ranged on each side of the car, the passengers being face to face. The first impression suggested was that which ordinarily fills the bosom of the novice who makes his maiden effort to ride the uncertain bicycle. A certain insurance that the whole thing would topple over at the first movement was the general belief of thy uninitiated. But the engineer sounded his whistle, the passengers gave their tremulous cheers, and the train moved off smoothly, and soon the pace was considerably augmented. Wonderful to relate, says the San Francisco Examiner, the oscillation was scarcely perceptibly, and the locomotive and cars rode along the single rail as firmly as the trains on the broadest of English solidly constructed broad gauges. The faster the train proceeded the smaller in number and extent became the lateral oscillations, beautifully and practically exemplifying the great principles of the whole prismoidal system, that the greater the speed the less liability to oscillate, a principle clearly demonstrated by the gyroscope and velocipede. To those making their first trip on the new railroad the ease and comfort of this mode of traveling suggested itself most strikingly. The train was run out to the end of the completed line, where forty-five men were found continuing the building of the prism, onward. The construction of the road has cost, for the present three miles and a half, including the cost of the road-bed over the marsh, about $4,500 a mile, one-half the cost of the narrow gauge railroad, the most economical of the two rail system.

—Red parasols have appeared on Broadway.

—Wulf & Welp is the ferocious name of a New York firm.

—The merchants of San Francisco have held a meeting to devise measures of protection against fraudulent bankruptcies. One merchant frankly said that he would sooner trust a bankrupt than an ordinary dealer, as the former would be more likely to possess sufficient money to pay the debt.

—"It's all very well," remarked a red-nosed man in a bad hat and an ulster of the vintage of '73; "it's all very well to say, let business revive; but what we want, sir, is confidence, public confidence, sir. Each of us must be willing to bring out our hoarded dollars and put them once more in circulation. Then the skies will brighten; then—by the way, I changed my vest this morning—lend me fifty cents, will you?"

—Aimee, the queen of opera bouffe in this country, according to "Walsingham," is not the siren off the stage that she looks before the footlights. "Real life," he says, "finds her a rather sedate little Frenchwoman, her dark hair done up compactly, and only her alert eyes and a trick of contracting her upper lip so as to disclose her teeth, enabling one to recognize her as the brilliant blonde being who is so naughty and nice in the questionable productions in which her talents are displayed. She dresses neatly in dark colors, and looks generally like an estimable French person at peace with herself and all the world. Mlle. Aimee, although on pleasure bent, hath, like John Gilpin, a frugal mind. Hence a large banking account and many jewels. Extravagant she is not, and there is a tradition that she has her silks and laces cleaned with the most economical care."

—The news comes from California of the discovery of a mineral soap, which can be used for all the purposes to which manufactured soaps are applicable. The discoverer found it when prospecting for coal and used it in his family for a year before announcing it. It is now, however, taken up by a company, and will be brought into commerce. The mine, which is situated in a somewhat inaccessible part of the coast, is in close vicinity of a stream, and it was from the fact that pieces of stone which fell into the stream were observed to melt away that the properties of it became known. The soap is described as marbled or parti-colored like Castile soap, and the extent of the mine is said to be very great. The soap is in the neighborhood of slate-stone and sandstone, and near is a mountain of gypsum, which appears to have been turned up on its edge. The whole country around bears evidence of volcanic action, and the mountains near appear to have been once under the sea, as shells and other marine products abound on the highest points.

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it's effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing phys cian, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be a I that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Marriage Etiquette for Widows and Widowers.

It is contrary to custom to invite guests to the marriage of a widow. If a widower marries a young girl, the etiquette is the same as that of a first marriage. A widow must marry in the morning early, without show, and has only her witnesses and those of her intended. Her dress must be plain, of quiet color; black, however, is not admissible. On leaving church, the bride invites to breakfast the witnesses who have formed the party, but no other guests are invited to this repast. On the fifteenth day after the marriage, cards are sent bearing the new address of the married pair. A widow never makes wedding calls after remarrying. Those who receive the cards do the visiting. There is a month allowed for the return of cards, and the visits. When a single lady marries, after having passed the usual age for marriage, the ceremony should be simple and unobtrusive.—Demorest's Monthly.

—One of our cotemporaries heads an article, "Who Shall Lead?" A very brief examination of Hoyle will show the man next the dealer should do so.

—An Augusta schoolboy, who had apparently got his ideas mixed in regard to Sir Isaac Newton and General Newton, recently stated in recitation that when Sir Isaac saw the historic apple fall to the ground, its breaking to pieces when it struck suggested the practicability of exploding the rock at Hell Gate, New York.

SALE OF NAVAL VESSELS.

NAVY DEPARTMENT,
BUREAU OF CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIR,
February 27, 1877.

The Navy Department will offer for sale at public auction the following named vessels:

At the United States Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., on Tuesday, the 27th of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock, M., the U. S. Ship "SARANAC" of 1,675 tons measurement.

At the United States Navy Yard, New York, on Thursday, the 29th of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock M., the U. S. Steamer "SUSQUEHANNA" of 2,225 tons measurement.

At the United States Navy Yard, League Island, on Saturday, the 31st of March, 1877, at 12 o'clock M., the U. S. ship "POTOMAC" of 1,457 tons measurement.

The vessels will be offered as they lie on the day of sale. They may be examined at any time previous to the day of sale on application to the commandants of the yards where they are respectively, who will exhibit to persons desiring to bid an inventory of such articles as may be sold with them.

Thirty (30) per centum of the purchase money must be deposited at the time of sale, and the balance paid in cash when the sale is confirmed by the Department; the vessels to be removed within ten days after the date of such confirmation.

The Government reserves the right to withdraw the vessels, or either of them, from sale, to confirm the sale, and to reject any bid or offer which may be considered inadequate. 13wtuSec27

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1823 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus deprived themselves of the pleasures of married life and are those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichois Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting Dr. Young by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and consequently reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is offered in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as any single agency in the world to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commends to a greater degree than any cotemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of interest and character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly proves to a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertisement pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me two packages more, I hardly wish to try them. I enclose $4.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Applied on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23rd on their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or go any work at all, especially in cold weather. About time ago Anylend him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from the Rheumatism for twenty years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know of, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried patent medicines without any good result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I have suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and hold out a little longer, hence for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LAGONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaints, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCIE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

Is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Cronp,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE ——

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. He offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The finest selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it endeavors itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successfu practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"Inventors cannot employ a more more trustworthy or more capable of securing for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and aided me in numerous of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

WHAT PAYS?
IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to be informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.
It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that is reliable and most interesting; that imparts thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American
which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest and best illustrated weekly newspaper of science published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.
Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of new inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of new inventions and discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science throughout the world.
THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication, and is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.
The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.
Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.
A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.
PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, the undersigned, Messrs. Munn & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.
Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are advertised free, and in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Inventions by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 cents.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.
Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.
The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.
The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.
The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.
AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF
POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.
Announcement for 1877.
The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to furnish the readers of a copy of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great objects and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and sounder views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. Its pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.
In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following:
SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.
1. A new serial story, entitled "THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"
by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.
To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," it may be sufficient to say that the genius lashed writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is guarantee for purity of a clean, interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December issue, will be published gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.
2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of
SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,
by P. of. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from personal observation.
3. A series of popular papers on
ART AND ART MATTERS,
by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.
4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled
PICTURES FROM SPAIN,
by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.
5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Elegant
PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,
will be continued through the year.
6.
THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,
will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.
7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.
For Sale by all Book and Newsdealers.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.
I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.
II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.
III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the Union, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sacrcity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.
IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.
V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Stories, Sketches, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.
VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is a labor saver to hundreds of thousands of farmers than any other influence which ever existed."
VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are received from all parts, of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and are published in the most intelligible accuracy. Its Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.
VIII.—MORE PRIZES FOR THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper or equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.
IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the intelligence and the progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in purpose policies, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.
X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the consistent, vigorous and fearless course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and new recruits are coming from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Notices of the Press.
The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.
Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it reputation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the literary presentation. Fictions merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.
In its pages are represented, with the most eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Aubrey de Vere, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, political criticism and art.
The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."
As a special offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the numbers for 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.
The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

THE MOUNTAIN MEADOW MASSACRE.

The following is part of the confession made by John D. Lee relative to the Mountain Meadow massacre:

I was born at Kaskaskia, Illinois, in 1812; was raised as a Catholic; married in 1833; became wealthy; on Rock Creek, in 1837, became acquainted with Mormon preachers. I bought, read and believed the book of Mormon. Sold my property in Illinois and moved to the Far West in Missouri in 1837, where I joined the Mormon church and became intimately acquainted with Joseph Smith, Brigham Young and other leaders of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints; was subsequently initiated into the order of Danites at its first formation. This order was solemnly sworn to obey all orders of the priesthood of the Mormon Church, to do any and all things as commanded. The Destroying Angels of the Mormon Church were selected from this organization. I took an active part as a Mormon soldier in the conflicts between the people of Missouri and the Mormons, which made Jackson county (Mo.) historic ground when the Mormons were expelled from Missouri. I was one of the first to settle at Nauvoo, Illinois, where I took an active part in all that was done for the church or city. I had charge of the construction of many public buildings there. Was a policeman and body guard of Joseph Smith of Nauvoo. After his death I held the same position to Brigham Young, who succeeded Smith as prophet. I was recorded for the quorum of seventy, head clerk of the church and organized the priesthood into the Order of Seventies. I took all the degrees in the endowment house and stood high in the priesthood. Immediately after Joseph Smith received a revelation concerning polygamy, I was informed of its doctrines by said Joseph Smith and the Apostles. I believed in the doctrine and have been sealed to eighteen women, three of whom were sisters and one was the mother of three of my wives. I was sealed to this old woman for her soul's salvation. I was an honored man in the church, flattered and regarded by Brigham Young and the Apostles until 1868, when I was cut off from the church and selected as a scapegoat to suffer for and bear the sins of my people.

As a duty to myself and mankind I now confess all that I know and all that I did at the Mountain Meadow massacre, without animosity to any one, shielding none and giving the facts as they existed. Those with me on that occasion were acting under orders from the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. The horrid deeds then committed were done as a duty which we believed we owed to God and our church. We were all sworn to secresy before and after the massacre. The penalty for giving information was death. As I am to suffer death for what I then did, and have been betrayed, both by those who gave me orders to act, and the most active of my assistants, I now give the true facts as they exist, and tell why the massacre was committed and who were the active participants. The Mountain Meadow massacre was the result of the direct teachings of Brigham Young. And it was done by orders of those high in authority in the Mormon community. The immediate orders for the massacre were issued by Col. Dame, Lieut. Col. Isaac C. Haight and council at Cedar City, Utah. Haight was the leader there in all things civil, clerical and military. It was a crime punishable by death to disobey his orders. Haight gave me a full account of the emigrants coming. He said the emigrants were a rough set; that they were bad men, robbers and murderers, and had helped to kill Mormon prophets. I believed him. I was ordered to raise Indians to attack the train and run off the cattle, and to have the Indians kill the emigrants. I sent Carl Shirts, my son-in-law, to raise the Southern Indians. Nephi Johnson went to the other tribes. On Monday morning I left to obey orders. Haight said: "We are acting by orders. It is all right. We will let the Indians bear all the blame." I said: "We are forbidden to shed innocent blood." The reply of Haight was, "There is not a drop of innocent blood in the whole lot. Go, Brother Lee, and carry out the instructions of those in authority. If you are dutiful in this your reward shall be great in the kingdom of God, for God will bless those who obey the Counsel and make all things fit for the people of the Lord in their days."

On my way home I passed many Indians on the war path. I promised to join them the next day. On Tuesday morning the Indians attacked the train at daylight and killed seven and wounded sixteen emigrants. The Indians lost some warriors. The emigrants then fortified and the Indians surrounded them and sent for me. The whole county was aroused, both whites and Indians rushing to Mountain Meadow from all directions. I arrived at the camp late Tuesday afternoon and found the Indians in large force. They demanded that I should lead the attack. I refused until further orders were received from Haight or Dame. On Thursday orders came by Major Higby. There were fifty-eight whites and about five hundred Indians present. Then Higby made a speech and said all the emigrants were to be killed who could talk; that we must get them out of the fortifications by treachery.

I was to follow a flag of truce and make a treaty with the besieged and promise protection. I was also to get the arms of the emigrants and the sick and wounded and also the children into wagons. Then the troops under Higby would meet the emigrants. The Indians were to remain in ambush. The women were to go ahead. The Indians were then to kill the women. The militia were to kill the men, and I and the drivers of wagons were to kill the wounded and sick in the wagons. Several other men then made speeches. Then we had a prayer circle and then more speeches, and it was agreed by all parties that it was the will of God for us to do as ordered. On Friday morning the emigrants had a white flag flying, and the Mormon brethren again assembled. Speeches were made, and all expressed themselves willing to act.

The roll of assassins included Maj. John M. Higby, Phillip K. Smith, bishop of the church at Cedar City, Joel White, William C. Stewart, Benj. Arthur, Alexander Wilden, Charles Hopkins Tate, Ira Ellew, Robert Wiley, Richard Harrison, Samuel Pollock, Daniel McFarlane, John Ure, George Hunter, Joseph Smith, Samuel Jukes, Nephi Johnsen, Carl Shirts, Seven Jacobs, John Jacobs, E. Curtis, Thomas Cartwright, William Bateman, Anthony Stratton, A. Loveridge, Joseph Clews, John Durfey, Columbus Freeman and others, making fifty-four or fifty-eight whites and about 400 or 500 Indians.

Major Higby then addressed the party and said, "Brethren, it is the orders of the President that all emigrants must be put out of the way. President Haight has counseled with Col. Dame, and has received orders from him to put all of the emigrants out of the way. All of them must be killed. Especially those that might talk again." He spoke of the character of the emigrants. He said the church authorities of Southern Utah were all there, and that we were there to do a duty we owed as good church people. That the orders of those in authority were that all of the emigrants that could talk must die. Higby concluded as follows: "Our orders are from our leaders, who speak with inspired tongues, and their words are the will of good men. You have no right to question them. You must obey as you are commanded."

The flag of truce was then sent forward. It was carried by William Bateman. He was met by the emigrants and they held a parley with him. Bateman then returned and reported that the emigrants would surrender arms and do as requested. The Mormon soldiers then marched out to within two hundred yards of the emigrants. They next took the wagons and went to the camp and stated their orders. The emigrants then surrendered and put their arms, sick and wounded and children into the wagons. While they were burying their dead men the emigrants burst into tears and said they feared treachery. As soon as the wagons were loaded the train was started. The emigrants marched in single file, the women and large children being ahead. Then the men came.

When the wagons were half a mile off the fire commenced. The Indians killed all the women and large children. The Mormons killed the men. The drivers with me killed the sick and wounded. We saved seventeen children. The dead were stripped and mutilated, and the corpses left on the field. The Mormons camped on the field. The next day Haight, Dame, and other leaders came over. Finally they quarreled. Haight said to Dame: "You ordered it, and damn you, it is too late to go back." Dame said he did not know there were so many of them. We buried the dead, and drove the cattle to Iron Springs. All the wagons and other property were sold in Cedar City by order of the church authorities. All the orders were fully obeyed.

The horrors attending the massacre of the emigrants are beyond my description. The brethren were sworn again to secresy. This was also done by order of the church, which was then at war with the United States Government. George A. Smith, who was second in the priesthood, having just happened to be there giving orders, visited the Indian Camp with me. He said he came to instruct the people to let none of the emigrants go past without a pass from President Young, Col. Dame or Lieut. Col. Haight; that they must not sell the emigrants any more good grain; in fact, anything. He said the Americans were a mob of ruffians, from the President down. He asked if the Indians would kill all bad emigrants. I told him the Indians and Mormons were both hostile to them, and would kill all not under the protection of the church. This pleased him, and he laughed and said "All right." Haight and Dame told him the same thing. He taught the people that it was their duty to kill all emigrants and massacre them, just as Brother Smith and the other leaders wanted.

Haight sent me to Salt Lake City to report to Brigham Young, and he promised me a crown celestial as my reward. I went and made my report to Brigham Young ten days after the massacre. I told him all—everything—who were there, who were guilty and who were active in killing the emigrants. In fact, all I knew. I said to him: "You must sustain us or release us from the endowment oath to avenge the death of the prophets. Brigham Young said: I will communicate with God. I went back the next morning, when Young said: "Brother Lee, not a drop of innocent blood has been shed. I have gone to God in prayer. God has shown me that it was a just act. The people did right, but were only a little hasty. I have direct evidence from God that the act was a just one; that it was in accord with God's will. All I fear is treachery on the part of the brethren concerned. Go home and tell the brethren I sustain them. Keep all secret as the grave. Never tell any one, and write me a letter laying all the blame on the Indians. I will then report to the United States Government that it was an Indian massacre." Brigham Young was then and for many years after fully satisfied with me and my act. He gave me three wives after that, and appointed me Probate Judge of Washington county. Nothing but cowardice has made him desert me. Fifty head of cattle were sold in Salt Lake City by the authorities for merchandise. The emigrants had 450, making 500 head in all. They had only a little money. When Cradlebaugh was Judge in Utah, and went to Mountain Meadows to investigate the massacre, Brigham Young came with him. He then knew all about the massacre and upheld the brethren. He preached at Cedar City and said about the emigrants: "Do you know who they were? I will tell you. They were fathers, mothers, brothers, sisters, uncles, aunts, and children of men who killed saints in Jackson county and afterwards killed the Prophet in Carthage jail. Their children are in the poor-house, their relatives refuse them because they are children of thieves, outlaws and murderers. I have been told there are many children who are willing to inform on those who did this thing. I hope there is no truth in the rumor. I hope no such person lives. If there is, I tell you what your fate will be: Unless you repent at once, keep secret all that you know and protect each other you will die a dog's death. You will soon go to Hell as damned, lost souls. Let me hear no more of treachery among my people. Any one who had proved traitor there would have met the destroying angel at once."

After I reported to Brigham Young I went home and met Haight and gave him a full report of Young's statement. Haight said, "Well done, faithful servant; you shall receive a celestial reward for your services; you have deserved well of God and the church."

Lee says he then wrote an account of the massacre, laying the blame on the Indians, and says "it was years afterward before I knew that I had been made a tool of by the leaders. I only obeyed the orders of my superiors. I then believed I was serving God and would receive a celestial reward. Now I know it is wrong, and that my reward is not to be celestial.

It was the first plan to have none but Indians take part in the massacre, but as William C. Stewart, Joel White and Benjamin Arthur were coming to Mountain Meadow on Wednesday night they met Young Aden and another man going from the emigrants to Cedar City for help. They told of the Indian attack and asked aid from the settlers. The only reply was a shot from Stewart, which killed Aden. The other man was wounded by White and Arthur, but escaped and carried word that the whites had come to help the Indians. After this the authorities said there was no safety except in killing all who could talk. Wm. C. Stewart was the most bloodthirsty of any one there. He cut throats just for amusement. Klingensmith, Bishop of Cedar City, killed a man. Every one there took part in killing women and children as a religious duty. We were at that time in the midst of excitement of reformation, and were made to believe that the fulness of time had come, that the Mormons were to conquer the world at once and inherit all the wealth of the universe, that Christ was to come and rule for 1000 years, and that the Mormon doctrine was to be universally accepted.

The witnesses on my trial have not told the whole truth. They are all guilty of helping to kill the band of emigrants. This is the only act of violence that I ever took part in, except when in lawful battle. I would not have acted on that occasion as I did to have saved my body from tortures had I not believed I was obeying orders from the heads of the church. I knew I was doing according to the teachings of the priesthood, and I still think Haight had his orders from the heads of the church.

My journals and private writings have been destroyed by order of Brigham Young. I have nothing left but my memory to give as my account of the foul deeds done in God's name during the years when Brigham Young was chief ruler in Utah. I know of many other murders, castrations and robberies committed by order of the priesthood all of which I have fully stated in my writings delivered to my attorney, W. W. Bishop. I have told the whole truth, and the God I am soon to meet face to face knows that my assertions are nothing but truth.

"By their Works ye Shall Know Them."

The Irishman who thought the druggist stingy because the emetic was so small, is only surpassed in his parsimonious drollery by those who persistently adhere to the use of those nauseating, disgustingly large and drastic pills, while Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets, which are sugar-coated, and little larger than mustard seeds, will by their steady and gentle action on the liver, correct all torpidity, thus permanently overcoming constipation. In South America they have almost entirely superseded all other pills, and are relied on fully by the people, and often used as a preventive of the various affections of the stomach, liver and bowels, so prevalent in that climate. Pierce's Pocket Medical Companion Books are given away at drug-stores.

SMYRNA, Aroostook Co., Maine, Nov. 6, 1876.

R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

Dear Sir—I write to inform you that I have used your Pellets for some time, and find them to be the best medicine that I ever used. I have also used your Favorite Prescription in my family with entire satisfaction. I have seen your People's Common Sense Medical Adviser and I think it is the best thing that I have ever seen.

Yours truly, C. SHERMAN.

News and Notes.

The work of dredging the bottom of the East River at Hallett's Point has commenced.

The evidence against Major Reno, on trial at St. Paul for slandering the wife of a brother officer, is damaging and he will probably be disgraced.

The Ohio temperance women are on the war path again. About thirty of them, armed with axes, descended on a saloon at Millertown last week, smashed in the door, demolished bar, jugs, kegs and walls, marching off in good order, singing, "We'll hoist our flag and on to victory."

John Morton, a son of Senator Morton, has left for the Alaska Islands as Government agent to superintend the killing of seals, under the contract which permits the slaughter of 100,000 seals per annum.

Three barques, the Burnside, Jeanie and Inga, and two brigs, the Ella and Alberta, are long out from New York without being heard of, and are all given up for lost with all on board. The list of vessels "missing" since the first of December last is fearfully long.

Mr. Gordon Cumming, the famous Scotch explorer and lion killer, is to be married in April, to Miss Eames, a Washington belle. Among the bridesmaids will be the daughters of ex-Secretary Fish and Sir Edward Thornton.

A daring robber entered the Indiana National Bank at Indianapolis, at noon Wednesday, and placing upon the floor a small box which he carried, he stood upon it, and reaching over the railing, grabbed a package containing $30,000. He made off with the money before the attendants and clerks could give an alarm. So quietly was the package taken, that no one was able to give a description of the thief.

Col. Robert G. Ingersoll was entertained at a complimentary dinner given by the Massachusetts Club at Young's Hotel, Boston, Thursday evening.

Steamship Diego left New Orleans for Liverpool recently with 6,800 bales of cotton on board, the largest cargo ever taken from that port in a steamer.

Steamer Martha's Vineyard on Wednesday went to the wreck of schooner M. Sawall, recently grounded and capsized on Long Shoal, and found her afloat and riding to her anchors, but the sea being high, did not succeed in taking her into port. Her mainmast is nearly out, only hanging by the deck.

Billy Patterson and Joe Hill, desperate fellows and bitter enemies, who had often fought before, had a terrible knife fight in a drug store near Richmond, Ky., last week. The throats of both were cut from ear to ear at the first encounter, but they kept on till arms, face and head were hacked horribly, and both fatally hurt.

More wrecks. British ship Winchester, from Liverpool for Norfolk, Va., in ballast, went ashore near Cape Henry Wednesday night. The life-saving crew were driven back by the heavy sea in an attempt to board the ship with their life boat, and could not reach the wreck with a shot from their mortar; but a line was sent on shore from the ship by means of a floating barrel, and the crew, twenty-seven in number, were safely landed in the life-car. Italian barque Papa Luigui, from Girgenti for Boston with a cargo of brimstone, went ashore on Nantucket during a fog Wednesday night, and bilged; crew saved by life saving station men. She was a nearly new vessel of 450 tons register. The steamship Columbus, which arrived at New York on Wednesday from Havana, reports that on March 9, when near Cape Hatteras on the outward passage, during a severe southerly gale, an American brig was seen about two miles from the steamship with the flag union down, and apparently in a sinking condition; it was impossible to render any assistance on account of the heavy sea, and the brig soon afterward disappeared. On March 20, on the return voyage, when near Cape Hatteras, the captain and five men of the schooner Gov. Burton, from Philadelphia to Charleston, S. C., were rescued from their sinking vessel. The rescued men were nearly exhausted.

ASSESSORS' NOTICE.

THE Inhabitants of the City of Portsmouth are hereby required to exhibit to the Assessors of said City a just and true account of their Polls and Estates, ratable by law, on or before the fifteenth day of April.

And all persons who do not comply with the above requirements in handing in an inventory of their ratable estate, and making oath to the same, will have no legal claim for abatement.

The Assessors, or any Justice of the Peace, or the City Clerk, are proper persons to administer the oath, and each individual making his inventory should have an endorsement on the same, certifying that it has been duly sworn to, and the same to be handed to one of the Assessors, or left with their Secretary at the City Clerk's Office on or before the fifteenth day of April.

SICK HEADACHE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 5, 1877.
I have suffered with Sick Head-Ache as often as every two weeks, for Fifteen Years. At times in such severe pain I fainted away. I tried every thing I could hear of and was attended by Physicians. I continued in this condition until last December when I commenced with the Little Giant Pills. I have not had a Head-Ache since. I want every person who suffers as I have, to try this Medicine and be cured, and if any such are not able to pay for a box, I will buy a box and give them.

JOTTINGS.

A very interesting service is expected at the Bow Mission, Sabbath afternoon. Subject "Christ or Belial," continued. Miss Davis will preside at the organ. New pieces will be sung during the service. The laboring classes are especially invited. After the regular meeting a special meeting will be called, which will be of interest to friends of the Mission.

The Braxton Family, of this city, assisted by Mr. Sheppard, organist, will give a sacred concert at Mechanics' Hall on Sunday evening; admission 10 cents; doors open at 7 o'clock.

To-morrow is Palm Sunday, the commencement of Passion Week, the week immediately preceding Easter Sunday, which this year happens upon the first day of April.

On Thursday evening, the Women's Temperance League, with invited guests to the number of 250 sat down to a bountiful repast prepared by the League, at Mechanic's Hall. After the tables were cleared the company was called to order by the President of the League, Mrs. Thorndike, and music and speeches were indulged in for an hour. The singing by Miss Thompson, and by little Aggie Fernald was very fine. All present joined in singing "Old Oaken Bucket" and other songs, Miss Florence Edgerly presiding at the organ; and short addresses were made by Rev. Messrs. Goss, Hubbell, Noyes and Alden and by President Janvrin of the Reform Club. The Committee of Arrangements deserve great credit for providing such an enjoyable entertainment.

For families visiting Philadelphia, no more cozy, home-like quarters, combined with excellent service, unexceptional cuisine and moderate prices can be found than at the Colonnade Hotel on Chestnut Street.

The reason Hon. Frank Jones got but a meagre plurality this year in place of his majority of nearly 350 two years ago, was because the democrats did not act on our disinterested advice, and have Beebe, the Congressional jig-dancer, give a breakdown on top of a desk when he appeared on the platform in Franklin Hall. That would have touched the people.

James D. Butler, Esq., of this city, has been adjudged a bankrupt on his own petition. The total liabilities as returned are $8,000, while the assets are estimated at $13,000, including a $10,000 interest in a certain patent right.

The dusty and weary traveler will find most excellent rooms with baths at the American House, Boston. The Hotel has no superior in New England, is situated in the heart of the city, and within five minutes walk of everywhere.

CITY AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Charles A. Shannon, for the school committee, appeared and made application for repairs and new seats for the lower room in the School street schoolhouse. The subject was referred.

The Common Council gave notice that they were ready to meet the Board of Aldermen in convention, agreeable to an ordinance passed March 8th.

In convention, Meshach Muchmore was elected surveyor of lumber, and Robert E. Rich was elected city treasurer.

In Board of Aldermen, a petition of the police force that they be allowed to wear the regulation cap when on duty, was accepted, and it was voted that the request be granted.

Petition of Franklin K. Brown for a new highway from North street, was accepted.

Charles W. Gardner's bill for printing city accounts and school committee's report ($332) was ordered to be paid.

The committee on police, to whom was referred the bill of Howe Call, presented a report, which was accepted. Voted to lay the bill on the table.

Application of John O'Brian, for license to deal in old junk, etc., was referred to the committee on police.

The Mayor was authorized to appoint persons to collect statistics of births and deaths and to make enrollments.

The resignation of Hiram C. Locke as inspector of petroleum and its products was accepted, and Clarence O. Walker was appointed to fill the office.

Applications for cross-walk on State street, and for repair of sidewalk in front of engine houses on Court street, were referred to committee on streets with power.

James Moses was elected collector of taxes.

The painting of the Spalding school-house and repairing of fence, was referred to the committee on school-houses with Mayor added, with power.

The committee on bills on second reading reported Oliver M. Knight's bill entitled "An ordinance relating to night-soil," without amendment, and it was read a second time and passed.

Adjourned for two weeks.

RYE.

RYE, March 23d.

The "Old Folks' Concert" was a success, notwithstanding the horrible travelling and threatening weather; the Hall was full, and all were seemingly well satisfied with the unique entertainment presented. The costumes, thirty-seven in number, were all elegant, and of course were the principal objects of attraction,—taken together with the wearers, more especially, to be sure, the ladies. Some of the hair toilets were stunning, and had the effect of so altering the usual appearance of many that it puzzled some husbands to know just who their wives were, to say nothing of the perplexity of the audience in trying to recognize their every-day acquaintances. It was the first attempt of the kind ever made in Rye, and if our great grandfathers and grandmothers looked as well as their "ancestors after them" did, and sang "The New Jerusalem," "Buckfield," "Anthem for Easter," "Russia," and many other tunes of like description, with as much "vim" as they were sang at this concert, then there must be something true about the "good old times" that we read about. Dartmouth College has been well represented by her graduates in the Governor's chair. The first Governor who was a graduate was Samuel Bell of Chester, from 1819 to 1824. Then follow Levi Woodbury, 1823-4; Matthew Harvey, 1830-1; Samuel Dinsmoor, 1831-4; Henry Hubbard, 1842-4; Samuel Dinsmoor, Jr., 1849-52; Ralph Metcalf, 1855-7. Hon. B. F. The late Rev. Dr. Leonard, of Dublin, served 33 years in that town as Superintending School Committee; Jona K. Smith served 20 years, and Henry C. Piper, the present efficient officer, is now serving his 20th year.

Benjamin D. Chase of Hudson, now 86 years old, recently walked from his house to the wood lot, a distance of three-fourths of a mile, cut a cord of pine wood and walked home again, all in six hours.

The Claremont linen mill has been purchased by a firm who propose to manufacture knit goods, and the work of fitting it up and putting in machinery will soon begin.

—General Washington couldn't tell a lie, and in this respect he differed materially from General Washington Despatches.

—Many a boy has lost his grip on his father's affection by being able to beat the old gentleman at a friendly game of cards.

—At the St. Mark's Place Cooking School in New York, recently, the chief announced that the disagreeable smell made by cabbage when cooking may be annihilated by putting a tiny piece of washing soda, not larger than the top of a lead pencil, in the pot. This is a great discovery, and should be heralded from Maine to California.

A Result of Obstructed Digestion.

Among the hurtful consequences of obstructed digestion, is the impoverishment of the blood, and since a deteriative condition of the vital fluid not only produces dangerous organic weakness, but, according to the best medical authorities, sometimes induces asphyxia, it is apparent that to improve the quality of the blood by promoting digestion and assimilation, is a wise precaution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely the remedy for this purpose, since it stimulates the gastric juices, conquers those bilious and evacuative irregularities which interfere with the digestive processes, promotes assimilation of the food by the blood, and purifies as well as enriches it. The signs of improvement in health in consequence of using the Bitters are speedily apparent, in accession of vigor, a gain in bodily substance, and a regular and active performance of every physical function.

The Gates of Pearl,

through which the human voice issues, should never become rusty. To keep the teeth forever free from blemish, to render their decay impossible, it is only necessary to use Fragrant Sozodont. It is antiseptic and supremely wholesome.

The reliable house of ALEX. FROTHINGHAM & CO., No. 12 Wall St., New York, publish a handsome eight-pages weekly paper, called the Weekly Financial Report, which they send free to any address. In addition to a large number of editorials on financial and other topics, it contains very full and accurate reports of the sales and standing of every stock, bond and security dealt in at the Stock Exchange. Messrs. FROTHINGHAM & CO. are well known brokers of large experience and tried integrity. In addition to their stock brokerage business, they sell what are termed "Privileges," or "Puts and Calls," now one of the favorite methods of legitimate speculation. Their advice is valuable, and following it many have made fortunes.—[New York Metropolis.]

Dr. A. J. Flagg's
COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.
A Safe and Sure Remedy.
The Cough and Lung Syrup
Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many year trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.
It Will Cure a Common Cold
In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.
It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.
IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.
Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.
IT WILL CURE CATARRH
More effectual than any other remedy, by simply opening the nose. TRY IT.
It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.
It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.
It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.
TRY IT.
IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.
For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.
Remember that it is
CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH-
CURES CONSUMPTION.
DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:
For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practising physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be implicitly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be a first rate medicine for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.
DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Daily Chronicle.

—An exchange remarks that "the funeral was not largely attended, but passed off acceptably to those who were present."

—A party who had lectured in Denver appeared to be somewhat dissatisfied with his reception. "Did you have a large audience?" asked a sympathetic friend. "No; the authorities having neglected to close the saloons, there was not much of an attendance."

—A new feature has been introduced into some of the country schools. When one of the girl misses a word the boy who spells it gets a kiss from her. Several girls are fast forgetting all they ever knew about spelling, while the boys are improving with unexampled rapidity.

ESTABLISHED IN 1823.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL

IN THE

UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1823 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have injured their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage, 150 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, on receipt of post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

COMBINED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $3.50; Four Copies, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year, free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, covering the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and Canadas.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind throughout the country, and consequently to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as the great light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly devotes to a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and has its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 26th, and write you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have little fear but I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done every thing for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and feel thankful I have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you my testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this knowing the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half what they could have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for many years with Rheumatism in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried half bottle of your medicine. My father has recently. I have been confined to my room most all the time for fifteen years, but have been able to travel and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only cure for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken two doses, and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I am well pleased with the effect of the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and send one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 22, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative it could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

AND

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, C. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be interpretive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every reader in the family circle, it endeavors itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays at the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information relating to the industrial, mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of Novel Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and home will save many times the cost of subscript on.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and Schools. A new volume commences on January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such gratuitous Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 147 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increasing supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the people with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strictly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December issue, will be published gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

by P. of. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's interesting and elegant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in free trade in free suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their respo sibility.

III.—THE TRIBUNE ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican tendency or conditions of republican party, but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the equal rights of all, honest faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the cornerstones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of The TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make intelligent farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to all interested in trade in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly or almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and which is always found to be reliable accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and Wool Markets it is the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of which printed in this country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS OF THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, who want the most for the price of subscription, chromos from celebrated paintings and equal to the original, of large size and suitable for any parlor; Pocket Cook Stoves; System of Dress Cutting, (this received the Highest Centennial Award); Silver Plated Ware of all kinds; Stationery, Linen Marker, etc., etc., etc.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness the choicest foreign reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages it represents such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wilkie Collins, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make it still cheaper by offering, to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in possession of the world's literature.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend it to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

"Unquestionably the best sustained work of the kind in the World."

How We Hunted a Mouse.

I was dozing comfortably in my easy chair, and dreaming of the good times which I hope are coming, when there fell upon my ears the most startling scream. It was the voice of my Maria Ann, in agony. The voice came from the kitchen, and to the kitchen I rushed. The idolized form of my Maria was perched on a chair, and flourishing an iron spoon in all directions, and shouting "shoo," in a general manner at everything in the room. To my anxious inquiries as to what was the matter, she screamed, "Oh, Joshua, a mouse, shoo—wha—shoo—a great—ya, shoo—a, horrid mouse, and—she—ew—it ran right out of the cupboard—shoo—go away—Oh, Lord, Joshua—shoo—kill it, oh, my—shoo."

All that fuss, you see, about one harmless mouse. Some women are so afraid of mice, Maria is. I got the poker and set myself to poke that mouse, and my wife jumped down and ran off into another room. I found the mouse in a corner under the sink. The first time I hit it I didn't poke it any on account of getting the poker all tangled up in a lot of dishes in the sink; and I did not hit it any more because the mouse would not stay still. It ran right toward me, and I naturally jumped as anybody would; but I am not afraid of mice, and when the infernal thing ran up inside the leg of my pantaloons, I yelled to Maria because I was afraid it would know a hole in my garment. There is something real disagreeable about having a mouse inside the leg of one's pantaloons, especially if there is nothing between you and the mouse. Its toes are cold and its nails scratchy, and its fur tickles and its tail feel crawly, and there is nothing pleasant about it, and you are all the time afraid it will try to gnaw out, and begin on you instead of the cloth. That mouse was next to me. I could feel its every motion with startling and suggestive distinctness. For these reasons I yelled to Maria. And as the case seemed urgent to me, I may have yelled with a certain degree of vigor; but I deny that I yelled fire, and if I catch the boy who thought I did I shall inflict punishment on his person.

I did not lose my presence of mind for an instant. I caught the mouse just as it was clambering over my knee, and by pressing firmly on the outside of the cloth I kept the animal prisoner on the inside. I kept jumping around with all my might to confuse it, so that it would not think about biting, and I yelled that the other mice would not hear its squeals, and come to its assistance. A man can't handle many mice at once, to advantage.

Maria was as white as a sheet when she came into the kitchen, and asked what she should do—as though I could hold a mouse and plan a campaign at the same time. I told her to think of something, and she thought she would throw things at the intruder, but as there was no chance for her to hit the mark, while every shot took effect on me, I told her to stop, after she had tried two sadirons and the coal scuttle. She paused for breath; but I kept bobbing around. Somehow I felt no inclination to sit down anywhere. "Oh, Joshua," she cried; "I wish you hadn't killed the cat." Now I submit that the wish was born of the weakness of woman's intellect. How on earth did she suppose a cat could get where that mouse was? rather have the mouse there alone anyway, than to have a cat prowling around after it. I reminded Maria of the fact that she was a fool. Then she got the tea-kettle and tried to scald the mouse. I objected to that process except as a last resort. Then she got some cheese to coax the mouse down, but I did not dare to let go for fear it would run up. Matters were getting desperate. I told her to think of something else, and kept jumping. Just as I was ready to faint with exhaustion, I tripped over a sadiron, lost my hold, and the mouse fell to the floor very dead. I had no idea a mouse could be squeezed to death so easy.

That was not the end of the trouble, for before I had recovered my breath a fireman broke in one of the front windows, and a whole company followed him through, and they dragged hose around, and mussed things all over the house, and then the foreman wanted to thrash me because the house was not on fire, and I had hardly got him pacified before a policeman came in and arrested me. It was all Maria and I could do by combining our eloquence, to prevent him from marching me off in disgrace; but we finally got matters quieted, and the house clear.

Now when mice run out of the cupboard, I go out doors, and let Maria "shoo" them back again. I can kill a mouse, but the fun don't pay for the trouble.

—It is related of Hon. B. F. Moore, "the father of the bar" of North Carolina, that when Mr. Clay visited that State he was selected to made the welcoming address to that statesman. He made a great effort in its preparation; he called on a friend, Mr. Simmons, in order to read it to him. "Well," said Simmons, ironically, "I suppose you wish me to criticise and correct, being an educated and scholarly gentleman?" "Not that," said Mr. Moore, "but only to see how it will strike the vulgar mind."

Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, MARCH 26, 1877.

A Villain Disposed Of.

On Friday, March 23d, John D. Lee was shot to death on the spot at Mountain Meadow where, almost twenty years ago, he led a band of assassins in the cowardly and ferocious massacre, "in the name of God and the Church," of one hundred and twenty unoffending men, women and children. He died calmly, "trusting in the mercy of God." The Territorial Marshal, Nelson, had made every arrangement to have everything carried out promptly and quietly, and the selection of the ground was imparted only to a few officers and press representatives, and by this means there were but few spectators. A company of soldiers from Fort Cameron formed an escort for the officials and a guard against interruption. Lee was taken from his cell at the fort on Wednesday and placed in a closely covered carriage, well guarded, and driven rapidly south. The officers and soldiers and a part of the reporters arrived at Mountain Meadow on Thursday evening, and the remainder got in early Friday morning. Lee broke silence Friday morning and conversed with the utmost freedom with the Marshal and the reporters. He spoke of his connection with the massacre, but made conflicting statements, at times admitting freely the killing of five persons, at others denying his guilt altogether. The execution ground was twenty yards east of the Emigrants' Monument, now crumbling away. The spectators were outside a line. At 10:30 A. M. Lee's coffin was placed twenty-five feet in front of a corral formed by three wagons, behind which were five men armed with needle-guns. Lee was soon brought out, leaning on the arm of a pastor, and was seated on the end of the coffin. Marshal Nelson then read the order of the District Court for his execution, after which he asked Lee if he had anything to say. Lee arose, his countenance exhibiting no trace of fear or other emotion, and stated that he was not afraid to die; he believed in the mercy of God. The only regret he had was that he was compelled to leave his wives and children. He believed he was made a victim to suffer for the sins others had committed. Brigham Young was leading the people astray, but the doctrines of the Church led to salvation, and the only request that he had to make was that the executioners should spare his limbs and hit his heart. A photographic apparatus was then placed in position, when Lee requested that photographs of the scene be sent to his wives. All were ordered to withdraw a few steps, when the Marshal bound a handkerchief over Lee's eyes, but left his arms unbound by Lee's request. The word to fire was given at precisely 11 o'clock A. M., and the five balls were sent. Lee dropped back on his coffin and died almost instantly. An examination showed that the bullets passed entirely through his body in the region of the heart. The body was placed inside the coffin for delivery to his family, and all was over.

The Constitutional Amendments.

In accordance with numerous requests we again print the thirteen questions propounded to the voters at the late election, concerning the proposed Amendments:

1. Do you approve of striking out the word "protestant" in the Bill of Rights, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

2. Do you approve of so amending the Constitution that the General Court shall be authorised to provide for the trial of causes in which the value in controversy does not exceed one hundred dollars and title to real estate is not concerned, without the intervention of a jury, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

3. Do you approve of the biennial election of governor, councillors, members of the Senate and House of Representatives, and biennial sessions of the legislature, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

4. Do you approve of a House of Representatives based upon population, and constituted and chosen as provided in the amended Constitution?

5. Do you approve of a Senate of twenty-four members, to be constituted and chosen as provided in the amended Constitution?

6. Do you approve of the election by the people of registers of probate, solicitors and sheriffs, as provided in the amended Constitution?

7. Do you approve of abolishing the religious test as a qualification for office, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

8. Do you approve of prohibiting the General Court from authorizing towns or cities to loan or give their money or credit to corporations, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

9. Do you approve of changing the time for holding the State election from March to November, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

10. Do you approve of authorizing the General Court to provide that appeals from a justice of the peace may be tried by some other court without the intervention of a jury, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

11. Do you approve of authorizing the General Court to increase the jurisdiction of justices of the peace to one hundred dollars, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

12. Do you approve of the proposed amendment prohibiting the removal of officers for political reasons?

13. Do you approve of the proposed amendment prohibiting money raised by taxation from being applied to the support of the schools or any institutions of any religious sect or denomination, as proposed in the amended Constitution?

The Concord Monitor of Friday says that returns have been received from all but about twenty towns and wards, of the vote upon the constitutional amendments, and these have been tabulated at the office of the Secretary of State. The vote runs unevenly upon the different questions submitted, and will not much exceed 40,000 on most of the questions. It is evident that nearly all of the amendments have been adopted, and especially the 7th, abolishing the religious test. The vote on this question aggregates, from the towns and wards received, yeas, 26,205; nays, 12,863. The remaining towns will increase the majority for it. Strangely enough, the 1st question, which is a complement of the 7th, is probably defeated by a few hundred votes. On the 1st question, the counties of Strafford, Carroll, Hillsborough, Cheshire, and Coos had the requisite two-thirds vote, and the counties of Sullivan and Grafton were nearly equally divided. On the 7th question, the counties of Strafford, Merrimack, Hillsborough, Cheshire, and Coos have given the requisite two-thirds vote, and Rockingham and Carroll Counties came very near to it. Grafton County has voted the strongest against the 1st and 7th questions. In towns and cities where the amendments were discussed the vote is very strong for the 1st and 7th amendments. The cities have all voted heavily for them. In Nashua, the vote on the 1st question was, yeas, 1,658; nays, 229; and on the 7th question, yeas, 1,679; nays, 203.

News and Notes.

The annual race between the Oxford and Cambridge University crews was rowed on the Thames, from Putney to Mortlake, a distance of four and a quarter miles, on Saturday, and resulted in a dead heat; time, 24 minutes, 10 seconds.

George L. Whiting, chief book-keeper of the Brooklyn Bank, was on Friday morning arrested for stealing from the bank money and negotiable securities to the amount of $160,000, all but $10,000 of which was recovered. Whiting is a prominent member of the church, has a wife and three children, and is of course insane.

By the explosion of a copper still in the Dye Wood and Chemical Company's works at East Boston, Friday, two men were fatally scalded and two others badly.

Italian barque Papa Luigi, from Girgenti for Boston, before reported ashore on Nantucket, was in a sinking condition when she struck, having previously struck on the South Shoal, and set to leaking badly. The vessel's sails and some rigging may be saved. The cargo is probably a total loss, as the barque is 300 yards from the shore and in a bad position, as well as full of water. The cargo is insured for $20,000.

Senator Hamlin of Maine seems latterly to have been, as if suffering from a sudden attack of old age; but his face is not venerable, his eyes and hair are black, his countenance still alert with expression—which by the way is a very genial one. But this man has much to keep him young that Simon Cameron, "goaded" by a breach-of-promise suing widow, knows not—two bright little boys and a young wife, one of the sweetest and sunniest women in Washington. Another Senator who has aged extremely within a few years is Senator Anthony of Rhode Island. But a few years ago he was called by many the handsomest man in the Senate, and looked in the prime of life. He is still handsome, but his hair is white, and he looks nearly as old as Cameron, though but a little past sixty. There are a few other venerable-looking men here, but as a body the Senate has improved and grown younger. On the whole, its personnel is fine, and it is chiefly composed of men in the prime of their years and powers.—Mary Clemmer's Washington Letter.

Wednesday, March 21, was the twenty-first anniversary of the birthday of Mr. Webb C. Hayes, the son of President Hayes, and he received an appropriate present from each member of the family and from W. K. Rogers, the President's private secretary. At dinner a birthday cake was placed on the table and surrounded with twenty-one candles, which were lighted in the evening and kept burning until midnight. It is related of this young man that once, on returning from college, he thought that he might be a more muscular Christian than his father. Accordingly, he gave him a humorous challenge to a wrestling match, and it was instantly accepted. There was a picturesque struggle for a few minutes, and then somebody emphatically measured his length upon the floor. The young gentleman has never challenged his father since.

The Suspension Bridge at Niagara Falls is reported, after a thorough examination, to be entirely safe. Of 1450 wires constituting the four large cables only ten of the minor ones were found corroded, and these have been replaced by new ones. No time has yet been set for a resumption of traffic.

Germany is taking its turn at hard times, for which we suppose neither the old nor the new Administration in this country can be held responsible. Destitution is spreading in Germany with great rapidity, and the industrial crisis daily grows worse. Actual famine is impending in the mountain districts in Silesia. In Berlin a committee has been formed for measures of relief, and other cities and towns have asked permission to begin important public works, so as to give employment to the poor.

A piece of coral, measuring about twelve inches in height, six inches in diameter at the top, and two at the base, was recently taken off a submarine cable which had lain only four years in the sea.

Political.

The New York Sun continues to storm at and berate Mr. Hayes, and to cavil at and throw suspicion upon every act performed or proposition made by him, in a most unreasonably captious manner. Let Mr. Hayes be judged by his works, and not by the manner of his reaching the high position he occupies. So far, he has appeared to regard himself as the President of a people, not of a party. And although he was foisted into his place without the usual preliminary of an election by the people, by the partisan action of the majority of a commission who will be held forever infamous for their neglect to perform their duty, the legality of his title cannot now be called in question, and it behooves all good citizens to give him loyal support so far as his acts merit approval. Those who favored the formation of the electoral commission may regret their action in view of the lame and impotent conclusion at which that body arrived, but cannot evade or with manliness refuse to abide by the consequences of their action. The Sun not having favored the reference of the question to the electoral commission, cannot have any such regrets, but none the less must acknowledge the inevitable, whether with good or ill grace. Manchester Union, dem.

Gov. Chamberlain and Wade Hampton, of South Carolina, have been invited to Washington to confer with President Hayes on matters in that State.

There is an ancient deacon who lives in Postmaster-General Key's town, and who is a very good man indeed. When Mr. Key went to the railway station there on his way to Washington, he met the deacon, who besought him pathetically not to go to the capital. "The very atmosphere of the city is filled with pollution," said this excellent deacon; "don't go! No honest man can take office under Hayes!" Mr. Key, being still in the bonds of iniquity, continued his journey; and it happens that this noble democratic deacon is the only applicant for the postmastership in Mr. Key's town.

The policy of the new Administration, both as regards the South and civil service reform, is cordially approved by Judge Kelley; but Judge Kelley is pained when he thinks of the murky ignorance on the subject of the currency which enshrouds the Cabinet. Judge Kelley wants to repeal the Resumption act; he wants more money and cheaper money; he wants silver, and he wants paper; but alas! the President and his advisers are bigoted believers in a currency of unwavering value, and you can't persuade them that a promise to pay is money, any more than a promise to get married is raising a family of children. Tribune.

The Brookses of Boston, owners of several millions of property in New Orleans, have paid their taxes to the Nicholls government. Burnside, the largest property owner in Louisiana, has done the same.

What is going to become of the democracy, if the Boston Pilot goes on talking in this way? "We are glad that Frederick Douglass has been confirmed as Marshal of the District of Columbia. He is an educated gentleman; and it is full time that stupid class objections should be killed in this republic."

Dr. Mary Walker.

An amusing case came up in the Washington police Court on Friday, the complainant being the famous Dr. Mary Walker, the female who persists in wearing male attire and in presenting her demand for an office to every Federal officer who has a clerkship at his disposal, and the defendant one of the watchmen in the Treasury Department. It appears that the erratic doctor had become so much of a nuisance that Secretary Morrill had given instructions to have her excluded from the building, but one day last week she eluded the vigilance of the door-keepers and reached the ante-room of Secretary Sherman, and when discovered refused to leave, claiming her right as an American citizen to visit the department. Sufficient force was used to remove her, including the extension of the watchman's arm around her waist, which roused the little woman's ire and she used her tongue and parasol in a lively style, calling out hard names with one and punching and striking with the other, adding a few kicks, and threats of her revolver, for variety. She was finally ejected and made her complaint at the police court, where the above facts were disclosed. The court held that she had a right as an American citizen to visit the department, but as the watchman was acting under orders from his superior officers he was released on his own recognizance to appear when called for judgment.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS fromerly owned by the late Ira Hazelton, at the corner of Creek street and Boyd's Road are now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres, and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN which measures 30x44 feet and has just been nicely shingled. The other lot, on Boyd's road, contains seven acres, all of which is under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon these two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees in bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and unless disposed of immediately at private sale it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.

JOTTINGS.

The Great Falls Journal says: "English sparrows have appeared here. Houses made of cedar bark are being placed in the trees in some parts of the village to induce these little singers to stay with us. A large number of the houses will be put in the trees in the yard of the Great Falls Manufacturing company." If the Great Falls people put no enough of the cedar-bark houses to tell all the rascally, pugnacious "little singers" from this city to Great Falls, they will not be complained of largely by our citizens.

The late Daniel P. Scott, of Stratham, formerly Superintendent of the Portsmouth City Farm, was seventy-eight years old at the time of his death, and left a widow with whom he had happily passed fifty-four years of married life.

An adjourned term of the Supreme Court, Judge Doe presiding, will open in this city to-day, and will probably continue until the opening of the regular term at Exeter on the second Tuesday of April.

The rooms of the New York Health Lift Company on Daniel street are fitted up in a most attractive manner, with separate rooms for the ladies. The beneficial effects of the Health Lift exercise is now universally acknowledged; for all persons of sedentary habits, and ladies especially, it is particularly adapted, as it can be graduated to the requirements of the most delicate person.

Ship Coldstream, Capt. Harry Salter, of this city, sailed from New York on the 15th for Shanghae. Including the captain there are four Portsmouth boys on board, John H. Yeaton, first mate, Eugene A. Sanborn, second mate, and Decatur Weeks.

The Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Post advises that paper as follows: "The assignee of Davis, Moulton & Co., in Utica, N. Y., has made application to the United States District Court in this State to set aside the proceedings in the matter of Jeremiah C. Carr, bankrupt, of this city, who is a member of the firm, based on the ground that the first proceedings were begun in the District of New York, which motion will be heard before the United States District Court at Manchester on the second Tuesday of April. Should the Court decide that the proceedings are invalid, the effect will be to transfer all property from the New Hampshire Court to the Court of the Northern District of New York, and in the end take from the jurisdiction of the New Hampshire Courts all the estate for general distribution through the assignee in New York, which would make a serious diminution in the amount of dividends likely to be declared upon debts to the creditors in this vicinity."

In response to an inquiry, Governor-elect Prescott, now Secretary of State, writes Col. Kent that he thinks the amendment making the offices of County Solicitor, Sheriff and Register of Probate elective has passed. We are sorry for it, for that one of the proposed amendments was the one which of all others we desired to see defeated.

THE CABLE WAR OVER.

The Directors of the United States Direct Cable Company have issued a circular announcing their resignation. The circular states that the directors, seeing the policy they supported of laying a second cable is at the present quite hopeless, they have recorded their resolution that they would support Mr. Pender's committee in its policy of forming a work arrangement with the Anglo-American Company, which they readily admit may also lead to a prosperous future.

It is announced that the cable companies will shortly enter into an arrangement, probably to divide the business of each company proportionately to the number of cables owned by each, the rates to be made uniform and no rebates to be allowed to agents for soliciting business, the Direct Cable Company continuing to work in connection with Atlantic & Pacific Company throughout the United States, under its present contract, which remains in force for some sixteen or eighteen years to come, and the Anglo-American Company to work in like manner in the United States with the Western Union Company. It is said that liberal rates to the public and press will be maintained,—the point on which the public are most interested.

If this virtual consolidation of the two companies, in direct violation of the promises made by the Direct Cable Company to our government when seeking permission to land the cable at Rye Beach, should result in the reimposition of the old rates, the newly-chartered Baltimore Line would probably hurry up the laying of their cable, and possibly the United States government might cut off direct communication with the American coast, as the Dominion government threatens to do on the Nova Scotia coast,—which cutting-off plan, however, could easily be evaded by the Anglo-American Company, which has a monopoly of Newfoundland for cable purposes.

NAVAL MATTERS.

Chief Engineer David B. Macomb, at this naval station, has been appointed senior member, and Chief Engineers E. J. Whittaker and J. P. Sprague, members of a board to revise the allowance table of engineers' stores. The board is to meet in Washington on March 30th.

Lieutenant Charles H. Rockwell has been granted leave of absence for one year.

Passed Assistant Paymaster Joseph Foster of this city has received his commission as Paymaster in the Navy, the same being dated February 23, 1877.

Paymaster Rufus Parks has been commissioned as Pay Inspector in the Navy from February 23, 1877.

New Hampshire Items.

The New Hampshire Methodist Conference will meet at Dover, April 18th.

Thursday night George Crawford of Danvers, Mass., a soap pedlar, and Lucius Farmer, a well-known character, entered the eating saloon of E. J. Freeman in Merchants' Exchange, Manchester, and got into a dispute with a third party about the relative merits of soaps. Freeman ordered them to stop, and the two made at him. Freeman then commenced throwing them out upon the sidewalk. In the melee Crawford got both bones of his ankle broken.

The Exeter Manufacturing Company have recovered wonderfully from the late depression in their affairs, under the judicious management of the directors. The mills are now turning out more goods and of a better quality, than ever before, and find a ready sale for all they make. Entire harmony exists between the employees and the company, which seems to be in a sounder condition than ever. Last week the ice carried away the middle portion of the eastern lower dam; but this does not affect the mills as they get their water from above the upper dam.—News-Letter.

Miss Susan E. Wheeler, of Salem, was chosen Superintending School Committee of that town at the late election. Hampton also elected a lady to the same position in that town.

A Fertile State.

A few days since an "Arkansas traveller," fresh from the prairies, "brought up" at the Pembroke House in this village, and very soon made the object of his visit known by trying to induce several men whom he had gathered about him to emigrate and settle on some railroad lands in the extreme southwest, for which he was acting as emigrant agent. He told wonderful stories of the healthfulness of the climate out there, and gave marvellous figures about the fertility and productiveness of the soil, during which he spoke somewhat disparagingly of the climate and soil of New Hampshire. After he had run on his full length for some time, Ben. Poore, the proprietor of the hotel—who is withal something of a wag—feeling a little nettled at the stranger's unfavorable allusions to New Hampshire, put on a sober, serious face and assured him that he was entirely wrong in his estimate of the resources and climate of the Granite State. The Stranger thought he would squelch Mr. Poore by making "odious comparisons" concerning the crops, when the following dialogue took place:

Stranger—"We raise 60 bushels of corn to an acre out there;—how much can you raise here?"

Poore—(Soberly)—"Our average corn crop in New Hampshire is 190 bushels to the acre, and on good intervale land we raise 125 bushels per acre."

Stranger—(A little perplexed) "Out West we raise 30 to 50 bushels of oats per acre. What's your crop here?"

Poore—(Seriously) "The average crop of oats in this State is 70 to 90 bushels per acre."

Stranger—(Weakening) "In our country west of the Mississippi, we raise 240 to 300 bushels of potatoes to the acre. Can you beat that?"

Poore—(Modestly) "Well, the potato crop here is our best hold. We raise easily 900 to 1000 bushels of choice potatoes to the acre."

Stranger—(Uncovering) "Here, take my hat!"

Poore—"No, sir: keep your property. Then, as to healthfulness of this climate. Why, here is Father Colby, a native of this town, 90 years old, who can go out here now in good going and run a mile in four minutes. And then, speaking of human longevity here; why, sir, up in Hart's Location in this State, folks never die. They had to get an old man from an adjoining town, set him up on a stump and shout him, in order to start a grave yard up there."

Stranger—"What time does the next train going West leave? I begin to think I must be in the wrong country to induce emigration."

The crowd roared, and Poore was satisfied that he had placed New Hampshire before the world in her proper light.—Sancook Journal.

A Religious Tornado.

The Independent waxeth indignant because, at the New Hampshire election, the amendment to the Constitution was rejected which abolished the clause denying the Catholics the right to hold office. The Independent says:

"For us, and for all self-respecting Protestants throughout the country, who have been so deeply disgraced by the Protestants of New Hampshire, there is but one Christian duty, and that is to denounce them, and, like Elisha, to curse them in the name of the Lord! They are the enemies of Protestantism. They are doubly the enemies of Christianity. It is for such men as they that religion walks in sackcloth. If Protestantism cannot be the religion of equal rights, of fair play, of honest justice to all men; if Protestantism can take a Catholic's money, and forbid him to say in his country's halls of legislation how that money shall be expended; if Protestantism can invite Catholics to this country, and then class them criminals and paupers, then let Protestantism perish! It is not Protestantism. It is Vaticanism stealing a Christian name."

When leading religious journals of the Protestant faith talk in this way, perhaps secular journals were wise to say nothing. New Hampshire is overwhelmed with anathemas, but the law has been for many years a dead letter. Catholics can hold any office when they can get votes enough to elect them, but there are so few of them in the State that this does not happen very often. Undoubtedly, it would be more consistent to repeal a law which is not enforced, but human nature wilfully clings to shadows in every State in the Union. Worcester Gazette.

—A gentleman on Sheldon street thought of having a telephone put into his house, so as to enable him to hold sweet converse with his business partner, but his aged mother protested against it earnestly. "Robert," she said, "if you bring one of those dreadful things in here I'll never close my eyes for fear it may break out and sweep us all into eternity, and us not a bit the wiser." He tried to persuade her that it was an innocuous instrument, but she said, "No, no; look at the thousands and millions of poor Hindoos it killed last fall." "Why," said he, "that wasn't a telephone—that was a typhoon;" but the old lady lowered her glasses, and, looking at him over the rims thereof, said he couldn't fool her—that she might't know much, perhaps, but she did know that the typhoon was the President of Japan. The gentleman has given it up as a hopeless case.—Chicago Tribune.

—At a dinner party given by Secretary Sherman to the members of the Cabinet, the table was graced by a three-masted ship composed of flowers. On the mainmast was a small United States flag, which Secretary Sherman said his little daughter had placed there. Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, said, in his dry, Yankee way to the Secretary of the Navy, who sat opposite him, "Well, Mr. Thompson, will you please tell us if that is the correct position for the American flag to occupy on a ship?" Everybody awaited the reply, for it is well known that the new Secretary is no sailor, and they thought he was cornered. But he took advantage of the Cabinet custom and replied in a dignified manner, "Ahem! I will refer you, sir, to the Attorney General."—Washington Star.

—The new Secretary of the Navy having been informed that there were buoys belonging to his department in New York Harbor, immediately issued an order commanding them to report to their ships without delay. "Discipline is discipline," says the old salt, "if I have to skin every boy in the navy."—Hawkeye.

A Result of Obstructed Digestion.

Among the hurtful consequences of obstructed digestion, is the impoverishment of the blood, and since a deteriorate condition of the vital fluid not only produces dangerous organic weakness, but, according to the best medical authorities, sometimes causes asphyxia, it is apparent that to improve the quality of the blood by promoting digestion and assimilation, is a wise precaution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely the remedy for this purpose, since it stimulates the gastric juices, conquers those bilious and evacuative irregularities which interfere with the digestive processes, promotes assimilation of the food by the blood, and purifies as well as enriches it. The signs of improvement in health in consequence of using the Bitters are speedily apparent in accession of vigor a gain in bodily substance, and a regular and active performance of every physical function.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for Dr. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will Cure a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it effects a secure, almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

To Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

ESTABLISHED IN 1853.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL

IN THE

UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificent furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their special accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Sick Headache, Heartburn, Dropsy Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Conditior Pills Made Me Feel Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I take taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.00.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected in Only Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1876

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and now you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Boldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for Dr. Quain's Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all I have taken before. Advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, I feel bound to have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I induced him to get one of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the rheumatic complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and teeth. I have tried most kinds of medicine, and have done, and only get partly relieved. I also have had a chronic diarrhœa with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and taking medicine, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, but thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The improvement here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anything. I have five applications for sale of the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 26, 1876.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative it could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the choice of Preventive. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. There painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Prof. Richard Proctor, R. D. Blackmore, Owen, Fitz-W. R. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit or real pleasure in the solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into the household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to the interests, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Receipts, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing weekly, record, not only of the progress of the industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

In connection with the Scientific PATENTS, American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice.

A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its established worth, it is believed, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversity its attractions and render its increasing popularity of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and sounded views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE similarly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George MacDonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," the mere name of the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a novel, interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH LIFE AND LIFE,

by Prof. William Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's interesting and "Piquant PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS," will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sacredness of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is represented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is to more than a million American farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and are invariably found reliable and available accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and needless to praise." The lustre of the long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it a circulation, both large with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages it represents such eminent authors as Prof. Max Müller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Aurobach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished, and for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers know of no publication, at any price, so good. Postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age, and one or more of the leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend to periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. The Man at the Throttle.

Have you ever thought as you entered a railroad car how absolutely and completely your life was in the hands of one man? Has it ever occurred to you as you reclined in a soft-cushioned seat in apparent security, with hundreds of others on the train, how every one of you might be sent to an instant death by the slightest blunder or neglect on the part of one weak human being? And did you ever find yourself wondering if the man at the throttle understood his duties and was able to do them promptly and properly, appreciating the enormous responsibilities resting upon his fallible human nature, and knowing what awful consequences might result from a single mistake on his part? Your correspondent confesses that since the recent railroad engineers' strikes these dangers have occurred to him, and the readers of the Herald would understand the reason could they have heard the other day a brief conversation in the cab of a locomotive, in which an unusually intelligent and trustworthy member of the guild of engineers recounted a little of the true inwardness of his calling.

"It is as well," said he, smiling thoughtfully, "that the travelling public don't know how the majority of railroads are managed and what risks the passengers often run. Why, to save a little money they often fill to employ more than half the number of engineers absolutely needed for safety. Many a time have I come in from a long trip so tired and sleepy as to be scarcely able to stand, and been ordered immediately out again without an hour's rest. I have been worked twenty-four hours at a stretch when I have been so worn out that no power on earth could keep me awake, and, standing with my hand on the lever, have gone sound asleep. If you had fired off a cannon at my ears I could not have helped it. I have many a time brought my engine into some town at thirty miles an hour while asleep, until the fireman or somebody would wake me up.

Dangerous? Well, rather so; for if there is any post in the world where a man should be excessively wide awake, vigilant, incessantly watching ahead of him with an unfaltering steadiness and with good eyes, too, with his hand always on the lever, prepared to check the flying speed with which he is dashing along, it is when he is in the cab of a locomotive engine. I don't know any work that requires a man to know what he is about and to see what he is about so much as running the engine of an express train. The engineer not only must watch his engine and keep her up to her work, but he must watch the steam guage, watch the time, watch the signals, watch the track, watch the crossings and watch his surroundings. To sum up in one word, an engineer must be alertness personified. Dangerous? You might as well ask if it would be dangerous for a man to fall asleep sitting on a keg of powder with a lighted slow match attached to it.

It is a common thing for an engineer, after having come in from a trip, to be ordered out again immediately, although he knows and the company knows that he is not fit for further work without a rest, and that to fall asleep at his post is to endanger the lives of persons. Yet he dare not refuse or he will lose his place. Suppose, under such circumstances, an accident occurs. Isn't the company immediately relieved from all responsibility in the eyes of the newspapers and the public if they show that the engineer failed to see a signal? Who is to know that the reason the engine driver failed to see the signal or the switch was because he was compelled to run while physically unable to do so in safety?

This is the cause of a good many railroad accidents, but I can tell you of a still more frequent one. It is the employment by certain railroad managers of half taught botchers as engineers, or men who are not of sober habits and cannot get into the Brotherhood of Engineers (our trade society,) and who will, therefore, work very cheaply."

"Why is this permitted?"

"I will tell you. In every State in the Union, as far as I know, there is a law compelling the engineers who attend to stationary boilers to pass an examination, at which they must show themselves qualified and receive a license before they are permitted to work. You would be liable to severe punishment if you employed an unlicensed engineer to run the boiler of your printing office. This law is of course an eminently proper one, and in New York city, for instance, there is a bureau of the Police Department whose exclusive duties are to see to its enforcement. A similar United States statute compels the engineers of marine or steamboat engines to pass a still stricter examination. But no such law is on the statute books of any State in the Union as regards locomotive engineers, whose duties are even more delicate and dangerous than their brethren who run factory or other stationary engines. Whenever any bill requiring the railroad companies to employ only competent men has been likely to pass a Legislature the railroad lobbyists have defeated it. You will find no statute in this country to prevent the railroads from putting in charge of the train you intrust your life to the veriest botch or drunkard that can be found. If the newspapers want to do a good work let them demand and secure the passage of such a statute as will oblige the companies to employ at least this simple requisite to safety."

"Do not the best managed roads now find it pays best to employ good, competent men?"

"Some of the companies are beginning to find it out, but the majority of them take on all the men they can pick up who will work cheaper than a skilled engineer. For instance, the Boston & Maine Railroad company during the last strike employed men who were either too ignorant of their trade or too much given to drink to belong to the trade society, and actually allowed these men to take out their first trains at night. Now, over a hundred trains a day pass over the road and no conscientious man, however skillful, would take his engine over it at night unless he were thoroughly acquainted with every foot of the track."

"Is not travelling at night always more dangerous than by daylight?"

"Not always. Under some circumstances I suppose it might be. But I would rather take my engine over the road at night. I have run a night express for years and prefer it to anything else. An engine always works better at night for some reason. They say it is so with all machinery. I know it is always so with a locomotive. An engineer who is familiar with his road knows just as well where he is at night as when he can see. I can tell by the sound of the wheels on the track about where I am on the road. I can see a danger signal further off at night than in daylight. I tell you, sir, there is always danger in our business, and there ought to be a law forbidding the companies employing any man to run an engine who has not passed an examination and received a license. The newspapers can make 'em and they ought to do it." New York Herald.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1877.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 23d.

The sale at auction of the magnificent Club House on New York avenue is about the closing act of the drama of the Ring Government which fastened itself upon our city and "stuck closer than a brother" for four years, at such a frightful cost to all tax payers and to the utter ruin of many small property holders. It is also one of the last steps taken in the progressive decline of that once powerful combination which shot up like a rocket and came down like a stick. Some of its most prominent members, who made such an ostentatious and vulgar display of their suddenly acquired wealth by exaggerated measurements of miserably executed contracts, by their alleged dishonest manipulations of the funds of the Freedmen's Bank, and by other means equally as disreputable, have entirely dropped out of sight, leaving nothing but the memory of their mushroom grandeur for two or three fashionable seasons when they elbowed the leaders completely off the stage. But time has brought its compensations to those so unceremoniously treated, and they can now return in kind the humiliating slights put upon them a few years ago. But we should not be unjust. Mr. Sheppard, aside from his arbitrary methods and his reckless expenditure of money, is deserving of much credit for the splendid improvements that have been left as an heritage of his brief reign. No American city has probably a more perfect system of sewerage, which with other improvements, has made Washington one of the most healthy cities in the world. The grading of the streets was another of the gigantic accomplishments of his administration; and other than the streets laid with wood, the pavements put down are in a good state of repair. Almost every street was lined with choice shade trees to the extent of many thousands, which, when grown, will have our city without a rival in that respect. While Tweed and his satellites increased the bonded and floating debt of New York city nearly $100,000,000 and have little to show for it in the way of permanent improvements, many millions were wasted or stolen here it is believed, but we have all I have enumerated and much in addition, to soften our resentments; and while Boss Tweed was the most consummate thief in the crowd, "Boss" Sheppard retained the confidence of his fellow townsmen, and they have manifested their good will in a generous way since, when but for their forbearance he must inevitably have gone under. The board of army engineers designated to test the foundations of the Washington Monument, has reported them amply sufficient for the superstructure as originally contemplated. The shaft was carried up 174 feet prior to the war and remains in that condition to-day. There are now available the $200,000 voted by Congress, less the amount spent in the testing experiment, and its early completion is confidently anticipated, although private subscriptions to a considerable amount or another appropriation will probably be necessary to finish it. It will make a truly magnificent landmark when carried up 500 feet.

Louisiana and South Carolina affairs seem to absorb most of the attention of the administration and politicians at present; and the complications they present can but be very embarrassing to the President and others anxious for a pacific solution of the other disputes, some of them dating back to the close of the war. KNOX.

News and Notes.

Thomas P. Somerville, a New York lawyer, and George Engler, a gambler and forger, were arrested in New York Friday night for conspiring to defraud the United States of $250,000 by means of forgery in the alteration of stolen bonds. The evidence against them is complete.

Secretary Sherman has notified Dr. Mary Walker by letter that he has directed the Superintendent of the Treasury building to admit her to all the facilities of the building. In closing his note he says: "I shall trust to your good sense not to abuse a right which I fully concede to you."

The fast mail train from Scotland for London, the "Flying Dutchman," ran off the rails on Sunday near Morpeth. The engine, tender and forward coaches were dashed to pieces. Five persons were killed and many injured, ten seriously. Two had their legs amputated.

The story now is that Tweed is to be released on condition that he hands over to the city some $2,000,000 of his stealings. It is expected that Sweeney also will "compromise." Oakey Hall has not yet turned up.

Steamer Martha's Vineyard, Smith, at New Bedford from Edgartown, reports that schooner M. Sewall, ashore near Long Shoal, had righted up on Friday and was then swinging at her anchor.

Miss Bertha Von Hillern, the female pedestrian, accomplished the difficult feat of walking fifty miles in twelve consecutive hours in Music Hall, Providence, on Saturday. She started at 10 A. M. and did not rest until 7 P. M., when at the end of the thirty-eighth mile she retired from the track for 32 minutes. She completed the entire distance at 9.58.30 P. M., having a minute and a half to spare. A large and enthusiastic audience was in attendance, embracing many of the elite of the city. At the close the excitement was great when she hastened her step and turned the last mile in 13 minutes and 35 seconds, amid an outburst of applause.

In Canada, where "specie payments flow," there is a genuine panic in financial affairs. Merchants and bankers are failing daily, and general distrust prevails. A decline in stocks at Montreal has caused the suspension of several heavy firms. As prices have not been "inflated" there on account of an over supply of paper currency, will some of our hard money doctors rise and explain the cause of the crisis?—New Haven Union.

Colonel Frederick A. Bee, of San Francisco, who has been prominent in opposing the anti-coolie movement in California, and raised funds to assist to bring the perpetrators of the late outrage to justice, has received an anonymous warning through the mail to leave the State in thirty days on pain of being killed. An anti-coolie club at San Francisco is reported to have approved the Chico massacre.

A Board of Naval Officers convened at the Navy Department on the 26th inst., to examine certain Commodores as to their professional and moral fitness for promotion to the grade of Real-Admiral, as required by the Revised Statutes. The Board consists of Rear-Admiral John J. Almy, President; Rear-Admirals C. R. P. Rodgers and Reed Worden, members.

A curious feature of the Bond street fire in New York, where so many gold and silver goods were in the flames, was the condition of the things in the safes. Diamonds were all right and externally the watches were, but on opening those the works of all were found to be destroyed. The most singular point was, that under the crystal of each watch was found a drop of water condensed on the glass. This puzzles the scientific men wonderfully.

A Chico (Cal.) despatch says the persons engaged in the late massacre of the Chinese have been arrested, two boys by the name of Slaughter, and three men, Stainbrook, Conway and Roberts. Conway was arrested on a charge of sending threatening letters to citizens who were working up the case, and through him other names were obtained. Conway and the Slaughter boys wrote nearly all the letters. Two other men, named Ames and Wright, were also arrested on a charge of arson, presumably in connection with the Chinese trouble, though the despatch does not so state. Six of the arrested parties are reported to belong to the Order of Caucasians.

The last thing we export to England is the weather. Our signal service informed her Majesty's government of a big storm consigned from this side, and its arrival in due season and in merchantable condition. British astonishment at the 'cuteness of Uncle Myer.

The first of the coming series of "Hayes" townships is born. It is in Clare county, Mich., and the legislature christened it on learning that every man in the town voted for Hayes and signed the petition for that name.

The Engineering and Mining Journal urges the use of the telephone for mine signaling. The ability to promptly carry on conversation between distant points would doubtless, in case of a mine accident, save many lives and much property.

An effort to navigate the St. Lawrence river at all seasons is to be made under direction of the Canadian government. An exceedingly powerful propeller, iron sheathed and shaped somewhat like a wedge, has been built for use as an ice breaker. In a trial, this vessel made good headway through ice a foot thick.

Partisans of Iglesias are raising an army of from 10,000 to 20,000 men in Missouri and adjoining States for the invasion of Mexico.

The life of Mrs. Stoner, shot at in the Treasury building at Washington some time ago by one Deitz, a Michigan farmer whose hand she had refused, was saved by the ball striking a corset steel. Deitz's trial will take place next week.

New Hampshire Items.

A tobacco barn belonging to John B. Knight, at Walpole, with a two years' stock, was burned on Friday night.

The Nashua aldermen indefinitely postponed a resolution instructing the city marshal to enforce the law relating to intoxicating liquors.

The First National Bank of East Jaffrey was burned out on Saturday, the building being entirely destroyed. It was of brick, cost $10,000 and occupied the spot where a former bank building was burned two years ago. A tin-shop, drug-store and Masonic lodge were in the same building. The fire was incendiary.

A double-tenement house in Nashua was burned early Sunday morning. A family living in the up-stairs tenement had a very narrow escape from suffocation, and only succeeded in saving their lives by jumping from the windows in their night clothes, the woman being considerably injured by the fall. Loss about $900; insured $1000. Fire is thought to be incendiary.

A little girl at Ithaca, Mich., recently died of brain fever by fright from some boys threatening to cut off her ears.

Hiram C. Matthews has been appointed postmaster at Derry.

A Cincinnati dispatch to the Philadelphia Times, under date of March 23d, says:

"The little town of Versailles in this State is in a blaze of excitement over an affair of honor between two of its citizens. The particulars of the difficulty are as follows: One Williams, a livery stable keeper of the place, has been paying attention for a few weeks to a lady of respectable standing, and is reported to have indulged in light talk about her. These rumors took such definite shape that the editor of the Independent, Mr. John Hathaway, gave them publicity in his paper. Williams at once informed Hathaway that he was going to shoot him, and went off to procure a revolver. Hathaway followed him to his stable and a verbal encounter ensued, in which Williams mentioned a fight as the best means to settle the matter. Hathaway then went to his office and wrote a formal challenge, which was delivered by a second, Mr. W. Gulick, and promptly accepted by Williams. The time and place and necessary arrangements for the duel have been referred to seconds. Both parties have made their wills, and it is believed that the affair will terminate fatally, as Hathaway is a sure shot. Williams is looked on by the community as an adventurer, while Hathaway is a highly respected citizen."

—Gentlemen's trousers will be worn closer fitting this Spring.

—A man had a recipe put up by an apothecary, and after he had gone, the clerk discovered that he had passed a counterfeit twenty-five cent piece and a five-cent bit. He informed the boss. "Never mind," said he; "if the five-cent bit is good, there is a profit of three cents."

—Two Coloradians have invented a grasshopper exterminating machine which, it is expected, will do execution to the extent of forty acres a day. It is mounted on two wheels, and drawn by a pair of horses, a comfortable seat being provided for the driver, where he can manipulate the front apron at will. This apron covers some fourteen of ground, and serves to direct 'hoppers toward the fan that rests between the wheels, in a round cylinder. Every time the wheels make one revolution the fan-wheel makes sixty-four, and this produces a powerful current so that even small stones are sucked through the fan, in common with the 'hoppers, and deposited in a large sack attached to the rear, or allowed to drop out behind.

Notes on Dull Times.

To cure dull times—apply an advertisement to the afflicted part.

A signboard can't tell everbting. It takes an advertisement to do that.

All who advertise do not get rich, but precious few get rich without it.

The world is full of advertising, yet every one wants to see what is new.

The world's memory is short. It will forget if we do not jog it frequently.

Early to bed and early to rise, will be in vain if you don't advertise. The world is sure to find an honest man; but it will find him a great deal quicker if he advertises.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS fromerly owned by the late Ira Hazelton, at the corner of Creek Street and Boyd's Road are now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres, and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN which measures 36x50 feet and has just been newly shingled. The other lot, on Boyd's road, contains seven acres, all of which is under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon these two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees in bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and unless disposed of immediately at private sale it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.

For terms enquire of the owner,

JOTTINGS.

Mr. Thomas H. Miles, for some years train dispatcher on the Eastern Railroad, with office at the depot in this city, was on Monday transferred to Boston, which is hereafter to be the dispatch station. Since occupying the position, Mr. Miles has had sole charge of running the trains between Ipswich, Mass., and Portland, and no accident has happened through any fault of his.

The U. S. S. "Sabine," 1475 tons measurement, now lying at the navy yard, where she was used as a school ship until last autumn, will be offered for sale at noon to-day.

There is at last a prospect, after years of striving for it on the part of the lighthouse authorities of the First Lighthouse District, that the Isles of Shoals station will have a suitable dwelling for the keepers. Part of the materials for a double tenement of brick have been landed, and the work on the new house will be rapidly pushed as soon as the weather becomes suitable. The light-keepers will not be sorry to get into new quarters, for the old rubble-stone house, though picturesque and romantic looking, is miserably uncomfortable in winter and too small to accommodate more than one family.

Now is the time when advertising columns begin to have fresh significance, and those who insert them make their announcements more interesting than they have been found in a long time before, especially in their unusual temptations thrown before the eyes of the ladies. Goods are attractive and prices are down. Well-filled purses will buy more extended wardrobes than ever before since the war, and even in a scanty pocket book there are very respectable possibilities. The advertisements are by no means the least interesting part of a paper.

Mr. Clarence B. Mason offers for sale his fine farm on Boyd's road, to be sold at auction unless soon disposed of at private sale. It is one of the most fertile and highly cultivated farms in this vicinity.

Mariners are interested in knowing that there has been added to the Coston Signal Code a new night signal of distress. It shows, white burning, colors red, white and red, in succession, and is designed for use by all lake and sea-going vessels. It has been approved by the Chamber of Commerce, the Underwriters and the United States Steamboat Inspectors, and will hereafter be recognized by the United States Life Saving Service Stations on the coast and by the United States Revenue Marine.

By a notice in another column it will be seen that "the blind man who mends cane-seat chairs" has taken a room over Mr. Pettigrew's store, corner of High and Congress streets, where any articles needing his attention may be left, and where we assure our readers said articles will be neatly and strongly repaired and at as reasonable a rate as first-class work can be done for. Persons having chairs to mend will get their money's worth and at the same time aid an industrious and unfortunate man in his laudable endeavors to support himself by his own labor, by bestowing their patronage on the blind chair-mender.

Fisherman report a very heavy "old sea" rolling home on the coast the latter part of last week, with but little wind,—the result of heavy weather somewhere off shore. Saturday night a light northeaster commenced, some strong gusts occurring through the night and Sunday forenoon; and late Sunday night the blow had freshened to a moderate gale, with rain, which continued through the day Monday. No disasters had been reported in the vicinity up to Monday night.

We are informed that about twenty-nine thousand tons of coal for Dover will arrive at this port shortly, some of it being now on the way. This lot will not go over the rails to its destination, but will be dumped into gondolas, which will have their masts unstepped and be towed to Dover by steamer. Heavy shipments of coal for Newmarket and Exeter are also expected.

Ex-Secretary of the Navy Robeson will pass the summer at Rye Beach, and return to Washington next winter to practice law.

A MAD DOG SCARE.

While almost every other town and village in New England has had its mad dog scare, and not a few of them with only too much reason, our city, with a dog population of probably not much short of a thousand, has been entirely unmoved. But Portsmouth has again caught up with the rest of the world, for we had a genine mad dog scare on Sunday evening. We do not say the mad dog was the genuine article, for we did not see him; and we don't want to see him either, or any dog like him, unless we can look out of a window to do it; but the genuineness of the fright he occasioned is beyond dispute.

At about six o'clock in the evening a large black-and-tan appeared on Market square, according to some spectators foaming at the mouth and presenting every indication of rabies, and according to others having the appearance of having been engaged in a hard fight in which he had been whipped. He ran around among the people, attacked and bit a number of dogs—eight of them, as near as we can find out, one, a small poodle, being killed outright—and finally took to the railroad track and went off in the direction of Greenland, followed for some miles by several men, who intended to kill him but didn't do it, owing to their being not able to catch him. On the way out of town he passed between two little girls without molesting either, and meeting a man on the track ran up to and sniffed at him without offering any attack.

If the dog was actually mad the animals bitten by him should be killed at once; and in any case they should be chained up. As a precaution, we hear that the young men about town are having their spring pants lined below the knee with sections of stove-pipe.

There is great excitement at Newmarket. A mad dog on Saturday bit nineteen dogs. He was fired at several times. Ten dogs have been killed. The animal, a hound, was next seen at Stratham, and then Seabrook, where he bit a man. On Sunday E. A. Leavitt of Exeter was badly bitten by a dog, which was immediately killed. The dog bit a woman, child and horse at Newton on Friday.

Easter in England.

Of Easter Monday rites various curious relics still linger. One, called "clipping the church," is performed by children of the charity schools, amid crowds of people and shouts of joy. They place their backs against the outside of the church, and join hands till the circle is complete and the building surrounded, when the ceremony is over, and they go to another church.

Another custom in Durham, is for men to go about the streets and take off a shoe from every woman they meet, unless she will pay a small fee to prevent it. The next day, as is but fair, the women retort by doing the same to men.

In some parts a still more ridiculous custom is found, called "heaving" or "lifting." On Easter Monday the men "lift" women, and on Tuesday the women are the lifters. It is done thus: two strong men cross hands in the way we used to call "making a chair," in my school-days, or they carry a chair lined with white, and decorated with flowers and ribbons. On meeting a woman in the street, they invite her to take a seat, and in fact, insist upon it. They then lift her into the air three times, when she must kiss each of her lifters, and give them money besides. In the time of Edward I. this custom was so general that even the king was "lifted."

In Kent, the young people on Easter Monday "go a pudding-pieing." That is, go to public houses to eat pudding-pie, a dish about the size of a saucer, with raised paste rim, and custard inside.

And everywhere, and all the time, are eggs, eggs, eggs; boiled and colored; striped and mottled, and gilded; ornamented with names, or mottoes, or pictures. Common ones are variously adorned with designs drawn with a bit of tallow, which keeps the die from taking on those parts. A better kind of decoration is to scratch the design with a sharp knife on an egg after it is dyed; landscapes, mottoes, etc., can be made very neatly.

A common game—which, perhaps, you know—is played with Easter eggs. The owner of a hard-boiled Easter egg challenges any one he meets to strike eggs with him. If his egg breaks the other, it is called "the cock of one," and its owner has the broken one as a trophy. When it has broken two, it is "the cock of two," and so on. If an egg which is cock of one or more is broken, the conqueror adds the number of trophies won by the victim to his own score.

The custom of making presents of egg is said to be Persian, and to bear allusion to the "mundane egg," from which the world was fabled by certain nations to have been derived. It is a custom among Jews, Egyptians and Hindoos, and was adopted by Christians to symbolize the Resurrection.

This feast of eggs, therefore, very properly occurs at Easter.—Olive Thorne, St. Nicholas for April.

A Cure for Hydrophobia.

The recipe is that of M. Cassar, a French physician: Take two spoonfuls of fresh chloride of lime, mix it with half a pint of water, and with this wash keep the wound constantly bathed and frequently renewed. The chlorine gas possesses the power of decomposing this tremendous poison, and renders mild and harmless that venom against whose resistless attack the artillery of medical science has been so long directed in vain. It is necessary to add that this wash should be applied as soon as possible after the infliction of the bite. From 1810 to 1824 the number of persons admitted into Breslau Hospital was 181, of whom only two died; from 1783 to 1824, there were admitted into the hospital at Zurich 223 persons bitten by different animals (182 by dogs) of whom only four died.

A 'Frisco Romance.

San Francisco is veined with romance. While the corvette Vendnick of the Russian fleet was lying in the dry dock, Lieut. Georges de Kalands, the second officer, fell in love with Jennie Burdick, the foreman's daughter, and like gentle Alice Brown of the Bab Ballad, she reciprocated it. The elder Burdicks were pleased with the Russian's attentions to their daughter so long as they thought nothing would come of the flirtation, but when he asked their consent to a marriage and talked of taking her across the seas, they rebelled and showed him the door. An elopement was planned by letter. He was to ride by the house after dark and on catching a glimpse of a light in her window was to lean out of the carriage and light a cigar. The signals were exchanged according to the agreement, but the old gentleman suddenly appeared with a shot gun and opened fire at short range, whereupon the lover did not tarry for his sweetheart, but drove back to the city. She kept her word. Ay! she dropped like a snow-flake from her window and floated over a high board fence like a feather. Down the road she tramped without bonnet or shoes, and hired a boatman to row her across the river, her girlish figure shivering in the night air, her back hair streaming in the breeze and her pink toes in her tattered hose freezing in the leaky galley. It was rheumatic and romantic. She summoned her lover and was escorted by him to a boarding-house, where her father found her on the next day—March 13—and carried her home, with tears in her eyes and a bad cold in head. In a few weeks she will be of age and then, with bonnet and veil, gaiters and overshoes, and a faint touch of the old rheumatism, she will go to him.

Possible Uses of the Telephone.

In the interest of young men and women who sit up late every Sunday night, we demand that this telephone invention be crushed out of existence or suppressed by injunction. Unless something of this kind be done there will be trouble in every family throughout the land which includes a fair young lady, in every club of married men, and every sewing society where characters are frayed, cut bias, and stitched together again in an inharmonious style, in Masonic and Fenian lodges, clubs and elsewhere. With this telephone, by which apparatus oral conversation can be heard for miles, what is there to prevent fathers, mothers and big brothers from turning the crank, and listening to all the pretty words, soft sayings and sweet cooings between John and Laura every Sunday evening? Think of it fathers, and mother who know how it is yourselves! How are the sewing societies, Masons, Odd Fellows, Fenians, politicians of the Gobble order, to have any secret from the public with this abominable telephone business echoing their sayings and dispensing them through fog horns to the reporters and the rest of mankind? The country is in great danger from the operations of this new infernal machine. Young men and maidens should rise up with one voice and demand the execution of the inventor of the telephone and the destruction of his work. The Salem witches were no comparison to this enemy of peaceable civilization and happy courting reunions.—Utica Observer.

A Result of Obstructed Digestion.

Among the hurtful consequences of obstructed digestion, is the impoverishment of the blood, and since a deteriatve condition of the vital fluid not only produces dangerous organic weakness, but, according to the best medical authorities, sometimes causes asphyxia, it is apparent that to improve the quality of the blood by promoting digestion and assimilation, is a wise precaution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely the remedy for this purpose, as it stimulates the gastric juices, conquers those bilious and evacuative irregularities which interfere with the digestive processes, promotes assimilation of the food by the blood, and purifies as well as enriches it. The signs of improvement in health in consequence of using the Bitters are speedily apparent in accession of vigor a gain in bodily substance, and a regular and active performance of every physical function.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for Dr. FLAGG an enviable reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many year trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it effects has become almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, writes as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be as I that he claims for it.

—A certain witty professor in the Michigan University had always succeeded in having the best of his scholars whenever a practical joke had been attempted at his expense. One day, however, the students felt convinced that their turn had come at last, for, arriving in the class-room somewhat later than the usual hour, the professor found his chair occupied by a stuffed goose. "I intended," said the professor, addressing the class in his happiest manner, "to apologize for my delay, but no doubt you have been well satisfied, having selected one of your own class to fill the chair."

ESTABLISHED IN 1823.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL

— IN THE —

UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1823 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, from a house more its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that a consultation with Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Victor's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. De Marr's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 3 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels; have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure, I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1876

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, lbs, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been slowly since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier. For they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving my testimony, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. He helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yea, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I tried I do not know how many physicians and spent much money, but only partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room about half of the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all said I must go to South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have live applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL!

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its place.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and undiluted.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and a higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. An knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, E. A. Freeman, Prof. Owen, W. B. Carpenter, Max Müller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a fine Steel Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed of the Improvements and Discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in that it is the only weekly paper published in the United States devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial Sciences and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of new Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice for Practical Writers, for Woman, and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science throughout the world.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and home will save many times the cost of subscript on.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room: in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American and Foreign Patents, we have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through our agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to them by this notice.

A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the ninetieth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no effort will be spared to offer to its subscribers, and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great diversity and constant aim of the contributors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contents now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To the number of readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no comment, for his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, and the first three chapters, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by P of. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Mythology," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6. THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The services no man, nor slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in no dicta, it allows its readers to enjoy the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their respo sibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders, and with the corruptions in public life, but can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never ashamed by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every farmer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article sought and sold in the markets of the world, with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets, its reports are unequaled.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other paper published in the world, the best evidence of the fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the extension of our system, and larger ss of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respecting course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest contributors and correspondents ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it still affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness a fine selection from the choicest serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Cardinal Newman, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers offer, with the prompt issue of each number, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George Macdonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend its period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

The Queen's Drawing-room.

A lady who has been presented has merely to determine which drawing-room she will attend, and to present herself at the proper time; there is no necessity, as some suppose, for her notifying her intention, unless, indeed, she is about to present another lady, in which case she must write a note, addressed to the lord chamberlain, stating her intention of attending a particular drawing-room, and of presenting a certain lady. The lady may present any number of other ladies, but she must notify them all. This note is sent to the chamberlain's office, Stable Yard, St. James' Palace, by the lady wishing to be presented, accompanied by a card on which is written very legibly her own name and that of the lady presenting her, thus: "Mrs. A., presented on her marriage by Lady Z.;" "Mrs. Henry Jones, on her marriage, by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Jones;" "Mrs. Case, by Lady Stair;" "Miss Brown, by her mother, Lady Brown;" "The Countess of K., on accession to the title, by the Duchess of O.;" etc. This card must be left at the office with the note at least two clear days before the drawing-room, and on application after that time two "presentation" or pink cards will be provided. On these the lady about to be presented must write, legibly, exactly what was on the first card, and take them with her to her palace; one to be given to the page in waiting at the top of the stairs, the other to be handed to the lord chamberlain, who announces the name to the Queen.

Ladies about to be presented should not put on their right hand glove; it must be removed before the ceremony, as the hands are fully occupied with the train, handkerchief, fan, and cards. It is by no means necessary that the presenter and presentee should go together; indeed, they often do not meet. It is usual for a lady presented on her marriage to be presented by some member of her husband's family rather than her own; but this is not absolutely necessary if inconvenient. A lady presented as a bride, or a young lady, must, of course, wear white, with flowers containing very little or no color; but white is not absolutely de rigueur for other presentations, though it is more general to wear it.

Any lady who wishes to be presented to her Majesty in person should be careful to arrive at the palace in good time, as fatigue sometimes compels the Queen to retire before the conclusion of the ceremony. The palace doors are opened at 2 o'clock, the reception commencing at 3, and 1 o'clock is not at all too early to start. On reaching the palace the great hall is crossed to the cloak-room, where wraps are deposited; then ascending the great stair-case, the lady delivers her first card to the page in waiting, and, passing along the corridor (where are cards, pens and ink, for those who may have forgotten their cards), enters the ball-room. This, like all the other rooms, is filled with chairs, and, as each room is filled, the gentlemen-at-arms, who are on duty at each doorway, close the crimson velvet barrier, and the next room is filled in due order.

The first persons who pass the Queen are the members of the diplomatic corps, of the Government, of the royal households, and all those having the privilege of the entree, who arrive and depart by a different entrance; after they have passed the rooms are emptied in due succession. The last apartment before the the throne-room is the picture-gallery, which has to be crossed; at the door of it the lady's train is taken from her left arm, over which it has hitherto been folded, with the end outward, spread out by two court officials, and she proceeds across the gallery into the presence chamber. At the door an official takes her card and passes it on to the lord chamberlain, who, just as the lady reaches the Queen, pronounces the name audibly. If the lady has been presented before, she merely makes a deep courtesy and passes on; but if not, she, while making her courtesy, extends her right hand bare and palm downward; the Queen places her's upon it, and the lady touches it with her lips. The only exception to this rule is when the presentation is that of a peeress or a peer's daughter, when her Majesty kisses the lady on the cheek. After passing the Queen a courtesy must be made to each member of the royal family present. The Princess of Wales stands next to the Queen, and then come in order, if they are all present, Princess Christian, Princess Louise, Princess Beatrice, the Duchess of Edinburgh, Duchess of Teck, the Prince of Wales, Duke of Edinburgh, and the other royal princes in succession. It is seldom, however, that all are present; the lady passes rapidly, and but little time is allowed for making the necessary obeisances. Almost before they are completed the lady's train is restored to her arm by the pages, and the ceremony is over. The lady then passes through another room into a picture gallery, and can if fatigued, go down stairs and wait for the carriage at once; or she can remain talking to her friends, or go up to the end and watch the trains being put down previous to passing into the throne-room.

When the Queen is fatigued, and retires, the rest of the ladies are received by the Princess of Wales, and a lady presented under these circumstances merely courtesies, and does not kiss hands.

Full dress—low bodice and short sleeves is compulsory at court; no one is admitted without it, unless furnished with a permission. To obtain this, a medical certificate must be forwarded to the lord chamberlain's office, stating that the lady is unable, from the state of her health, to wear a low dress; this is submitted to the Queen, and a permission is generally given, which the lady will have to show on her arrival at the palace. This permission only lasts for one drawing-room. If the lady is unable the next year to wear a low dress, she must obtain a fresh medical certificate and a new permission.

Feathers and lappets or a vail are also compulsory, and, though colored feathers are very pretty and are often worn, they are not considered such good style or so thoughly court dress as the orthodox white court plume. Ladies who have lappets will do well to wear them; vails are most uncomfortable in a crowd, and are frequently the means of disarranging the hair. Lappets are generally arranged on the right side and feathers on the left. Those who have jewels wear them, and flowers are frequently worn also; this, however, is a matter of taste. Trains are worn either from the waist or the shoulders; if the former, the boddice corresponds with the train; if the latter, with the skirt. A train should invariably be lined; the ommission makes the whole dress look shabby.

There is always an intimation made when a drawing-room is announced that "gentlemen are not expected to be present, excepting in attendance on the ladies of their family." Even of those who do go, extreuely few pass the Queen, turning off into the picture gallery instead of passing. As a matter of fact, they are of no assistance to the ladies, even in getting the carriages, as these come up in regular succession, and are not allowed to be called—a very bad arrangement, as many who would gladly go away are kept waiting till the carriages of others who are talking up stairs have passed on.

Ladies are only expected to attend one drawing-room, as the numbers naturally increase each year.

A lady who has been presented must, when she attends a drawing-room, take with her two large cards, with her name legibly written thereon, to be given to the same officials as the presentation cards.—London Queen.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1877.

Another Steamship Wrecked.

On Saturday, March 24th, a mammoth excursion steamer named the Rockaway, designed to run between New York city and Rockaway Beach, and said to be the largest excursion steamer in America, was launched from the establishment of George W. Beach at Norfolk, Va., and left Norfolk on Sunday night for New York in tow of steamship Wyanoke. She was built for R. Cornell White of New York, and was 293 feet long.

On Monday the signal service observer at Atlantic City reported a large steamer ashore on the bar opposite that city, and broken in two. This wreck turned out to be the new steamer Rockaway, she having sprung a leak and filled with water on the passage from Norfolk to New York, compelling her crew to take refuge on board the Wyanoke, which vessel then cast off the towline to save herself, and left the luckless Rockaway to her fate.

The crew of the Rockaway say they left Norfolk Saturday night in tow of the Wyanoke, and were progressing pretty fairly. They had frequent rain squalls during the night and a strong wind was blowing from the northeast. During Sunday the wind increased to a gale and the waves rose very high. The rain was so heavy that it was impossible to see but a few rods ahead. All hands were at their posts. All were of the opinion that unless the storm subsided the vessel would be stranded or go down. All Sunday night they were on the lookout for such an occurrence, and it came just as expected. The carpenters were all below deck, when it was noticed that the vessel had strained herself so badly that she had parted amidships. All rushed on deck and the Wyanoke was signaled that the Rockaway was sinking. The lifeboats were immediately lowered and after two trips all were safely taken to the Wyanoke. As the last party left the Rockaway her deck was flush with the water. When all were safe the cable was severed and the Rockaway left to her fate.

News and Notes.

Wendell Phillips lectured in Philadelphia, Monday evening, on "The Holy Alliance: Rum and the Revolver." He furiously attacked Hayes and his Cabinet, denounced Devens as a slave-hunter, and said the war is not over and will not be for years to come.

Barque Lorena, at New York from Marseilles, rescued from a small boat Capt. Young and four seamen of the British schooner Rivulet, from Brazil for England, abandoned sinking. Barque Imogene, from Brazil for Falmouth, was seen by the crew of the Rivulet on fire, Jan. 30, near the Brazilian coast. Crew were preparing to abandon her.

Joseph Stehl, while asleep Friday night in the boiler-room of the Guttenburg Brewery, Hoboken, was covered with kerosene oil (thrown over him) and then set on fire by some unknown human fiend. Although men threw blankets over him, he was so badly burned that he died in a few hours in awful agony.

Schooner M. Sewall, wrecked on Long Shoal, Vineyard Sound, March 18th, was towed into Vineyard Haven on Saturday. Her cargo of laths is nearly all in her yet, but the vessel is not considered to be worth much.

A ship and two barques went ashore near Cape Henry during a thick fog and gale Sunday night, within a mile of ship Winchester, beached a week or more before. Crews all saved.

Mary Ella Harrington, the young girl whose disappearance from her East Boston home some four months ago created much excitement, is believed to be living in Lowell and under no restraint from any person.

The committee to examine the books of Albert G. O'Brien, late Treasurer of the town of Cornish, Me., have found him to be a forger and defaulter to the amount of over $3000. As far as ascertained town bonds to the amount $1300 were fraudulently issued by him. Many of the books and papers have been destroyed, rendering it impossible to ascertain the full amount of the defalcation. O'Brien has since gone into bankruptcy. A large number of town orders for small amounts were found raised to large amounts.

A Washington correspondent says Senator Blaine was asked how he liked the new Cabinet, and told the following story by way of illustration: "Once upon a time a party of gentlemen in Maine started out on a hunting expedition. On the way they elected one of their number to the responsible position of cook, with the understanding that the first one who growled or objected to the cooking should take the cook's place, and that this rule should continue throughout the trip. On the first morning out, while at breakfast, one took up a biscuit, put it to his mouth, bit out a piece, and immediately exclaimed, "Whew, how salty; but I like it!"

A sensation was created in Boston Music Hall during Rev. Mr. Murray's services Sunday forenoon, by the appearance of a well-dressed lady, who, after searching over the whole house, found the man for whom she was looking, in the company of another equally attractive woman. She upbraided him sharply for trying to deceive her, and then marched him from the house of worship.

After a long and careful investigation of the method of paying what is called in the Treasury unclaimed interest, the Solicitor of the Treasury has submitted a lengthy report to the Secretary of the Treasury, in which he reviews the whole matter and finds that the recently published statements of collusion between outside parties and Government officials, by which fraud had been practiced upon the Treasury, have had no basis whatever. Assistant Secretary Conant and all others mentioned in this connection are fully exonerated by the report of the Solicitor.

Dicker Dutton died in Harford County, Maryland, last Wednesday, aged 104 years. He was a colored man, with a remarkable capacity for whisky.

Rev. Charles A. Stoddard, one of the editors of the New York Observer, outwitted a thief very cleverly. He was riding down town in a stage with his wife, when a man who sat beside her suddenly arose and hurried out of the stage. When he was almost out of sight a man sitting opposite said to Mrs. Stoddard: "Madame, that man has got your pocket-book;" and she at once found that her purse, containing ten dollars and an unset amethyst, had disappeared. Mr. Stoddard made no movement to leave the stage, but kept his eye upon the man who had given the information, and the latter soon became uneasy and left the stage. Mr. Stoddard at once followed him, when the man ran, throwing away a purse, which was found to be the one Mrs. Stoddard had missed. Two policemen captured the thief, who turned out to be the "pal" of the man who sat beside Mrs. Stoddard, who had taken the purse from the other as he left the stage, and thought to escape by setting Mr. Stoddard on the wrong track.

The "Treasury frauds," of which we have heard so much of late, are found to be frauds upon the public credulity. It was not a conspiracy against the Government, but against the character of Government officials. An investigation shows that the whole story of fraudulent payments of interest was coined out of nothing, and for a purpose which it is easy to conjecture. It was a mere raid of libelers, with certain Treasury clerks fighting on the same side within the Department. Mr. Conant, who was the most conspicuous object of attack, has the pleasure of seeing the mud roll off his garments without leaving a stain, and ought to have the further pleasure of seeing the democratic press retract their malicious comments on a purely malicious charge. N. Y. Tribune.

The dam of the Straffordville (Con.) reservoir gave way Tuesday morning. The damage in the village of Straffordville was very heavy. The railway freight house and all the cars were washed away; the National Bank, Congregational Church and fifteen or twenty other buildings were destroyed. No lives reported lost. Two Howe truss bridges were carried away, and three miles of railroad destroyed.

Wade Hampton has accepted President Hayes' invitation to a conference in Washington, and was to leave South Carolina Tuesday evening for the capitol. General Ruger will act as provisional governor of South Carolina during the absence of Chamberlain and Hampton at Washington.

A verdict of murder in the first degree was rendered in Bellows Falls, Vermont, Monday, upon Jesse H. Lewis for the murder of Albert H. Deming in Jamaica, April 20, 1875. The trial of Solon A. Wooley for the murder of his brother in Grafton, last October, began on Tuesday.

A chair-stock and shingle mill at Jaffrey was burned Sunday. Loss, $2500; insured for $750 in the Cheshire Company and $750 in the Ashuelot of Keene. Part of the machinery was saved.

The revival interest in Dover, which has been increasing for the past six weeks, and lately under the charge of Whittier, evangelist, who leaves for other fields, culminated Sunday in the meetings all over the city. Over 300 conversions are now reported.

Rev. W. E. Spear resigns from the Congregational Church at Dunbarton.

A newspaper is to be started in Gorham, Coos county, on the first of April.

Frank P. Hobart of Brookline was accidentally killed while chopping in the woods. He was caught between two falling trees and crushed to death.

James W. Hilton, a prominent citizen of Grafton, who was struck by a slab while at work in his mill Thursday, died Saturday night from the effects of his injuries.

At the annual meeting of the Union School District in Concord, Saturday night, John H. George, S. C. Whitcher and Everett L. Conger were elected members of the Board of Education, and $20,000 were appropriated for the support of the schools.

Mr. Greenleaf C. Blaisdell of Fremont, working in the box mill of R. H. Fellows at Brentwood, recently sawed out and matched, or as box-makers term it, "got out," the stock for two hundred boxes, measuring in all twenty-seven-hundred feet, in five hours and thirty minutes.

On Sunday Mr. John Brugger, one of Manchester's oldest and most respected citizens, formerly of the firm J. Brugger & Son, boisery manufacturers, died of typhoid pneumonia, after an illness of one week. He was born in Berne, Switzerland, in 1802.

The New New York Tribune, which was severe on the people of our State for rejecting the amendment abolishing the religious test, now says: "New Hampshire came very near the nineteenth century, after all. Nearly complete returns show a handsome majority for the amendment to the Constitution abolishing the religious test for office but the State preserved its medieval consistency by defeating, it is believed by a few hundred votes, the proposition to strike out the word "Protestant" from the Bill of Rights. The effect of the failure of the latter amendment is hardly likely to be important, though it is to be regretted; but it is a relief to know that the only State in the Union which still excluded Roman Catholics from office has wiped out that prohibition from its fundamental law. It was a dead letter even there, but it made an ugly corpse."

Six dogs were shot in Nashua on Friday.

The death of a horse in Northfield by hydrophobia has created considerable excitement.

The body of Mr. Whittier, of Keene, who was lost in the snow near Munsonville, on Dec. 29th, was found on Sunday a short distance from where his pails were found in Stoddard.

On the 16th inst. Benjamin Davis and wife of New Ipswich celebrated the 71st anniversary of their marriage. Mr. Davis is in his 95th year, and Mrs. Davis in her 92d year.

—A village congregation in Vermont was disturbed the other Sunday, during the momentary stillness following the opening prayer, by a voice from the adjoining dwelling, exclaiming, "Mary, where's the nails?" Soon the answer came, "In the coffee-pot, you fool."

—The new anaconda at the Zoological Gardens, London, is eighteen or twenty feet long and two feet around the thickest part of the body. He was caught in South America and shipped to England in a large box. He lies in a tank of warm water and eats a duck every morning. His voyage across the Atlantic was a very uncomfortable one, and his buff skin is shrunken and travel-stained.

—An English clergyman has been fined for using profane language. Evidence was given at the Bridgend petty sessions on March 10th to the effect that Rev. Rees Prichard, a vicar in Glamorganshire, had sworn six times during a wrangle with passengers on a railway train, and he was fined five shillings for each curse. A few days before this the Todcester magistrates had sentenced Mr. Leatham to two months' imprisonment for cursing the Queen during divine service. English justice discriminates between profanity that is merely profane and profanity that is disloyal.

SICK HEADACHE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 5, 1877.

I have suffered with Sick Head-Ache as often as every two weeks, for Fifteen Years. At times in such severe pain I fainted away. I tried every thing I could hear of and was attended by Physicians. I continued in this condition until last December when I commenced with the Little Giant Pills. I have not had a Head-Ache since. I want every person who suffers as I have, to try this Medicine and be cured, and if any such are not able to pay for a box, I will buy a box and give them.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS formerly owned by the late Ira Hazelton, at the corner of Creek Street and Bartlett's Road are now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres, and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN which measures 36x40 feet and has just been newly shingled. The other lot, on Boyd's road, contains seven acres, all of which is under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon these two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees in bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and unless disposed of immediately at private sale it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.

For terms enquire of the owner,

NAVY YARD ITEMS.

On Monday, at about noon, while the engines of the contract sloop-of-war "Enterprise" were being tried, a sailor stepped to the ship's side to look out through the port; the engines were just then stopped and the vessel of course went astern on her moorings, and the man was caught between the side of the port and the end of the brow, and severely injured. The order was hurriedly passed to go ahead with the engines as a man was jammed, and the engines instantly started ahead at full speed, releasing the unfortunate sailor from his painful and perilous situation, and also parting the ship's moorings. No other damage was done. The man's injuries are not fatal.

The U. S. S. "Sabine" was sold at auction at the Navy Yard on Tuesday, to Charles Budrow of Boston, the price paid for her being $19,250. There was a large attendance of bidders from Boston and other places.

On Tuesday afternoon Mr. Llewellyn Trefethen, of Newcastle, an employe in the Department of Steam Engineering, while working in the covered way between the machine and coppersmiths' shops at the yard, was instantly killed by being crushed under a mass of iron, estimated to weigh forty tons. The iron was packed on a rack which hung directly over where the unfortunate man was working, and the rack gave away just as he was finishing the job on which he was engaged; in another half-minute he would have been out of the way of danger—of the existence of which, however, no one had the slightest suspicion, as the strength of the rack had never been questioned. Capt. English and the other officers of the yard were quickly on the spot, but the unfortunate man was beyond human aid. An examination of the remains was made by Surgeon Cleborne in his official capacity, after which the body was sent to Newcastle in the yard ambulance. Mr. Trefethen leaves a wife and two daughters; he was a man universally esteemed by all who knew him, and his family receive much sympathy in their affliction.

KNIGHTS OF HONOR REUNION.

Sagamore Lodge, No. 258, Knights of Honor, celebrated their first anniversary at their Hall on Market street, (formerly known as Washington Hall,) on Monday evening; and despite the gale and drenching rain a large number of the Knights and their lady friends assembled to do honor to the occasion. The Hall has been fitted up for the purposes of the Order at a considerable expense, and it is hard to now associate it with the memories of by-gone days; the walls are covered with paper showing gilt bouquets on a brilliant red ground; the Dictator's stand is canopied with red rep edged with a deep fringe of worsted, and a fluting of light blue rep extends from the floor to the canopy, back of the Dictator's chair; the effect of the whole is harmonious, and the arrangements very convenient for the purposes of the Lodge.

The exercises of the evening were varied and interesting. Prayer was offered by Mr. Newton, a member of the Lodge, followed by an address of "Welcome to the Ladies" by Mr. Stephen W. Clarke, which abounded in neat and well-turned compliments to the gentler sex and was spiced with numerous bits of sparkling humor. Mr. Clarke gave a brief history of Knighthood, tracing it back to feudal times, and a few statistics of the Knights of Honor organization, which at the present time numbers 17,000 members. The address was brief and appropriate.

The songs, "Sing, sweet bird," and "Down the shadowed lane she goes," were artistically sung by Miss Flanders; and the trios, "Evening bells" and "Soft glides the sea," were beautifully rendered by Miss Flanders, Mrs. Bennett and Mr. Newell. Some choice readings were also given: "High tide" (Jean Ingelow) was read with excellent effect by Miss Lizzie M. Flagg; "The story of the bewitched clock," a humorous selection, was told by Miss Lizzie Varrell with a vivacity which was quite refreshing; and "The summer storm," by James Russell Lowell, was recited by Miss Emma Johnson in a manner both spirited and graceful.

One feature of the exercises, not "down in the bills," was the unexpected presentation to the Lodge, by the lady friends of the members, of a large and elegantly bound Bible, the presentation speech being made by the wife of one of the Knights, as follows:

Mr. Dictator, and gentlemen of the Knights of Honor:

The Ladies, appreciating the noble conception and execution of creating a Society or Order, by you, that only provides benefits to be bestowed upon others, and we being the contemplated recipients of these benefits,—it is proper and fitting that we should signify our appreciation and gratitude;—and feeling that the noble principle of Charity (the only sentiment that could have called this order into existence) is taught in the Holy Bible, we feel that we can no more appropriately show such approval and gratitude than by presenting this Book, with the prayers of your wives and those who love you that your every act may be in keeping with its Divine teachings. Therefore, accept it, and with it the warm assurances of fidelity and trust which flow from grateful hearts, and a most earnest desire that our conduct may not stultify, but stimulate you, and through you, ourselves, to more noble deeds than ever before, for every noble act leads us to the performance of others still nobler, which must meet the approval of that Grand and Divine Dictator who rules over the destinies of us all.

Dictator Clarence B. Mason accepted the Bible on behalf of the Lodge, responding in substance as follows:

Sisters: As this is a complete surprise, you will not expect me to say more than a few words in acceptance; in behalf of Sagamore Lodge, Knights of Honor, I accept this beautiful present, and extend to you the sincere and heartfelt thanks of the Lodge and its members. I assure you that we do not accept this elegant Bible for its intrinsic value alone, but as a sacred memento of the love which you cherish for our noble Brotherhood; and that its pages shall be searched at our meetings, so that the divine teachings of the sacred book may be impressed upon the minds of our members, not only to enable them to carry out the precepts of our Order, but that its teachings may prove a guide and passport to that Celestial Lodge above where the Supreme Ruler of the Universe presides. In conclusion, I once more extend to you our thanks.

The Bible was then committed to the keeping of the Chaplain of the Lodge.

At the close of the exercises at the Hall the company adjourned to the banquet room of Franklin Hall, where a bountiful collation was prepared, after partaking of which the following toasts were announced, Mr. Charles A. Shannon officiating as toast-master:

No. 1. "The day we celebrate;" May we meet with many happy returns.
Response by Clarence B. Mason.

No. 2. "Our ladies;" a safe place for affection. When old Strawberry Bank makes a dividend, we have as our share "Heaven's best gift to man."
Response by R. H. Perkins.

No. 3. "Infancy;" the first link in the changes of progress. Like little children we enter this lodge, groping.
Response by Amos S. Foster.

No. 4. "Youth;" the bright morning star of hope. Confident of our strength we are equally confident that there's naught to come to make us afraid.
Response by Plumer D. Norton.

No. 5. "Our army;" the good right arm of our defence. May the glorious flag which it upholds never be allowed to trail in the dust.
Response by Major D. J. Vaughan.

No. 6. "The Press;" The safeguard of our institutions, the voice by which the people speak. Portsmouth is proud of her contributors to the fraternity.
Response by Samuel Dodge.

No. 7. "Manhood." It has been said that "the proper study of mankind is man;" so thinks the faithful Knight of Honor when there's call for aid.
Response by J. Horace Kent.

No. 8. "Our Navy." Knightly deeds have not been confined to the land; the history of our navy abounds in chivalric stories. May it long continue our protection and our pride; elevating the character of our citizens at home, and upholding the honor of our flag abroad.
This toast was to have been responded to by Chief Engineer David B. Macomb, U. S. N., but he was absent, having been called to Washington to act as President of a Naval Commission.

No. 9. "Our benefits." As tender charity's ample sway cheers the breast, so our relief will ever cheer the brother's home.
Response by Joseph H. Gardiner.

No. 10. "Our Teachers." Guardians and instructors of our children, may they evince an aptitude for their profession, lead upright lives, and inculcate precepts of piety and morality as the only safeguard of our growth.
Response by Hon. T. E. O. Marvin.

No. 11. "Our Widows and Orphans." Occupying positions of extreme sorrow and grief, may they reap the benefit our noble order.
Response by Charles A. Hazlett.

No. 12. "Qualifications." While the ancient Knights regarded the physical condition as the prominent qualification for Knighthood, our Knights regard the physical, moral and intellectual alike essential. May the union ever be maintained.
Response by Dr. Samuel C. Whittier.

No. 13. "The Order of Knighthood." The ancient Knight gave himself to his Knightly work; he possessed the soul of a Knight; wore the armor of a Knight; he was a Knight.
Response by Oliver M. Knight.

The party broke up shortly after midnight, having passed a most pleasant and agreeable evening, the singing of "America" by the entire assemblage being the last act.

The officers of Sagamore Lodge are as follows:

Dictator, Clarence B. Mason; Vice Dictator, R. H. Perkins; Asst. Dictator, E. H. Leslie; Chaplain, S. W. Clarke; Reporter, George A. Perkins; Financial Reporter, Wm. O. Sides; Treasurer, Plumer D. Norton; Guide, Alfred Stavers; Guardian, Elmer E. Sawyer; Sentinel, Shirley B. Cunningham.

JOTTINGS.

Ship Frank Jones, of this port, is to proceed in ballast from San Francisco to Manila to load for Boston or New York, on private terms.

Somebody (supposed to be a tramp who had been seen hanging around) on Tuesday forenoon, between the hours of seven and nine o'clock, "went through" the till of Mr. James McClure's saloon on Water street, and walked off with the contents, amounting to some six or seven dollars.

Robert F. Gerrish, Esq., of Kittery Point, has recently presented the New England Historic-Genealogical Society of Boston a large quantity of Pepperell papers which were left by Sir William at the time of his death in 1759. These papers have long been in the possession of the Gerrish family and are now placed in the archives of the Society for preservation. Many of them are possessed of much historic interest.

The Detroit Free Press nominates Frank Jones for the next democratic candidate for governor in New Hampshire. Let's see: If it takes $40,000 to carry one-third of the State by a plurality of 49 votes, it will take $120,000 to carry the whole State by a plurality of 147 votes. That would throw the election into the Legislature and into the hands of the republicans, as a plurality does not elect a Governor as it does a Congressman in this State. Jones has a growing purse, but we predict that it will never grow up to be governor of this State. It will "bust" first.—Nashua Telegraph.

SUPREME COURT.

In case Edwin W. Cochrane vs. Wm. H. Allen, claim for a sum in settlement of business, a verdict was rendered in favor of plaintiff.

In the case of Michael Rafter vs. Alfred Stavers, claim for damages for injuries received by Rafter running against a derrick at the time Franklin Hall was being repaired, the jury on Tuesday evening rendered a verdict to the effect that Stavers is not liable, and that Rafter failed to use due care. Frink for Stavers; Hatch for plaintiff.

—Blue glass worn in the crown of the hat will enable a bald-headed man to part his hair in the middle.

—This is the portrait Lucy Hooper draws of the Empress Eugenie: "She has grown immensely stout, dresses in ugly English-made black gowns, paints her face pink and white, blacks under her eyes, and wears a very palpable wig of light yellow hair. It is sad to have the image of grace and sweetness and delicate beauty once called up by the mere name of Eugenie—named replaced by such a vision—a painted and bewigged old coquette, a sort of royal Mrs. Skewton."

—The latest triumph of Yankee ingenuity is sour-milk jewelry, made by Kingman & Hodges of Mansfield, Mass. The milk comes in the shape of curd from the butter and cheese-making counties in New York, and looks, upon its arrival, a great deal like popped corn, but before it leaves their shop it undergoes a wonderful change, and receives the name of American coral. The secret in making it up is carefully guarded, but it is certain that it has to be heated very hot, during which coloring matter is introduced, followed by a very heavy pressure. Some of it is colored black and called jet, while some appears as celluloid. It makes very handsome jewelry, and is made into all kinds and styles known to the trade.

A Result of Obstructed Digestion.

Among the hurtful consequences of obstructed digestion, is the impoverishment of the blood, and since a deteriative condition of the vital fluid not only produces dangerous organic weakness, but, according to the best medical authorities, sometimes causes asphyxia, it is apparent that to improve the quality of the blood by promoting digestion and assimilation, is a wise precution. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is precisely the remedy for this purpose, since it stimulates the gastric juices, conquers those bilious and evacuative irregularities which interfere with the digestive processes, promotes assimilation of the food by the blood, and purifies as well as enriches it. The signs of improvement in health in consequence of using the Bitters are speedily apparent in accession of vigor, a gain in bodily substance, and a regular and active performance of every physical function.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the Worst Cases. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it effects such some almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS, CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be as I that he claims for it.

The Modern New England Fast Day.

The present generation of New Englanders has continued the custom of appointing a State fast day, but it has finally become so perverted from its original purpose as to be the local feast day. The New Englander still goes to meeting on fast day morning to some extent, but the minister recognizes the changed character of the day and substitutes for the old-fashioned sermon on some abstruse point of doctrine, a patriotic eulogy of the New England pilgrims, or a comprehensive answer to all the political problems of the day. The afternoon and evening are devoted to social pleasures, among which supper, in connection with spring chickens, and dancing, interspersed with ice-cream, are prominent. Not only do the theatres offer entertainments of especial attractiveness on fast day, but the New Englander attends them as though he were one of the brutes that perish. As for the small boy, he now regards fast day as a shadow of Fourth of July to come, and devotes it to open "mumbloty peg" and blatant kite-flying.—N. Y. Times.

—Delegations of native Americans, colored Americans, German Americans, Irish Americans, and assorted Americans of other varieties, have already paid their respects to President Hayes, usually with an incidental allusion to some office of trust and emolument. The aboriginal American has so far only been heard from through dispatches addressed to the War Department.

—If you have religion you need not tell people about it; they will find it out after trading with you a while.

IN THE

UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1850 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors from its old location, where the wants will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not even come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

Ladies will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have invented their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases, are advised that by consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage, 300 pages—full of valuable practical facts. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

YOUNG LADIES—Dr. YOUNG will realize the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Gutenic Pills.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting Dr. Young by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1876.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $15.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1876

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have no doubt I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought or, tell to no purpose. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indivised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had on you, and I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheuma to Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know of, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twenty years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and spent a good part of my fortune, also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for the last four years. I have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case incurable, and most of them said they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of my wife, I was called to my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that I am cured. I do not know but I will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrill Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend these Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where th. ir merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well as Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1876.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $15.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A. Proc. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it endeavors itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

THE ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-two years, does this, to an extent beyond that any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufacture, Mechanics, Invention and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Ever issue is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the largest and most interesting information pertaining to Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Industry, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the eldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the sake of them some house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS, in connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO., are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and accuracy, completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent writers as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend it to subscribe at once. Of our readers, "We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

A Scotch Story.

A certain minister having become much addicted to drink, his presbytery had to interfere, and get the minister to sign the pledge. The result was that the sudden reaction proved too much for him, and he became so ill that the doctor had to be sent for. The doctor said he must begin to take his toddy again. This the minister said he could not do, as he had taken the pledge. The doctor replied that he might get a bottle or two quietly, and that nobody but their two selves and the housekeeper would know it. "Man," said the minister, "my housekeeper is worse than all the presbyters put together, so that would not do." However, it was arranged that the doctor should bring in the whiskey and sugar, and that the minister was to make up the toddy in the bed room with the hot water he got for shaving purposes in the morning. The result was that the minister got speedily well, and one day on going out, the doctor said to the minister's housekeeper, "Well, Margaret, your minister is quite himself again." "There's nae doubt of that, sir," she replied, "he's quite well in the body, but there is something gane far wrang wi' his upper story." "What's wrong there, Margaret?" asked the doctor. "Weel, sir, I dinna ken, but he asks for shavin' water six or seven times a day."

Anecdote of Thad. Stevens.

Pierce M. B. Young, a recent representative in Congress from Mississippi, was a Confederate General, and a graduate of West Point. He came to Washington soon after the war, seeking to have his disabilities removed. He is a fine, manly fellow, and seems to have accepted the results of the war in good faith. He went to Thad., and Thad. began to play with him, as he sometimes did with those whom he intended to make his victims. He said:

"You are a graduate of West Point, I believe?"

"Yes, sir."

"Educated at the expense of the United States, I believe, which you swore faithfully to forever defend?"

"Yes, sir."

"You went into the service of the infernal rebellion?"

"Yes, sir."

"You were a brigade commander in the raid into Pennsylvania, which destroyed the property of so many of my constituents?"

"Yes, sir."

"It was a squad of men under your direct charge, and under your personal command, that burned my rolling-mill?"

"Yes, sir."

Young thought he was gone, but seeing that the old veteran had come into the possession of the last fact, which Young did not dream he knew, it was impossible to deny the truth of his question. Thad. roared out, "Well, I like your impudence. I will see that your disabilities are removed. Good morning." And the next day the bill passed the House.

—It is useless for physicians to protest against short-sleeved dresses. The constitution of the United States says that "the right to bear arms shall not be interfered with."

—The Missouri Legislature has passed an act punishing illegal voting with two or five years in prison, and attempts at it by a fine of twenty-five dollars to one hundred dollars, or from thirty days' to six months' imprisonment. The Colorado Legislature attacks the grand jury. Twenty days before the criminal court meets the judge of the county seat and two justices of the peace shall sit as a court of indictment, and hear all the testimony offered by either side before the indictment or discharge of prisoners. The Nebraska Legislature provides for a grasshopper war. Road supervisors throughout the State are authorized to order out all the voters in their respective precincts to do twelve days' work each in killing grasshoppers, for which each of those home guards is to be paid two dollars per day in county warrants. Besides this, grasshopper war clubs are being generally formed throughout the State.

—Juan Manuel de Rosas, the ex-Dictator of the Argentine Confederation, who died recently in England, was very peculiar in his superintendence of the large farm which he rented near Southampton. His greatest happiness seemed to be to sit on his horse and give orders to those employed. His love of what may be termed despotic command was so great that no one was allowed to speak a word except by way of acknowledgment of commands or in answer to questions. Gen. Rosas always paid his farm attendants and laborers about one-third more than the current wages in the district, but he had the peculiarity of only engaging them day by day. Each man was paid daily, and told whether he would be required on the morrow or not. This singular feature of his character sprang from a determination never to be bound by any permanent engagement, but in the result the men found themselves generally in regular employment and very few changes were made. So strictly disciplinarian were his habits that each man's time was calculated hour by hour as he worked, and fully to carry this out, particularly in the summer months, he had always a night watchman specially employed, both winter and summer, to ring a large bell under his bedchamber window every half hour throughout the night.

Fast Day Proclamation.

Thursday, April 12th, is, by the advice of the Executive Council, designated as a day of fasting, humiliation and prayer.

Therefore I recommend that we, as a people, so observe it, both publicly and privately, as to indicate our belief in Him who ruleth over all. And I earnestly request that on the day thus set apart, we endeavor to withdraw our thoughts from the ordinary cares of this life, and fix them upon subjects that pertain to a higher and better life.

May we all humbly seek to be brought to a nearer personal relation with God, that thus we may love him more fervently, and be more inclined to a more vivid remembrance of our duty to others.

As we hope for the perpetuity of good government, free institutions, civil and religious liberty, in our own commonwealth, so we may be impelled to unite in prayer to Almighty God that all these blessings may be the inheritance of every sister State in our beloved Republic, and that each and all may recognize the Divine Hand that has always gently guided us in the hour of peril.

May we also, as citizens of a common country, hold in sacred remembrance our obligations to both State and Nation—to the end that our Union may be more perfect, and our bond none other than that of Fraternal Love. P. C. CHENEY.

Proclamation of Thanksgiving—I. O. O. F.

Office of the M. W. Grand Patriarch, }
R. W. Grand Encampment of N. H. }

To the Subordinate Encampments throughout this Jurisdiction, Greeting:

Whereas, The R. W. Grand Lodge of the United States has commended, and the R. W. Grand Encampment of New Hampshire has ordained, that the Twenty-sixth day of April shall be perpetually observed as a Day of Thanksgiving, commemorative of the birth of Odd Fellowship:

Now, therefore, I, John R. Miller, M. W. Grand Patriarch of the R. W. Grand Encampment of New Hampshire, pursuant to authority invested in me by law, do hereby enjoin upon all Encampments within this jurisdiction, to set apart that day for the proper observance of the anniversary of such import to our beloved Order. Let, then, this branch of our Order assume its holiday attire, and in social assemblages, with music, festivity and thanksgiving, perpetuate the names and fame of those heroic brothers whose early efforts founded the institution we so highly prize; not forgetting to acknowledge the numerous blessings bestowed upon us by the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, nor his marked approval of our efforts to promulgate the principles of Friendship, Love and Truth.

Given under my hand at Peterborough, New Hamnshire, this Fifteenth day of March, A. D. 1877, and of our Order the Fifty-eighth.

JOEL TAYLOR, Grand Scribe. JOHN R. MILLER, Grand Patriarch.

News and Notes.

Wallace Ross and Elijah Ross, the former champion of the provinces and the latter a member of the Paris crew, have challenged any two men in the United States or the Dominion to row three or six miles for $1,000 or $2,000 gold in May or June on the Kennebecacis or at Halifax.

The British government has intimated its desire to negotiate an extradition treaty with the United States, which will not conflict with provisions of the act of Parliament of 1870, under which E. D. Winslow found immunity, but which will secure political fugitives from being surrendered. The crimes for which it is proposed that fugitives can be arrested and extradited are those named in the extradition treaty recently negotiated with Spain by General Cushing.

The salary bill of the New York city government makes an enormous total. It foots up an aggregate of $11,337,247. The total of individuals employed is 5509 against 5383 last year. Of this number 2344 are in the police department, the pay roll of which amounts to $5,119,018—sixteen hundred thousand dollars more than is paid for teacher's salaries. There are 155 persons who draw salaries amounting to $741,700.

On the evening of March 27th, at Topeka, Kansas, a shooting affray occurred between J. Clark Swase, editor of the Blade, and John W. Wilson of the Times; Swase was killed, and Wilson received only a slight flesh wound. Wilson was arrested.

A despatch from Paris says that the Commissioner-General of Switzerland at the late Centennial exhibition at Philadelphia, in his report to the Federal Council, states that the decline in Swiss exports to America is not due to the commercial crisis there, but to the development of native industry, and that Switzerland will never regain her own level. England also is competing more actively with Switzerland to compensate for the loss in other markets. Cotton fabrics are likely to cross the Atlantic to Europe in increasing quantities, for water-power is cheaper than coal. Short hours and high wages have disappeared, and Americans, it may be foreseen, will compete with Europe, even in China and Japan. Switzerland must also be prepared for warmer rivalry in silks; watches and machines, England being likely to try to make up on the Continent for the decline in her machine exports to America.

The York Institute of Saco has been presented with a likeness, of large size, of the late Commander Weld Noble Allen of the United States Navy. Commander Allen was a native of York county and son of the late Judge Wm. C. Allen of Alfred. He greatly distinguished himself during the late war as a brave and chivalrous officer, and it is highly proper that his likeness be placed on the walls of the rooms of the Institute alongside of other former well-known citizens of that county.

Next Friday, John P. Phair, now under sentence of death for the murder of Mrs. Anna Freeze at Rutland, Vt., in June, 1874, will expiate the penalty of his crime upon the gallows. The almost universal expression of opinion throughout the State is that if ever a man was guilty of murder Phair is guilty of the crime for which he is to be executed.

Mrs. Hayes, it appears, does not dress expensively enough to please the fashionable ladies of Washington. She receives them attired in a plain black silk gown, with her hair simply dressed and wearing no jewelry, and they don't like it.

Word comes to us from Paris of a recent contrivance of the modistes, by which the long trains and collant dresses are to be retained in position. A strong elastic is attached to one garter, just above the knee, carried over, and fastened to the other; thus the length of the steps taken by the wearer is regulated, and the classical folds of the costume remain undisturbed.—Demorest's Monthly.

The loss by the breaking away of the Staffordville dam is estimated at $500,000. Two men, Richard Spending and William Burwell, are supposed to be lost. The dam was on the head-waters of the Willimantic river, and the amount of land flowed was about 400 acres. The dam has been standing for some years, but was only fourteen feet high until last autumn, when the owners added six feet to its height, the work being done by Jordan & Sons of Willimantic. The residents of the valley have never liked the change, and it is said the owners had doubts of the safety of the work, for they have never, since it was finished, allowed the reservoir to fill to its full height. They put in an immense cast iron waste pipe, four feet in diameter, to carry off the surplus, and the filling of the reservoir by the recent storm was owing to the heavy fall of rain, and not because of any intention of the owners to fill the reservoir. At the first test the dam went to pieces, as had been prophesied by those who said it was made of frozen gravel and built too hastily. The leak was discovered on Monday. The workmen were busy all day and night filling in about the waste pipe. Their efforts were useless. At half past five o'clock next morning the work was abandoned. The water then gained so rapidly that in a few moments the pipe was shot out of its place. The dam opened and the flood started.

New Hampshire Items.

On Tuesday Barney Murphy of Concord was bound over in the sum of $3000 for appearance at the Supreme Court for an aggravated assault upon Edward T. Wight of Contoocookville. The alleged assault occurred in Concord, Jan. 26.

The Supreme Court for Strafford county, Foster, Justice, commenced its adjourned session Tuesday morning, proceeding with the trial of Michael Conlen for liquor selling. The Court stated to the Bar that it would sit in session until the criminal and civil dockets were exhausted, if it took all the spring and summer.

Guy Kimball of Dalton, a township about seven miles from Littleton, aged 65, went home Tuesday night, the 27th, drunk, quarrelled with his wife and beat her brains out with a stick of wood. Kimball is a quarrelsome, drunken wretch, and has repeatedly abused his wife. The deceased was an inoffensive woman about 45 years old. The murderer is under arrest. Kimball went to Littleton on Tuesday for liquor for a lame son with a broken arm. He arrived home about four o'clock in the evening, drunk. About 9 or 10 o'clock he ordered his wife to make a cup of tea. She refused. He then knocked her down and jumped upon her, and ordered the lame son to bed. The son heard noises until about 11 o'clock. About 12 o'clock another son arrived from Dalton and found his mother dead on the floor. He took her body and laid it on the bed. Kimball confessed having murdered her. The son went for help, which soon arrived. Her body is a mass of bruises and wounds from the waist up, her head and arms being horribly mangled. Kimball admits the murder.

Political.

A delegation of democrats from Richmond, Va., who went to Washington to urge the President not to recommission Miss Van Lew as postmaster of Richmond were very much disconcerted when they obtained an audience with the President, and he asked whether Miss Van Lew had not made an efficient officer. They were forced to admit that such was the case, and that Miss Van Lew's removal was desired solely upon the ground that she insulted the people of Richmond by boldly proclaiming her political views. The President bowed the delegation out.

In the contested election case at San Francisco, of Pacheco (republican) and Wigginton (democrat), candidates for Congress in the Fourth District, the Supreme Court overruled Wigginton's demurrer to Pacheco's application for a writ of mandamus, commanding the Secretary of State to issue a certificate to Pacheco.

An impartial President, according to the democratic conception, is one who, in regard to the Southern question and every other question, does exactly what democrats demand of him, does it precisely in the method prescribed by democrats, and at just the moment when democrats decree that it shall be done.

—An Allenton (Pa.,) woman found a pocket book and $60 some twenty years ago, but, though she knew its owner, kept it. Her husband grew rich, the loser became poor, and the woman finding his family in actual want lately restored the $60. Now the man has to send receive the interest for twenty years. That's all the gratitude there is in some people.

The First District.

A subscriber writes us from a town in the first congressional district as follows: "The Mirror article on the late campaign in this district was timely and altogether just. There never was such open and shameless bribery in any country as was practiced by Jones and his agents in this district. But all that would have been insufficient to have secured for him the bare plurality of votes which he got if it had not been supplemented by the false and fraudulent ballots which were circulated all over the district. * * * * But the most treacherous Hessian to be found in this district or anywhere is Caleb Moulton, of Hampstead. This Moulton was a member of the Republican Congressional Convention at Dover, and, as he said at the time, voted for Gen. Marston, and afterward when some one questioned it, called a man who saw him vote to prove it. I have now in my possession a letter sent me by this same Caleb Moulton, together with some ballots with his (Moulton's) name inserted as a candidate for representative to Congress, which reads as follows:

"HAMPSTEAD, N. H., March 7, 1877.

Enclosed please find a few votes, put them where they will do the most good. I suppose this may annoy some of our enemies and that is what we would like to do. I should like to have a few carried in your town. Will see you and explain.

Yours truly,
(Signed) CALEB MOULTON."

We publish the above communication because it is due to the honest and true republicans of the first district that the disgrace which the election of Frank Jones has brought upon the district should be placed where it belongs, upon the Hessians who, like this Caleb Moulton, after taking a part in the republican convention were afterward induced in some way best known by Mr. Jones and themselves, to sell out the party and to resort to the dirty and contemptible trick of peddling bogus votes to do it. The men who were bought to vote for Jones direct have an honorable record compared with these fellows.—Manchester Mirror.

—Blue socks with white heels and toes, and embroidered with white silk, are considered very fashionable for gentlemen.

—The mighty are indeed fallen when the ex-President cannot smoke his cigar wherever he pleases. Yet Mrs. Fish, at whose house he is stopping, will allow no smoking in-doors, and Gen. Grant has to take a walk when desirous of enjoying his weed. Mrs. Fish says that Mr. Fish would never think of such a thing as smoking in-doors; it damages the lace curtains and gives the house an unaired odor.

—"Mary, you are very naughty this morning," said a kind old lady to a little girl whom she had taken under her care, "but you must learn your lesson. I will leave you for a short time, and when I come back I hope to find you a good girl." Mary was left in tears, and in a very ill humor, but on the old lady's return, the tears had given place to smiles, and Mary, running up to her aunt, exclaimed in great glee, "Dear aunt, kiss me! for Mary will never be naughty again; Mary has burned that nasty book which made her so naughty this morning."

SICK HEADACHE.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., March 5, 1877.

I have suffered with Sick Head-Ache as often as every two weeks, for Fifteen Years. At times in such severe pain I faint, I weep. I tried every thing I could hear of and was attended by Physicians. I continued in this condition until last December when I commenced with the Little Giant Pills. I have not had a Head-Ache since. I want every person who suffers as I have, to try this Medicine and be cured, and if any such are not able to pay for a box, I will buy a box and give them.

LAND FOR SALE.

THE eligibly located FIELD LOTS formerly owned by the late Ira Hazelton, at the corner of Creek Street and Boyd's Road are now offered for sale. The lot on Creek Street contains two acres, and commands a fine view of the city; there is also on the lot a BARN which measures 30x40 feet and has just been newly shingled. The other lot, on Boyd's road, contains seven acres, all of which is under a high state of cultivation, and will produce fifteen tons of best quality English hay. Upon these two lots is a great variety of choice fruit trees in bearing order, yielding large products of apples every year. This is a rare chance to secure a very desirable property, and will be disposed of immediately at private sale it will be offered at auction in lots to suit purchasers.

For terms enquire of the owner,

A CARD.

The last Mothers' Tea Party for the season will be given at Faith Home next Monday evening. Much good has been accomplished through these monthly gatherings of the mothers from families not able these hard times to have but few of the blessings of life and society. We invite friends to send food for the tables. After tea a service will be held in the chapel especially prepared for the occasion. Friends are invited to come in and help in this noble work. Tea on the table at 6:30. Service at 7:30.

WILLIAM A. LOYNE, Missionary.

SUPREME COURT.

A decree of divorce has been granted to Clarinda B. Russell of Candia against Chas. E. Russell. Call for libellant.

The jury were excused Wednesday forenoon until Thursday at nine o'clock, at which time the case of William B. Blake vs. Concord Railroad will commence, and probably last two days. At the conclusion of this case the case of A. F. Craig vs. Henry F. Gerrish (dog case) will come up. Frink for prosecution; Rollins for defendant.

JOTTINGS.

Caleb Moulton, of Hampstead, has been removed from the office of Deputy Sheriff of Rockingham County.

Dr. N. J. Osorio, who some time since took his family to Cuba on account of his wife's failing health, and has recently returned to practice in this city, we are informed was ordered to leave Cuba by the authorities within two weeks of his arrival. Dr. Osorio is a native Cuban but a citizen of the United States, and American citizens are not popular just now with the Spanish rulers of Cuba.

The tides were unusually high on Wednesday, and many of the wharves were overflowed.

Sheriff Kent has done a good many commendable acts in his day, and one of the best things he ever did was to remove from the office of Deputy Sheriff of Rockingham County one Caleb Moulton of Hampstead, a fellow who took part in the republican Congressional convention at Dover and voted for Gen. Marston's nomination, and then did all he could to elect Frank Jones by running for Congress himself on the prohibition ticket. If Moulton was bought by Frank Jones, as is asserted and is quite likely, the fact does not make his treachery any the less contemptible. Such bummers as he are not needed in positions of trust and responsibility.

Rev. I. F. Waterhouse, formerly of this city, was installed pastor of the Congregational church in Belmont, Mass., on Wednesday. Rev. E. L. Huntress, of Derry, in this State, is invited to supply the pulpit at Wallingford, Vermont, for a year.

Swindling the Farmers.

The Biddeford Journal publishes an elaborate account of a very ingenious swindle which has been practiced upon many New England and New York farmers, as follows:

Mr. C. B. Mahan, the plausible agent of the Granite Agricultural works, of Lebanon, New Hampshire, finds on his travels a man of means who wants a mowing machine and offers him three or four mowers, plows, cultivators, horse rakes, hay tedders, etc., at a liberal discount, and makes him agent for his town. When the trade is completed, Mahan takes a note of his new made agent, for which he gives him a contract stipulating that the farmer has bought of the Granite Agricultural Works certain articles, which he is to have for a certain time to sell; then if the goods are not sold the company will take them off his hands, and pay him the same price at which they are billed to him, with all the money paid out for freight charges. If the goods are sold before the note matures, then the note is to be void, as if this contract had not been given. But it forgets to add that the company will secure the payee against paying his note in case the goods are not sold. The contract and note together are such innocent-looking things that it is very easy to induce farmers to exchange their notes for the contracts. The goods are to be delivered in the future and no definite time is specified in the contract when they are to be delivered. In a short time the farmer finds he has given his negotiable promissory note without consideration, and when it becomes due he finds that it is in the hands of an innocent holder, who has paid its value for it, and he must pay it or stand a law suit. In many instances no goods are ever received. Here are the names of a few parties who have given this company their notes and have never had a dollar's worth of goods shipped to them. The men themselves may be referred to for proof of the assertion:

Some of these notes have been paid, and some are in law, thus remaining a source of much trouble not only to the farmer who gave the note but to the merchant or banker who bought the note in good faith. The reason the trick has not been exposed before is that, when a farmer gets "beat," he naturally feels ashamed of it, and rather than have his townsmen know that he has been swindled, he keeps still about it.

Another class of victims have given their notes for similar amounts and have received only a part of the goods they ordered.

Still another class have gone to the factory and remained until their goods were all shipped. Some remained three weeks before they could get the goods for which they had previously given their notes.

Some received their machines lacking in some important point, without seat or seat spring, or without cutter bar or scythe. Over thirty of these machines were shipped to Norwood, N. Y., without cutter-bar or scythe. Some of the parties have got the missing parts by a journey to the works, and others still have their machines lacking the cutting apparatus.

It is estimated that $125,000 have been taken by this trick from Maine alone. There is not a town in York county without a victim. An indictment has been found against Mahan in York, but that worthy has gone West, in search of fresh fields and pastures new, and so is safe for the present.

A New Game.

A man came into a restaurant last night, and mounting a high stool leaned over the counter and ordered a porterhouse steak with eggs on the side, and some ale and oysters to begin on. In about half an hour he had finished his repast and was beginning to deliberate what kind of dessert he would wind up on, when a man walked in, and tapping him on the shoulder, remarked:

"Is your name Billy Hicks?"

"Yes, that's my name," said the man on the stool, as his hand stole down to his hip-pocket, fumbling for the handle of a barker; "what do you want?"

"We had a little trouble once before in White Pine, and now I guess I've got you dead to rights," continued the new comer, pulling out a large-sized six-shooter.

"If you'll just step into the street and pace off your distance, I'm your man," said the feeder, who had just finished his pie, and whipping out a revolver he sprang off his perch and rushed after the other into the street.

The frightened restaurant-man got down behind the counter and bent his ear to listen to the shots and the rush of the mob; but he didn't hear anything unusual, and in about five minutes he recollected that there was $2.50 owing on the meal. Then he went out on the sidewalk to investigate.

"Was there a row out here a few minutes ago?" he inquired of a star-gazer on the sidewalk.

"Didn't see any. I've been here for the last half hour or so."

"See two fellows with ulsters and revolvers come out?"

"Yes; they were talking about swappin' guns, and they're over across the way now, taking a drink."

The restaurant man went back to clear up the dirty dishes and reflect.—Virginia (Nev.) Chronicle.

—A looking-glass with a blue frame around it answers just as well as blue-glass windows. Ladies, preserve your health.

—General S. Berdan, of the United States, has been requested by the British Government to supply details upon the application and construction of his new range-finder. It can be placed in position and the distance taken in two minutes, and requires a single horse to transport it, while it is claimed that its use will double the effective fire of artillery and quadruple that of infantry, thus gaining efficiency and saving from one-half to two-thirds of the expense of troops.

—Circumstances have often hinted and many mariners believe that there are rocks in the Atlantic which have been thrown up by volcanic agency and are the frequent cause of ships disappearing. These rocks, it is asserted, have often been seen in the Atlantic by captains, officers, and all hands. Various British governments have sent out ships which have searched for them in vain, and, because those ships have failed to find what hundreds have seen with their own eyes, these dangers have been expunged from the charts. The position given by those who have seen them is, in most cases, obtained by dead reckoning, and therefore is only approximate; consequently it is a most difficult task for a vessel sent out on purpose to find them again. But judging from the number of vessels which each year set sail in good condition and, notwithstanding good weather, never came to port, these awful ledges are only too easily found by those who are not looking for them.

—A greased dog cannot run so fast as a boy in a cellar who hears his mother say she must go down and see if the cat is after her preserves.

—The custom of feasting at a funeral still prevails in Lehigh, Berks, Bucks and Northampton counties, Pennsylvania. When a rich farmer dies, preparations for the feast begin on a grand scale. Oxen are killed and the fatted calf is brought to the block, fowls are slaughtered by the hundred, and immense supplies of bread and pastry are provided. On the day of the funeral, banqueting goes on from dawn to nightfall. Sometimes as many as five hundred mourners attend a country funeral to eat the baked meats.

—A well-known member of the Scottish bar, when a youth, was somewhat sharp in his temper. He was once going to pay a visit in the country, and was making a great fuss in his preparations. His old aunt was much annoyed at all this bustle, and asked, contemptuously: "Whar's this you're gaun, Bobby, that ye mak sic a grand wark about yer claes?" The young man lost his temper, and pettishly replied: "I'm going to the devil." "Deed, Robby, then," was the quiet answer, "ye needna be sae nice; he'll just tak' ye as ye are."

—In a Nevada gambling-saloon two fellows got into a row, when one of the combatants pulled out an old-fashioned Allen pepper-box and commenced to shoot. That kind of a shooter is seldom accurate, and it happened that a bystander was hit by one of the bullets. The ball cut the skin over the eye and ranged around to the temple. With some impatience the wounded man worked the bullet out of the hole where it went in. Throwing it back at the man who was shooting, he said: "Hold that cussed gun up; you will put somebody's eye out, first you know."

Never Too Late to Mend.

Procrastination, with many, is the besetting sin. Business and health alike suffer. Everything is postponed until "to-morrow." The hacking cough and the torpid liver are unheeded and unaided until consumption, jaudice, or abscess of the liver, becomes established. With the old method of medication these maladies were incurable, but by the use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery an entire cure is speedily effected. Under this positive tonic and searching alterative, "it is never too late to mend." Thousands in this, and other countries, who have been given up to die by eminent physicians, have taken it as a last resort, and been healed.

NEWTON, Kansas, July 3d, 1876.

Dr. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—I suffered with Liver Complaint and was unable to work for four years. Three different physicians said that abscesses had formed, and that I could live but a few weeks. Through a friend's advice, I purchased a bottle of your Discovery. It helped me. I continued it for six months, at the end of which time I was completely cured, and have remained so ever since.

Gratefully yours,

DAVID THOMAS.

Deal Gently with the Stomach.

Do not rack it with violent purgatives, or permanently impair its tone with indigestible drugs of any kind; but, if your digestion is impaired, your liver out of order, your frame debilitated, or nervous system unstrung, use that wholesome and agreeable alterative and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will certainly afford you the desired relief. None of the officinal remedies can compare with it in restorative efficacy, and as a medicinal stimulant it is by far the most desirable as well as popular article of its class. Its basis, the essential principle of sound rye, is the best possible agent for invigorating the action of the botanic ingredients which it holds in solution, and those ingredients are the most efficacious which chemistry extracts from the vegetable kingdom, and medical science applies to the cure of disease.

Let that cough continue and die of consumption, or pay 35 cents and be cured by Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Free sample bottle at the druggist's. Large bottles 75 cents.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is becoming more popular every day since its reduction from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Time-Proof Teeth.

The teeth may be rendered time-proof by brushing them daily with Sozodont. No tartar can encrust them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if this pure and delicious dentrifice is faithfully used to the exclusion of every other preparation.

Mutilated furniture is made perfect with Spalding's Glue.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup will cure a cough and cold in a few days, and has proved itself to be the only remedy known that can arrest the development of tubercles on the lungs, or restore the vital functions of those organs. Try it.

The Princess Yrturbide, daughter of the ex-Emperor of Mexico, while in Philadelphia occupied apartments at the Colonnade Hotel, and paid high compliments to its excellent management and quiet comfort.

BELMONT, MASS., Feb. 17, 1877.

I have used the Little Giant Pills for bilious headache with the most satisfactory results. They are particularly beneficial for sickness peculiar to females. I am acquainted in a great many families in Cambridge and Belmont where this medicine is used and it is known to be a never failing relief.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be a that he claims for it.

—A Philadelphia woman swore that her husband's conduct was enough to "irrigate an angle."

—A man awoke his wife the other night, and in a startled tone of voice informed her that he had swallowed a dose of strychnine. "Well, you fool," said she, "lie still, or it may come up."

—A correspondent writes that two United States flags stand alone in a corner of the great hall of the Propaganda at Rome. The story is that in one of the Italian rebellions, the leader of the insurgents planted his cannon before the Propaganda, intending to destroy it. The frightened Papal authorities begged Minister Cass to save the building by the power of the American flag; neither the flag of England, France or Austria would be respected, but the American flag would. After much hesitation, Mr. Cass publicly removed his consulate to the Propaganda and raised the flag of our Union over its roof. The chief of the insurgents swore he would not fire on the flag, made his cannon ready and moved away. The Propaganda was saved, and the flags have this honor for the good they did in the time of peril.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate

FOR THE COUNTY OF ROCKINGHAM,
In the State of New Hampshire.

RESPECTFULLY shows SAMUEL C. PERKINS of Boston, Mass, that he is trustee under the will of Mary E. P. Emery, late of Newington in said County, ——do, testate, for the benefit of Lula Fisk-ring, a minor child of said testatrix, by the appointment of the Judge of Probate for the said County of Rockingham; that his said estate pur trust is seized of a certain farm and buildings situate in said Newington, one part of which is bounded northerly by land of T. Benton Hoyt and Darius Frink, easterly by land of Reuben L. Lane, southerly by the new road, and westerly by the road leading from Newington Meeting-house to Greenland; the other piece is bounded northerly by said new road; easterly by land of R. L. Lane, southerly by land of the heirs of Abigail Stevenson now in the occupation of Ephraim Pickering, and westerly by said road to Greenland. The whole containing about seventy acres, more or less. That in his opinion it would be for the interest of said estate pur trust that the same should be sold and the proceeds of sale made invested in some safe manner as will be most for the interest of said estate pur trust and as your Honor shall order. Wherefore he prays that he may be authorized to sell such trust estate and invest the proceeds of such sale according to the statute in such case made and provided.

SAMUEL C. PERKINS, Trustee.

By his Attorney, WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ROCKINGHAM, ss.

Probate Court at Portsmouth in said County, March 26, A. D. 1877.

Upon the foregoing Petition, it is Ordered, that a hearing be had thereon at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the Second Tuesday of May next, and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned to appear at said Court, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Daily Morning Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
—IN THE—
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 29 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in confiding Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Young's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to DR. S. Y. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y.

Office Hours—Daily from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. Sundays from 10 A. M., and 7 to 9 P. M. 6mar29

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly receives the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly devotes a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising columns furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S
MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 5 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have tried. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred. I am gaining in flesh and gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk one day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, gentlemen, direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take the liberty to inform you, and so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything he could hear of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all; especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. Did it help him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried it on not know how many physicians, and paid out a fortune in money. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; that all actions of me was to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if you give Pills away they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I will send you three Pills so all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many have tried to induce me to speak and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL!

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
—USE—
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.
A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.
Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.
With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.
Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.
TERMS—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.
The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.
Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

IT PAYS the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-two years, does this to an extent, beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Science, Nature, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to Mechanical, Manufacturing, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the farm and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting-Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Specimen copies, giving Club rates, sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS; In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO., Solicitors of American and European Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through them.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of new inventions and Sketches examined and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice.

Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 cents, sent free.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no effort will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of general interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. Its pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of the same genial writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It will be seen that the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of by P. of. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with nature and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to furnish with promptness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Archbach, Hanking, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished, and to those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or three of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will actual cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend be periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Meerschaum Pipes.

The high price of cigars during the last few years has largely increased the use of meerschaum pipes, which are also preferred by many smokers for reasons other than economy. The manufacture of these pipes, long an important industry in Vienna and other places in Europe, is now extensively carried on in this city, and the articles produced here are fully equal to the best which can be imported.

Meerschaum pipes are of ancient use in Germany, where many huge bowls of this material are prized as heirlooms, and have been handed down from father to son for generations. These very old pipes were made, it is supposed, by turners in wood or ivory, for it is not till early in this century that the first regular factory for their production was established in Vienna. That city is now the great market of the world for meerschaum goods, and it is said that at least three thousand persons are supported there by their manufacture. The Vienna pipes are made in such immense quantities however, that most of them are not of the best quality, and the finest pipes produced in Europe are made in Paris and Berlin.

The clay called meerschaum (in German sea-foam) received its name, probably, on account of its snowy whiteness and its remarkably light weight. It is composed of magnesia and silica, and is found in various parts of the world, but chiefly at Kittish, Bursa and Eski-Hissar, in the district of Natolia, Asia Minor. It is mined there very extensively, but its transportation to a commercial port on the backs of camels is slow and costly. Its cost is also increased by the fact that many of the mines are in alluvial beds, which are so wet at some seasons of the year that they cannot be worked. When the clay is taken from the mine in a soft condition it is cleaned of a yellow mould which adheres to it, and smoothed with certain unctuous leaves which grow in the neighborhood.

The meerschaum is sold by quality and measure, and is always packed with great closeness and nicety in cases which are three feet long, one foot deep and twenty inches broad. There are ten distinct qualities of the clay, and the price of a case varies from $75 to $500.

In order to examine the process of working the meerschaum, a visit was made to the establishment of F. J. Kaldenberg, No. 117 Fulton street, which is the most extensive factory of the kind in this country. About seventy-five persons are employed here, but a part are engaged in ivory-turning and the manufacture of amber jewelry. At least forty persons are employed, however, solely in connection with the manufacture and sale of meerschaum goods. The workmen are chiefly Germans, but such as have learned their trade in Europe, it is said, have to undergo a long training here before they can be trusted with the finest work.

After the irregular blocks of meerschaum have been taken from the packing cases, they are first cut by band saws into pieces of the size required. The piece is then dampened with water, to render it soft, and fashioned by hand labor into the form of a pipe or cigar-holder. It is next baked in an oven until dry, after which it is carefully smoothed with sandpaper and shave grass. This shave grass—a species of rush with a file-like surface—is used in large quantities, and was formally imported from Germany at a cost of a dollar a pound. It is now obtained from Connecticut.

The whole process of cutting and shaping meerschaum is similar to turning and carving in wood or ivory. All of the machinery and most of the tools used are common to the different trades, and for this reason work in ivory is often united with the manufacture of pipes.

After a meerschaum article has reached the stage last mentioned, it is ready for the important process of boiling in a preparation of wax. But for this part of its manufacture it could not be colored by the smoker. Being the most porous of all kinds of clay, meerschaum readily absorbs the oil of tobacco, which would pass through and evaporate if the pipe were left in its raw condition. When boiled in wax the meerschaum partly absorbs this, also, and a thin coating of wax, susceptible of a high polish, is left on its surface. As the pipe is smoked, the oil of tobacco absorbed in the clay is retained under the wax, and the meerschaum grows darker in proportion to the amount of tobacco consumed. Old pipes are boiled, to restore their absorbing qualities after the clay has been burned by overheating.

The pipe-bowl or cigar-holder having been boiled, it receives the finishing touches from the workman. When much carving is done this finishing process is very elaborate, including much of the most delicate work. The fine cutting tools used are various in design, according to the preference of the workman, or rather artist, who performs this part of the task. The stem or mouthpiece is next fitted, and the case for the article is made of wood, covered with leather, and lined with silk or velvet. A case has to be made expressly for each pipe or holder, as, out of a great number of articles, designed to be of the same size and pattern, no two are ever found precisely alike. The meerschaum being liable to be soiled in some degree by the workman who makes the case, the operation of polishing it is deferred to the last. This is done with a soft cloth and silicate of lime.

The pipe-stems used are of amber, joining the meerschaum, and of cherry or other material, attachable to the bowl at will. Amber is used for the mouthpieces of all stems and of cigars-holders. It can be readily cut or filed by an experienced workman into any form desired, although it chips and cracks under tools in an unpracticed hand. Mr. Kaldenberg has acquired, in the course of his business, a very large and valuable collection of amber curiosities, including many specimens with insects embedded in the gum. The most remarkable of these curiosities is a small piece of clear amber enclosing in its centre a large drop of water, which rolls from side to side of its tiny prison as the piece is raised or inclined. The value of this specimen is estimated at $200.

The best meerschaum is neither the heaviest nor the very lightest obtained, and is distinguished chiefly by the fineness of its grain. Only this quality is used for delicate carving. Of plain pipes, while there are many varieties in size, there are only six standard shapes; but of carved pipes the patterns are almost infinite, and on some specimens a vast amount of artistic labor is expended, making them objects of beauty to the most rigid abstainers from tobacco. The price of plain pipes ranges at present, according to quality and size, from $1 to $15, a really fine one being obtainable for $10. The cost of carved pipes varies from $10 to $100, it being very seldom that a buyer is willing to give more than the latter sum. Mr. Kaldenberg has made pipes for sale, however, the price of which was $250, and these figures have been greatly exceeded in those made for exhibition. In all high-priced pipes the chief element in cost is the workmanship. Mounting with gold, silver, etc., or inscribing with monograms, is only done to order. In the ordinary course of trade carved pipes are sold in about the proportion of one to every twenty plain.

A pipe was exhibited by Mr. Kaldenberg at the Paris exhibition which is valued at $2000. The pipe itself is eleven inches in length, and the amber mouthpiece eight inches. The meerschaum is beautifully carved with figures four inches in height, representing the first meeting of Macbeth with the weird sisters, and the cover of the bowl is surmounted by a figure of Shakespeare.

The same maker has two large companion pipes, designed for the Centennial Exhibition, which are valued at $500 each. The bowl of one is cunningly fashioned as the head of Mephistopheles, while the other represents the head of a bacchante. The massive stems are precisely alike, each being of amber, forty inches in length, and composed of three hundred pieces. All the ornamentation of the amber, which is cut in relief, was produced by the use of the file and lathe. Many bits of the clear, polished amber are inlaid in the groundwork of the clouded kind, where they have the appearance of jewels.

Another remarkable piece of work which was exhibited by this maker at Philadelphia is an amber cigar-holder, said to be the longest in the world. It was made from a single piece, and is a slender tube, ending in a small bowl, the whole being sixteen and a half inches in length. The operation of drilling so long a stem, made of so brittle a material, required workmanship of great skill and delicacy. The price named for this holder is $250.

The enhanced cost of cigars, while increasing the sales of pipes, as already noted, has, of course, caused a corresponding decrease in the sale of cigar-holders. On the other hand it has created a demand for something which before was scarcely used. But a few years ago it was unusual to see a cigarette smoked, except by a foreigner. Now the consumption of cigarettes in this country is enormous, and a result of their popularity is the extensive manufacture of little meerschaum tubes in which to hold them. In Mr. Kaldenberg's factory at least six gross of these tiny holders are made daily, a large number having been contracted for by the cigarette manufacturers.

The price of cigarette tubes varies from 25 cents to $5, and the ordinary price of cigar-holders from 50 cents to $10. In some instances, where the holders are adorned with elaborate carving, the cost is as high as $40 or $50.—N. Y. Eve. Post.

Daily Chronicle.

FRIDAY, MARCH 30, 1877.

Another Mare's Nest.

For some weeks past the democratic press has teemed with mysterious hints and open assertions of a "compact" entered into by certain friends of Mr. Hayes (his acquiescence in the "bargain" being assumed) and the southern democrats, during the count of the Electoral Vote, by the terms of which Mr. Hayes was bound to remove the troops from Louisiana and South Carolina as soon as he became President, in return for which the democrats from the South would oppose filibustering. As the talk of the democratic editors was becoming drearily monotonous, one of the friends of Governor Hayes alluded to, Hon. Stanley Matthews, at last published a card calling upon anybody who had any such "compact" as was referred to and signed by him, to give it to the world; and after some "hum-ing and ha-ing" by the democrats, the following letter from Messrs. Matthews and Foster to Senator Gordon and John Young Brown is given to the press:

"Gentlemen—Referring to the conversation had with you yesterday, in which Gov. Hayes' policy as to the status of certain Southern States was discussed, we desire to say that we can assure you, in the strongest possible manner, of our great desire to have him adopt such a policy as will give to the people of the States of South Carolina and Louisiana the right to conduct their own affairs in their own way, subject only to the Constitution of the United States and the laws made in pursuance thereof; and to say further, that from an acquaintance with and knowledge of Gov. Hayes and his views, we have the most complete confidence that such will be the policy of his Administration."

And that was the "sacred compact" entered into by President Hayes, for not carrying out which (in accordance with democratic plans) the President has been accused of duplicity and dishonesty. Two gentlemen express their "great desire" that a certain line of conduct be adopted, and their "complete confidence" that it will be; and that is all there is of the matter. The President knew nothing of it. Both sides say so, and Senator Gordon, the only democrat who was a party to this "treaty," makes this declaration in the most emphatic terms. Wade Hampton, one of the two persons principally interested, says he knew nothing of it, and he is indignant at the suggestion the President had any knowledge of it. So much for the authority under which those gentlemen acted. What did they do? They simply set forth their belief that Mr. Hayes would not uphold State Governments by the use of troops. This was what Mr. Hayes meant, if he meant anything, in his letter of acceptance, and just what he said in his inaugural speech so that forty millions of people might hear. And his entire action since goes to show that he meant just what he said; but he has failed to ask the Washington correspondents of the New York World and Boston Post for advice, which is just where he has failed in doing his duty.

News and Notes.

Thomas P. Somerville, the New York lawyer who was arrested a day or two ago for being an accessory to the passing of $250,000 of stolen bonds, which proved to have been bonds stolen from the Ocean Bank of Windsor, Vt., in 1869, was the attorney for Miles, the Barre Bank robber, and the same man who was implicated in the Washington safe burglary matter. It is well known that Miles, who is now in Windsor Prison for fourteen years, was the principal in the Ocean Bank robbery.

During a difficulty at Dublin, Va., a few days since, R. L. Scott fatally wounded a young man named Page, and then blew off the head of Page's father while defending himself from the knives and clubs of the Pages.

The total pecuniary loss by the flood from the Staffordville reservoir is now put down at $350,000. Three lives were lost.

That our present jury system, especially as administered in the large cities, often fails to punish crime, there can be no doubt. The system originated at a time when the arbitrary power of judges and kings was something that an honest man had abundant reason to fear. Now the tables are turned, and the great danger is, not that innocent men will be punished, but that the guilty will go unwhipped of justice. And in these days, even with a jury of integrity and intelligence, it is beginning to be a question in the minds of many whether the "holding out" of one or two jurymen ought to nullify a verdict. Another most serious difficulty lies in the fact that multitudes of names go into the jury-box which have no business there. The voting-list is taken as a basis, and unless some alderman makes objection to a name, it goes in. If unanimity is required of a jury, it would seem but reasonable, in order to secure men of the best judgment and the highest integrity, that no name should go into the box except on the unanimous vote of the board by ballot. Were such a system adopted, a high-toned jury list might be secured. That a change of some kind is demanded in the interests of justice, there can be no doubt.—Congregationalist.

Schooner Anna C. Platt, of Thomaston, with salt, from Bonaire for Providence, was caught in a storm March 26th and went ashore six miles east of Shinnecock. The life-saving boat rescued the crew with the exception of Edward Howell, who was washed overboard and drowned.

Capt. William Pearce of schooner Ayres of Gloucester, Mass., when near Plum Gut Island, March 27th, saw a boat containing four men signalling for assistance. Captain Phillips, one of the party, said that he left New York in his schooner on Monday, for Shelter Island, with a cargo of coal, was overtaken by storm, and driven upon the shoals at Plum Island. Part of the cargo was thrown overboard, but she continued to sink, and was abandoned. In taking to the boat James Harris and John Stevens were washed overboard and drowned.

The belles of Washington society are just now in a flutter of expectation over the approaching wedding of Miss Lizzie Porter, eldest daughter of Admiral Porter, to Lieutenant Logan, U. S. N., which is to take place on the 10th of May, at the Church of the Epiphany. Everything is to be in the grandest style—twelve bridesmaids, ushers innumerable, white tulle, satin, pearls, and point lace in profusion.

Before pardoning convicts Governor Cullum, of Illinois, publishes all applications for pardon, with the names of the signers. It has a decidedly cooling effect on the habitual signer of everybody's petition.

The Maine Central Railroad earned in 1876 $1,726,500, and its working expenses were $1,042,000; net earnings, $684,500; leaving a balance of $33,000 above interest and rents. In 1875 the balance was $20,359. While the gross receipts of 1876 fell short of those of 1875 by $35,285, the working expenses were cut down $109,066, leaving the net earnings of the road larger by $49,781 than they were in 1875.

Thomas Welch, of Cambridge, Mass., was bitten by a dog about last Christmas, and on Wednesday was dying of hydrophobia. Four policemen were required to hold him in bed during the paroxysms Tuesday night.

The barque Iiva, of Dundee, Scotland, was discovered between Cadiz and Montevideo with a signal of distress flying. Upon boarding her it was found that the captain, named Clark, had become insane from drink the day before, had shot and killed a boy, fired upon the mate and crew, and when an attempt was made to secure him, he had jumped overboard and been drowned.

They are unearthing brick foundations at Newbern, N. C. The masonry is about six feet from the surface. How they came there is a mystery.

Wade Hampton arrived in Washington on Thursday. His first act was to send to the President a note positively disclaiming having made any such bullying, insolent speeches as the Associated Press reports have credited to him.

Solon Woolley of Grafton, Vt., was on Thursday found guilty of murder in the second degree for killing his brother Frank in October, 1876.

That 'Frisco Romance, Concluded.

The romantic story of pretty Jennie Burdick of San Francisco and gallant Lieut. Georges de Kalands of the Russian navy has already been recounted in this paper—how they loved, how they planned an elopement, how her father with a shotgun scared off the sailor, how the maiden ran away in her stocking-feet and hired a boatman and went to a boarding-house, where she was captured by the detectives the next morning and taken home. But she had set her heart on marrying her lover, and married him she has. A second elopement was planned for Sunday, March 18. She paid a visit to a young lady whose father was a boatman. Soon after midnight the boatman took his daughter and her friend in a boat across the water to a yacht, and then they all set sail for Vallejo. The wind died away, and off Angel Island they abandoned the yacht for a small boat. Owing to a dense fog they lost their way, and it was not until after two o'clock in the afternoon that they arrived at Vallejo. Jennie went at once to her friend's house and signaled to the Russian corvette Vsadnick. A moment after, the lieutenant had crossed the waters and was holding her in his arms. They obtained a license and were married by a justice of the peace. Mrs. de Kalands immediately telegraphed to her father, stating that she was married and happy.

SUPREME COURT.

On Wednesday, in case Whalley vs. Whalley, action for divorce, the divorce asked was not granted.

On Thursday the case William B. Blake of Raymond vs. Concord Railroad, an action to recover for use of land owned by plaintiff and used by the railroad for storage of wood, was commenced. Nearly the entire panel of twenty-seven jurors was exhausted before a jury was selected, as follows:

John F. Shepard, (foreman,) William M. Johnson, William Alton, Adams Perry, Jr., John Hodgdon, Alva D. Prescott, Isaiah Hilton, Richard P. Hoyt, John L. Moulton, Enoch H. Nichols, Benjamin F. Wakefield, Benjamin T. Amazeen.

After being empanelled the jury proceeded to Raymond by special train to view the premises, arriving back at about three o'clock. The case is expected to occupy the rest of the week.

JOTTINGS.

Good Friday to-day.

A boat, minus an occupant but containing a gun and powder and shot flasks, was picked up near Frost's Point Wednesday morning, and carried into Little Harbor.

The equinoctial storm—for we suppose it will pass for that—is likely to prove a serious affair for the market fishermen. They generally draw and set their trawls on one trip, and on Friday and Saturday, March 23d and 24th, there were over two hundred trawls set belonging to the fishermen out of this port, which the heavy weather since has prevented them from drawing. Nearly all the trawls set in shore, or in shoal water off shore, will be lost, as the sea rolls them up into an inextricable tangle even if it does not carry them adrift entirely; this will be a serious loss, besides the loss of time and a good market, for fresh fish is now bringing a high price owing to its scarcity.

The commissioned officers of the military companies of this city have been officially invited to join other officers of the State militia in a conference at the State House in Concord next Tuesday on matters relating to the interests of that branch of the public service. The session is expected to be very important.

One of the High School boys who had a good overcoat Thursday morning hasn't got it now. He was indulging in the surreptitious cigar, and on the teacher's approach concealed it in his coat pocket; then he hung the coat up in the vestibule; then there was a smell of burning wool, with much smoke, the cause was hastily sought out and cast out, and now that boy has no overcoat.

Chester Pike has been appointed Revenue Gauger for the First District of New Hampshire.

New Hampshire Items.

Puriaton & Ham, of Dover, manufacturers of hats and caps, suspended Thursday morning. Liabilities unknown.

At a special meeting of the stockholders of the Cocheco Manufacturing Company at Dover on Wednesday, it was voted almost unanimously to build a new mill with fifty thousand spindles. There are at present four mills, with fifty-eight thousand spindles, and the new mill with improved machinery is expected to double the production, which is about sixteen million yards per year. The print works connected with the mills print about forty million yards annually. Consequently, in the past, they have purchased more than manufactured. The new mill will be built on the old Dover Landing, opposite the print works; it will cost from $600,000 to $800,000, and will increase the valuation of the city about $1,000,000.

The heavy rains of Tuesday and Wednesday caused freshets in the rivers throughout New England and Pennsylvania; many mills were stopped by backwater in this State, but wash-outs occured on the Maine Central and Hoosac Tunnel Railroads, bridges were swept away in many places, but no very serious disasters are reported. At Manchester the river was five feet over the dam, and at Lawrence seven feet. The Cocheco at Dover was higher than for many years; all the low lands were flooded, and the Cocheco Mills were unable to run; a building used as a waste-house was washed from its foundation. Several others were surrounded by water and ice.

The Cheshire Republican thinks, "in view of the splendid run" made by Col. Kent, he should be given a third nomination. In view of the fact that when Col. Kent was first nominated for Congress his district was democratic by a plurality of 729, and that his first "splendid run" wiped that out, and his second has piled up almost a thousand majority for his opponent, we should say that his renomination would be unanimously demanded—by the republicans.

Concord proposes to dip its fingers into the fire that has scorched Portland so badly, and uncomfortably warmed up some other cities. The Concord correspondent of the Boston Globe, under date of March 28th, says: "It is stated here in business circles that at the next meeting of the new City Government, to be held next Saturday, the matter of granting municipal aid to the proposed Peterborough & Hillsborough Railroad will be considered. But eighteen miles of road is required to be constructed to give to Concord and to New Hampshire an entire new route to the West, and to give to central New Hampshire a sure connection with the Troy and Greenfield route, which includes the Hoosac Tunnel. This connection will, it is claimed, enable Concord to compete successfully for Western business. The construction of this link will give to this city direct communication with New York, either via New London and boat, or all rail via Springfield. Should this road be built it will lessen the distance thirty miles, and would place Concord in as quick communication with New York as Boston enjoys. It would furnish a much-needed route to the western portion of the State, and would be of material benefit to the business interests of the city."

Mrs. Amasa Brown of Mont Vernon fell and broke a leg on Wednesday. She is 70 years old.

There are 250 persons at the Hillsborough County Farm—the largest number at any one time in the history of the institution.

The factories and woodenware manufactories at Marlborough have all started again on full time.

Lydia Cary of Lempster, a maiden lady 81 years of age, was found lying insensible upon the cellar floor of her house, March 19th. She lived alone, and it is supposed that she fell down stairs. She did not recover her senses and died on the 21st.

The election of Mr. C. C. Kenniston as City Marshal of Manchester meets with great approval by the temperance people, as that gentleman is a prominent leader in their ranks. It is now expected that temperance will rule, and the liquor law will be rigidly enforced. There are at present nearly five hundred liquor shops in Manchester.

Mr. Edward G. Chase, a respected citizen of Nashua, died Wednesday night. He has lived in the city thirty-one years and been a sexton at the Universalist church for twenty-eight years.

Connor's Hotel, at Whitefield, with barn, horse, hay, and most of the furniture, was burned Tuesday night. The loss is about $5000; insured $3700. The fire is supposed to have been incendiary.

"New Hampshire at the Centennial" is the title of a bound pamphlet, containing the address of Governor Cheney, the oration of Professor Sanborn and an account of the other exercises on New Hampshire Day at Philadelphia, October 12, 1876, to which is prefixed a sketch of the Centennial Exhibition. It is embellished with a portrait of Gov. Cheney, and is published in Manchester by John B. Clarke.

Mrs. Dorcas Balch of Keene, aged 78, was so badly burned, Wednesday, by her clothes taking fire while at work over a stove, that she cannot recover.

At a business meeting of the New Hampshire Unitarian Association, held at Manchester, on Wednesday, Governor Cheney in the chair, arrangements were made for a two days' convention of all the Unitarian churches in the State at Peterboro', beginning May 22d.

A girl named Nellie Ciscoe, employed in the family of Warren L. Fiske, Clerk and Treasurer of Dublin, has been detected in stealing from the town safe, which was kept at his house. By getting possession of the key she at different times abstracted various sums and finally, being suspected, was detected by the use of marked bills while making payment at one of the shops in the place. She was leniently dealt with and suffered to quietly leave town.

The official return of votes on the amendments to the Constitution have been received from all but half a dozen small towns, and these render it certain that the first amendment, striking out the word "Protestant" from the Bill of Rights, has been defeated by a small vote. It is believed that all the other amendments have been adopted. It is a fact worthy of note, that Exeter, Hanover, New London and Tilton, all seats of noted institutions of learning, voted against the amendment abolishing the religious test and striking out the word "Protestant" from the Bill of Rights.

Political.

Chandler, another of Grant's rich men, prances around town as happy, he says, as a boy out of school. Whatever may be said of "Old Zach.," as he is affectionately called, no one charges him with ever having used his official position to make money. He was an excellent Secretary of the Interior, lopping off many useless expenditures, and in fact, making quite a reformer of himself. The Department needed renovating, and Zach. administered it with an unsparing hand.—H. V. Redfield, in Conn. Com.

The Commission which President Hayes has selected to go to Louisiana in the interests of a peaceful settlement of the difficulties there, is composed of men eminent for their moderation and practical judgment. General Hawley of Connecticut needs no introduction to New England readers. General Harlan of Kentucky was a Union soldier, is a republican, the law partner of B. H. Bristow, and universally respected in a State of Bourbon democracy. Ex-Governor Brown of Tennessee was a confederate soldier, a whig before the war, a democrat since, Governor of the State from 1870 to 1874, and is one of those moderates who heartily desire to bring the South into full harmony with the rest of the country. Judge Lawrence of Illinois is not a politician, but a man of excellent judgment and patriotic purposes. The same may be said of Mr. McVeigh of Pennsylvania.—Globe.

—The miser is as much in want of that which he has as of that which he has not.

Three Prodigious Yarns.

A Massachusetts gentleman, who just returned from over the Canadian border, tells us these stories: He was in the hotel general-accommodation room when three veterans of the (hotel) bar, laying schemes for a drink, began to tell stories to each other for his benefit. "These are awful hard times," said one. "I never saw such times before, except when I was in Ohio, and then I had hard put to 't to git along. Nothing to do. I had a yoke of steers, but they warn't earning nothing. But I lived right on the road the Western emigrants went over every day. So I dug a hole in that road at the foot of the hill near my house, turned a living spring of water into it and made a good mud-hole. Well, when the emigrants came along, every day there would be one or more teams git stuck in my mud-hole, and they would see my steers standing out doing nothing, and they would send up and git me to come and help 'em out; and I always charged as much as five dollars a lift. Well, I kept that mud-hole right in good repair till I made twenty-five thousand dollars out on't, and then I sold it out for three thousand and moved up here."

Story number two thus came from the scarred lips of the second veteran: "That's a good one, but I've something queer to tell, as well as you, about steers. Now, I may as well confess that I sometimes take something, an sometimes a leetle too much. Now, I have got a pair of steers, too, and they are the knowingest boys I ever see. When I yoke 'em up, all I have to do is just to hold the yoke up and they walk right under. Well, one day after I had been taking a leetle too much, and couldn't see just how things were, I wanted to draw a heavy load of gravel with them steers up a long hill, mile and a half long. I went out into the yard, took the yoke, leaned up agin the fence, held it up, and the steers come up and I yoked 'em in. But I knew all the time something was wrong, though I couldn't really make out what it was. Well, I put on them steers and drawed the load up, and I knew all the time somethin' was going wrong, and when I got to the top, and was a little sober, and come to look 'em over, what do you s'pose the matter was? I had yoked up both them steers on the nigh side."

Story number three was the other Munchausen's companion-piece for the two yoke of steers. "When I was a chopping, I could chop some, you know, and folks used to ask me how much I could do in a day. 'Have you ever tried it?' says they, 'No, never,' says I, 'never but once, and that wa'nt really a try.' You see, jest to show 'em what I could do, I got up one winter morning afore light, and ground up my axe sharp, oh, jest as sharp, and went into the woods. An' I chopped like sixty, till about three o'clock in the afternoon, when I thought it was as much as I could pile afore sundown, and I went to pilin'. Well, when I had it all piled up it measured twenty-seven cord. And then I knew that something was wrong, for I knew at the rate I had been choppin' it oughter be more. So I went back and begun lookin' 'round to see what the trouble was. And there right at the fust tree I cut in the morning, was my axe-head. You see the thing was loose and slipped off, an I had been choppin' all day with the bare helve."

—A child being asked what were the three great feasts of the Jews, promptly replied, "Breakfast, dinner and supper."

—Tradition says that, years ago, when the head-waters of Chesapeake bay swarmed with wild fowl, the hands employed at an iron forge at Havre de Grace refused to work because they were fed on canvas-back ducks instead of bacon.

Deal Gently with the Stomach.

Do not rack it with violent purgatives, or permanently impair its tone with indigestible drugs of any kind; but, if your digestion is impaired, your liver out of order, your frame debilitated, or nervous system unstrung, use that wholesome and agreeable alterative and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will certainly afford you the desired relief. None of the officinal remedies can compare with it in restorative efficacy, and as a medicinal stimulant it is by far the most desirable as well as popular article of its class. Its basis, the essential principle of sound rye, is the best possible agent for hastening the action of the botanic ingredients which it holds in solution, and those ingredients are the most efficacious which chemistry extracts from the vegetable kingdom, and medical science applies to the cure of disease.

Let that cough continue and die of consumption, or pay 50 cents and be cured by Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Free sample bottle at the druggist's. Large bottles 75 cents.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is becoming more popular every day since its reduction from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Time-Proof Teeth.

The teeth may be rendered time-proof by brushing them daily with Sozodont. No tartar can encrust them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if this pure and delicious dentrifice is faithfully used to the exclusion of every other preparation.

Mutilated furniture is made perfect with Spalding's Glue.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup will cure a cough and cold in a few days, and has proved itself to be the only remedy known that can arrest the development of tubercles on the lungs, or restore the vital functions of those organs. Try it.

The Princess Iturbide, daughter of the ex-Emperor of Mexico, while in Philadelphia occupied apartments at the Colonnade Hotel, and paid high compliments to its excellent management and quiet comfort.

BELMONT, MASS., Feb. 17, 1877.

I have used the Little Giant Pills for bilious headache with the most satisfactory results. They are particularly beneficial for sickness peculiar to females. I am acquainted in a great many families in Cambridge and Belmont where this medicine is used and it is known to be a never failing relief.

McNEAL—COLLINS, in this city, March 28, by Rev. John A. Goss, Mr. William McNeal and Miss Eva Collins, both of Boston.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Disease, after so many year trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it has effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the throat. TRY IT.

It will cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, writes as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be a trial he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR FLAGG M. D.—DEAR SIR: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

PULMOCINE.

Daily Chronicle.

—A recurrence of patent leather pumps is anticipated in polite society.

—Signor Nicolini, the wicked tenor, has shocked the prudery of Vienna. Let it be remembered that Vienna, in spite of all its looseness in morality, has a good deal of prudery to shock. Well, during a performance of "Romeo and Juliet" in the Austrian capital, the other night, Nicolini, who was the Romeo, kissed the hand of Adelina Patti, who was the Juliet, no less than twenty-one times.

—The encounter between Wm. Hayes, Counsel of the Police Board of San Francisco, and the fighting editor of the Alta California, is described very minutely. The visitor held a folded copy of the Alta in his left hand, and it was noticed that his right hand was buried in the pocket of a short sack coat, in which he carried an English self-cocking pistol. Hayes wanted to know the name of the writer of the report entitled "Police Commissioners," in the third column of the second page of the paper. This impertinent demand was not entertained, and Hayes was informed that the Managing Editor was responsible for the contents of the paper. The visitor then threatened to kill Gen. McComb unless a retraction were signed in five minutes. Taking out his watch with one hand and keeping the other in his pocket, he counted and waited and fumed. He finally remarked that he would proceed to kill the editor in his chair. The next instant a heavy blow on the nose sent him to the floor, and he begged for mercy. The fighting editor had hit out from the shoulder.

—Another assumption of the naturalists, that bears sleep though the winter, has been disproved by the stern logic of events. Two Wisconsin men are entitled to the honor of exposing the blunder, and they are so well satisfied that they have no wish to pursue the perilous path further. One day last month as they were in the woods fooling round a hollow tree, two large black bears crawled out and signified a warm desire for a close acquaintance. The men suddenly remembered that they must go back to their work, and there immediately developed an intense rivalry between the two as to which one should get back to the settlement first. Fired by ambition the bears took part in the contest and soon led the van. Then a fight followed. The men were armed with axes, and after a hard struggle succeeded in killing the animals. But they are very severe in their denunciations of the naturalists who say that bears are sleepy and dull in winter. On the contrary, they assert, bears are as lively as kittens, and cold weather rather quickens their blood.

ESTABLISHED IN 1823.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
—IN THE—
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1823 by Dr. Lapenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in confiding Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail prepaid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pains so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three yes Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 21st of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardships in the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hands to his head, or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been free from the Rheumatic Pains for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I treat a do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most of the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting mineral springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I might never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The pain in my face seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I feel as if I should send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars, send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIALS

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the invigorating climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in sunn cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

The Pulmonic Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States devoted to Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Mechanical, Scientific and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; combining a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED Engravings. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. Munn & Co are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than 50 thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not produced in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and other reading matter is also decidedly learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it confirmed to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in honest suffrage, it aims to enable voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their respo sibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the cornerstones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of The TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "The Weekly TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every farmer and sells in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standards.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of any other price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the new growth of science, and the larger as of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of correspondents and writers than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be so to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to preserve its original and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following special

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story:

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee that it will be a very interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

by P. of. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness all the essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented, with unloined authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, to wit: To one postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in command of the choicest literature.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend beginning at the present time, unless one wishes to know or no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheap and conveniently as by subscribing to this weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Hunting a Runaway Pair.

Yesterday afternoon a despatch was received at the Chronicle office conveying the intelligence that a Russian Lieutenant, De Kalands, had eloped with Miss Burdick of San Francisco, and taken the train for Virginia with his bride. A reporter was at once detailed to hunt up the illustrious Russian and interview him. A lady who had come up on the train was called on and interrogated as to the presence of the couple on the train. She threw the following light on the subject:

"Just ahead of me was a man with light side whiskers and a decided foreign accent. His hair was curly, he parted his hair exactly in the middle, and, as he turned around, I saw a number of military decorations on his breast. There was a woman in the seat with him, who seemed tired and wanted to rest her head on his bosom, but he wouldn't allow it. He acted like a man who didn't want to let the passengers know he was married. He acted awful for a man just married. I wanted to hit him with my parasol."

With this description as a clue the reporter hurried to the American Exchange Hotel. Mr. Miller was confident that no Russian count, duke, lieutenant or any foreign nobleman was harbored in his house.

"There's a queer looking chap in 64. He wears big diamonds and a frilled shirt," remarked the chambermaid. The reporter hastened up and found a patent medicine vendor sorting over his wares. He denied any connection with the nobility of Russia.

In the Frederick House a foreign-looking duck was noticed going into a room, and the reporter followed without ceremony.

Reporter—"Is your name Mr. De Kalands?"

Stranger—"Oo the merry 'ell said my name was De—what ye call it?"

Reporter—"I only just had that impression."

Stranger—"Hand 'ow in blazes did ye get such an impression hi'd like to hinquire? Do ye walk hinto my room to hinsult me? What sort of a bloody country is this place, hanny 'ow?"

At Mollinbelli's Hotel a break was made for a room where a very suspicious loving couple were seen to enter. They looked smiling and happy when the reporter came in.

Reporter—"Are you the couple that were married last night?"

Bridegroom—"That's us, you bet."

Reporter—"Little trouble with the old man?"

Bridegroom—"Well, yes; the old fool followed us down to the stage office and wanted the gal. Of course, I intended to git off without trouble, but he forced me into a row and I had to bliff him in the car before I could git aboard with Sal. Then the boys come down (Sal's brothers) and began to flourish round, and I had to stand 'em off with a six-shooter. I believe in fightin' for any woman I love. Eh, Sal? (Here the bride nestled close to his side and blushed decidedly, as her stalwart husband clasped her round the waist.) I'm a natural-born woman's protector from the ground up, and this is the finest piece of calico that ever came from Eureka or elsewhere. Eh, Sal? Thompson is my name—Bill Thompson."

Finding that a newly-married couple from Eureka had been mistaken for De Kalands-Burdick, the reporter hastily withdrew, and although he continued the search up to midnight, no such persons could be found. If Mr. De Kalands wishes to publish a reliable account of the elopement he will please call at this office.—Virginia (Nev.) Chronicle.

Organizing the House in 1839.

In 1839 Hugh A. Garland, the Clerk of the former House, undertook to set himself up as one having authority and to decide that in a contested case he would not call the names of either party. An angry and disorderly debate ensued and was continued for several days, when Representative John Quincy Adams insisted on being heard. "It was not my intention," said Mr. Adams, "to take any part in these extraordinary proceedings. I had hoped that this House would succeed in organizing itself, that a Speaker and Clerk would be elected, and that the ordinary business of legislation would be allowed to commence. This is not the time nor the place to discuss the conflicting claims of the conflicting claimants for seats; but why do we thus degrade ourselves, our constituents, and the country? We do not, cannot organize; and why? Because the clerk of this House, the mere clerk, whom we create, whom we employ, and whose existence depends on our will, usurps the throne and sets us, the vicegerents of the whole American people, at defiance and holds us in contempt. And what is this clerk? Is he to control the destinies of sixteen million of freemen? Is he to suspend by his mere negative the functions of government, and put an end to this Congress? He refuses to call the names which should be on the roll. It is in your power to compel him to call it if he will not do it voluntarily." [Here Mr. Adams was interrupted by a statement from a democratic Representative that Mr. Garland would resign rather than call the vote of New Jersey. This roused the old man eloquent," whose bald head became scarlet as he said:] "Well, let him resign, and we may possibly discover some way by which we can get along without the aid of his powerful talent, learning, and genius. If we cannot organize in any other way—let this clerk will not consent to our discharging the trusts confided to us by our constituents—then let us imitate the example of Virginia in the House of Burgesses, which, when Dinwiddie ordered it to disperse, refused to obey the insulting mandate." Mr. Adams then submitted a motion requiring the acting clerk to call the roll of all having certificates. Mr. Clerk Garland refused to entertain the motion. "Then," exclaimed Mr. Adams, "I will put the question myself." Representative Barnwell Rhett here sprang to the floor and moved that Mr. John Quincy Adams of Massachusetts should take the Speaker's chair and preside until the House should be constitutionally organized, put the question, and declared it carried. Mr. Adams took the chair, and Mr. Clerk Garland had to stand one side. Should Clerk Adams endeavor to make a "bigger man" of himself he may find his game blocked by a second John Quincy Adams.—Cor. Boston Journal.

Emigration From Great Britain and Ireland.

The Chief of the Bureau of Statistics furnishes the following table (compiled from the official report of the British Board of Trade) showing the emigration from the United Kingdom to the United States, British North America and Australasia, respectively, during the years 1874, 1875 and 1876:

Destination.	1874.	1875.	1876.
Unit d States	148,181	109,846	23,532
Brit sh North America	25,459	17,778	11,927
Australasia	55,958	35,565	33,191

The total number of persons who emigrated from the United Kingdom to the United States from 1815 to 1876 was 5,467,075.

The amount of money remitted by settlers in the United States and British North America to their friends in the United Kingdom from 1848 to 1876, inclusive, was £19,685,068; the greatest amount in any one year being £1,750,000 in 1854.

Another Mormon Massacre.

The following order, with three affidavits authenticating it, was found among the papers of the late Chief Justice John Titus of Arizona, who was formerly Chief Justice of Utah.

SPECIAL ORDER, Salt Lake City, April 19, 1858.

The officer in command of the escort is hereby ordered to see that every man is well prepared with ammunition, and to have it, ready at the time you see these teamsters a hundred miles from the settlement. President Young advises that they should all be killed to prevent them from returning to Bridger to join our enemies. Every precaution should be taken to see that not one escapes. Secrecy is required.

By order of Gen. Daniel H. Wells; James Ferguson, Ass't Adj't.-Gen'l.

Appended to this document is the following certificate:

The original order with the affidavit is in my possession. I have had frequent conversations with the late Judge Titus, my former law partner, in regard to the matter, and he never doubted the genuineness of the order or the guilt of Brigham Young.

L. G. HUGHES.

The foregoing has been "going the rounds" as corroborative proof of John D. Lee's charges against Brigham Young, the order issued by Gen. D. H. Wells, who was then Lieut. Governor of Utah, being regarded as the official order for the Mountain Meadows massacre; but it is now asserted that it referred to another butchery by the Mormons, hitherto unheard of. A San Francisco despatch of March 28th says:

"With reference to the despatch from Tucson, Arizona, to the effect that the order for the Mountain Meadows massacre was found among the papers of the late ex-Chief-Justice Titus, a gentleman living in this city, formerly a resident of Salt Lake City, says he had the document in question at one time in his possession, and has no doubt of its genuineness. It referred, however, to some eighty men who had been teamsters in the army sent to Utah under Col. Albert Sidney Johnson to escort the Governor appointed to replace Brigham Young in 1857. As early fall of snow forced Col. Johnson and his troops to winter at Fort Bridger, 120 miles east of Salt Lake City, and as the Mormon troops under Lieut.-Gov. D. H. Wells had burned up two trains of supplies for the United States army, east of Green River, the General was forced to put the soldiers upon half rations, and in early Spring of 1858 these teamsters were discharged from the service. They prepared to go West, and started for California. They believed that as non-combatants they would be permitted to pass through Utah unmolested; but as soon as the teamsters came over the mountains and entered Echo Canyon they were taken prisoners and made subject to martial law, proclaimed some months before by Gov. Brigham Young. A gentleman who was then among the Mormons in Echo Canyon, and now residing in this city, saw a small division of eight or ten of these teamsters under Mormon escort on their way westward. The Mormon military authorities thought prudent to divide the eighty teamsters into small squads, no doubt thinking their purpose could be more easily accomplished than if they had been kept together in a body. The Mormons deny that such a massacre ever occurred, or that such order was ever given; but those who had given the subject attention have no doubt the order was issued and the work accomplished."

News and Notes.

President Hayes, Secretary Evarts and Wade Hampton took a drive about Washington on Thursday, and afterward Hampton dined with Evarts.

Schooner Sunshine, at Gloucester, Mass., March 29th, took in a trunk picked up off the Cape, containing a violin, a Swiss watch and several letters addressed, "William M. Hopkins, Boston," and others, "Bangor." "D. Leland, Eden, Me.," was written on two books.

The Boston & Maine Railroad published a list of all the striking engineers and sent it about the country, to all other railroads, and now, after giving up an employment of a constant character, the unfortunate strikers must seek another means of earning a livelihood. It is said that the promises of the Brotherhood to the strikers (regarding their pay while idle) have not been kept.

During a heavy storm a huge mass of snow, becoming detached from the summit of a hill near the Bett Cove copper mine in Nova Scotia, swept down and completely buried two houses. One man and five children were taken out dead from the ruins. There were thirty-five persons in the houses when the avalanche commenced.

Jesse H. Lewis, who was convicted at Newfane, Vt., March 26th, of the murder of Albert W. Deming by poison, is a low-lived and blood-thirsty brute. He stabbed a man named Trute in Gill, Mass., last June, and murdered a young Irishman in Holyoke five years ago. Since his conviction he has confessed the murders. He will be used to stretch hemp.

Considerable damage was done in Maine by the freshets in the rivers. A mill and bridge over the Little Androscoggin river at Mechanics Falls were carried away. At Lisbon Falls large numbers of logs were carried off, and the railroad track damaged by an ice jam. At Gardiner an ice company lost several piers and an elevator.

Mr. James Parton is rejoicing over his first baby. The peculiar matrimonial complications of the case entitle Mr. Parton to treat it both as his child and his grandchild.

Thomas Welch died of hydrophobia in Cambridge, Mass., Wednesday night, in frightful agony. Michael Crasson died of the same complaint in Philadelphia on Thursday night, from the effect of a dog-bite received in December last; four men were required to hold him in bed while he was dying.

The Reading Railroad notifies its engineers that no one will be employed who is a member of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and all the engineers on that road will be called on in a few days to choose between the Brotherhood and the company. The latter promise all engineers remaining with them an accident and life insurance system at less expense than in the Brotherhood.

At Acapulco, on the 5th of March, United States Consul John A. Sutter was seized on the street by twenty soldiers and put into prison, where he now is. It appears that a citizen of the United States, Henry Kaston, was ill-treated at the late change of the Government, and the Consul's remonstrances and protests were a pretext for his imprisonment.

Part of a deck of a vessel came ashore on Plum Island, Wednesday, and probably belonged to a schooner. The piece measured twenty-two feet from hatchway, five feet square timber, all sound and appeared new.

British ship Winchester was got off Cape Henry and towed into Norfolk, Va., on Friday.

New Hampshire Items.

The cotton mills at Munsonville, took fire about one o'clock Friday morning, in the mule room, being first discovered by the watchman. The attic and second story were burned. Loss thirty thousand dollars; insured.

The Grantham House and contents at Grantham, John Young proprietor, was totally destroyed by fire Thursday night. Loss about $3000; insured $2000. It is supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

A two-story, wooden building, owned by Thomas D. Burleigh of Franklin Falls, was damaged by fire Thursday night to the extent of $100.

The house, barn and outbuildings of Chester M. Carleton, Haverhill, were burned Thursday night, nothing of any value being saved. Loss $3000; no insurance. It was caused by a defective fireplace.

Hon. Charles A. Conant, of this State, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has been appointed Chief of the Government Branch of the Syndicate in London, and Gen. Richard McCormick has been appointed to the position vacated by Mr. Conant.

Political.

It is very taking to see a hero stand on guard, plant his feet very firm indeed, and cry out "Come on!" in a voice of thunder, waving his stout blade the while and casting withering glances in the direction of the expected foe. But if there isn't anybody to "come on," what can the doughtiest hero do about it? This was the unfortunate position in which those democratic journalists placed themselves who declared loud-mouthed war against President Hayes. They were full of fight, but there was nothing for them to attack. They swaggered and vowed they would annihilate Hayes' minions, but the President didn't furnish them any minions to annihilate. They devoted themselves with the most determined self-sacrifice to the defeat of the republican conspiracy, but there wasn't any conspiracy. They bound themselves with highfalutin chivalry to a crusade against Giant Fraud and Giant Wrong, and then couldn't scare up so much as a windmill to tilt at. They mouthed and vapored and fumed and tore passion to tatters until even the gods in the gallery were beginning to be bored. The situation was becoming truly painful. They couldn't go on and couldn't stop. Never were mock heroes in such straits before. Philadelphia Inquirer.

In view of the confession of Eph Holland, who cast or caused to be cast 600 fraudulent votes at the October election in Cincinnati, the Gazette says that if the legislature does not take steps to guard the purity of the ballot-boxes, the days of honest elections in that county have passed. It avers that 1,000 fraudulent votes were cast in that city and county, which "gave a majority to every democrat elected at that time. Three are now judges on the bench administering the laws who were elected by fraud, and they know it; and yet do not propose to resign. The sheriffs and clerk were also elected by fraud, and they stick. The two congressmen were elected in the same way, and they do not propose to step aside."

—A citizen of Minneapolis, Minn., says that if he is ever to be Mayor of the city the office must seek him, the same as his creditors do.

—The new Secretary of the Navy is probably like Jeff. Thompson, who wrote of his men after his naval fight at Memphis, "I have got in my cavalry regiment as good sailors as ever feathered an oar on a quarter-deck."

EASTER SERVICES

Will be held at St. John's church as follows: At five o'clock Easter eve, (Saturday,) baptism. Sunday forenoon at 10:30 o'clock, morning service, with sermon and Holy Communion. At 3:30 P. M., choral service, the Sunday school present, with sermon and offerings for the Children's Home. At 7:30 P. M., evening prayers, with sermon. All the above exercises will be held in the church, to which strangers are cordially invited. The music will will be a special feature.

Children's day at the Bow Mission tomorrow. Services expressly prepared for Easter Day (with black board). Short pieces will be spoken by the children. Miss Davis will preside at the organ; Mr. Robert M. Jellison, musical director. A general invitation is extended. At the close a collection will be taken in aid of the Mission. Services at 4:15; doors open at 3:30.

Easter services will be held Sunday morning and evening, at the South Parish. There will also be an Easter service for the children at the church on Sunday afternoon at half-past two. All are invited.

Easter discourse by Rev. Mr. Hubbell at the Congregational church Sunday morning. Lecture at the church in the evening at 7:30 o'clock, to young men. Afternoon services will be omitted.

At the Universalist church in the evening, an Easter Festival will be given. All are invited.

JOTTINGS.

Oliver Goldsmith's celebrated comedy, "The Good Natured Man," will be presented with appropriate costumes at Franklin Hall on Wednesday evening, April 4, at 8 o'clock. Tickets (50 cents,) with secured seats, may be obtained at the book store of J. H. Foster.

The Rogers Mission Circle of the North Parish will hold a Fair at the chapel on Middle street on the afternoon and evening of Tuesday, April 3d; a variety of useful and ornamental articles will be offered for sale, and a hot supper will be served.

A large dog, a cross between a Newfoundland and St. Bernard, belonging to Mr. Harvey Lear, bit a daughter of Mr. Meshach Bell, Jr., Friday morning, in the left arm, the animal's teeth penetrating the flesh. The dog was afterward killed at the police station by its owner.

Nine or ten barrels of alcohol, branded "in bond, for St. John," have been picked up along Cape Ann, and is supposed to be part of the cargo of the schooner Abbott Lawrence, run down and abandoned in a sinking condition off Boon Island not long ago, while on the passage from Boston for St. John, N. B., with a cargo of spirits and meal. As there must be more of this alcohol adrift in the bay, it would not be surprising if some of the fishermen should make a good "catch," if they keep their weather eye open. No hint has yet been given as to what vessel it was that struck the Abbott Lawrence, which shows either that she went to the bottom with all hands, or that all hands on board her can keep a secret.

The Boston Post says: "Sheriff Kent has removed from the office of Deputy Sheriff of Rockingham county Caleb Moulton of Hampstead, for having been a candidate for Congress on the prohibition ticket in the First District in the late election, and they call it civil service reform." We don't know what "they" call it, but all the republicans that we know of, and not a few of the democrats, call it a good thing. Moulton was not removed "for having been a candidate" but because of his treacherous double-dealing. He attended the republican Congressional convention and voted for the candidate who received the nomination; and then,—after a visit to Portsmouth and a night spent at Hon. Frank Jones' hotel,—he came out as a prohibition candidate in opposition to the man he had helped nominate! Whether they are right or wrong in their belief, the republicans do believe Caleb Moulton was "induced" to run by Hon. Frank Jones; for Moulton's candidacy was entirely in Jones' interest, and he did not nominate himself until after his visit to this city. If the democrats want such fellows in office they can commence by putting Moulton in—the republicans won't object, for they don't want him,—Moulton has written a letter to the Manchester Mirror, denouncing as false any statements that he was bought or hired to run for Congress by Mr. Jones. Nobody imagines that any receipt was passed between the parties, whatever other "documents" may have been handed over.

William C. Pike, who recently murdered S. S. Jones, editor of the Religio-Philosophical Journal, Chicago, turns out to be the same man who travelled through New England thirty years ago, lecturing on and teaching mnemonics, or a system of artificial memory by means of arbitrary association. He was at that time a handsome young man, with the air of a student and the long hair and studied freedom of dress which mark the man of ologies and istics. He was accompanied by his wife, a young, beautiful and amiable woman, whom, it seems, he has since abandoned in favor of his present wife. His system of teaching the art of memory he claimed as the invention of "Robert Pike, Jr., and William C. Pike," and there are doubtless many persons in the State who remember his pamphlet and his lectures.

A man is around town selling the Moody and Sankey Hymn Book, and is said to be a first-class fraud. We are informed that he has forced his way into houses where he has found all the men of the family absent, and made use of such language to the ladies as to say the least was highly improper. Our informant thinks there is "a shingle off the roof" of the hymn book vendor, but that he is not "loony" enough to display his failings when men are around.

We recently looked over a specimen-book of the writing of pupils at the Haven School in the years 1862–63, and compared the writing with the average as shown in the copy books of the pupils in the Grammar Schools now. The contrast is very great, and entirely in favor of the present pupils, —the reason evidently being that now (as for a few years past) a skilled writing master is employed to teach the Spencerian method of penmanship in the public schools. The improvement shown in the writing of pupils from month to month is very decided, and is a convincing proof of the wisdom of employing a specialist in this particular branch of instruction.

The American House Hotel Coaches meet every train coming into Boston. For the moderate sum of fifty cents, each passenger with his baggage is carried to the hotel. Once at the "American" all places of business, amusement or interest, are easily reached, as the hotel is located right in the heart of the city, and in the neighborhood of all these places. Notwithstanding the increase in travel, the American has recently made a reduction in rates, which in these stringent times will make it more popular than ever.

Schooner Velocipede, Capt. Charles E. Ross, sailed on Thursday on a fishing trip to the Western Banks. She is one of the fishing fleet owned by Mr. Doane, who is also fitting out the Anna M. Nash, W. H. Y. Hackett, Gov. Goodwin and Charlie for bank fishing, on which they will start in two or three weeks.

Some of the running gear of a Newburyport schooner lying at one of the Water street wharves was stolen on Thursday morning, and two young fellows, about sixteen years old, were arrested in the afternoon for the theft. They at first denied all knowledge of the affair, but being threatened with the full extent of the law, finally made confession, revealed the hiding place of the missing articles, and were let off on the promise of good behavior.

Curling.

Curling, though not supposed to be so old as skating, has a respectable degree of antiquity. It is known to have been played throughout Scotland for at least two hundred and fifty years. The terms used in the game, however, are all of Dutch or German extraction; and it is thought possible that the amusement may have existed in the Low Countries, and have been brought into Scotland by the people of Flanders, who immigrated during the reign of James I.

The game is played with large stones, which are very similar in shape to a flat onion,—that is, they are in the form of spheres that have been so compressed that their breadth is nearly twice their thickness. The "sole" of the stone—its under surface —is polished as smoothly as possible; and a handle, shaped like the letter L turned upon its side, is inserted in the top. Such stones are chosen as are least liable to split, and their weights are graded according to the strength of the players. The ordinary average weight is from thirty to fifty pounds. About fifteen or twenty pounds would be heavy enough for stones to be used by boys.

The rink is a smooth place marked off upon the ice, about thirty yards long, and ten feet wide. At each end of the rink a small mark or hole is chopped out, which is most commonly called the tee, although it has other names in some parts of Scotland. Two circles are drawn around each tee, with the latter as their common centre. The inner one may be made about four feet in diameter, and the outer one six feet. These circles are called broughs, and their object is to assist the eye in judging the distance between the stones, when played, and the tee. Lines are drawn across the rink, in front of the tees, and about fifteen feet from them; which two lines are entitled hogscores. The rink should be perfectly clear of obstructions, as should also the ice beyond the tees for several feet. The number of stones is usually sixteen, and eight players upon each side is the common number. There may be any number less than eight, however, if so agreed.

There are thirty-one "points" in the game. All the players stand at one tee, and slide their stones up the ring to the tee at the other end, in succession; and the stone resting nearest the tee counts one, and is called "the winner." If the stone next nearest the tee, and the one next after that, etc., belong to the same party who own the winner, they each count an additional point; otherwise, they are not "scored." When any player fails to propel his stone beyond the hogscore at the opposite end, one is deducted from the score of his party.

On each side, he who plays last is called the driver, and he directs and advises the others. The first player is the lead. He grasps a stone firmly by the handle, and slides it up the rink at the tee; attempting to place the stone either upon the tee, or a little on the hither side of it. The others follow; attempting to lay their own stones near tee, or to place them so as to guard the stones of their own party which have been well laid, or to drive away those of their opponents. When all the stones have been played, and the points counted, the game is resumed by playing back at the first tee; and so on until thirty-one are counted by one side or the other. A bore is a stone that lies in the way of a player, between him and the tee. Wicking is "carroming" from or glancing off from one stone to another.

Such are the general principles of curling—a game that affords excellent exercise, is highly amusing, and gives room for the display of much judgment and skill. When clubs are formed, the cost of having the stones prepared is not great for each individual member. There are cricket-clubs in America, and our English brethren are adopting base-ball. Why should not curling also become an international game? Irwin Russell, in St. Nicholas for March.

—The Burlington superintendent of schools says in his report, "Do what we may, children will be born into the world ignorant." Then what's the use to have a superintendent of schools?

—A starving Chinaman, who was taken into the Cincinnati hospital, a few days ago, for resuscitation, attributed his woful plight to the fact that he had started a laundry in Louisville. He sums up his experience in a single line, "Kentuckee—two weekee—one shirtee."

Thousands of Affidavits.

Many having used "patent" and prepared medicines and failed in finding the relief promised, are thereby prejudiced against all medicines. Is this right? Would you condemn all physicians because one failed in giving the relief promised? Some go to California in search of gold, and after working hard for months and finding none, return home and say there is no gold there. Does that prove it? Many suffering with Catarrh and pulmonary affections have used the worthless preparations that crowd the market, and in their disappointment say there is no cure for Catarrh. Does that prove it? Does it not rather prove that they have failed to employ the proper remedy? There are thousands of people in the United States who can make an affidavit that Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery have effected their entire cure. Many had lost all sense of smell for months, and pieces of bone had repeatedly been removed from the nasal cavities.

Deal Gently with the Stomach.

Don't rack it with violent purgatives, or permanently impair its tone with indigestible drugs of any kind; but, if your digestion is impaired, your liver out of order, your frame debilitated, or nervous system unstrung, use that wholesome and agreeable alterative and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will certainly afford you the desired relief. None of the original remedies an compare with it in restorative efficacy, and as a medicinal stimulant it is by far the most desirable as well as popular article of its class. Its basis, the essential principle of sound rye, is the best possible agent for hastening the action of the botanic ingredients which it holds in solution, and those ingredients are the most efficacious which chemistry extracts from the vegetable kingdom, and medical science applies to the cure of disease.

Let that cough continue and die of consumption, or pay 35 cents and be cured by Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Free sample bottle at the druggist's. Large bottles 75 cents.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is becoming more popular every day since its reduction from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Time-Proof Teeth.

The teeth may be rendered time-proof by brushing them daily with Sozodont. No tartar can encrust them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if this pure and delicious dentifrice is faithfully used to the exclusion of every other preparation.

Mutilated furniture is made perfect with Spalding's Glue.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup will cure a cough and cold in a few days, and has proved itself to be the only remedy known that can arrest the development of tubercles on the lungs, or restore the vital functions of those organs. Try it.

Army and Navy officers make their headquarters at the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia. So do leading business men of all sections, while for families and large parties of travellers, it also offers unequalled attractions.

BELMONT, MASS., Feb. 17, 1877.

I have used the Little Giant Pills for bilious headache with the most satisfactory results. They are particularly beneficial for sickness peculiar to females. I am requested in a great many families in Cambridge and Belmont where this medicine is used and it is known to be a never failing relief.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many year trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be a thing he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR FLAGG M. D. Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

PULMOCINE.

Daily Chronicle.

—Low shoes and striped hosiery will be more popular than ever with gentlemen next summer.

—The telephone will soon revolutionize domestic affairs, for the man, instead of Gushingly telling his wife at the supper table that he will be detained at his office, can go down town and whisper through the telephone that it is lodge night.

—The English paper, Mayfair, notices that the use of the pocket corkscrew is spreading into circles of society where they were supposed never to enter. A few days ago when the foundation stone of a discutting chapel was being laid in a certain town, the pastor, finding that he had closed the bottle intended to be placed in the corner stone without putting all the necessary coins into it, asked for a corkscrew to reopen it. Every minister present, and most of the deacons, instantly put their hands into their pockets.

—Vice Chancellor Malins of England has recently given a decision which is a rather unusual one in the history of English jurisprudence. The relatives of a farmer named Outram, who died intestate, brought suit against the property which his wife had acquired by fruit canning previous to her marriage, on the ground that by the marriage the property became the husband's, and therefore descended to his heirs. The judge decided that the property was hers alone, and that the husband or his heirs had no claim upon it.

—Commodore Nutt, his fellow dwarfs and the attendant giant all went to one of Mrs. Hayes' recent receptions. Their diminutive coach, drawn by Shetland ponies, rolled up the carriage-way behind the landaulet and large black horses of ex-Secretary Chandler, and the little people hopped out and walked demurely in. The little ladies each wore sealskin sacques and dark trailing silks, while the little Commodore and his friends were attired in dress coats, white neckties and light gloves. After they had been presented, and Mrs. Hayes had leaned over and shaken each little hand, along came the giant, head and shoulders taller than any one in the room.

—A Burmese Baptist says that it is all wrong to sing "Hold the Fort,' for there are no times for lurking behind stone walls, but rather for storming them. He further adds that the holding of forts is the work of the devil. So he writes a hymn entitled "Storm the Fort," which he wants the Baptists of America to sing. The chorus goes thus:

Storm the fort, for I am leading,—
I have shown you how;
Shout the answer back to heaven—
We are ready—now.

ESTABLISHED IN 1823.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR to
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1823 by Dr. Lispenard, and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 29 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, into door adjoining its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—price $1 sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicine sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives to its Horticultural Departments a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country, and commends to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and an ever-green and well-kept Scrap Book, or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and the editorial page furnishes a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I remain, Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirty Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from the Rheuma le Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PI LS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partial relief, and also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have tried traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they go South every fall and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. R. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that I must be sure to recover, for I cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Lowe, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Mrs. Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the times.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions, New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Pursuits, including Descriptions with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers; the latest Patents, Patent Laws, a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not to be found in any other publication, of the Mechanical Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and, People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained for the west terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are frequently sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice.

A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 442 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often conclusive argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is as to be learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, AND ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Simple Sense. The gist of object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive fashion feature, that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be copious and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, while its reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of by P. of. William Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Decoration," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PARIS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in free labor suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsible duty.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It has quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with officers of Republican leaders or corruptions in the Republican party; but it can never cease to be true to the principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Tales, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are received daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. Its Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS OF THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprises and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the consistently independent course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than it ever enjoyed, and continues to draw from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century, it is hoped, the degree of excellence to which point it was aimed by its editors, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long ago acquired reputation for purity, has in the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its fair and fond page.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, concise critical and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages it represents such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer. To send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George Macdonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Mr. Parker In a New Role.

Mr. Parker's respectable legs, making frantic signals of distress, protruded from one of the immense snow banks on Congress street recently. The remainder of Mr. Parker's anatomy had retired into private life with more dispatch than dignity a moment before, beneath the beautiful snow. Several gentlemen and a policeman came to his relief and dragged him forth. Mr. Parker did not present his usual neat appearance. His coat had been torn in the struggle, his hat looked as though it had been sat upon, and his boots were full of snow. The policeman regarded him with suspicion, the gentlemen with suppressed merriment. Mr. Parker glared savagely at his benefactors, and danced a fandango and swung his arms to get warm.

"Ugh?" said the policeman with a smile, gently inserting his hands down Mr. Parker's neck and getting a good turn in his coat-collar. "Drunk and very disorderly."

"I never was or—"

"None 'o yer slack," said the guardian of the peace. "Come along."

"I never was dis—"

A jerk which tipped Mr. Parker's hat still further over his nose and nearly dislocated his neck, gave him pause. Mr. Parker meditated; a grim smile passed over his expressive face. Then he turned on his captor. A wild glare was in his eye, and with a fierce snarl he remarked:

"Bow, wow, wow, wow, wow, wow, w-o-o-o-w!"

The smile fled the faces of the merry gentlemen, and they edged away. The policeman said:

"What's that?"

"Bow, wow, wow! You, you, you!" said Mr. Parker, snapping at the policeman's club.

"He's mad," chorused the merry gentlemen, scuttling around the corner.

"Look here, now," said the policeman, releasing his grasp, and getting ready to run; "brace up, don't give 'way. What's the matter any how?"

"Bow, wow, wow, wow!" answered Mr. Parker, getting down on all fours, and pawing around in the snow.

"He's mad," said the policeman sorrowfully. "He oughtn't to be let to run at large; he might bite some one. I'll go and get some help," and he followed the merry gentlemen around the corner.

Mr. Parker sat down on a snowbank and laughed.

"Parker," said he, "you're a mad dog. No you ain't, you're a sad dog; but your bark is worse than your bite," and so saying he walked jauntily off, chuckling occasionally to himself.—N. Y. World.

Experiment at Cherbourg with a Torpedo Boat.

Some very interesting experiments were made a few days ago at Cherbourg with the little submarine vessel called the Thorneycroft. It was the first occasion of testing in French waters whether a torpedo could be launched against a ship in full sail. Accordingly Admiral Juarez, who commands the squadron, ordered a disabled ship, the Bayonnaise, during a rather rough sea, to be towed out by a steamer belonging to the navy. A Second Lieutenant, M. Lemoinne, was sent for, and informed that he had been selected to make the experiment of launching the Thorneycroft against the Bayonnaise while both were in full sail. He accepted the mission without hesitation, picked out two engine men and a pilot, and went into the interior of the Thorneycroft, of which only a small part was above water, this visible portion being painted of a grayish color, so as to be easily confused with the sea. The torpedo was placed so as to project from the bow of the vessel, at the extremity of which were two latten sail-yards about three metres in length. The towing steamer then took up its position in front of the squadron, and the Thorneycroft also assumed the position assigned for it; an interval of three or four marine miles separating the torpedo and the Bayonnaise. On a signal being given, both were set in motion, the steamer advancing in a straight line, and the Thorneycroft obliquely, so as to take the Bayonnaise in flank. The steamtug went at fourteen knots an hour, going at full speed in order to escape the Thorneycroft. The latter went at nineteen knots an hour, a rate not attained by any vessel in the squadron. The chase lasted about an hour, the squadron keeping in the rear, so as to witness the operations. At the end of that time the distance between the Thorneycroft and the Bayonnaise had sensibly diminished, and at a given moment the former, in order to come up with the latter at the requisite distance, had to slacken speed to eight knots an hour. The whole squadron watched this last phase of the struggle with breathless interest, and the people asked themselves whether the shock of the torpedo would not infallibly destroy the little vessel which bore it. It was feared that the lives of the Second Lieutenant, Lemoinne, and his three companions were absolutely sacrificed. However, the two vessels got visibly nearer. All at once the Thorneycroft put on a fast spurt, and struck the Bayonnaise with its whole force on the starboard bow. The sea was terribly agitated, a deafening report was heard, and the Bayonnaise, with a rent as big as a house, sank with wonderful rapidity. As for the Thorneycroft, rebounding by the shock about fifteen meters off, even before the explosion occurred, it went round and round for a few moments, and then quietly resumed the direction of the squadron. No trace remained of the Bayonnaise; it was literally swallowed up by the sea.—Paris Correspondence London Times.

Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, APRIL 2, 1877.

Annual Report, Supt. Public Instruction.

Eureka! I have found it. Such was the feeling as this Report came to hand from the Superintendent, Prof. J. W. Simonds. The year of his office ended last June, but the Report was not through the press till recently.

Our State has had a Superintendency 29 years. A portion of the time it was a Board of Education, consisting of a Commissioner in each County. All the Reports have been printed. I have all, except that of the first Superintendent, Prof. Haddock of Dartmouth College. These make a valuable collection on our educational interests.

This last Report is a bound volume of 594 pages. But one in this State had been bound before. That was 1861, a little short of 300 pages. Massachusetts has its reports bound. That of 1875 has 336 pages. The one for last year was not through the press on Monday of last week. If it exceeds ours in size and subject matter, we shall be disappointed. Ours in all respects is worthy the Centennial year.

The first part is devoted to extracts from the reports of the town superintending committees. Many of these are very valuable. They give an account of the condition of schools, make important suggestions, condemn unfit school-houses, unfit teachers, efforts to teach when too young in years, etc. In these are extracts from female superintendents in Auburn, Barnstead, East Kingston, Hill, Landaff and Monroe. Thirty-two town superintendents failed to report. Of these three were in Rockingham County, viz.: Hampton Falls, Newington and Newcastle.

Next is a history of education in several towns. That of Hampton takes the lead. It was prepared by the distinguished antiquarian of that place, Joseph Dow, Esq. Others in this county are of South Hampton by Rev. P. P. Whitehouse, Londonderry by Andrew W. Mark, Esq., Windham by Rev. C. Packard, Newton by Ebenezer Peaslee, Chester by Rev. C. Tenney, Hampstead by Hon. Caleb Moulton, Salem by A. H. Merrill.

After this is an account of the meeting of the State Teachers' Association, held at Wolfborough in October, 1875, also of the State Normal School at Plymouth.

Then there are abstracts of answers of Superintendendig Committees to questions of vital educational institutional interests. There is a vast amount of valuable information in this. There is also an account of school matters in this State at the Centennial in Philadelphia. The Report closes with statistical tables, and a complete Index renders it convenient to find whatever subject or particular is treated in the Report.

The present State Superintendent of Public Instruction is Rev. Charles A. Downs of Lebanon. He is a native of Norwalk, Ct., a graduate of New York University; for twenty-four years ending in 1873, was pastor of the Congregational church in Lebanon, and was a member of the Board of Education when there were County Commissions. He has an important office. If he does as well as his predecessor, all will be glad. If better, all will rejoice. The present law, however, in regard to the Superintendency is deficient. More work by the Superintendent or County Assistants having a direct bearing on the management of our common schools is needed. J. W.

The original manuscript of Mason and Dixon's Journal of Survey—when they made the famous line between Philadelphia and Maryland, which was the dividing line in the United States between freedom and slavery—was shown at the Centennial in one corner of Dr. Honeyman's Nova Scotia mineral exhibit. It was the property of Judge James of Nova Scotia, and was marked "for sale." Mr. James some years ago, when Clerk of the Nova Scotia Assemble, had arranged some old papers for which he sent in a bill for $60. The Committee of the House demurred at the price, but they settled by giving him this old book. The National Library at Washington paid Judge James $5000 for it, and we think the price was not too dear for the original of a work of great historic interest. It is about 110 years old—St. John (N. B.) Globe.

British ship Florence Oulton was abandoned at sea in a sinking condition, Feb. 21st. The captain and six of the crew were picked up, but the mate and nine seamen are missing.

The Moffett whiskey bill to collect the tax on whiskey by means of an instrument, something like a car bell-punch, has passed the Virginia General Assembly. It will be put up in every bar-room. The tax on larger per drink is half a cent; alcoholic liquors two and half cents.

A dispatch from Lisbon, Me., says that on Friday night a son of Alfred Cox of West Bowdoin, fourteen years of age, shot and killed his father as the latter was returning from church. The father and son had both been to church, and the boy making a slight disturbance, the father told him to go forward and occupy another seat. The boy took his hat and left the church. Going directly home, he took a gun, and meeting his father as he was entering the yard, he discharged the gun, the charge entering the man's stomach, killing him almost instantly.

An Associated Press agent at Liverpool, England, who is personally well acquainted with Oakey Hall, positively asserts that Hall landed in Liverpool from the steamship Victoria on Saturday. He was dressed in old clothes, and flatly denied his identity when confronted by the agent, asserting his name to be Sutcliffe. The clerk of Warren & Co., agents for the Victoria (a freight steamship) in Boston, says Hall paid $80 for his passage March 12th, giving the name of W. E. Sutcliffe of Quebec.

The Dover Democrat of Friday says: "The case State vs. Dr. Perkins of Barring was concluded last night, and the jury rendered a verdict of guilty. He was sentenced to jail for thirty days and to pay costs of prosecution. This case concluded the liquor trials for this term. The whole programme came to an abrupt conclusion last night, and by mutual agreement of the liquor dealers who were indicted, and the State, all the defendants in all cases that had not been tried and a verdict obtained, pleaded nolo contendere to each indictment and paid a fine of $50 on one and costs on the whole, excepting those cases in which Marshal W. Pond, a detective, was the only witness. We understand that in all indictments in which Pond was the only witness, nolle prosequi has been entered and those cases are stricken from the docket."

The shoe business in Nashua is in a very prosperous condition. Messrs. Crain, Moody & Rising are running on full time and are having all the orders they can fill. It is reported that Laighton Bros. of Pepperell, Mass., are to move their works there the coming spring, and a firm from Boston is also expected to build a large manufactory there this next summer.

General Kilpatrick lectured before the Grand Army of the Republic Post of Nashua, Friday evening, on incidents in the late war.

A man by the name of Downs at Rochester, robbed his employer of $80 recently, and eloped with the wife of another man.

A white crow was seen in a flock at Hudson recently.

As a good specimen of New England vigor, Mr. Harrison Fifield, of Rumney, on his eightieth birthday, sawed one and one half cords of hard wood twice in two in eight hours and thirty minutes. Mr. Fifield has never employed a physician for himself, and never lost a meal from sickness. He served through the war, having enlisted at the ripe age of sixty-five and boasts that at that time he could jump higher than any man in his company. His family is noted for longevity, his father and mother and his grandfathers and grandmothers all having lived to the age of nearly one hundred years.

A number of liquor dealers met in Manchester Thursday night and formed a league for mutual benefit and protection. A constitution and by-laws were adopted and a Committee appointed to urge every person engaged in the traffic to join the league.

Political.

The democrats of Chicago have nominated for city officials 48 Irishmen, 13 Germans and 10 Americans. Unusually liberal to the Germans and Yankees, we should say.

Representative Banning, more popularly known as "The Bounding Banning," at a democratic local convention in Cincinnati on a recent night spoke of himself as "coming from where they stole the President." This remark comes with bad grace from a man who claims to be a member of the next Congress on a majority of about 70 in a district where his own party managers, by their confession, gave him from 500 to 700 illegal votes.

Potato Beetles.

In the expectation that the Colorado beetle will prove very troublesome the coming year, the Board of Agriculture gives the following advice on potato culture: Plant early. Use new ground, or that not occupied for potatoes last year. Select, if possible, lots remote from that ordinarily chosen, and shielded by woods in some measure. Make the soil as rich as is safe for the quality, so as to obtain a good crop from a small area. Then fight the enemy by hand and hoe, by Paris green and every other effective agency that can be obtained. Professor Riley says that the beetle has at least twenty-three enemies, not including man. It ought to be exterminated at once. A new potato enemy has made its appearance, known as the potato moth. The caterpillar burrows in the tuber and destroys it. It is not likely the creature will be here at present.

A Long Branch Mansion.

The most superb place in all Long Branch is the private residence of Mr. John Hoey, which has become celebrated all over the country. Mr. Hoey has about one hundred and sixty acres. The greatest display is to be found in the grounds, statuary and hot-houses, in all of which the owner has shown remarkably good taste. The grounds are beautifully graded with slate, which is ground into small particles above New York city, and brought by rail to Long Branch. About the grounds are about thirty pieces of statuary. The greenhouses are very extensive. We passed through one of twelve sections of seventy-five feet each, and one just being erected four hundred feet by thirty. In these houses there is the greatest floral display, probably, in the country. There is one specimen of the Latanica Borbonica, a native of China, which is said to have cost $800. One of the greenhouses was brought from the Vienna Exhibition in 1873, and cost $8000. The greenhouses altogether are said to have cost $30,000, and plants $10,000. They are lighted with gas at night and present a most enchanting appearance. In the summer season all these plants are brought out and occupy the ground in front of the mansion a space of about four thousand yards, and number some two million plants. About twenty-five men are employed constantly during the winter season and about fifty during the summer.—Trenton Gazette.

LOSS OF SHIP FRANK JONES.

Advices from San Francisco, dated March 30th, announce the probable loss on that day and at that place of ship Frank Jones, Nichols master, of this port. The ship had recently secured a charter to proceed in ballast from San Francisco to Manila and there load for Boston or New York, and it was while being towed to sea that the disaster took place. According to the report the tug having her in tow kept too near the south shore, the wind being strong from the northwest; and there must have been considerable sea running at the time,—although the dispatch does not mention it,—as the hawser parted three times. The last time the rope broke the ship was off Fort Point, and so close in shore that before the line could be again passed she went on the rocks about two hundred yards outside the Fort, the pilot in charge vainly endeavoring to get sail on her in time to avert the disaster. As soon as she struck she commenced to pound very heavily, and as the bottom there is covered with jagged rocks there was scarcely a hope of being able to save her.

The Frank Jones was built by Neil & Matthews at Kittery Foreside, and was launched in September, 1873; she was one of the finest specimens of marine architecture ever sent out of this port, her dimensions being as follows: length of keel, 190 feet; length over all, 212 feet; breadth of beam, 39 feet, 2 inches; depth of hold, 25 feet, 9 inches; registered tonnage, 1453 13-100. Owners—Daniel Marcy, William Ross and Peter Marcy, each sixteen sixty-fourths; John Neal and John F. Matthews, each five sixty-fourths; Oliver Wilson, four sixty-fourths; Chandler Brooks, two sixty-fourths. She was built under the personal supervision of Capt. Marcy, in the best manner, her timbers and keelsons being the heaviest we ever saw put into a vessel of her size. She was commanded on her first voyage (and we think on her second also) by Capt. Ross. She was a fine sea-boat, a large carrier and a good sailer. We understand she was well insured.

SUPREME COURT.

Case Blake vs. Concord Railroad was taken from the jury at noon on Friday, and settled privately.

Case Benjamin T. Odion and wife vs. Moses H. Odion, (all of Rye,) action for slander, was decided on Saturday forenoon, the jury bringing in a verdict for the plaintiffs of $5 and costs.

Court then adjourned to 9 o'clock Monday forenoon.

EASTER SUNDAY

Was mild and pleasant, during the forenoon, seeming more like a May day than the first of April, even as nearly the whole of the previous month had been more like April than March; but at noon the wind hauled to the southward and eatsward, the air became raw and chilly, and the sky was overcast for the rest of the day. The attendance at the various churches was very large, and more people appeared on the streets than on any previous Sunday in many months. The churches were more extensively decorated than usual.

At St. John's (Episcopal) church there were three full services, which were all well attended. The floral decorations were more elaborate and beautiful than is usual at Easter. The large marble font was bordered with a wreath of variegated flowers, fringed with smilax; and placed upon it was a vase of flowers, and a large Latin cross of tea-roses and calla lilies, its base surrounded by a bed of roses. The reading desk was covered by a white cloth bordered with green, having in its centre a large cluster of fuchsias. The pulpit had upon it a crown of scarlet geraniums upon a foundation of variegated flowers. Within the chancel, the tablets were covered with white bordered with green, each tablet having in the centre a star of pink and white carnations. Upon the front of the communion table was a large bouquet or cluster of purple flowers, and on the table were a number of vases filled with choice flowers, with a large cross of calla lilies in the centre; with a line of blue, having upon it the words "Holy, Holy, Holy," in gilt letters.

The Unitarian church was elaborately and most beautifully dressed, in the vicinity of the pulpit. On top of the font was a large azalia, covered with flowers; and the sides of the font were draped to the floor with wax plants and roses—a beautiful display. Between the font and the pulpit was a tiny longiflorum in full bloom. In front of the altar was a large Maltese cross of ivy, decorated with twenty callas; at the right of the altar, and also on the table, were many large pyramids of very choice flowers. The afternoon service was especially for the Sunday school children, who occupied the body of the church; the first lesson was the 20th Service in the S. S. Service Book, "Immortality brought to light by Christ;" followed by a sermon on Luke 19: 2, after which Prang's beautiful Easter Cards were presented to each of the children of the Sabbath school and Parish.

At the Universalist the pastor's desk was tastefully dressed by the Sunday School teachers. A cross of calla lilies was on the front, a floral anchor on one side and a wreath on the other, with festoons of flowers around the top of the desk, and an abundance of smilax on front and sides. On the communion table (with other flowers) were two choice bouquets, presented to the pastor and his wife by Mrs. Justin Hanscom and Mrs. Littleton Laighton. On the right of the altar were calla lilies growing; on the left a large vase of beautiful flowers of various kinds. The effect of the whole was very neat and pleasing.

At St. Mary's (Catholic) church the floral decorations were abundant. A very beautiful Gothic crucifix, recently procured from New York by Father O'Callaghan, and displayed on the altar on this occasion for the first time, was wreathed with flowers; and beautiful bouquets, the voluntary offerings of the worshippers, were so numerous as to almost cover the altar. The effect was very fine.

At the Baptist church the pulpit was ornamented with a very beautiful bouquet on the pastor's right; and on the platform, at the left of the desk, was a large openwork cross of flowers and smilax, rising from a very handsome floral pedestal.

At the Congregational church there was no decoration other than a vase of callas on the right hand of the pastor's desk.

JOTTINGS.

The grand Easter dance takes place this (Monday) evening at Congress Hall. Tickets fifty cents.

Sheriff Kent of Rockingham county has gone into the civil service reform business too. He has just removed a deputy for cause. Deputy Caleb Moulton of Hampstead helped to nominate Gen. Marston for Congress in a republican convention, and then he allowed Frank Jones to nominate him for Congress without any convention. A man who would betray an honest man like Gen. Marston to become the tool of Jones is totally unfit for any position. The cause of his removal is cause enough.—Nashua Telegraph.

Mr. Edward Janvrin, son of Mr. James Janvrin, while working on a building his father is putting up on the "Stoddard place," (near the Rye line,) recently bought by him, on Saturday fell a distance of eight feet, striking very heavily, breaking his collar-bone and receiving some severe bruises and a general shaking up.

Schooner Frank Jones, of this port, Spaulding master, at New York from Gonaives, reports that on March 26th, when off Barnegat, took a heavy gale from the northeast which lasted two days, during which she lost jibboom and flying-jib. She arrived at New York on Thursday, without further damage.

Arthur Durgin, of Greenland, while felling trees recently, met with a serious accident. A limb of a hemlock was caught by the end and bent in the form of a bow; he gave it a cut with his axe, when the end sprung free and the limb flying back struck him a blow in the face, breaking his nose and jaw, loosening his teeth and mangling his face in a shocking manner.

Commodore John Guest is ordered to the command of this Navy Yard, in place of Capt. English, who is ordered to continue duty as captain of the yard.

Steamer Perkiomen, from Philadelphia with 1200 tons of coal to C. E. Walker & Co., arrived at this port on Saturday.

J. Horace Kent, Esq., was on Friday chosen assignee of the estate of H. W. Briant by the creditors, at a meeting in Dover.

John O'Brien's "Mammoth Menagerie, Marvellous Museum and Cyclopean Circus," —six shows consolidated in one,—is coming, and will be here before a great while. Dates and details in due season.

To-morrow afternoon and evening the Rogers Mission Circle of the North Parish hold a Fair at their Chapel on Middle street. Useful and ornamental articles will be offered for sale, a hot supper will be served, and ice-creams and confectionery will be supplied to those who wish. See advertisement.

Rev. L. H. Witham closed his labors with the church at Kittery Point on Sunday, March 25th.

On March 17th the schooner Centennial, Capt. Bonnell, sailed from St. Thomas, West Indies, for Turk's Island, to take on board a cargo of salt for this port.

Two of the fishing schooners which have sailed out of this port for several winters past, including the last one, were wrecked on Saturday. The Queen of the Bay, Short master, and the Flying Fish, Thurlow master, both belonging to Newburyport, in attempting to leave that port Saturday morning were swept into the North Breakers by the fresh shoot of the Merrimac and the heavy roll of the sea, and totally wrecked. They were small craft, valued at about $1500 each; uninsured; crews saved.

From the large sale of tickets for "The Good Natured Man" (it is well worth a dollar to see a good natured man these hard times, though the price of tickets is but fifty cents,) on Wednesday evening next, we infer that our citizens are alive to the fun and genuine wit of Goldsmith's comedies. The gorgeous costumes from the city theatres will of themselves afford great pleasure to those fond of spectacular splendors. The seats at the rear of the Hall are equally as good as those at the front, so none need stay away because the front seats are taken.

SOUTH SEABROOK.

At the annual school meeting of District No. Five, including the greater part of South Seabrook, Rev. William A. Rand was chosen Prudential Committee. Two schools will now be held in the district, there being one hundred and twenty-five children of school age; the schools will be graded. The district is considering the subject of a new school-building.

On Saturday evening, the 24th, about ten o'clock, a strange dog bit Mr. Charles Foote on the arm, after biting several other dogs; the brute then disappeared. It is thought this was the same dog which occasioned so much excitement in other places.

A carriage road to connect South Seabrook with "the beach" is being talked of, but the ownership of the beach being in dispute is a great hindrance to the prosecution of the scheme. The beach is one of the finest in the country, and should be utilized. RAW.

—Stumbling into his room he sat down on the edge of the bed and soliloquised thus:—"Fee' wet, tight boots, a sore on one hand an' a felon on t'other, and no bootjack in the house. Sings got to be different. Either I mus' get married, else get a bootjack—wishall I do?"

—Judge Cloud of the Surry county (N. C.) court got mad with the court clerk, jumped from the bench, and, seizing the offending official by the neck, dropped him out of the window. The grand jury has now indicted his honor.

Deal Gently with the Stomach.

Do not rack it with violent purgatives, or permanently impair its tone with indiscreetible drugs of any kind; but, if your digestion is impaired, your liver out of order, your frame debilitated, or nervous system unstrung, use that wholesome and agreeable alterative and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will certainly afford you the desired relief. None of the officinal remedies can compare with it in restorative efficacy, and as a medicinal stimulant it is by far the most desirable as well as popular article of its class. Its basis, the essential principle of sound rye, is the best possible agent for hastening the action of the botanic ingredients which it holds in solution, and those ingredients are the most efficacious which chemistry extracts from the vegetable kingdom, and medical science applies to the cure of disease.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the coolness of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If need be, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!

Time-Proof Teeth.

The teeth may be rendered time-proof by brushing them daily with Sozodont. No tartar can encrust them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if this pure and delicious dentrifice is faithfully used to the exclusion of every other preparation.

Mutilated furniture is made perfect with Spalding's Glue.

Let that cough continue and die of consumption, or pay 35 cents and be cured by Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Free sample bottle at the druggists'. Large bottles 75 cents.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is becoming more popular every day since its reduction from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Army and Navy officers make their headquarters at the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia. So do leading business men of all sections, while for families and large parties of travellers, it also offers unequalled attractions.

BELMONT, MASS., Feb. 17, 1877.

I have used the Little Giant Pills for bilious headache with the most satisfactory results. They are particularly beneficial for sickness peculiar to females. I am acquainted in a great many families in Cambridge and Belmont where this medicine is used and it is known to be a never failing relief.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many year- trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in any case of advanced Consumption it effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION,

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:—

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be a tried remedy for it.

How It Works.

Many a man is out of work and out of bread to-day, not only because he has spent his money on useless and sinful indulgences, but because he has had rum, and brandy, and tobacco, and smoke in his breath; and what decent respectable person wants a man around him who makes himself continually disgusting to all cleanly persons with whom he is associated? Who wants an office defiled by such a man? Who wants his barn exposed to be burned down from the fire knocked out of a smoker's old black pipe? Who wants a man around him who fills the air with unwholesome effluvia, and who makes decent and delicate persons sick when he comes near them? Who wants to inhale the noisome smoke and bad breath which is blown into his face from a smoker's mouth? And who wants a man around him with his conscience so benumbed with rum and tobacco that he is liable to lie, or steal, in order to obtain the means of gratifying his appetite? If people wish to occupy decent places they must be decent men, and decent men will not indulge in habits which disgust and sicken those around them. Here is an instance of the working of the thing: "A well-known editor having a printer in his employ who several times a day would leave his work to get a drink of whiskey, instructed his cashier to drop ten cents in a drawer to his credit every time that printer went out. In seventeen months the printer had drank himself out of a good situation, and the drawer being opened contained $109. This was loaned to a young mechanic, who returned it with interest to the editor the 17th of February, 1876, saying that he has now a wife, two children, and property worth $5,000,—while the poor printer is hunting for food."

—On a small island in Louisiana are a dozen boxwood trees, the only ones in the United States, and are supposed to have been planted by coasters in the Spanish reign.

—"Perley" writes from Washington: An ex-constable was in the Criminal Court on business yesterday, and was asked by one of the bailiffs if he was looking for Marshal Douglass? "No, sir," was the reply; "not now, but there was a time, when he was a fugitive slave, when I tried hard to find him."

CHINESE SOAP!

THE FAMOUS CHINESE SOAP,

Together with a large assortment of

All the Best SOAPS Used.

FOR SALE BY

LAFAYETTE LAIGHTON.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL

IN THE

UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

Gents will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus deprived themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and early vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—168 pages—full of plates,—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichol's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Uterasic Bells.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All orders must be addressed to

Dr. Sl. V. E. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the writer of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the writer of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and prospects of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Departments continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly gives in a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Family Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of volunteer testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 29, 1876.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three yes: Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages and two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 29, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d on their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and that friends have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad, that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. About time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAISGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for some twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many so called Nostrums with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been trifling and varying medical system, and I will referred most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, as I would have the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anything. I have sent applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend these Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Cordial it could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the source of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. Those painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—!

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. He offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving (usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; three copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer and Professional Man to be well informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that imparts a taste for investigation and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication in the U.S. It is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the Week; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Invent ons, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Receipts, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not a dry list the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science now on.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Sit-ting, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free, single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. Munn & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are advertised in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and all Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no effort will be spared to add to its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to give them a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer."

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this fascinating writer will need no further commendation. Its reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's interesting and piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

TRIBUNE.

The Leading American Newspaper.

Largest Circulation

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and most impartial information, to enable them for the wisest discharge of their respo nsibility.

III.—THIS ASPIRATION ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It has guarded in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be the organ of republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, and equal rights of the Nation, faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is given space in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to enlighten and benefit farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unerring and almost infallible accuracy. In cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the reports of special value.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, honest government, and the growing force of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest writers and reporters than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to a vast point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter in an age many times since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in such a way as to clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it alone gives a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, concise serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its page are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make it still cheaper, viz.: for one dollar, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year (or $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in possession of the whole situation.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend no period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the climax can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Daily Chronicle.

TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1877.

South Carolina Affairs.

A Washington dispatch of Sunday says Hayes made up his mind Saturday night to withdraw the troops from the State House at Columbia, and so informed Hampton and Chamberlain at once. Hampton and his friends were jubilant; they were to leave for home at midnight of Sunday, with the understanding that the troops would be removed as soon as they got home. They say the prosperity of South Carolina is assured and the blacks will be protected. Chamberlain, after learning the determination of President Hayes to withdraw the troops, prepared a long letter of fourteen pages, which he sent to the President. It is in the nature of a sharp, vigorous protest against the action of the President; admits that he cannot sustain himself without the aid of the troops, but sets forth that Hayes could not have carried the State without the presence and use of the troops; declares that the blacks are no safer and freer in South Carolina now than then, and that there is and can be no free suffrage in that State without the protection of the troops for those desirous of voting the republican ticket. He tells Hayes that he has been deceived by the peace talk of Hampton and his friends, and will find his course will wipe out the republican party in South Carolina until the troops are again sent there. Chamberlain does not propose to oppose Hampton forcibly, but will peaceably acquiesce. He says, however, that he does not propose to leave the State, and thinks the tide will turn in his favor before 1880. It is stated positively that proceedings in quo warranto will be begun in Tilden's interest as soon as orders for the withdrawal of the troops are issued. The papers in the case are already in the hands of Richard Merrick, who will be Tilden's lawyer.

To the Public.

MANCHESTER, March 15.

The Board of Auditors appointed at the last session of the Legislature to inquire into the financial management of the Insane Asylum, and into the treatment of the insane, will hold a public session at the State House, in Concord, on Tuesday, the 17th day of April next, at 10 o'clock A. M., at which time and place a hearing will be given to all persons who may desire to submit for the consideration of the Board, any facts or suggestions material to the enquiry.

To several newspapers in the State are tendered to aid the investigation by giving publicity to the foregoing.

CHAS. H. BARTLETT, Chairman.

News and Notes.

A Leavenworth dispatch says a band of Sioux surprised a party of hunters at night recently on a buffalo range and killed sixteen, as they lay, but the remainder rallied and drove the Indians away with heavy loss.

The Boston Globe comments on the social distinctions between a "salary" of $600 a year and "wages" of $2 per day.

John P. Phair, the Rutland, Vt., murderer, who is to be executed at Windsor, next Friday, is overwhelmed with gifts of fruit and food from his friends. He still adheres to his claim of innocence.

American horses are making their mark in England. Their admission to race courses has improved the native stock, and there is beginning to be a general demand for them which can only be met by exportation direct from America. Thirty-nine horses were shipped last October from Montreal, and eighty-six more have been sent on from Philadelphia.

Experts, who have been making a thorough examination of the Niagara Suspension Bridge, have completed their duties, and reported that the bridge is entirely safe for the transit of trains.

Capt. Bogardus, in shooting his great match at Gilmore's Garden Friday evening, broke 1000 glass balls, one at a time, in the air in 77 minutes and 40 seconds. He only missed 28 balls out of 1028.

In Hartford, Thursday evening, two men seized a servant girl named Bridget Keele, robbed her of $110 and threw her into the river. She was saved by a small boy.

The confession of A. M. Ames, the organizer of the Labor Union of Chico, Cal., now under arrest, confirms the previous report that the organization is responsible for the recent reign of terror in Chico and vicinity.

In South Woodstock, Conn., the dam at Randall's mill gave way Tuesday morning, carrying away three bridges near by.

A New York sporting man, John T. Chamberlin, who recently went into bankruptcy, has settled with his creditors on the basis of one cent on a dollar. Eighty-one creditors' claims aggregated $170,000.

A strike of the engineers on the Reading Railroad is anticipated, consequent on the recent announcement of the corporation that no engineers who belong to the Brotherhood will be retained in employment unless they give up their membership.

Nine vessels of the Long Island fishing fleet are missing, having been unheard of for months, and are supposed to be lost with all on board; their names are as follows: schooner John S. Ryder, with a crew of ten men; S. J. Noble, ten men; Agnes Saunders, eleven men; Fanny Eves, eleven men; Emma Hurd, twelve men; J. F. Crooks, eleven men; Celia Bernard, eight men; William F. Merkle, twelve men; E. D. Baldwin, ten men. Total of the nine crews, ninety-five men.

It has been ascertained by the Secretary of the Navy that the appropriation made at the last session of Congress, to provide for the deficiency created by the failure at the first session to appropriate sufficient money to pay salaries of officers of the navy for the current fiscal year, is not sufficient to cover the deficiency.

It is stated that newspapers as a rule are not flourishing in New York. The Herald, which used to make a profit of seven or eight hundred thousand dollars a year, is only a little more than paying its expenses. It charges forty cents a line for advertising and gets all the "wants," "for sales," and what is known as the "servant girl" advertising. But the servant girls have little money now, and its pages are bare. The Tribune is losing money; the Times is just holding its own, and hardly that; the Sun is making something, but not much, and the rest are shaking money.

French barque St. Omer, from Bordeaux for St. Pierre, Newfoundland, was wrecked near Great Placentia bay March 22d, and all hands perished save the cook.

Among the assets of J. B. Ford & Co., formerly publishers of the Christian Union and of sundry books of a more or less Christian character, are a lot of stereotype plates, and although it is probably a very serious matter, one cannot help being amused at the value put upon them by a member of the firm in testifying before the Register in bankruptcy. For instance, "Man's immortality" is set down as of "no value either way." Either way seems to signify either present or prospective, actual or contingent, and consequently the plates are worth only what they will fetch as old metal. This is rather a flippant way of disposing of "Man's Immortality," but we are told that the "Overture of Angels" is of the same worthless character, and "Our Seven Churches" are good for nothing but to go to the melting pot. Beecher's "Life of Christ" is set down, not exactly at the altitude of a soaring kite, but as "speculative," having a possible future value of $5000. "Christ in Art" is mortgaged to a Boston man and may be worth $10,000 sometime, but is of no value now. There are some pious productions of Parson Halliday set down as worth "nothing at all," which is not very astonishing, and one feels a grim satisfaction at being told that the works of "Eli Perkins" are of some little value as old metal, nothing more. The metal is undoubtedly brass.—Exchange.

A Washington special to the Boston Journal says: "The dissatisfaction of the southern republican Congressmen may crystallize into a third party, which will on some matters act with the democrats. It is said that already three southern Senators and thirteen southern Representatives have pledged themselves to stand together as a unit, and that they hope to get some northern republican who likes to rule or to ruin as their leader."

New Hampshire Items.

The house and barn of Henry Lang, in Dalton, were burned Thursday. The fire caught from a defective chimney. Loss about $1400; insured $100.

Mrs. Margaret Sargent Evans died at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Nancy Ross, at Concord, on Wednesday evening last, aged 101 years, 8 months and 21 days. Pneumonia was the immediate cause of her death. She remained conscious to the last. Mrs. Evans's maiden name was Margaret Sargent. She was born in Chester, July 7, 1775, and married Sherburne Wiggin, and removed to Concord in 1797. In 1814 Mr. Wiggin died, and she subsequently married Artemus Evans. Four daughters survive her, viz.: Mrs. Mary Wells of New York city, Mrs. J. S. Abbott, Mrs. Nancy Ross and Mrs. John F. Brown of Concord. She was one of the early members of the Unitarian Church, and was the oldest person in that section of New Hampshire if not in the entire State.

The New Hampshire annual conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold its forty-eighth session in Dover, commencing Wednesday forenoon, April 18th, and continuing about a week. Bishop Jesse T. Peck, D. D., of San Francisco is to preside. There are 140 belonging to this conference, nearly all of whom have signified their hope to be present and take part in the deliberations, which are expected to be important.

—Dr. Holland says the most precious possession that ever comes to a man in this world is a woman's heart. It would seem that he has never observed the tender care with which a man handles a meerschaum pipe that is just beginning to have a bilious look around the base of the bowl.

—A Fryeburg, Me., man got so disgusted with his wife because she discharged a pretty servant girl in a fit of jealousy that he went to Chicago for divorce papers. The wife got wind of his game, and in order to ensure its entire success, eloped with another man. The laws of Maine will probably now be sufficient for the husband's purpose.

MARRIED.

HARMON—BUTLER. In South Berwick, Maine, March 31, at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. O. T. Mouli n, Rev. L. L. Harmon, of this city, and Miss Mary J. Butler of South Berwick. Mrs. Harmon is the daughter of Mr. George W. Butler, a well to-do trader at South Berwick village, a cousin to Mr. William H. Thompson, treasurer of the Kearsarge Mills, of this city, and also cousin to Rev. Dr. J. J. Butler, Professor of Hillsdale College, Mich.

LAWRENCEBURG, Tenn., Nov. 9, 1876.
DR. PIERCE:

Dear Sir—For many years I was afflicted with Catarrh, but in 1872 was attacked with a severe pain through the forehead and eyes. When I coughed or made a sudden movement, the pain was like the stab of a knife. The physicians and remedies I employed gave me no relief. At last I procured a package of Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy and used it according to directions. It gave immediate relief. I continued it for a few months and was entirely cured, and I have not since had a symptom of the disease. Others have used it upon my recommendation with the same result. I regard it as an infallible remedy.

Yours thankfully,
T. H. GIBBS.

SUPREME COURT.

On Monday case Craig vs. Gerrish (action to recover damages for bite of dog) was to have been tried, but was postponed on account of sickness of defendant's counsel, the trial being set for the last week in April, in this city. The docket was looked over, and no cases being ready for trial the Court adjourned.

POLICE COURT.

On Monday forenoon Jerry Murphy was brought up, charged with being a common drunkard,—and sentenced to three months at Brentwood, and to work out $6.90 costs in addition.

THE CABLE WAR NOT OVER YET.

It appears that the Direct Cable Company cannot place itself under the control of the Anglo-American without going into liquidation—a scheme requiring the approval of three-fourths of the stockholders; and the managing director of the Direct Cable has issued a circular asking the shareholders to support him in preventing the consolidation party from obtaining the three-fourths majority which is necessary. The company will do well to heed the warning of its managing director, and refrain from taking the perilous step advocated by the amalgamationists. The interests of the public are strongly against the consolidation schemes of the Anglo-American Company, and so, we believe, are the real interests of the Direct Cable stockholders, though a temporary advantage might accrue to the latter from the re-establishment of the old monopoly and high rates. Once in course of dissolution the Direct Cable Company would lose the moral support it now enjoys, and it might be seriously embarrassed should the Canadian Government insist upon the fulfillment of its charter. Besides, the spectacle of a corporation deliberately winding up its affairs in order to break faith with the public and the legislature to which it owes existence, must bring discredit upon all international schemes organized in London.

JOTTINGS.

Mr. Thomas Chase of Seabrook met with a singular accident on Tuesday of last week. While playing with his children, a pin, which was no doubt secreted in the clothing of one of the little ones, pricked one of his legs, touching the sciatic nerve, since which time Mr. Chase has been dangerously ill and suffering terribly. Strong symptoms of lock-jaw have shown themselves, and at last accounts it was thought by his physician that the chances for his recovery were slight.

A San Francisco despatch of March 31st says every effort was made to save ship Frank Jones, before reported ashore outside of Fort Strong, but without avail, as she bilged and filled with water. The sails, spars and stores were expected to be saved.

We are requested to state that the prospectus number of the new Portsmouth Weekly newspaper will be issued about the middle of April, from the Journal building. Advertisements may now be sent to the counting-room of Frank W. Miller & Co., the publishers—entrance on Pleasant Street. See advertisement of the Weekly in another column of this paper.

Auctioneer Wendell will sell to-morrow, on the premises at Newington, all the personal property belonging to the estate of the late David Barry, consisting of household furniture and farm tools, carriages, horse, cow, etc. See advertisement.

Mr. Samuel Lamprey, who has given instruction in dancing to a large percentage of the present and prospective fathers and mothers of this city, in another column announces the opening of his school for young ladies, masters and misses, in Congress Hall, on Saturday afternoon, April 14th. Mr. Lamprey will not only teach the latest styles of waltzing, but will give instruction in "the stately minuet"—the "society" dance in Lady Washington's day, and long before.

Messrs. Charles E. Bailey, Charles S. Dodge and Oliver H. Locke commenced the enrollment of all citizens liable to bear arms, on Monday.

Schoolcraft & Coes' Minstrels, comprising twenty performers, will give an entertainment at Franklin Opera House on Monday evening, April 9th.

—A Kansas farmer purchased a revolver for his wife, and insisted on target practice, so that she could defend her house in case of his absence. After the bullet had been dug out of his leg and the cow buried, he said he guessed that she'd better shoot with an axe.

—A St. Louis Sunday School boy gave the teacher this illustrative definition of "responsibility:" "Boys has two buttons for their s'penders so's to keep their pants up. When one button comes off, why there's a good deal of 'sponsibility on the other button."

—Lovers of the weed may be interested to learn that Carlyle smokes a clay pipe.

—Mr. Carlyle says that the young men should be shut up in barrels and kept somewhere out of sight until they have passed their 25th year, because it is about this time that they "attain to their maximum of detestability."

—A San Francisco lawyer charged a lady $100,000 for conducting a divorce case for her. He was obliged to sue her, and the jury awarded him $10,000.

—It is easier for a needle to go through the eye of a camel than for a rich man to die same.—Graphic.

—The best old charade: "In my first my second sat, my third and fourth I ate." Answer—In-sat-I-ate.

Deal Gently with the Stomach.

Do not rack it with violent purgatives, or permanently impair its tone with indigestible drugs of any kind; but, if your digestion is impaired, your liver out of order, your frame debilitated, or nervous system unstrung, use that wholesome and agreeable alterative and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will certainly afford you the desired relief. None of the officinal remedies can compare with it as a restorative efficacy, and as a medicinal stimulant it is by far the most desirable as well as popular article of its class. Its basis, the essential principle of sound rye, is the best possible agent for hastening the action of the botanic ingredients which it holds in solution, and those ingredients are the most efficacious which chemistry extracts from the vegetable kingdom, and medical science applies to the cure of disease.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the causes of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If in need, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!

Time-Proof Teeth.

The teeth may be rendered time-proof by brushing them daily with Sozodont. No tooth can decrease them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if this pure and delicious dentifrice is faithfully used to the exclusion of every other preparation.

Mutilated furniture is made perfect with Spalding's Glue.

Let that cough continue and die of consumption, or pay 25 cents and be cured by Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Free sample bottle at the druggists's. Large bottles 75 cents.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is becoming more popular every day since its reduction from $3.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Army and Navy officers make their headquarters at the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia. So do leading business men of all sections, while for families and large parties of travellers, it also offers unequalled attractions.

BELMONT, MASS., Feb. 17, 1877.

I have used the Little Giant Pills for bilious headache with the most satisfactory results. They are particularly beneficial for sickness peculiar to females. I am acquainted in a great many families in Cambridge and Belmont where this medicine is used and it is known to be a never failing relief.

PULMOCINE.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

—o—

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the Worst CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it's effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual by than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS, CURES COUGHS, CURES CATARRH, CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

WM. M. LADD, M. D.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875

DR FLAGG MY DEAR SIR: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

To the Hon. Judge of Probate

FOR THE COUNTY OF ROCKINGHAM,

In the State of New Hampshire.

RESPECTFULLY shows SAMUEL C. PERKINS of Boston, Mass., that he is trustee under the will of Mary E. P. Emery, late of Newington in said County, deceased, leaving, for the benefit of Lulu Pickering, a minor child of said testatrix, by the appointment of the Judge of Probate for the aforesaid County of Rockingham; that his said estate consists of a certain farm and buildings situate in said Newington, containing twenty acres, bounded on the north by land of T. Bent on Hoyt and Darius Frink, easterly by land of Reuben L. Lane, southerly by the new road, and westerly by the road leading from Newington Meeting-house to Greenland; the other piece is bounded northerly by said new road; easterly by land of R. L. Lane, southerly in land of heirs of Abigail Hutchinson now in the occupation of Charles Pickering, and westerly by said road to Greenland. The whole containing about seventy acres, more or less. That in his opinion it would be for the interest of said estate that the same should be sold and the proceeds of said sale invested in some safe manner as will be most for the interest of said estate for said minor child and your Honor shall direct. Wherefore he prays that he may be authorized to sell such real estate and invest the proceeds of such sale according to the statute in such case made and provided.

SAMUEL C. PERKINS, Trustee.

By his Attorney, WILLIAM H. HACKETT.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

Probate Court at Portsmouth in said County, March 20, A. D. 1877.

UPON the foregoing Petition, it is Ordered, that a hearing be had thereon at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, on the Second Tuesday of May next; and that the Petitioner notify all persons concerned to appear at said Court, and show cause, if any they have, why the prayer of said petition should not be granted, by causing said petition and this order to be published three weeks successively in the Daily Morning Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth, in said County, the first publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,

WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL

—IN THE—

UNITED STATES.

No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y

SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,

SUCCESSOR TO

Dr. TELLER,

DECEASED.

The above named private Medical Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 12 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

Ladies will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life are hereby assured with perfect confidence of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—198 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms: Single copies, $2.50 in advance; ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical one-idea and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a comprehensive variety of information and suggestions, equal or a peer in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, in introducing and disseminating the best stock of every kind through the country; and commends to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly gives in a column or two for the Housewife, another interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 3 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and are so free from pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 23, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 8th, since you February 22d or their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but am I not gaining in strength, I have faith I shall get well this fall or this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them, direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad he could not lift his hand to his head or go any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not know I should, and he has not been free from the Rheumatism or Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the good news of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to be.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and spent hundreds of dollars. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for twelve years, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; my only chance was to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Mr. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed pl ase find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel sulphur springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves to everybody who take them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. F. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative . . could prescribe, after . dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medi ca could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the busy trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Bachman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine; is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. Rutlemall, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself peculiarly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $8; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and the progress of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that teaches a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication in the world. It is the only paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings, of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science throughout the world.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand Patents have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a 70-page pamphlet of cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that on its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is also learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.
AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF
POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and of the present period will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to prove to be a popular and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, promise a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those of a descriptive or travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of the many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this leading fiction writer will need no recommendation; his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, and will continue through the year, and will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

by P. of. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from a personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

TRIBUNE.
The Leading American Newspaper.

Largest Circulation
AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the whole truth.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and most impartial information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their respective duties.

III.—THIS ASPIRATION HAS ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It has quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes and all States, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including a carefully-selected story every week, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprises and the most intelligent of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the honest and intelligent endeavors of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and continues to receive from old and new readers words of encouragement.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it furnishes a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages in a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its page it represents such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, R. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, J. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished, while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer. For 10 cents, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one of the other leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, put in his command all the whole situation.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: the numbers for Nov. and Dec. of current issue, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply, or so conveniently through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Democratic Intolerance.

It has been remarked that a very strange fact has been developed by the vote on the Constitutional Amendments. Democratic towns, that have been democratic since the flood, voted by large majorities against the proposition to abolish the Protestant qualification of members of the legislature, and thus put all sects on an equal footing. This fact appears all the stranger because the democratic party has represented for twenty years that it is the particular friend of the adopted voter, and that the republican party is his particular enemy. This the republican party has repeatedly and justly denied, but in spite of the denial the adopted voters, and especially the Irish Catholics, have almost unanimously carried the democratic ticket, and won every democratic victory that has been won in the State, and in every city of the State. For their votes, what has the democratic party given in return? For keeping that party alive when the breath was ready to leave it, what have the Irish Catholics gained? When the test question came, how has the democratic party redeemed its unctuous professions. "Taxation without representation is tyranny." That was the test. If Catholics by the Constitution are ineligible to seats in the legislature, as they have been in this State for eighty and more years, then there can be no justice in taxing them? What is the democratic record on this question?

Look at it. We have the record in more than fifty towns, all democratic, and all voted to perpetuate this unjust and odious discrimination against Catholics. Rye, Middleton, New Durham, Strafford, North Hampton, Raymond, Barnstead, Wolfeborough, Danbury, Epsom, Pittsfield, Wilmot, Hillsborough, Marlow, Swanzey, Sunapee, Alexandria, Franconia, Grafton, Hebron, Plymouth, Thornton, Wentworth, Woodstock, Carroll, Pittsburg and Randolph, are strong democratic towns, and all gave a majority in the negative. Many other democratic towns failed to ratify, and among them were Greenland, Seabrook, Sanbornton, Tilton, Conway, Effingham, Bow, Bradford, London, Salisbury, Brookline, Deering, and Greenfield. Of course some republican towns failed to ratify, but that does not disturb the evident fact that the Catholics of this State owe the abolition of the religious test to the votes of the republican party. We should think that this fact would compel every adopted voter to ask himself the question, "What am I voting with the democratic party for? I have been fooled long enough. Hereafter I propose to vote with a party that votes as it professes."—Nashua Telegraph.

Dangerous Discovery in Photography.

Photographers are certainly very clever people. The most recent feat that they seem to have successfully accomplished is the reproduction of the blue notes of the Bank of France and the red ones of some of the Scotch banks. Both red and blue have for a long time past been deemed sufficient to baffle such professors of the black art as strive to compete with Government and bankers in the production of these valuable document. The National Bank at Vienna has, however, it appears, lately been much troubled with forgeries of the familiar cobalt-blue notes of the French, while from Scotland we hear of genuine and imitation notes being pinned together; so like one another as to deceive all but the most experienced. The colors are not, of course, reproduced by the camera as they appear to the eye, for the supposed safety in the employment of blue and red upon bank notes was that the former comes out very light in a photograph, and the latter very dark. Science has, however, recently shown that the effect of color upon a sensitive plate may be increased and diminished at will. A German chemist has plainly demonstrated that by tinting the collodion used in taking a picture, or by employing glass plates of different colors, objects may be vividly photographed, which under ordinary circumstances would be only faintly depicted. At the Bank of France, strange to say, whose notes have been so freely copied, there is a photographic establishment where a good deal of useful work is done in the way of discovering forgeries, the sharp eye of the camera being a most searching detective. The slightest erasure upon the surface of a cheque, or the alteration of a figure, which is imperceptible to the eye, is at once made apparent by photography. Color, it would seem, is, after all, but very little protection, for the English bank note is, now-a days, very rarely imitated; and the same may be said of the German paper money, which is printed in black and white. A combination of colors, laid one over another, has been suggested, and would probably render the difficulty of copying by means of the camera almost insuperable; but it certainly behooves us, in these days of experiment and discovery, to be very careful in our estimates of the impossible.

How the Vassar Girls Amuse Themselves.

They have a unique custom at Vassar, and withal a very good one for those times, when it is so much harder to get cash than to spend it. It is a custom, too, which should be brought to the notice of the students in political economy, for it creates a money value in what has heretofore not had a dollar and cent value. It is stated thus: If a "fair Vassarite" has a young gentleman visitor on "Phil" day or founder's day, it seems to be generally known beforehand. As he walks up to or about the college he is at once made the cynosure of many eyes. The lady who has the good fortune to be visited disposes of the innocent subject, and she meets the girls, and the unfortunate youth is sold by auction; yes, put up, struck off, sold by the hour, to the highest bidder! If he is good looking, stylish, distingue, the bids run high, the excitement is intense, and the profits enormous. In this way he is disposed of for the evening, and the fair one realizes a handsome sum, enough to supply her with creams and pin money for a fortnight at least. If he does not possess these charming attributes the bidding is languid, and not much is realized. Such is the custom as related by one of the traffickers.

Daily Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 4, 1877.

Another Ocean Horror.

Schooner Addie Todd, Capt. Corson, arrived at Boston on Monday, from Surinam March 11th. On Tuesday of last week, March 27th, at six o'clock A. M., while steering a course of the wind blowing heavily and sea running high, the Addie Todd passed close by a wreck and saw two men upon it; could not then render any assistance, but hove to at once, and after o'clock the weather moderated so that the schooner could beat back to the wreck, which was reached at 11:30, at which time but man remained. As a boat could not be used the Addie Todd was worked near enough to throw a line, which the castaway failed to catch; but the gallant rescuers repeated the perilous maneuvre of putting their vessel within heaving distance of the wreck five times, and at two o'clock, P. M., the only survivor of the wreck was drawn on board. He proved to be William Maguire, the only man left of the company of brig Roanoke, Capt. Wilkey, of Kingston, Jamaica, which left Philadelphia for Porto Cabello on the 16th of March, with a crew of nine man, and three passengers, Mr. and Mrs. Dallett and a Spanish gentleman. Maguire's account of the disaster is as follows:

"At two P. M., on Sunday, March 18, we left the Delaware and had fine weather till Monday afternoon, when a westerly gale sprung up. We shortened sail till, at 12 o'clock, the vessel was running under a stormtrysail, mainstaysail, foretopsail and foretopmast staysail. At 12:30 she broached to and shipped a heavy sea, filling the decks full. Failing to get the vessel before the wind, we cut away the mainmast, which fell athwart the deck, breaking the cabin deck. We then cut away the foremast. The seas were now making a clean breach over the vessel, and washed away the forward house and the booby hatches, filling her full of water and leaving her unmanageable. All hands had to take refuge aft on the quarter deck, the sea making a clean breach over her. On Tuesday, the 19th, it was blowing a gale from the southward. At day we saw a sail, and at 9 A. M., a two-masted schooner saw us and ran down toward us. We made signals to her to lay by us, but she continued on her course and left us. At this time the wind was moderating, and in the afternoon it was fine and the wind had gone down considerably. Had the schooner laid by us she would have saved all hands. We got a little preserved food that day, and some lager beer. We had a fine night. Wednesday, the 20th, we had a fine day. A barque passed to leeward of us, but did not see us. In the evening a gale sprung up from the northwest and there was a heavy sea. Thursday, the 21st, came in with a heavy gale from the northwest, the seas breaking over the vessel clean fore and aft, causing her to begin to break up. The captain wished to take to the boat, but was persuaded not to. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Dallett shook hands with the captain and mate, bid all hands good-bye, and said they hoped they would meet in heaven. Mr. Dallett then took his wife's waterproof and twisted it around her head; they embraced and drowned themselves, and were locked fast when the sea drifted them off. The Spanish gentleman then said his prayers and wrapped a quilt around his head and then drowned himself. Soon after this a heavy sea carried away the after-deck. The captain, steward, one sailor and a boy drifted away on it. The stern went next, and the mate and second mate went away with it. The mate drowned alongside; the second mate was on it when last seen. There were now two men with myself left. Everything was gone, down to the lower deck. We were lashed to the stump of the mainmast. A brig passed close to us, but dip not take any notice of us. We got some tallow to eat, but we suffered very much from thirst. It blew a gale all night. Friday it was still blowing a gale. In the morning we saw a barque about a mile away, but she did not take any notice of us. In the afternoon it moderated and we got some tallow to eat, but our thirst was fearful. Saturday was a fine day. We saw a square-rigged vessel to leeward. Got some crabs and a tin of sardines, but no water. Sunday it was blowing a gale from the southeast. One man went crazy with thirst and drowned himself. Got a candle to eat, but our thirst was fearful. Monday it was still blowing a gale from the southeast, with rain, but the sea was breaking so that we could not get it fresh. Tuesday it was still blowing a gale from the southeast. At daylight saw this schooner (the Addie Todd,) and waved a pair of drawers, which she saw; but it blew too hard for her to assist us, so she hove to and waited till the gale lulled, and then beat back. After trying five times, I caught a line and was hauled on board. The other man went crazy when the schooner was lying to to get us, and drowned himself."

—It is not right, but the man with the least mind has the greatest trouble in making it up.

News and Notes.

On Wednesday evening last a sad drowning accident, caused by the freshet, occurred at Kenduskeag, Me., under the following circumstances: Mr. Miles of that place, accompanied by Allen Darlin, and his son Warren Darlin, were returning from Bangor with provisions for their families, and crossed the bridge, but on entering the road on the other side the team and men were swept down stream by the rush of water which overflowed the road. The horses and wagon were seen several times as they were swept down the stream. The Darlins were saved, the older man by the boy, sixteen years old, who seized him by the hair as he was going down the third time. Mr. Miles leaves a wife and two children. The men had just returned from the woods, and the loss of the provisions, etc., is quite a heavy one for them. The body of Mr. Miles was found Friday.

Bismarck has requested and received a year's furlough, which is considered as equivalent to his retirement from active political life.

George D. McKenna, aged six years, was run over by a hack on Saturday at Lewiston, and had several ribs broken. He died on Monday.

Mining is being enthusiastically talked up at Newburyport, and there is hope that every one of the fifty or more shafts will begin to make some return for money expended.

Julia Doyle of Oswego, N. Y., attempted to commit suicide Saturday by jumping into the canal. After she had plunged in she changed her mind, and, being a good swimmer, struck out for the shore and was rescued. She is 16 years old, and attempted to commit suicide rather than continue a life of shame.

Neil Dougherty and John Campbell, for complicity in the Langdon murder at Audenried, Penn., in 1862, have been sentenced to solitary confinement in the penitentiary for five and nine years respectively. James Laughlin, James Lehman and Michael Colgan, for participating in the Boskill murder at Locustdale, were each sentenced to six years' solitary confinement. All the prisoners except Colgan were Molly Maguires.

Secretary Sherman has inaugurated a whiskey war by ordering that the prosecution begun against crooked whiskey distillers be continued, and new ones vigorously sustained against illicit distillers in the West.

The California so-called Labor Union is to be dissolved, owing to the popular indignation aroused by the Chico massacre.

Thomas Pringle, aged 50 years, hanged himself in Tewksbury, Mass., Monday morning.

There is now no doubt that the man "Sutcliffe" is Oakey Hall; he is accompanied by a woman who passes as his wife.

William Campbell, paper manufacturer, who had brought a suit for divorce against his wife, was horsewhipped by her in Central Park, New York, on Saturday, where they were driving fast horses in separate vehicles. She accused him of calling her names, which he denies. She gave a bond in $300 to keep the peace.

Political.

Before Andrew Jackson's reign a Government appointment was considered a position to be held during good behavior, the permanence of an office being considered the strongest inducement to the faithful discharge of its duties. Under Jackson the system of political rewards and punishments was established, and has remained the curse of the civil service ever since. It was carried so far that a general "rotation" was demanded even when there was no change in the politics of the administration. Van Buren worked out regiments of Jackson office-holders who were as good democrats as their successors, the only offense lying against the old lot being that they had their share of the public money, and must give way every four years to others with keener appetites. This theory of "rotation" established, every place-holder was strongly moved and tempted to "skin the farm while he held the lease," and make the most of his present opportunities. This offered a reward for peculation and an excuse for the increase of the income of an office by creating perquisites. Life is short.—Washington Republican.

Municipal politics have been pretty well muddled in St. Louis, Mo. The democrats renominated the old Mayor, Henry Overstolz, and the nomination was approved by the Republican Central Committee. Some dissatisfied republicans, however, met and nominated Nathaniel C. Hudson for Mayor, and their action was endorsed by some bolting democrats. Mr. Overstolz had the support of the Republican (Ind.) and the Journal (Rep.) while the Globe-Democrat (Rep.) and the Times (Dem.) supported Mr. Hudson. The election took place Tuesday.

The Connecticut legislature, which has just adjourned, was republican, with a democratic Governor. A new registry law was passed, over the governor's veto, which will do something, it is expected, to stop the illegal voting of tramps and bummers in Connecticut which has become an intolerable evil. The legal rate of interest was fixed at six per cent.; the salaries of all State employes, except judges of the higher courts, was reduced ten per cent.; and husband and wife were put on an equality as to property rights. Two important commissions were appointed, one to investigate life insurance companies, and another to examine into State expenses, with a view to reduction. A law was also passed authorizing the refounding of six per cent. State bonds in five per cents.

It is stated that Humphreys, turned out of his position as agent for the Southern Express Company at Pensacola, Fla., for being a republican elector, will be made Collector of Customs at Pensacola.

New Hampshire Items.

Rev. John Le Bosquet will soon conclude his pastorate at Lempster.

Mr. J. M. Kellock of North Conway, while returning home late Sunday night, was waylaid by two tramps. One of them struck Kellock, after which Kellock struck him, knocking him down, whereupon the other drew a knife, stabbing Kellock in the left breast. The ruffians then fled.

The Chairman of the Board of Selectmen of Loudon states that when a settlement was made with A. H. Batchelder, the alleged defaulting Town Treasurer, his accounts showed a balance due the town of $1550; that in settlement Mr. Batchelder gave the town his note, endorsed by W. K. Holt, for that amount, which was entirely satisfactory to the Selectmen.

William F. Harmon's store at Great Falls was broken into on Saturday night, and robbed of about $100 worth of tobacco, pipes, etc. To a lie the third store broken into within two weeks.

A YOUNG CASTAWAY.

On Sunday last Mr. Henry Hunnifield, who lives at the South End of this city, started on a fishing trip to the Shoals in his whaleboat, towing a dory astern, and having his son Willie, ten years old, as a companion. He set his trawls Sunday afternoon, and remained at the Shoals all night; and on Monday started to haul the trawls in his dory, having anchored his big boat near Anderson's rock, leaving the boy in her. While drawing his trawls the weather shut in thick; having a long string of line he was a good while getting it, and then (being near sighted and the fog heavy) was unable to discern either the anchored boat or the islands; and having about nine cwt. of fish and all his gear on board, and knowing there was a strong current setting to the westward, he deemed it advisable to pull for the main land, and arrived at Newburyport at four o'clock Tuesday morning. At the earliest possible moment he telegraphed an account of the situation to his wife, and a fishing schooner, the "Puritan," manned with a willing crew, at once started out to the Shoals in search of the boy; but luckily for him—for his comfort, at least—he managed Monday evening to hail a Norwegian who lives at the Shoals and who was out setting his trawls, and who took the boat and the young sailor safe into the Shoals with him. The little fellow was kindly cared for by Mr. Ingebredsen's family, and on Tuesday noon was restored to his anxious mother, not a bit the worse for his adventure.

THE MOTHERS' TEA PARTY.

The third Mothers' Tea Party was held at Faith Home on Monday evening, when a goodly number of poor and destitute mothers sat down to a bountiful repast. Such a luxury probably some of them never before enjoyed, and could the noble givers who so generously contributed the food and fruit which loaded down the tables, have been present, they no doubt would have realized the truth of the saying that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

Supper being ended they adjourned to the Chapel Room, where an intellectual feast completed the programme of the evening. Miss Hutchings, the "blind lady," read from the Bible of raised letters. Misses Flanders and Ham and Messrs. Jerome C. Butler and Collier sang with their accustomed sweetness of tone and richness of expression; several choice solos and songs were given. Mr. Loyne, John S. Rand, Esq., Rev. Mr. Hubbel, and Mrs. Fitzgerald, of Maine, spoke eloquently. Miss Edgerly presided at the melodeon with her usual skill and taste. In behalf of the poor mothers who were present we would render sincere thanks to all who in any manner contributed towards their enjoyment. COM.

POLICE COURT.

Annie Flynn returned to this city on Monday from a visit to the Brentwood hotel, and celebrated her return by getting drunk. She was brought before the Court Tuesday morning, received a permit to lodge at the Brentwood establishment for two months longer, and to earn $6.90 after the two months are expired.

FIRE COMPANY OFFICERS.

At the regular monthly meeting of Sagamore S. F. E. Co., No. 2, held April 2d, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Foreman, Frank E Osgood; 1st Assistant Foreman, John D. Randall; Clerk, Herman Manson; Steward, Francis H. Hersey.

At the regular monthly meeting of Kearsarge S. F. E. Co., No. 3, held April 2d, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Foreman, Ira C. Seymour; 1st Assistant Foreman, John E. Hirmon; 2d Assistant Foreman, Charles N. Merrill; Clerk, Fred P. Folsom; Steward, Charles A. Twombly; Pipeman, Rich. D. Smart, Jr.

Moses H. Goodrich S. F. E. Co., No. 4, have elected the following officers for the ensuing year: J. Frank Shannon, Foreman; John S. Banks, First Assistant; W. E. Pinder, Second Assistant; George F. Pinder, Pipeman; W. G. Rand, Clerk; Augustus Ham, Steward; W. G. Rand, C. H. Foote, G. F. Pinder, Finance and Standing Committee.

Hook and Ladder Co.: Foreman, John S. Rand; Assistant, Wm. H. Donerson; Clerk, Samuel S. Fletcher; Steward, Thomas Prior.

Extinguisher No. 5: Foreman, Elbridge Prior; Assistant, Orrin Griffin; Clerk, Albert C. Anderson; Steward, John W. Dame.

Extinguisher No. 6: Foreman, John Moore; Assistant, Walter Chesley; Clerk, Richard Waldron; Steward, George Stringer.

JOTTINGS.

Government refuses to deliver the "Sabine" to the Boston parties who bid $19,250 for her at the recent sale. The "Susquehanna" and other vessels were withdrawn from sale, the government having received proof that an extensive and powerful ring of speculators had been formed to get possession of the vessels at a price much below their value, and possibly the "Sabine's" purchasers may be in that same ring. The price offered for the "Sabine" is certainly much less than her real value.

The "Good Natured Man" at Franklin Hall to-night,—a chance to see whether Portsmouth has talent enough to creditably enact a standard comedy. Those who have seen the rehearsals say the piece is finely acted. Tickets at Foster's.

The following petit jurors from Ward One have been drawn to serve at the April term of the Supreme Court at Exeter: Daniel Mason 2d, John K. Simpson, Leonidas F. Rand.

The wreck of ship Frank Jones was sold at auction in San Francisco on Monday, for $4750. The hull was deeply embedded in the sand, and the bottom stove in; and there was no hope of its removal.

Schooner Flying Fish, before reported on Newburyport bar, went to pieces in about three hours after she struck, and not a particle of her was visible from the shore. The Queen of the Bay sunk and on Monday was lying broadside on, with her sails still set. She will undoubtedly prove a total loss. The Flying Fish was 17 50-100 tons burthen, built in East Boston in 1865, and was owned by C. W. Thurlow, Andrew Roaf and others, and with her outfits was valued at $1200; no insurance. The Queen of the Bay was 18 58-100 tons burthen, built at Duxbury in 1867, and was owned by Capt. Samuel Short, M. B. Jackman and L. D. Ross, and with her outfits was valued at $1800, upon which there was no insurance. Her sails will probably be saved, and the hull will undoubtedly be a total loss. The loss of these two vessels comes hard upon the crews, who lose their trawls and everything but what they stood in.

Caleb Moulton, of Hampstead, N. H., is a type of the prohibition cat whom Frank Jones used to haul out hot chestnuts for democracy and the glorious cause of Portsmouth beer. Moulton was a member of the Republican Congressional Convention which nominated Gen. Marston, but, afterwards, became himself a prohibition candidate for representative to Congress and drew away votes enough, it appears, to take the election from Marston and give it to Jones. Moulton, after taking part in the republican district convention, nominated himself as a candidate. It seems to be reserved to the so-called "prohibition element" in New Hampshire to supply the meanest workers for free rum of which recent politics have given us information.—Lawrence (Mass.) American.

Mr. Caleb R. Ayer, for several years a conductor on the Eastern Railroad, resigned his position Monday. He had run for the last few years between Boston and Salem, was very popular with passengers, and a faithful servant of the company. Mr. Newell Webster has been appointed to fill Mr. Ayer's place.

Rev. Caroline E. Angell, late pastor of the Universalist church in Kittery, is to supply at Pittsfield, Maine.

We are informed that Sheriff Kent and Deputy Sheriff John W. Smart, of Newmarket, on Tuesday raided on T. Maguire & Co. of Newmarket and Bunker's Hotel at Epping, and finding liquor and implements of sale at both places, took all three of the parties into custody.

RYE.

RYE, April 3d.

When the hour of 2 A. M. arrives, and finds staid and respectable citizens of both sexes out of bed, it is certain that something unusual is going on—and that was just the case last night, in the Town Hall, the occasion being a "Promenade Concert" by the Rye Cornet Band, to which over one hundred tickets were issued, and a large number of those who were fortunate enough to be the recipients thereof were in attendance, notwithstanding the inclement weather—and more than repaid were one and all, for venturing out and having to go home at the "wee sma' hours" in a drenching rain. The Band are entitled to a great deal of credit for getting up, and carrying out so successfully, such an entertainment; and their guests were so delighted with it that they only wish they could have an opportunity of going again before bidding adieu to the series of entertainments with which we have been favored,—but the "spring time approaches," the blue birds and robins are sounding their notes, and remind us that work has got to be done. Besides the promenading, grand marches, etc., plays—such as some of us had not seen, or indulged in for many a year,—were introduced; and it seemed like renewing our youth, to kiss the girls as we used to do,—and it looked just as though the girls liked it just as well as girls did when we were young. A bountiful entertainment was also provided, and after the inner man was satisfied, the following toasts were read and responded to, in the order named: "Our Local Reporters," W. C. Walker; "Music, Mirth and Song," G. H. Jenness; "Our invited guests," E. B. Philbrick, Esq.; "The ladies," John E. Leavitt. Previous to this the 33d chapter of the second book of Chronicles" was read by E. B. Philbrick, which proved to be a well prepared sketch of the band's career since its organization. After spending an hour at the tables, the fun continued in the hall, and finally concluded by a couple of quadrilles which gave the old folks present another opportunity of renewing their youth by "tripping on the light fantastic" just as they did twenty years before. NAT.

A comical incident took place in this town at the recent election. While our valiant town police were engaged in rallying to the polls voters for Jones and Marcy, they of course paid no attention to the lockup in the basement of the Town Hall; this was left open, and one of our democratic citizens strayed into it to examine the premises,—and while looking around one of the cells was locked into the same by some mischievous boys, and kept in durance vile for several hours, when he was released, but too late to vote! He now vows he will never go to town meeting again so long as that villainous lock-up is in existence.

I have seen it stated that no republican can get elected to office in Rye, but this is a mistake; Mr. John O. Foss, a republican, has been elected Collector for several years past, and was re-elected this year by a large majority; and John D. Marston, Esq., also a republican, is one of the School Committee.

The most badly defeated candidate in the State at the late election was a democrat of this town, who was a candidate for the office of Surveyor of Highways; but on election day he did not get a single vote, and is now disgusted with his party. REST.

—A great sensation was caused at Wolverhampton, England, a few days ago, during a largely attended funeral of a young man. As the mourners were leaving the grave, a local inn-keeper went up and emptied a bottle of brandy upon the coffin, saying that as he loved the liquor in life he should have it in death. It was an odd notion to bury both body and spirit.

Deal Gently with the Stomach.

Don't rack it with violent purgatives, or permanently impair its tone with indiscreetly drastic drugs of any kind; but, if your digestion is impaired, your liver out of order, your frame debilitated, or nervous system unstrung, use that wholesome and agreeable alterative and tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which will certainly afford you the desired relief. None of the chemical remedies can compare with it a restorative efficacy, and as a medicinal stimulant it is by far the most desirable as well as popular article of its class. Its basis, the essential principle of sound rye, is the best possible agent for hastening the action of the botanic ingredients which it holds in solution, and these ingredients are the most efficacious which chemistry extracts from the vegetable kingdom, and medical science applies to the cure of disease.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the purities of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If in need, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!

Time-Proof Teeth.

The teeth may be rendered time-proof by brushing them daily with Swediaur. No tartar can encrust them, no canker effect the enamel, no species of decay infest the dental bone, if this pure and delicious dentifrice is faithfully used to the exclusion of every other preparation.

Mutilated furniture is made perfect with Spalding's Glue.

Let that cough continue and die of consumption, or pay 25 cents and be cured by Adamson's Botanic Balsam. Free sample bottle at the druggists'. Large bottles 75 cents.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, is becoming more popular every day since its reduction from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Army and Navy officers make their headquarters at the Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia. So do leading business men of all sections, while for families and large parties of travellers, it also offers unequalled attractions.

BELMONT, MASS., Feb. 17, 1877.

I have used the Little Giant Pills for bilious headache with the most satisfactory results. They are particularly beneficial for sickness peculiar to females. I am acquainted in a great many families in Cambridge and Belmont where this medicine is used and is known to be a never failing relief.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for Dr. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the Worst CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will Cure a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it effects this scene almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual by than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.*

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it. WM. M. LADD, M. D.

Narrow Escape.

James Hancock, foreman of the repair gang of the Springfield city water works and brother of Superintendent Hancock, had a narrow escape from a horrible death at Ludlow Saturday. The 24-inch pipe leading from the great reservoir to the higher brook, has for some time needed repairs, and a coffer dam having been built to shut off the water, Mr. Hancock crawled into the pipe at the reservoir end, intending to go through its entire length to ascertain precisely what repairs were necessary. After getting about a quarter of a mile he found that a section of pipe, having sunk somewhat in quicksand, had not emptied itself, and that it would be impossible to crawl through to the higher brook end without danger of drowning. Of course he could not turn about, and he had no other alternative than to back out—a very slow, tedious and painful process. It was intensely cold inside the pipe, and he soon became benumbed, and so announced in a feeble voice to the men at either end, who were listening, and were becoming extremely anxious for his welfare. Meantime the coffer dam was leaking badly, and the men had to work with all their might at the pumps to prevent the water from flooding and drowning Mr. Hancock. The danger became so great that a cartload of sawdust was dumped behind the dam and bags of sand were thrown in to stop the leak. After a while Hancock became so much exhausted as to be unable to speak in reply to the shouted inquiries as to his progress. Hour after hour passed and a large number of persons gathered, expecting that the man would never be got from the pipe alive. Finally, after an imprisonment of five and a half hours, he backed out alive, yet trembling and nearly dead.—Globe.

—The modern dam-builders is a far more interesting subject to most people, just now, than the ancients mound-builders. It may be said, however, that the latter were the better architects.

—An Irishman who thought he must conform to the fashionable mania of paying a visit to the Falls of Niagara, arrived at the Falls, and on taking a look at the surrounding wonders addressed himself to a gentleman with—"And is this Niagara Fall?" "Yes," was the reply. "And what is there here to make such a bother about?" asked Pat. "Why," said the gentleman, "do you not see that mighty river, the deep abyss, the great sheet of water pouring down?" Pat looked at the water, and replied, hesitatingly, "An' what's to hinder it?"

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
— IN THE —
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Liepegard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing and hearing thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

Ladies will find rooms provided for their especial accom modation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their objects, thus depriving them-lves of the pleasures of marriage life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates,—Price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All orders must be addressed to

Dr. S. Y. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Sciatica, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the root of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agents, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 3 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three yet Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels have suffered all the pain I could endure and have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 21, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 26th, (the whole you February) 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship in the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 1, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving testimony, and you send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Individual him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and teeth. I have tried a great many remedies by physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I saw a tried many patent medicines with the same result. I heard of your Magic Pills and tried all the time for eight or ten weeks, and have been away, using and visiting medical springs, and I am delighted to report immediately. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The physicians here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Kindly please find three dollars, send packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Scerre Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LAGONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend them wherever they go. I shall recommend these Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative it could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Lobelia Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
The ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The 8 ld of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.
A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.
Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A. Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.
With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it endeavors itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.
Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.
TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.
The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.
Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that imparts a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in such a way as to render it a paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings, of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries, containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all the Mechanical Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science throughout the world.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the Largest, Cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Mechanics, Farmers, Manufacturers, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be ordered of Newsdealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 112 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are other corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, a record which the past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to keep up the unincreased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially illustrative and descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no commendation, while its reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which, being the first December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

by P. of. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel and

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PARIS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

For Sale by all Book and Newsdealers.

TRIBUNE.

The Leading American Newspaper.

Largest Circulation

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the full and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never be other than the Republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes and to the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable inaugural address.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Current Discussions, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE is the one paper among 2,000,000 farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS OF THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations received daily and weekly or almost every article sought and sold in the markets of the world, and authentic information of probable country. Its Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprises and interests of all parts of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the enterprise and the consistent course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to a short point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long ago attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the gold-in hue of morning first settled around its latest and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which give it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations of the best kind, and revived the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness also essays, reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages it represents such eminent authors as Prof. Max Müller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances E. Cooke, the Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Anthony Trollope, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price, $8 a year, is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers believe it will one get offer, viz.: to one postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be able to command the best of reading.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George Macdonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend its perpetual to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. LINES TO MY LAWYER.

[William A. Carroll in the Graphic.]

"Oh, where art thou gone, Oakey Hall? Oh, where art thou gone, charming Oakey?"
"I have gone to Brooklyn
And a sium I have got in
With some people I consider rather pokey."

"Oh, where hast thou skipped, Oakey Hall, Oakey Hall?
Oh, where art thou fled, jolly Oakey?"
"I have sailed to Englan,
And a partnership have planned,
In a city that is vi laimously smoky."

"Ah, tell thy fre-hend, Oakey Hall, Oakey Hall, Ah, tell me true, frisky Oakey;"
"Well, I'm on a Yankee string
Up in beany Boston,
Where the natives sweat by Halifax and Hokey."

"Oh, don't prevaricate, Oakey Ha l, Oakey Hall, Ah, do not equivocate, candid Oakey."
"Well—I'm up in Quebec
Holding sweetey boy in check
Till I hear his credibility is broky."

"Oh, did you suicide, Oakey Hall, Oakey Hall, Oh did you suicide, gamesome Oakey?"
"Oh, yes, I've had a die
As reported—on the sly—
A great relief from Blackeystone and Cokey."

"Oh, have you gone abroad, Oakey Hall, Oakey Hall, Oh, have you crossed the sea, strolling Oakey?"
"Not much! I'm feeling gay,
Down in Fort-orday,
And I'm fishing in Lake Ontskenoke."

"Oh, where are you now, Oakey Hall, Oakey Hall, Oh where be you now, truant Oakey?"
"Oh, I'm now in Japan
And I'm quite another man,
For I'm surfeited with Hyson Skin and Tokay."

"Oh, dost ev joy the trip, Oakey Hall, Oakey Hall
As far as thou hast got, roving Oakey?"
"Yes, the Chinamen I see
Are a queue-riosi tea!
Observe the pun? You know I'm always joke-y."

Pea Culture.

Peas require a cool, rich, deep soil to attain anything like a good, abundant crop. In preparing the soil thereof for the crop, it is necessary to manure well and thoroughly pulverize to a good depth. Often the cause of mildew making such havoc on the vines, is poor soil, which very soon dries and weakens their constitution leaving them in good condition for an attack from these pests. On no kind of plant, when in a good, healthy, vigorous condition, is mildew so liable to break out as when it is in a weak and unhealthy state.

Where a regular succession of vegetables is kept, a good place to grow peas is where the celery grew the previous year. In accomplishing this, it is best to grow the celery in single lines in the ridges, having a row of peas between. The year following, plant the peas where the celery grew, and plant spinach between the rows of peas; therefore, by the time the celery requires to be planted, the peas are generally past; but if not, the trenches for it can be made without injuring the roots of peas they being planted the same distance as the celery, which allows the trenches for it to come right between the rows. Where considerable manure has been used for the celery—and a good manuring for it is not exhausted, and entices the roots of the peas well down, where they are not apt to feel the effects of the warm weather.

I have adopted this plan for peas for several years, and find very good success attends the method. From the same piece of ground we can get three crops—peas, spinach and celery—in the same year. Some folks would be apt to think five feet too far apart in the rows for peas—for some kinds at any rate. I find that more peas can be picked from a piece of ground where plenty of room is given them than from a piece the same size where they have been crowded in the rows.

Considerable difference of opinion exist about the depth peas should be put into the ground; some people setting down a certain depth for all, without thinking there is a great difference of soils, and that, according to the looseness of the soil depends the depth they should be planted. In loose, dry soils, peas should be covered about six inches, and if very dry when planted, well trodden after the soil is put on them. In more retentive soils they do not require to be planted so deep, nor is it necessary to crowd them so much by treading. A little judgment and common sense are necessary with this as well as with everything else connected with the garden.

Peas should be planted as soon as the ground can be comfortably worked, and successions kept up until the warm weather sets in, as under the best care they can not be profitably grown during the heat of summer.—Cor. Country Gentleman.

Whiskey Punches.

The Moffett Whiskey Bill, to collect the tax on whiskey by means of an instrument something like a car bell-punch, will go into operation at once in Virginia. The punch will be put up in every bar-room. The tax on lager per drink is half a cent and alcoholic liquors two and one-half cents. The Richmond Enquirer gives the following description of the contrivance for registering drinks proposed for use in the bar-rooms of that State: "The device consists of a wooden box about twelve inches long, eight inches wide and six or eight inches in height, and resembling a large-sized coffee-mill. At one end there is a crank operating the wheels inside, and on one side three visible dials, identical with those used in gas-meters. One turn of the crank sounds a bell inside, and causes one movement of the indicator on the first dial. Every turn produces a similar effect until the indicator has made a complete revolution on its axis, when one is scored by the indicator on the next dial, and so on, as is meas-uring the consumption of gas. A glance at the dials will enable the observer to find out the maximum number of times the crank has been turned. The bill requires the register to be permanently fixed to the bar, counter, or other convenient place, and it is to be locked and sealed by the Commissioner of the Revenue, whose duty it will be to inspect it from time to time and keep it in running order. A heavy fine is imposed on any person who tampers in any way with this wonderful machine. If a drunken fellow should mistake the register for a hand organ, and attempt to grind a tune out of it, he will find that his fun will cost him dearly and also subject him to imprisonment. The inventor has contracted in writing that he "will make no charge against the State for the use of his device."

Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1877.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 24.

Judge Lawrence, ex-Governor Hawley and General Harlan, members of the Louisiana Commission are here waiting final instructions from Mr. Evarts. They have had many consultations with the President and members of the Cabinet and will proceed on their mission to-morrow, expecting to form a junction with the others on their arrival there. Although the public has no explicit information as to the method to be pursued, it is understood that their first effort will be directed towards members of the rival Legislatures who hold undisputed certificates of election, to induce them to unite in one body and to then determine the legally elected Governor. While the President and his Cabinet have been very reticent relative to the decision in the South Carolina matter, it is everywhere conceded that the troops are to be at once withdrawn from the State House and that Hampton will speedily bring suit to eject Chamberlain; and that he will be successful cannot be doubted as about all the Judges of the State Courts are said to have recognized him as the lawfully elected Governor. His stay here has given his friends and personal followers an opportunity to lionize him to the top of their bent. At almost any hour of the day or evening while he was a guest of Senator Gordon at Willard's, the street in front of that hotel was packed to the extent of an acre of two by a motley crowd of democrats and those of democratic preferences, with a goodly sprinkling of democratic republicans, and anti-Chamberlain men from personal reasons, all ready to cheer the slightest allusion to their hero. Old democrats who retired from the world on the downfall of the Confederacy and who had remained so long out of sight that their existence had become little more than a tradition, suddenly reappeared on this occasion, and they more than made up by the fervor of their welcome, their apparent loss of interest in public affairs in their twelve years of hermit life. The Governor accepted the homage offered him as though it was his by right. He seemed to have established himself on a very familiar footing at the White House and with several members of the Cabinet; and there is in circulation a mild report to the effect that a coalition between administration republicans and Hampton and other Southern democrats who have for many months been accused of holding rather slack allegiance to their party looking to the election of Garfield or Foster as Speaker of the next House, and to winning a majority of its members over to the support of the Administration. Of course such a rumor comes upon the orthodox members of democracy like a startling revelation and is quite as suggestive on the other hand, of a serious schism among the opposition; and it begins to dawn upon the minds of many that there is a good deal still concealed which when it is fully known will make certain recent negotiations a good deal more intelligible. Several half forgotten incidents of some months ago, in which Murat Halstead and other Liberals and certain Southern democrats were assigned a leading part and Mr. Hayes a central position are now recalled and invested with an importance that would have been laughed at four months ago. But we shall see what we shall see. I hope to be pardoned for devoting an entire letter to political matters; but with the new developments indicating a more or less complete rupture of old party lines, and the formation of new ones, the temptation cannot always be resisted. KNOX.

A Maligned Democratic Saint.

Peter B. Sweeny is a cool customer. He publishes a card denying pretty much all the reports which have been made about him and his case, and expresses a desire to submit himself to the "unprejudiced judgment" of his fellow citizens. He has no revelations to make, and fears none, and he does not propose to compromise any suits. He left New York, he says, without secrecy, there being no reason why he should not travel where he pleased. He had sought investigation of his "alleged relation to the matters involved by those who acted on behalf of the public authorities," whatever he may mean by that, and had failed without any fault of his own. And now he appeals to the justice of the press and public against the "ceaseless and injurious imputations" which have pursued him since his return! The Graphic considers Sweeny's card as the logical result of Tweed's disappearance, which defeats the proposed compromise and settlement of the city suits. It adds:

"It is now, we believe, an open secret that the reason why John Graham retired from his position as counsel for Tweed in the first trial of the latter is because he was prevented by his client and associate lawyers from making the plea which he desired to enter—that the real culprit was A. Oakey Hall. He thought he had abundance of evidence to prove this and clear Tweed, but he was peremptorily overruled."

News and Notes.

The Mr. and Mrs. Dallett who drowned themselves from the wreck of the brig Roanoke, rather than further face the horrors of the situation, were residents of Philadelphia. Mr. Dallett being the senior partner of the firm of G. & T. H. Dallett, soap manufacturers. The "Spanish gentleman" referred to, who also committed suicide by drowning, was a Venezuelan named Dominguez, who was returning to Laguayra.

There was a great crash in the New York Stock Exchange on Tuesday, Panama Railroad stock tumbling from 122 to 80, with no buyers at the latter figure; Pacific Mail fell to 12, having sold last week at 25. The cause of the panic was the failure of Trenor W. Park to meet his engagements. John Pondir, Park's broker, is said to have lost $500,000.

In Newburyport two boys, one twelve and the other fourteen years old, were so drunk Friday night that they were carried home to their parents.

A single tradesman in Cambridge has handed in a bill to the municipal authorities for $473 worth of inkstands, $176 worth of blotting pads, $93 worth of erasers, and many other articles in proportion. This bill covers purchases of stationary for only fifteen months.

Of late in Europe a sort of ball-dress has come into fashion, upon which a glittering gold and silver dust shines in beauty. The German Imperial Health Office has just examined into the matter and found that the shining of the robes is caused by small and sharp-pointed particles of copper and tin, which easily become separated from the material of the dress and are highly injurious to the skin, into which they work, and especially to the mucous membrane of the lungs, for the particles are often light enough to be inhaled. The Board of Health of Lubeck has just issued a strenuous warning to ladies on the subject.

A six-year-old youngster giving the name of John Pollard, was found strolling about Boston by a police officer on Tuesday, and when taken to the station represented that he had come from Westboro, where he had been confined in the Reform School for embezzling money from his employer. A despatch was sent to the Superintendent of the school, Colonel Tufts, who replied that such a boy had never been there and he knew nothing about him. As nothing further could be learned, the boy was taken to the Chardon Street Home. Has "Jimmy Blanchard" got adrift again?

Sarah L. B. Walker, a peddler of stencil plates, died at the Hughes House, in Phœnixville, Pa., on Sunday. She was in rags, but an examination disclosed nine bank books and documents showing that she was worth over $18,000, and belonged in Bridgeport, Conn.

The number of vessels belonging to, or bound to or from ports in the United States, reported totally lost or missing during the past month, is 44, of which 30 were wrecked, two abandoned, one sunk by collision, five foundered, and six are missing. They are classed as follows: two ships, three steamers, fourteen barques, six brigs, and nineteen schooners; and their total value, exclusive of cargoes, is estimated at $1,760,000.

A Washington special states that a report on naval finances made to Secretary Thompson shows that a million of dollars realized from the sale of the old navy yard at Philadelphia, were applied to the steam engineering and construction departments. No trace can be found of $310,000 drawn by Robeson a few days prior to his retirement, but it is supposed to have been paid to contractors. It is stated that Robeson made contracts just before his term expired amounting to $2,300,000 in the Construction Bureau, but the new Secretary has annulled them.

Bertha Van Hillern walked fifty miles in twelve hours, with five minutes and thirty-five seconds to spare, in Boston Music Hall, on the 3d inst.

Attorney-General Devens should feel obliged to Wendell Phillips for attacking him. It has been the means of showing up a record highly creditable to Mr. Devens. A gentleman of Boston, Mr. Charles Allen, writes to the Advertiser saying: "Gen. Devens also paid about one half the money for buying the freedom of Robert Wright, a fugitive slave living in Greenfield. This I know personally, as the money was paid to me." Mr. Phillips will have to try again.

A counter-revolution has broken out in Mexico against Diaz, and the return of Ex-President Lerdo is demanded. Diaz and his leading supporters quarrelled over the division of the stealings.

The glazing house of the powder mills at Santa Cruz, Cal., blew up Tuesday, killing one man and injuring several in the vicinity. There were about nine tons of powder in the mill, and the explosion did considerable minor damage in the town of Santa Cruz, two miles distant..

The Catholic church dignitaries in Canada do not propose to give up their rule in political matters without a struggle. The collective mandment of the Archbishop and the seven Bishops of the Roman Catholic Church of the Province of Quebec, which protests against the judgment of the Supreme Court on the Charlevoix election case, was published at Ottawa on Wednesday and created an immense sensation in Parliamentary circles. It will be remembered that the Supreme Court unseated Langevet, the member for Charlevoix, on the ground of priestly interference and intimidation during his election. In this mandment the Church has placed itself in direct conflict with the Supreme Court. Their action again revives the great question of the supremacy of Church and State in the Province of Quebec. The Premier has entered nine charges of libel against the Toronto Mail.

Judge Russell, late Minister to Venezuela, has returned full to the brim of grievances, and as he is rather a brisk little gentleman, the Department of State is likely to see a good deal of fun for a while. A bit of romance spices the quarrel. The chief of artillery of the Venezuela army, so it is stated, was betrothed to Miss Nellie Russell and the cruel tyrant who rules the country commanded the young officer to break off the engagement, or surrender his commission and forfeit his arrears of pay. Just as is always done in novels, the gallant young soldier gave up his commission and his money and the young couple were subsequently married at St. Thomas.

It is hardly possible that the proposed meeting of the coal companies for the purpose of patching up the broken combination will be successful. It continued long enough to nearly ruin the principal coal roads. The greed of anthracite simply committed suicide, and the fatal blow was the decline in its consumption. In contrast, the consumption of bituminous coal, which cannot be monopolized, has steadily and largely increased ever since the combination was formed, and it does not yet diminish because the owners of anthracite are continually threatening and trying to establish their monopoly again. Could they succeed, they would only reduce the consumption of anthracite still further by several million tons, and there is not one of the great companies which can earn interest on its debt if the consumption be thus curtailed.

A LONG TRAMP.

On Sunday there arrived in this city a married couple who had walked all the way from Ogdensburg, N. Y. The pair have not been long married; and the husband not being able to obtain employment in Ogdensburg, where his wife's parents reside, was told by them that he must look out for other quarters, though their daughter could still have a home under the paternal roof. This proposition the wife refused to accept, saying her home was with her husband wherever he might go; and as his parents had removed to this city the young couple sent their clothing on by express, and not having means to pay their fare on the railroads started on the journey on foot, travelling through Vermont and New Hampshire, walking every day for three weeks, and not riding any of the way. The husband (who is but eighteen years old) says his wife (who is only seventeen) stood the hardships of the tramp better than he did; though both were in good health and spirits at the end of their long walk. It is to be hoped the young man will be able to repay his wife's devotion by furnishing her with a comfortable home, and making it a happy one.

A BRACE OF DUCKS.

One of the young men of this city, who like many other young men of this city (and some of the older ones) has an absorbing interest in a young lady, in the early part of last week undertook to treat the fair damsel to a view of old ocean in an angry mood, and started for Rye Beach in a team for that purpose. All went well—very well indeed—until only one cross-road intervened between the expectant pair and the turbulent sea. But the heavy rains and high tide had overflowed the roads; and the horse, having strayed a little out of the track, (a habit horses have when drawing carriages containing young people who are much interested in each other,) suddenly hid away under the water, one wheel of the carriage abruptly settled down about three feet, and the young couple described a graceful parabola through the air and landed in a ditch about five feet deep. The young man scrambled out and quickly fished out his companion, and then using his knife liberally on the harness succeeded in freeing the horse from his dangerous situation; and then, having procured dry clothing from a neighboring house, with help to extricate the carriage and strings to repair the harness, the excursionists drove back to town without visiting the beach, their interest in water views having been very much dampened. It is said they pledged each other to secresy concerning their ride, but both told all about it as soon as they got back.

JOTTINGS.

The schooner J. P. Ames, wrecked at the Shoals in January last, and purchased and floated off by Portsmouth parties, came off the marine railway at Kittery on the 3d, having been thoroughly repaired; she will fit for coasting immediately. The British schooner Emma E. Potter, which came into this port in a damaged condition about the middle of March, with a load of salt, was taken on the railway as soon as the J. P. Ames was sent off; she will be thoroughly repaired, and receive new sails and rigging before sailing.

The expenses for repairs on school-houses in this city since January first, 1876, have been $4250.87, and all the bills are not in yet.

Lieutenant Commander George E. Wingate of this city has been detached from the Enterprise as executive officer and ordered to the Adams. Work on the Enterprise has entirely stopped, owing to a lack of funds to proceed. It is not thought that it will be resumed until July, when the extra session of Congress will have made an appropriation.

The masts of the sunken schooner "Queen of the Bay" still stand, and show the position of the wreck in the north breakers at the entrance to Newburyport harbor; the first easterly blow will break the hull to pieces. The foremast of the "Flying Fish," wrecked at the same time as the "Queen of the Bay," came ashore near Hampton river on Sunday, with sail and rigging attached.

[A later report says the "Queen of the Bay" went to pieces on the 3d inst. The vessel had been fully insured ever since she was built, until her owners had paid premiums sufficient for her entire valuation. They concluded not to renew this year, and on her first trip to sea uninsured, she was wrecked.]

At the annual meeting of the State Fish and Game League, at Manchester on Tuesday, Marcellus Eldredge, Esq., of this city, was re-elected Vice President for Rockingham County.

Maggie Mitchell is coming, April 14th, and the Broadway Dramatic Company, April 19th.

Dr. J. S. Putnam, for half a century a trusted and trustworthy physician of York, Me., died on Wednesday morning.

After twenty-one years of experience in the business of HORSE SHOEING, we are still at the old stand, No. 16 Fleet Street, and are ready to shoe for our old customers or new ones, for such prices as will suit the times! We would say that we will make our prices to suit; if we do not, we will shoe for nothing and throw in a chromo.

The Franklin street society, of Manchester, has voted to extend a call to the Rev. Addison Foster of Chelsea, Mass., at a salary of $3000 a year.

Zadok Duston died in Henniker, April 2. He was born in Henniker, Feb. 13, 1811, and has always resided in that town. He was sixth in line of descent from Thomas and Hannah Duston of historic fame. He represented the town in the Legislature in 1864 and 1865.

Miss Mary Ann Hutchins, of Concord, died on Monday, aged nearly 70 years. She was a granddaughter of Col. Gordon Hutchins of the war of the Revolution.

Two young men, eighteen years old, named Reuben Goodrich and Moses Cook, were arrested for stealing $90 from an old man, in Dover on the 3d inst. Goodrich pleaded guilty, and was put under $300 bonds. Cook was acquitted. Both have had a very good reputation in the past.

The Fish and Game League of New Hampshire held its annual meeting in Manchester on the 3d inst., President John B. Clarke in the chair. Col. Clark was re-elected President, W. W. Colburn Secretary, and Frederick Smyth Treasurer, with one Vice President from each county.

In the long litigated case in equity by the Ashuelot River Railroad Company against the Cheshire Railroad Company and John H. Elliott, Trustee, a decree has been received by the Court, based upon the findings of the Master in the case, subject to be modified hereafter upon a final hearing of all open questions. The balance found due the Cheshire Railroad on the bonds it held against the Ashuelot River Railroad Company is $92,847.79; due from John H. Elliott, Trustee, $52,899.58. Upon the payment of the balance due the Cheshire Railroad, and giving it a deed of certain portions of the depot grounds in Keene, and giving a bond of $60,000 to pay anything that hereafter is found due the Cheshire Railroad Company, the Ashuelot Railroad Company is to have immediate possession of its road and property.

Sullivan Brothers, extensive stove dealers of Manchester, failed Monday. Liabilities unknown; said to be heavy. Assets small.

The annual fair of the New Hampshire State Agricultural Society will be held on the Manchester Riding Park, Sept. 18, 19 and 20.

Political.

The South Carolina republicans generally acknowledge that the withdrawal of the troops from the State House ends the reign of carpet-bagism in the State. Some even predict that it ends the republican party. Senator Patterson of that State says he shall not again live in South Carolina. So far as his personal safety goes, however, his apprehensions are apparently groundless. The Chamberlain people were confident of their success until the last moment, and could not believe until late in the evening that the decision to withdraw the troops had really been made. It has been discovered that a good many of the defiant expressions attributed to Hampton originated with Southern democrats who are opposed to the success of Hayes' Southern policy, and did not emanate from Hampton himself.

The Richmond Enquirer says candidly, of the "native" Virginian legislators, "Charges of malfeasance are becoming as common as though ours was a carpetbag government."

The democratic leaders of Cincinnati urged the people to support the democratic municipal ticket, on the ground that it would express a condemnation of President Hayes. From the fact that the republicans carried their city ticket by majorities ranging from 1500 to 3000 it may be inferred that the people of Cincinnati are not disposed to "express condemnation." In November Tilden's majority in Cincinnati was 106.

Important Militia Meeting.

A fully attended meeting of the officers of the State militia was held in Concord on the 3d inst., to consider relating to increasing the efficiency of the militia of the State, Ira Cross, Adjutant-General, in the chair. Hon. B. F. Prescott, Governor-elect, appeared before the meeting by invitation, and, in a few happy remarks, expressed his sympathy with any movement that would increase the efficiency of the militia and put it on a footing to compare favorably with that of other States. Any proper plan, he said, that might be decided upon by the meeting should receive his careful consideration. After remarks by representatives of nearly all military organizations, a series of resolutions was adopted recommending the appointment of an inspecting officer, who should be a strict disciplinarian and who shall be a thorough tactician, whose duty it shall be to visit, drill and inspect at least twice a year all militia companies of the State, and faithfully report to the Adjutant-General, through the regimental commanders, the condition and efficiency of each company as inspected and drilled; and further, that they use their earnest endeavors to induce the next session of the Legislature to appropriate the expense of such an officer, to an amount not exceeding $600. A ballot taken on the question showed all present to be in favor of a brigade formation. A ballot for a suitable person to be recommended to the Governor and Council for appointment as Brigadier-General was then taken, which resulted in no choice, their being four candidates: H. H. Huse of Manchester, S. S. Piper of Manchester, John J. Dillon of Manchester and Joseph M. Clough of New London. The first three gentlemen named withdrew their names, and, on motion of Lieutenant L. L. Aldrich of Manchester, Colonel Joseph M. Clough of New London was unanimously nominated by a rising vote.

Captain Boyton has crossed the Straits of Messina, passing successfully through both Scylla and Charybdis during the prevalence of a severe gale, which caused the destruction of one of the accompanying vessels. Fortunately there were no lives lost. The trip took five hours, and was witnessed by the American Consul and many distinguished Italians. Shortly after starting Boyton received a blow from the tail of one of the large fishes which abound in the Straits, but upon the approach of the harpoon-boat he was found entirely uninjured and laughing at the mishap. Notwithstanding the predictions that he would never leave the water alive, Captain Boyton landed in excellent condition and in no way fatigued by his marvellous exertions. His reception by the entire population of Messina was most excited and enthusiastic. He was officially welcomed by the Mayor and authorities, and subsequently entertained at a public banquet. Captain Boyton compares Scylla and Charybdis to the rapids and whirlpools of the Niagara river.

A Guinea is Scarce Yellower

Than the complexion of a person becomes who omits to regulate his liver when that important gland grows neglectful of its secretive function. Moreover, the stomach under such circumstances becomes disordered, the bowels are constipated, pains in the side and between the shoulder blades are felt, the head aches, and the nervous system shares in the general derangement. This concatenation of evils is, however, easily remediable with that matchless regulating tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the secretion and flow of healthy bile, acts gently but effectually upon the bowels, and removes every symptom of nervous or dig-stive trouble. The result is that renewed tone is given to the entire system; the sallow, haggard appearance of the face to which biliousness gives rise is superseded by the glow of health, and the frame gains in substance as well as vigor.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the causes of decay, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these direst evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If needed be, carry it in your pocket! Try it! Try it!!

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

—o—

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years, trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Heetic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

A Japanese Legend.

The Japanese have a curious legend of a stonecutter, who became discontented with his lot in life. He first expressed the very common wish, "Oh! that I were rich." This being granted by the gods, he next wished to become a king, so that he might have power. In this station he still found a source of discontent; so, after many changes, he wished to become a rock, which even the floods could not move. This being granted, he, for a time, enjoyed his newly-acquired power, for neither the burning sun, rushing wind, nor roaring flood, had power to move him. But, one day a man with a sharp chisel and heavy hammer, came along, and began to cut stones out of the rock, and the rock said: "What is this, that the man has power over me, and can cut stones out of my bosom? I am weaker than he. I should like to be that man!" And then came an angel out of heaven, who said: "Be this as you have said," and the rock became a stone-cutter, and he cut stones, with hard labor, for small wages, and was contented.

The High-Toned Tramp.

Yesterday a gentleman, residing in a neat, modest cottage in the suburbs, caught a tramp prowling about his back yard, evidently trying to steal something.

"Why don't you come to the front door if you want anything?" indignantly roared the proprietor.

"That's what I was looking for," was the impudent reply.

"Didn't you see it on the other side of the house?" retorted the gentleman.

"How was I to know that was the front door? No silver door-plate, no bell, no telephone, no statuary, no servant to take your hat and cane. Tell your boss there is a gentleman out here who is waiting for his breakfast."

When the gentleman got back with his shot gun, the tramp was not there any more. San Antonio Herald.

LAFAYETTE LAIGHTON

ESTABLISHED IN 1853.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL IN THE UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1853 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and only private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus disqualifying themselves for the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that to consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—100 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—Dr. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vickoff's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

Dr. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicine sent by mail or express, accurately packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

Dr. Y. N. YOUNG, 9 Beaver St., Albany, N. Y

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and prospects of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized World.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Departments continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate improved Stock of every kind through the country, and contributes to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as the growing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.
THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Miscellaneous Reading. It contains a well-edited View of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!
The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!
No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three yrs Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels have suffered all the pain I could endure and have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty-six, but I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh the summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

[WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been slowly since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship in the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or go at work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He followed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know of, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a trial and you will say so. Write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Now they think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I have tried all I can not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been troubled with my face most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had met any where or with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The package of Pills seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Scottie sulphur springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

The Largest in Portsmouth, I am prepared to execute all orders for

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious climate of New England.

AND

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the choice of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.
THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.
A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.
Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.
With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to the educated body of intelligent readers, who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.
Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.
TERMS—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year, $4 two copies, $7; five copies, $25. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.
The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $7.
Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the important developments of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings, of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all Mechanical Inventions and Discoveries in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Specimens of volumes are reserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all Newsdealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons interested to introduce the invention. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & Co., 37 Park Row, New York.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, lighter-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often conclusive argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distance all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is not less learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increasingly ample supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Agreeable Shape. The grand object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent and random and sound views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those merits that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large portion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this inimitable writer will need no recommendation, and to the rapidly increasing lovers of a refined, interesting and powerful story, it began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be published, and all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from a recent visit to that country.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The Gems of Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,"

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's charming and piquant

PARIS LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their political duties.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with leaders of Republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice and rights for all men, which formed the cornerstones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of The Tribune.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is pres ented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and piquant writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. The WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which can be noted.

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of The Tribune are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are received and weekly or almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. Its Cattle, Sheep and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS OF THE TRIBUNE represent largely the most enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by The Tribune.

X.—PUBLIC ADVANCE AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the honest and respectful course of The Tribune. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and continues to receive from old and new readers words of encouragement.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is conclusive owing to the fact that it still ranks as comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its past years it represents such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year), is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while the choice selection of the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make it still cheaper, viz.: to new subscribers, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With Tribune, Times, or Post, and any one of the leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

As an inducement to new and old subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, including, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story, by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend it especially to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

A Blue Glass Cure.

Mr. Glum, of North Eleventh street, suffers severely from nervousness. He has been afflicted since the advent of the New Year. Some of Mr. Glum's acquaintances—saloon keepers—say that it is caused by his not taking a proper amount of stimulants. Glum has faith enough in their belief to try the stimulants, but—well, Mrs. Glum vetoes it, and the vote stands 8 to 7.

The newspapers attracted Glum's attention to the blue glass theory. He called his wife's attention to it, and when that estimable lady read that it would cure corns, she had so much faith that she ordered a pair of blue glass slippers at once. He hasn't found the slippers yet, but thirty dollars was expended in getting up a blue glass illumination in kitchen, bedchamber and sitting-room. Every morning both of them took their blue light bath, and, although Mrs. Glum's corns grew sorer and Mr. Glum's nervousness increased, still Mrs. Glum was determined that blue glass should be thoroughly tested.

"Eu, blue glass!" said the tavern keeper on the corner, to Glum, yesterday. "Why, my dear sir, this blue glass theory is not understood. I know the whole secret of the blue glass cure. Just step in to-night as you come up from the store."

When Glum stepped in that evening the saloon keeper smilingly handed him a blue pint bottle filled with some kind of a liquid that smelled very much like brandy.

"There," said the tavern keeper, "that's the blue glass cure. That bottle contains the healing and strengthening property of the blue ray."

"Isn't that brandy?" asked Glum, smelling it till his mouth watered.

"Brandy, no! Why, of course it isn't, I made that liquid myself. It is merely water charged with electricity, magnetism and galvanism obtained from blue glass. I'd tell you how to make it but that is a secret that I dare not reveal. Take it home and try it, and when that runs out I'll bet you'll want more."

Mr. Glum carefully concealed his blue glass bottle with its electric, galvanic and magnetic liquid in his inside pocket. Supper over he slipped out of his wife's sight and tried a little of it.

He liked it well enough to try more, and half an hour later, when his wife, alarmed by his absence, entered the front room in search of him, he lay stupid on the floor, smelling as though a distillery had exploded near his mouth. In his hand, tightly clasped, was the blue glass bottle. The electricity, magnetism and galvanism had done its work, and although Mrs. Glum hammered and pounded to make him arise, he was troubled with no more nervousness that night.

It isn't safe to go within fifteen feet of that house and whisper blue glass when Mrs. Glum is at home. She has lost all faith in it, but Glum is willing to swear that it is a certain cure if properly used.—Philadelphia Chronicle.

All Fools' Day.

An unusual number of ingenious and successful hoaxes were perpetrated in Cincinnati, Sunday. Free excursions of various kinds were advertised, and drew hundreds of unsuspecting people from their homes, who could with difficulty be made to believe that they were "sold." Nearly the entire Board of Aldermen assembled at the Grand Hotel in the morning, in response to a printed invitation to join an excursion over the New Southern Railroad, including free lunch at Lexington, Ky., and general inspection of the line of the road. They waited a long time before they caught the idea. Two or three hundred people were hoaxed by a bogus free excursion train to look at suburban property. A hundred or two more assembled at a certain rendezvous to take a trip upon a steamer which was found to have no wheel. Nearly all the undertakers in the city were victimized by telegrams directing them to meet and take charge of a certain corpse which would arrive at Little Miami depot, on a certain train. Seven hearses and three undertakers' wagons astonished each other by arriving on the ground about the same time.

A Little Romance.

Even in these hard, prosaic times, a vein of romance will sometimes be found to exist. As an instance of this we relate the following little story that came to our ears the otherday. Not long ago a young man from the West side came over to the city proper to attend to some business at a gentleman's house. While waiting for the appearance of the gentleman, (who, by the way, is a man well up in years but who possesses a pretty, young wife,) the young man became infatuated with the gentleman's better half, and thinking that the young woman was the daughter of the person he was visiting, and not the gentleman's wife, he proposed to her. Imagine his surprise on learning that the object of his affections was already bound by the nuptial tie; but the lady was equal to the occasion, and in a very short time she solved the difficulty. She had a younger sister, she said, who was also quite pretty, and she thought the young man might find all the charms and graces in her that he might require, and a day was named when the sister could be seen. At the appointed time, the young man was introduced, and was greatly pleased with the young lady, and at once proposed, was accepted, and will, in a short time, begin housekeeping. And thus ends for the present our little romance.—St. John Globe.

News and Notes.

Professor A. Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone, had the pleasure of assisting yesterday at the opening of the first regular telephonic line in the world—a private line between the place of business of a gentleman in this city and his residence in Somerville. The instruments worked admirably, and the enterprising gentleman is very much pleased with his private telephonic wire between town and home. The practical value of Professor Bell's invention is being proved every day. While the Professor was in New York recently he communicated with his associate in Boston, Mr. Watson, and the telephone transmitted conversation over 280 miles of space with wonderful clearness and distinctness of tone.—Boston Globe, 5th.

An unknown Frenchman was found hanging to a tree in the woods near Rahway, N. J., on the 4th. He had been hanging there for a month or more. A chest of jeweller's tools, worth $100, was found near the body. He had on two suits of new clothing, but no money was found on his person. It is supposed the man had been murdered by tramps, as there were wounds on his face, head and body. It was impossible for the man to have hung himself in the way found.

A legislative investigation into the affairs of the Westboro', Mass., Reform School, has developed a degree of brutal cruelty on the part of some of the officials almost worthy of the Spanish Inquisition.

Mrs. Eliza Strout, of Chelmsford Centre, Mass., was bitten by a small dog, not supposed to be mad, some weeks ago, and was on Wednesday attacked by hydrophobia. She was thought to be dying, Wednesday night.

A Victoria press despatch reports the British gunboat Rocket, returned from a cruise northward, in quest of the Indians supposed to have murdered the passengers and crew of the American steamer George S. Wright, some years ago. Four were arrested and brought back for trial. The Rocket was fired on by the Indians, and in return she shelled and burned the Indian village.

Four indictments have been found against Cottenden, doorkeeper of the Virginia House of Delegates—two for forgery and two for larceny.

A special from Alma, Crawford county, Ark., says: "George Keafer and family, supposed to be the original family of Benders, of murderous fame in Kansas, were arrested here to-day by a Kansas detective."

Mr. L. J. Jennings, the editor of the New York Times, at the time of the exposure of the Tammany Ring, and now the London correspondent of the New York World, has traced Oakey Hall to his lodgings in London and has had an interview with him, which facts he communicates to the World by cable. Mr. Jennings telegraphs that Mr. Hall is living in the humblest quarters, is broken and dispirited, utterly fails to explain his sudden flight, and appeals for rest and peace. Mr. Jennings says, in concluding his despatch, that it is only "charity to an utterly broken man to say as little more about him as possible." But it is certain that much more will be said, until (and after) the cause of his flight is made public. Hall is accompanied by a woman not his wife, who lodges with him.

A school-house in the Norwegian village of Ellengsso has been burned; sixteen children perished in the flames.

Isaac Friedlander, the largest grain dealer in California, has failed, with liabilities of $1,000,000, and nominal assets of $1,400,000.

The disaster on "a Virginia railroad," reported somewhat vaguely Monday, was occasioned by a bull who fought a locomotive and beat it. He charged a freight train on the Richmond and Danville railroad near a bridge over a creek in Halifax county, threw the locomotive from the track against the bridge, the timbers of which broke, and the whole train fell into the gap. The wreck then caught fire and was mostly consumed. The engineer on the locomotive was crushed so badly that he will probably die.

The "Yankee" still retains his prominence as an inventor. One patent was granted for every 730 persons in Connecticut, 914 in Rhode Island, and 918 in Massachusetts last year, while out West the proportion sinks to one in 1,957 for Illinois, and one in 4,486 for Kansas. Oddly enough, however, there is a wide gap between Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island, and the three northern New England States, the figures for Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine being one to 2,973, 3,000 and 3,522 respectively.

By the explosion of a bomb or infernal machine in the counting room of Messrs. Jewett, white lead manufacturers, in New York on Thursday, one man was killed and two others badly hurt.

On Thursday Gen. Hancock was ordered by Gen. Sherman to cause the U. S. troops to be removed from the State House at Columbia, S. C., on Tuesday, the 10th, at noon.

Political.

At the election in Chicago all the republican candidates on the city ticket were elected by majorities ranging from 1200 to 2500. The republicans elected twenty-eight of the thirty-six aldermen.

At the Rhode Island election, Wednesday, the republican State ticket was elected, Van Zandt, the republican candidate for Governor, having 700 majority over Barnaby, who was supported by the democrats and the liquor interest, though Barnaby, who is a wealthy man, "poured out his money like water" in his endeavors to secure an election. The majorities for other officers were; for Albert Howard, Lieutenant-Governor, 1064; Willard Sayles, Attorney General, 3490; J. M. Adderman, Secretary of State, 4193; Samuel Clark, General Treasurer, 4456. The Senate has 27 republicans, five democrats.

New Hampshire Items.

Rodney Scripture's house in Nashua was burned Wednesday morning, with nearly all its contents. Loss $1500; insurance $1000.

A French family in Nashua called for aid from the city, and were found to be without food or fuel; but they had two large dogs.

On Wednesday afternoon of last week, Mrs. Dorcas Balch, 78 years of age, residing in Keene, was found with her clothing nearly burned up and her face resting on the hearth of the stove, so terribly burned that she survived only two hours.

Charles Moulton's house at Plymouth was burned Thursday. Loss $500.

Willie Ewins, nine years old, was drowned in the Spickett river at Salem on Monday. His body was found Wednesday.

The Venezuelan Affair.

Hon. Thomas Russell, the Minister of the United States to Venezuela, has been recalled at the instance of the government to which he was accredited. His technical offence was in writing confidentially to the State Department, that the Venezuelan treasury was in a suitable condition to pay the claims long due to the United States, and that there were only two ways in which the money could be obtained; by bribery of the higher officials, which, of course, was out of the question, and by a display of force, concerning which he offered no advice. The letter was a perfectly proper one to write confidentially, and such intimate information is doubtless constantly being received at the State Department, else there is little use of a diplomatic agent, except as a figure head and master of ceremonies; but being made public by treachery or spying, or rather by the folly of a domocratic investigating committee, it affords an excuse for a demand for the recall of the Minister. This has been done, and the Venezuelan pecuniousness satisfied. But the recall of the Minister by no means settles the original cause of complaint on the part of the United States, and Venezuela will probably find herself like a ragged Hidalgo, who has insisted on a point of ceremony from a creditor, and awakened a determination to insist on the immediate payment of the debt.

The claims arose from contracts by which citizens of the United States had furnished steamboats to navigate the waters of the Republic of Venezuela, and which were seized or destroyed in the revolution of 1866. Demand was immediately made on the then government for payment, and finally a commission was appointed, consisting of one member for the United States, and one for Venezuela, with an umpire, which met in Caracccas, in May, 1867, and decided the amount of the claims. The Venezuelan government disputed the award, and charged bribery and corruption in offensive language, which was afterward withdrawn, and a single instalment of the claim paid. Meanwhile Venezuela had internal troubles, and was engaged in difficulties with Holland and New Grenada, and the United States exercised forbearance, which, as usual with governments of the Spanish republican sort, has been mistaken for weakness. About $335,000 with accrued interest, yet remains due upon the claim, and it would seem as though it were a very good time to present the bill and see that it is paid. An English fleet would have been riding at the mouth of the Rio Chico before now, and an English force on its way to Caracccas, if such a debt had been owed to English subjects, and there is no reason why the United States should not show equal promptness. There is no probability, however, that a war with Venezuela will be necessary. Like Captain Scott's coon, President Guzman will come down as soon as he finds that we are in earnest. Meanwhile we hope that the next Representative of the United States who goes to Caracccas will emulate the example of Minister Russell in telling the truth, and that the secrets of the State Department will be better kept from Venezuelan spies.—Providence Journal.

The Story of Tweed.

The narrative of the flight and wanderings of William M. Tweed, in Harper's Weekly, has all the interest of a novel. None of the conjectures as to the manner of his escape were so wild as the reality. We have had scores of improbable theories to account for his mysterious evasion from the sheriff, but no romancer ever thought of such an audacious transaction as a regular contract with a gang of professional robbers to receive his body in front of his own door at a certain minute on a certain evening, and to deliver it in good condition at some point within the jurisdiction of Spain. Yet that seems to have been the method of his going away, and the subsequent chapters of the story are quite as lively as the introduction. He spent three months on the top of the Palisades, looking from his window upon the city which he had robbed and ruled, and sitting nearly all day, with close shaven face and a red wig, devouring the newspaper accounts of the search for him and the reports of his great lawsuits. He was hid for two weeks in a deserted shoemaker's hut on Staten Island. He risked one visit to Brooklyn. He sailed along the coast to Florida. He camped out a whole season in the swamps and everglades. He lived in a lighthouse. Then he crossed to Cuba in a fishing smack; and his subsequent journeys are ancient history. He had no accomplices among the sheriff's officers, and none, if this narrative is strictly true, even in his own family.

To Every Woman.

Think twice before you believe every evil story you hear, and think twenty times before you repeat it, especially if it is about a woman. Say to yourself: "This may not be true, or it may be exaggerated;" unless you have proof of the veracity of your informant. People sometimes tell falsehoods; they often make mistakes, and they sometimes "hear wrong." There is auricular illusion as well as optical illusion. Take all these things into consideration before you even believe. As for repeating the story, ask yourself if it is necessary. It sometimes is necessary. Then do it, with the fear of God and the remembrance of the Golden Rule before you. Let us give the helping hand, not the downward push; so may the angels reach their hands toward us when we stand in need.

JOTTINGS.

Schoolcraft and Coes' Minstrels are to give an entertainment in Franklin Hall on Sunday evening next. See advertisement.

The lighthouse steamer "Iris" was in this harbor on Thursday, the inspector being on his regular quarterly tour among the lighthouses of the district.

The Great New York Star Alliance and Female Minstrels announce a performance in Franklin Hall on Tuesday evening of next week. See advertisement.

The prospect for an unusually large hay crop in this vicinity is good. The grass has started up finely, being at least two weeks in advance of what it was a year ago; and there is no sign of any of it having been winter-killed, the heavy blanket of snow having effectually protected it.

"The Good Natured Man" was presented by the Eclectic Club, at Franklin Hall on Wednesday evening, in a manner to fully justify—and more—the high expectations that had been formed. Most of the parts were excellently well taken; and we shall not assume the invidious task of criticising the amateurs who did not do quite so well as their fellows. The entertainment, as a whole, was not only good, but very good. The accessories,—dresses, properties, etc., added to the success of the piece and the pleasure of the audience.

Snow fell briskly a good portion of the day on Thursday, but had a hard time of it covering the ground, as it melted as fast as it fell until late in the afternoon. It will not be worth while to get the sleighs out any more this season.

The Portsmouth Dramatic Company will perform "Ten Nights in a Bar-room" at Franklin Hall on the evening of Fast Day, April 12th, the proceeds to be devoted to an object of charity.

John O'Brien's "Six shows Consolidated," announced to visit this city early in the season, includes Campbell's, Warner & Co's, Sheldenburg & Co's, Dan Rice's, Hanlenberger & Co's, and O'Brien's; and is a big menagerie, museum and circus, all in one. The date of its arrival is not yet fixed.

Before the Superior Civil Court in Boston, Wednesday, the case of John R. Poor vs. Humboldt Fire Insurance Company, was tried. This was an action to recover $2500 on a policy of insurance on the Oceanic House, at the Isles of Shoals. Defendants claim that the terms of the policy were violated in that at the time of the fire no family was residing in the house, a condition of the policy being that a family should constantly reside on the premises. Verdict for plaintiff for amount found by the Assessor of Insurance and interest, $2297.08. Mr. Poor has another similar action against the Hudson Fire Insurance Company, of Hudson, New York.

A steamer, forty feet keel, is building at Kittery Point by Mr. Samuel H. Pilsbury, which will be ready to receive the engine by the first of June. She will be used as an excursion steamer on the Merrimac river.

Harlow's Orchestra never played better than on Wednesday night, at the Eclectic Club entertainment,—which is equivalent to saying that the music on that occasion was such as is not often produced by the local organizations of small cities.

A Bible Service, in connection with the Bow Mission, will be inaugurated next Sabbath afternoon. The object of this service will be to do pioneer work for the general church throughout the city; very similar to the Alien Mission in Portland, and many others in the New England States. The Bible service, like the Mission service, will be decidedly unsectarian and free to all. Officers have been chosen and will be made public in due season. Bible Service to commence at 3 P. M. The prayers and aid of Christian friends are solicited. Subject at Bow Mission, Sabbath afternoon, Service of Praise. The monthly collection will be taken; laboring men especially invited. COM.

We noticed in Thursday's Times a flaming notice of the "Croaker" family. As the "Good Natured Man" himself is not mentioned, we conclude he is not a member of that family. AUDIENCE.

At an adjourned meeting of School District No. 5, in Seabrook, (comprising nearly the whole of South Seabrook, so-called,) it was voted to raise $1200 to refit the district school house and add another story to it. Charles Dow, Simeon L. Eaton and Reuben Eaton were chosen a building committee.

—The Lord Mayor of London recently gave a ball to the Prince of Wales, which was the most expensive ever given, costing $135,795. The supper cost $25,000, wines $30,855, flowers $3,600, upholstery $29,000, and a temporary marquee, that was torn down the next day, $47,125. All this extravagant outlay was supposed to be for the purpose of securing a baronetcy, which Albert Edward has as yet forgotten to confer. The price of baronetcies must be on the rise in England, as James I., who instituted the dignity, only asked a thousand pounds for it.

How a Jewess Married a Christian.

The Nashville American says: Mr. H. L. Oliver, a young lawyer of good standing at the Nashville bar and of respectable family connections, was married to Miss Hannah Weil, daughter of Mr. S. Weil, of this city, at her father's residence, Friday evening, by Justice Creighton. Feeling that her parents would oppose the match, as it is against the Jewish creed to intermarry with other people, she went to her father, and put the following insurmountable interrogatories:

"Father, how old am I?"

Father—"Nineteen years old, my daughter."

Daughter—"When does a young lady become of lawful age?"

Father—"At the age of eighteen."

Daughter—"Then I am free to act for myself, am I not, father?"

Father—"I see no objection to it."

Daughter—"Well, then, Mr. Oliver loves me ever so much, and I love him ever so much. I want you to consent to our marriage, for if you do not I fear we will have to run away, and I'd much rather be married at home."

The father was very much astonished at her pointed inquiries, and more so when he found her betrothed was a Christian gentleman, but, after pondering the matter a little while, gave the sensible response: "Well, if you are bound to marry, I would rather you would be quietly married at home." And so the young people were married and left for Hantsville that evening.

The Fiji cannibals that Barnum used to exhibit, were out of employment all winter, save a few days shovelling snow, and one of them feelingly remarked the other day, "Divil such hard toimes have I seen since I left the ould country more than sixteen years ago."

—"Now, then, state your case," said a lawyer as he put the five-dollar bill away in his vest pocket. "Well," began his client, "suppose the man living next door wants to put a barn right up against my line, coming within two feet of my house?" "He can't do it, sir—can't do any such thing," replied the lawyer. "But I want to put my barn right up against his line," remarked the client. "Oh—ah—yes, I see. Well, sir, go right ahead and put your barn there. All the law in the case is on your side."

—Here are two tales from Paris: At the last opera ball, when the dancers had departed, the watchmen on making their rounds found the body of a well-dressed lady in one of the private boxes. She had been stabbed, but whether her death was due to suicide or murder is not stated.—A Radical died at Beziers and his brethren resolved to give him a downright civil burial. They followed him to the grave with pipes in their mouths and bottles under their arms. As soon as the body was lowered into the grave the mourners began singing and drinking, and, having exhausted their liquor, threw the empty bottles on to the coffin, exclaiming, "Tiens, voila ta part!" Then they went back to the wine shops.

—A singular prayer is printed in the Brahmo newspaper of Calcutta, as follows: "It is not the hope of an uncertain future Heaven, but a present Heaven, that I implore Thee to vouchsafe. I will not go away with a mere promise; but I will remain prostrate at thy feet till thy redeeming grace creates in me a small Heaven amid the things of this world. Give me cash, O Lord, out of thy inexhaustible treasury, and do not send me away, I beseech Thee, with a mere promissory note." But this is not half so mercenary a view of spiritual things as is taken by a somewhat familiar Christian hymn, which describes Christ as a banker, and tells how the dying thief presented his note, and immediately "He got his cash, and died."

—Although New Mexico is only a Territory, and not likely very soon to be in a condition to deserve admission as an active member of the Union, it possesses the oldest city in the United States. This is Santa Fe, which was a populous place when first visited by the Spaniards in 1540. It is the headquarters of the Roman Catholic church for a large section of country, and is the residence of an Archbishop, Captain-General and various orders of priesthood. The Presbyterians have within a few years entered in, and now have a plain adobe church building and a valuable mission property. Rev. G. G. Smith is the pastor of the church, and his influence is felt throughout the Territory; and Rev. Mr. Riggs has charge of a school which is exerting a molding influence on the whole community.

—A strange story that is wafted from the north of Spain into the Pall-Mall Gazette brings to mind a chapter in "Midshipman Easy." A landed proprietor refused to receive the holy consolations of religion. His family sent for the parish priest, but the sick man declined to receive him, and the priest withdrew, declaring that the devil would come in person to carry off so hardened a sinner as soon as he was dead. A few hours afterward the sick man died, and while the family were watching over the body the door of the room was opened with a great noise, and there appeared upon the scene a personage arrayed in red, brandishing a pitchfork, dragging a long tail after him, and smelling very strongly of sulphur. His appearance created so much terror that the women present fainted, and the men rushed out of the room by another door. A man-servant armed himself with a revolver and made his way to the room. For the moment he was terrified by the appearance of the devil, who by this time had got the body in his arms; but, mastering fear, he fired three barrels of his revolver at him, and the devil fell to the ground. His majesty proved to be the parish sexton, who, by the orders of the priest, had disguised himself as Satan. Four priests, who are suspected of complicity in this attempt to work upon the superstitious feelings of the family, have been taken into custody.

A Guinea is Scarce Yellower

Than the complexion of a person becomes who omits to regulate his liver when that important gland grows neglectful of its secretive function. Moreover, the stomach under such circumstances becomes disordered, the bowels are constricted, pains in the side and between the shoulder blades are felt, the head aches, and the nervous system shares in the general derangement. This concatenation of evils is, however, easily remediable with that matchless regulating tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the secretion and flow of healthy bile, gets gently but effectually upon the bowels, and removes every symptom of nervous or digestive trouble. The result is that renewed tone is given to the entire system; the sallow, haggard appearance of the face to which billiousness gives rise is superseded by the glow of health, and the frame gains in substance as well as vigor.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the choice of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup, acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If need be, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, will sustain its well merited popularity, and even greater, by the sensible reduction of its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extensive reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. And so many year-tried it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption it effects his scene, almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectual by than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.
TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Heetic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extensive practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be a fact that he claims for it. WM. M. LADD, M. D.

Daily Chronicle.

Old Drinking Habits in Maine.

The Brunswick (Me.) Telegraph prints a communication, which speaking of residents of the adjoining town of Topsham, fifty years ago, says: "In one family of five persons, three of them would each punish three pints of New England rum a day; the other two perhaps a little less. Why can be so specific, I was a clerk in a store in Topsham and had them for customers. Another instance: we had an old man who was a customer when I went there and was there when I left, who purchased a pint and a half of gin every day, and Saturday three pints. He had it charged, paid his bill monthly, and never purchased another article to my recollection. His family consisted only of himself and wife, and she an estimable woman, therefore he must have used all of it himself. The average sales at our store were at least $10 per day, amounting to $3,000 per annum. There were five other other stores in Topsham and I have every reason to believe that they sold as much rum as we did. Brunswick had three times as many stores, besides three successful hotels, (Topsham had none.) I think she must have sold at least double the quantity of Topsham. With New England rum at 40 cents a gallon, and the best of imported liquors at $1, in almost every family there was a drunkard or drunkards. The evil became so great that the people grew much alarmed. Two generations of my own family on both sides of the house suffered severely."

—"My boy, what is syntax?" inquired his teacher. "The duty on spirits," said the cadet.

—"There was a Kerry priest," began Ned Shea, "an' he had the fashion of hearing confessions wid a slate and pencil; and he'd write down every sin, and the price of it opposite. Well, one day a big mountainy fellow came to his duty, and, says he, 'I bruk a man's head last Hallow Eve.' 'Tut's ninepence,' says the priest. 'I cut the tail of Larry Keily's cow.' 'That's a shilling—oh, begob, a shilling that is.' And down it went on the slate. 'I nearly murthered me wife twice.' 'That's a thrupence; go on.' 'I kill an Orangeman.' 'Whoo!' says the priest, rubbin' out everything. 'That clanes out all the rest!'"

ESTABLISHED IN 1835.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL
IN THE
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1835 by Dr. Lispenard and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting others, which always occurred at the old office.

LADIES will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their manhood, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—168 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Motte's celebrated Uterinate Bella.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting the Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 7 years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I gave taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d on their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all or which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of their aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
Yours truly, ED. F. PEVARE.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and feel thankful to have none me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I induced him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he was not been as free from the Rheumatism for twenty years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving away the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten months, and have been travelling and taking medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case incurable and stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Hr. H. B. Griffin, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and salesman of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative it could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the humiliating climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—!

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A. Proc. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every reader of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving (usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $8; five copies, $20. Third subscriptions for three months, $1.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the day.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household anything that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-seven years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Mechanics, Mechanical Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and scientific Progress of the world. Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Model of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 161 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Embatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present, in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial illustrations of the Magazine contribute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will needs no commendation, but its reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which has, of course, in the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM PARIS,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

For Sale by all Book and Newsdealers.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with leaders of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the ballot, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most admired and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence I have ever witnessed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. Wool, Cotton, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Every article is interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. Its circulation among the er corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With the weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness also essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring a ready access to the best and most literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscription, at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the issues of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend it periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

A New and Brilliant Light.

The Philadelphia Press prints the following: "A new invention of a simple and practical nature, has of late been successfully applied in several places in Germany and France. The system consists of electric candles, or sticks of charcoal, surrounded by isolating matter, which gradually consumes, leaving the charcoal free like a wick, which slowly melts away under the brilliant glow of electricity. With two such candles a light equal to that of one hundred gas-jets may be thrown on the street. An electro-magnetic machine can keep burning twenty of these electric candles. The cost is about half that of gas, and the light is of the brightest and purest kind. The Erfelder Zeitung gives the following account by an eye-witness of the working of this mode of lighting in the machine-factory of the brothers Meer, at Gladbach:

The great building was enveloped in total darkness when he entered. Soon after one of the proprietors lighted a small developing apparatus, in size not longer than thirty inches. As soon as it was set in operation, by a small steam-power with which it was connected by a belt, the immense machine room was instaneously lit up as bright as day. At the entrance of the same there was to be seen only one lamp, at a height of fifteen or sixteen feet, which gave out a most brilliant and steady light. It was so clear that the finest shades of indigo-dyed silks could be easily distinguished. The electric light was distributed in such a manner, through the agency of a mirror, that a long stay in the room in no wise injuriously affected the eyes. On going into the garden an electric lantern, suddenly lighted, illuminated the whole neighborhood to such a degree that at 100 feet very fine print could be read, and at 250 feet larger and ordinary characters were plainly legible. Of the wonderful properties of this electric light we had the clearest proof, and we are further pleased to learn that in this establishment the cost is estimated at a fourth to a sixth of gas-light. In large rooms, halls, public squares and streets the electric light, before long, is sure to take the place of gas as an illuminating agent. In France it is rapidly growing in favor, and is in operation in forty establishments. The immense depot of Cheman de Fer du Nord at Paris, is about, also, to be lighted by this same electric system. There is no danger whatever of fire from it, which gives it an immeasurable advantage over all other means of illumination. The Paris Engineer Gramme, and the chief engineer Von Hefener Altenec, of the firm of Siemens Halske in Berlin, were the first two who constructed the new electro-magnetic machines, by means of which a pleasing mechanical power is converted in a simple and practical manner into electric light. This invention is one of the most remarkable of modern times.

Out-door work can be carried on by night as well as by day with this light, as it expels the darkness and fills the atmosphere with an almost sun-light lustre. In the lighting of cities by this new process, the economy, as compared with gas, will be at least 50 per cent. We are evidently on the eve of as great a revolution in lighting, as when gas superceded oil lamps and tallow candles."

—Fights enliven the Illinois Senate. Senator Robinson of Cook county referred to Senator Marshall of Will as "the grinning animal with dirty linen and bad odor who was constantly annoying him." Marshall said Robinson only smelled himself, whereat Robinson struck for him; Marshall guarded, and hit Robinson square in the eye.

Mr. Diogenes.

This singular man lived in Greece. He was distinguished for his eccentricities, bad manners, and bad disposition. It was his chief business to find fault. For example, he took a lantern one day when the sun was shining brightly and went out to search for an honest man, thereby insinuating that such persons were exceedingly scarce. When Alexander, a distinguished military gentleman, paid him a visit, and inquired what he could do for him, he had the impudence to tell him to "get out of his sunshine." To cap the climax of his oddities, he dressed like a beggar and lived in a tub! He was a sour, crabbed, crusty old bachelor. We infer that he had no wife, first, because history does not mention her; second, because no woman would take kindly toone of his habits, dress, or manners, or aspire to become mistress of his mansion. "There was an old woman who lived in a shoe," it is true, but the woman who would live in a tub, and especially with such a companion, has not been heard from. The misanthropic spirit which possessed this man was doubtless due to disordered digestion and a biliousness, one of the prominent symptoms of which is a morose, fault-finding disposition. The tongue is heavily coated, giving rise to a bad taste, the appetite is not good, and the patient feels dull, sleepy, or dizzy, and is apt to be very fretful. Unfortunately, Mr. Diogenes lived several centuries before Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Purgative Pellets were invented, a few doses of which would have relieved him of his "bile," and enabled him to find scores of "honest men" without the aid of his lantern. Under their magic influence, combined with that of the Golden Medical Discovery, to cleanse his blood, he might have been led to take a more cheerful view of life, to exchange his tub for a decent habitation, to "spruce up" in a respectable appearance, and at last have taken a wife to mend his clothes and his manners, both of which were in evident need of repairs, and become the happy sire of little Diogenes who would have handed down to posterity the name, not of a cynic philosopher, but of a cheerful, healthy, happy, virtuous man!!

Daily Chronicle.

SATURDAY, APRIL 7, 1877.

Navy Department Matters.

Secretary of the Navy Thompson, under date of April 5th, has issued the following important order:

"The Secretary of the Navy regrets that it has become his duty to announce to the officers of the naval service that the amount of money found by him in the Treasury of the United States to the credit of the appropriation for the pay of the navy is insufficient to pay the officers for the months of April, May or June. The Secretary proposes to retain as much as may be found necessary of what there is in the Treasury under pay of the navy for the purpose of paying allotments to the wives of officers and sailors whose husbands are abroad in the service of their country and unable to otherwise provide for them, and in this purpose the Secretary feels that he will be sustained by every high-minded, honorable officer in the navy of the United States."

The Secretary of the Navy held a regular meeting of the chiefs of bureaus, at the Navy Department, in Washington, Thursday afternoon, at which it was decided to dispense with the entire force of temporary employes connected with the Department. The discharges will date from the 30th inst., and will include writers and messengers in the Navy Department and temporary employes in all the navy yards. Those in the bureaus of construction and steam engineering have already received their retiring papers, and those in remaining bureaus will follow. The execution will be a large one, but it has become necessary for want of funds.

The Boston Post's Washington correspondent says: "Chief Naval Constructor Hanscom is in trouble. Some ten days ago Secretary Thompson ordered certain expenditures in Hanscom's department stopped until Thompson could get time to find out where the money was going. Eight or ten days later Thompson learned from private sources that the expenditures had not been stopped in certain quarters. Investigation developed the fact that the order had not reached those quarters, Hanscom having forgotten to forward them. As Thompson does not regard such little eccentricities in the same light as his predecessor, the result is liable to be a vacancy in the Department of Construction and Repairs."

News and Notes.

It is now said that the bombshell explosion in the office of James Jewett & Sons, white lead manufacturers of New York, by which George W. Jewett, the senior member of the firm, was killed, and his son, Orville D. Jewett, badly wounded, was caused by the intentional explosion of a hand grenade by young Jewett, with intent to kill his father. Two revolvers, one partly discharged, and a large dirk knife, were found in the office after the explosion; and young Jewett has bullet holes in his body, beside wounds from pieces of the shell, which leads to the belief that he attempted to murder his father and Mr. Dean, (the third partner,) and then tried his hand at suicide. Young Jewett, whose character is not of the best, will die, but Dean will recover.

The Boston Globe of Friday published a five-column statement of John P. Phair, condemned to be hung on that day at Rutland, Vt., for the murder of Mrs. Anna E. Freize in June, 1874. The document, which was written entirely by Phair, is remarkably calm, clear and coherent in style, and is either the truthful statement of an innocent man or one of the most artful concoctions ever gotten up by a guilty one. He asserts his entire ignorance of the crime laid to his charge, and gives at least a plausible account of his movements for days preceding and following the murder.

The Mexican army is "pronouncing" for Lerdo, and Diaz is sick in bed.

Boss Tweed's story of how his escape from prison was managed is discredited by the New York Times, which shows that many of his statements are false.

Buckwheat cakes are improved by being baked on blue glass griddles.

The New York Sun—mighty poor authority, by the way—says that the woman accompanying Oakey Hall is Miss Blanche Grey, an actress and warm friend of Hall's. She sailed for Europe several weeks before Hall did.

"Princess," a famous trotting mare, died on Robert Bonner's farm at Tarrytown, New York, a week ago. She was raised in New Hampshire; won two purses (of $30,500 and $16,000) in California, in two tenmile races with "Glencoe Chief," her time in each race being 29 minutes and 19 3-4 seconds; was then sent east, and in June, 1859, beat "Flora Temple" in two twomiles heats on the Centreville race-course, in 5:02 and 5:04. She never raced afterward, and was 27 years old when she died.

The Lowell city government has ordered all dogs running at large, and not properly collared and muzzled, to be shot by the police.

Theodore Hosell, a deputy tax collector in Philadelphia, has lost $500,000 of the city's money in stock gambling; consequently he is in trouble. The city will lose nothing.

The locomotive David Tyler of the Boston & Providence Railroad has under its tender a set of German cast-steel wheels, made by Bochum. Each wheel has run 102,000 miles, and shows little or no signs of wear. These wheels were imported in 1872 as an experiment.

Ten days ago, it was telegraped that Miss Alice Wren, a variety actress, had been slaughtered by the natives in Southern Africa; Monday night's news was to the effect that she was strangled by the "leading lady" of the company, in a fit of jealousy, and next day came the comforting assurance, that she is on her way to the West Indies, "all well;" all of which is a first-class advertisement for Alice, and if she does not "star" the United States shortly she will neglect an opportunity.

The various kind of towing and spar torpedoes belonging to the Torpedo Station at Newport, Raode Island, and which have been on exhibition at the Philadelphia Centennial, have just been returned to the station. It was expected that they were to form a part of the permanent exhibition at that place. A new and improved Ericsson torpedo is being manufactured for the station at Delameter's Iron Works in New York.

Sweetser Brothers' and E. F. Bancroft & Co's shoe factories in Lynn were burned on Friday, with other buildings. Loss $100,000 to $125,000. Some 400 people are thrown out of employment by this fire.

Mrs. Eliza Strout, of Chelmsford Centre, Mass., died on Friday from hydrophobia.

On Friday, John E. Phair was respited until May 4th.

Correspondence.

Mr. Tilden's quo warranto is looming up and brings with it a positive relief from the monotonous discussions of South Carolina affairs to which we have been almost exclusively confined for the past three or four days, a period of time amply sufficient to exhaust all the knowledge—real or fancied—of thousands who never tire of advising the administration as to its duty in the premises, and bore every one they can induce to listen, by their tiresome utterances. From Washington gossip it appears that President Hayes is apprehensive that his competitor for the Presidential chair really contemplates a hostile movement upon him through the courts. The President's decision relative to the withdrawal of the troops from the State House at Columbia, appears to the average mind as a rather unstable foundation upon which to base a quo warranto looking to his ejectment from an office to which, it will of course allege, he was never elected; but the President is fully awake to the embarassing predicament in which he would place himself by a direct and absolute recognition of Nicholls in Louisiana; and if Mr. Tilden is waiting in ambush to take advantage of a mistake in that direction it would be a prudent provision for him to prepare for a long siege. Mr. Tilden hasn't all the smart lawyers on his side.

The South Carolina adjustment seems to be favorably received here; at least there is very little open condemnation heard, the unfavorable response which greeted the declaration of war made in the Senate when the Cabinet nominations were announced, having operated to make the disaffected, if there are any such, more cautious in their movements. It is generally felt that Mr. Chamberlain's fall fore-shadows a similar disaster to Mr. Packard in Louisiana. Such general acquiescence must not be accepted as an approval of the tactics which appear to have been resorted to in too many instances by the Hampton and Nicholls partizans during the campaign in their respective States; but the course decided upon in those two States is accepted with the sincere hope that through it a way will be found out of the troublesome complications surrounding the affairs of both, restoring honest governments, breaking down the color line and restoring their prosperity. But there will be exacted of Governors Hampton and Nicholls a rigid observance of their promises relative to the absolute protection of every citizen in their legal rights, regardless of their color or the nature of their politics; and just one instance of infraction of the pledges given, will provoke a storm of indignation from tens of thousands of influential and patriotic men who have accepted those gentlemen on trust, and their administrations will be closely scrutinized.

KNOX.

Political.

Gov. Hampton says he believes in the education of the colored people, but favors the idea of separate schools. He will recommend the establishment of two State colleges, one for the whites and one for the blacks.

Dr. Redfield, in one of his letters from Columbia, S. C., speaks of Gov. Chamberlain as being "conspicuously the one South Carolina republican who never used politics to make money."

That there is to be a general smash-up of parties in this country, there can be no question, and when the smash comes it will bring together men who have heretofore been widely opposed to each other.—Concord Patriot.

The Knoxville, Tenn., Chronicle puts the case in a nut-shell, thus: "The South wants population, but we cannot have it until the New England 'Yankee' is just as free to speak his political sentiments and express his views on all questions in Georgia and Tennessee as he is in Massachusetts."

Some of the richest men in this country are brewers, miners and stock-jobbers, and it is fair to infer from the very pursuits in which they are engaged that they are not men of that degree of culture which fits them to be statesmen. If such men are sent to Congress it is because they can buy up votes.—Boston Courier.

—Grover, of Oregon, wants an investigation; he is curious to know who "Gobble" is, and how he came to know so much about his business.

—Mrs. Partington says that just before the late war, circumstances were seen round the moon, nightly, shooting stars perambulated the earth, the desk of the sun was covered with black spots of ink, and comets swept the horizon with their operatic tales. Everybody said that it prefigated war, and sure enough war did come.

The Flow of Sap.

Some time ago, President Clarke of Amherst Agricultural College made up his mind that the maple sap from which sugar was made in the spring was laid up in the tree the year before. In order to find out if this was true, a maple tree, one December, having been gnyed so as to keep it upright, was sawed off near the ground, and the end of the trunk hermetically sealed with wax. Thus the tree stood until spring, when it was tapped and yielded its average amount of sugar, although the tree had been severed from its roots upwards of three months. A young maple was cut in the winter, brought into the green-house and tapped. It soon began to flow sap, and continued to do so for thirty-six hours, when the flow stopped. The tree was then taken out of doors and allowed to freeze again. Upon being brought back to the green-house, the sap resumed its flow and continued to do so as long as the alternate freezing and thawing processes were kept up.—Exchange.

REFORM CLUB.

At the quarterly election of the Reform Club, Thursday evening, the following named persons were elected for the ensuing quarter:

President. James Janvrin; Vice Presidents, John E. Roberts, Dennis Leary, Walter Costello, Joseph Hanscom, Wilbur I. Trafton, Caleb Currier, James Shea; Secretary, Mrs. S. A. Pickering; Treasurer, Sewall W. Webber; Chaplain, Wm. A. Loyne; Finance Committee, Charles W. Gardner, Joseph Pettigrew, James Sanborn; Ticket Seller, Augustus Ham; Ticket Takers, Benjamin Powell, Morris Tobey; Standard Bearer, James R. Eaton; Missionary, Wm. A Loyne. Corresponding Secretary, B. F. Thorndike.

POLICE COURT.

John Bly, for the larceny of three one-dollar bills and a dinner ticket from the money drawer of the Sailor's Home, Thursday, was sent to jail for two months and ordered to pay cost of $10.32. The ticket exposed the fellow.

For some time past Mr. William P. Walker, the prominent merchant tailor, has missed from his establishment many articles of gentlemen's furnishings, such as bows and cravats, suspenders, etc., also shirts, and a "whole piece" of fine cloth. On Tuesday, the 3d inst., the matter was put in the hands of Sheriff Kent; and the result was that on Friday Mr. Kent and Deputy Sheriff Gardner brought before the Police Court seven boys, (whose names we omit, hoping the disgraceful scrape they have have been caught in will be lesson enough for them,) from thirteen to nineteen years of age, five of whom were convicted of complicity in the stealing, sentence being suspended for one week to allow of communication with the County Solicitor. City Solicitor Hackett appeared for the prosecution, Ex-Judge Page for the defence. A considerable portion of the goods stolen was recovered.

In this connection we are specially requested to say that there are a number of boys' "club rooms" in the city, frequented by lads no older than the ones above referred to, (indeed, several of the boys arrested are members of one of these "clubs,") often till hours of the night when about all the men in the city, save those whose business requires them to be up, are in bed and asleep; and that this stealing scrape is considered, by the Sheriff's officers and police, as a legitimate and direct result of this permature club-room life. Further, if one or two of the clubs mentioned are not suddenly and radically reformed, several indictments will probably shortly be drawn up.

CITY AFFAIRS

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, Howe Call received leave to withdraw his claim for drawing up complaints.

City Marshal's quarterly report was read and referred.

Remonstrance of C. H. Mendum and others against the passage of the bill relating to the removal of night-soil was laid on the table.

Bond of James Moses, Collector of Taxes, was accepted.

Petition of C. E. Walker and others for sewer on Union and State streets was referred.

Communication relative to claim of Frederick E. Potter for damages to sleigh, was referred to committee; and one relative to claim of Harry J. Freeman was referred to Mayor, to report at next meeting.

Samuel Eastman's bill for new hose was ordered to be paid.

Committee on accounts reported the usual monthly bills, which were ordered to be paid; same committee reported bill of Dr. Jones without recommendation.

Ordered that the casings be removed from the drinking fountains, and the painting be deferred until an appropriation be made.

Olive W. Ham was granted use of Spalding school house for Sunday school concert.

The Common Council refused to concur in the Aldermen's amendment to ordinance relative to removing nightsoil.

Voted to exempt from taxation for a period of ten years from Jan. 1, 1877, any manufactory of any material whatever which may be located in this city, provided the capital invested shall exceed $5000.

Committee on schoolhouses were directed to put up partition in State street schoolhouse, to make recitation room.

Adjourned for two weeks.

JOTTINGS.

Col. Hackett will sell at noon to-day, stock in Mechanics and Traders Bank, in lots to suit buyers. See advertisement.

Rev. D. P. Pike, of Newburyport, will preach in the Court street Christian church on Sunday, at the usual hours, morning and afternoon. All are invited.

Schooner Superior, Capt. Isaac Coffin, from Wiscasset, Me., for Cape Ann, with a cargo of shooks, put into the lower harbor Thursday night, leaking badly, and brought up at the anchorage at Fort Point. The vessel is owned by William Lennox of Wiscasset, and the cargo by Isaac Hobson. She got ashore on Wood Island in coming into this harbor, which was the probable cause of her leaking, we are informed.

There was a very unusual sight at the South Millpond on Friday, in the shape of a large flock of gulls, fifty or more in number, sitting on the surface or flying about over it. It is said "the oldest inhabitant" never saw a large flock of gulls in the pond before. The appearance of sea fowl, gulls in particular, in inland waters, is generally regarded as portending a heavy storm.

A large amount of logs and timber is adrift outside the harbor, and considerable of it has been picked up by the residents at the Shoals, one party having secured over fifty sticks; a number of sticks have also been towed in by the fishermen out of this port. This timber is supposed to have been drifted along the coast by the easterly winds, having originally been swept out to sea by the freshets in the Maine rivers.

Steamer Clara Bateman towed the schooner Tannhauser from this port to Kennebunkport on Friday. The Tannhauser was from a southern port with a load of timber for shipbuilding, and put in here for a pilot early in the week.

H. H. Metcalf, of the Dover Press, last week issued the first number of a Magazine to be known as the Granite Monthly, and to be made up largely of matter of special interest to New Hampshire people, Historical, Biographical and Descriptive. Some of the best writers in the State will be among its contributors. The initial number contains a sketch of Hon. B. F. Prescott, Governor-elect, with portrait; an article on the early settlers of New Hampshire, by Prof. E. D. Sanborn; poem by Rev. Leander S. Coan, and several other articles by well known writers. The magazine is nicely printed on good paper, has thirty-two pages of reading matter, and will be furnished subscribers at $1.50 per annum; single copy, fifteen cents. If the subsequent issues are as meritorious as the initial number, the Granite Monthly will deserve hearty and good paying encouragement.

The music for the "Minuet," which Mr. Lamprey advertises to be taught in his next class, was composed in the year 1700, and has furnished the inspiration of the dances of the belles and beaux of many generations. It has also been used in the performance of the play "Paul Revere." Mr. Lamprey's new school opens in Congress Hall, April 14th, with instruction in the latest style of the terpsichorean art.

The old windmill which for forty years or more has been a prominent landmark on "windmill hill" in Hampton Falls, has been taken down. It sometime since ceased to be used for the purpose for which it was built.

Tourists will find the American House, Boston, a most convenient point from which to visit places of interest. It contains a large number of fine suites of rooms, which may be secured by post or telegraph by families travelling.

—The Norristown Herald has solved the conundrum, "Why was Washington like a newspaper man?" "Because he couldn't tell a lie."

—Half the fools in the United States think they can beat the doctors at curing the sick; two-thirds of them are sure they can beat the ministers preaching the gospel; and all of them know they can beat the editors running the newspapers.

—"Do you know what bulldozing is?" asked a man of an old farmer. "I thought I did," said the Granger,—"but the bull wasn't dozing. He was only making believe, and being in the middle of a forty acre lot, I naturally had to make pretty quick time to reach the fence ahead of him."

—When the Earl of B— was brought before Lord Loughborough, to be examined upon an application for a statute of lunacy against him, the Chancellor asked him, "How many legs has a sheep?" "Does your lordship mean," said B—, "a live sheep or a dead one?" "Is it not the same thing?" answered the Chancellor. "No, my lord," said Lord B—, "there is much difference; a live sheep has four, a dead one but two—there are but two legs of mutton, the others are shoulders."

—Felix Adolphe, a French barber, cut his throat after writing the following death song: "I loved, hoped, and believed. To-day I doubt, despair, and hate. My heart has been killed; let my body be so likewise. I exercise the only liberty that God has given to man, and that society can not deprive him of, viz., that of destroying himself. I was born with a taste for literature, and my parents made me a barber. I was married to a good and handsome woman, but jealous fate deprived me of her. Accursed be man, accursed be the earth. I deliver my body to the worms, my hatred to the infernal spirits, and expire!"

—A young man who had a claim of $50 to collect, took it to a lawyer. The latter upon inquiring, no sooner heard that his client's name was George Jones, than he seized him by the hand, fervently shook it, exclaiming, "My dear fellow how fortunate you are! Why, I knew your father well; in fact, he was my first client. I shall take particular pains for you in this matter." A few days later the young man received a note from the lawyer informing him that the collection had been made. He called upon him, and was handed a roll of bills. As he was counting them the lawyer reiterated his remarks about the young man's good fortune in coming to him who knew his father, etc. The young man, however, looked anything but happy, for he found but $15 in the roll. The lawyer, noticing this, said, "Why, my dear fellow, what seems to be troubling you?" "Oh, nothing," the young man replied, "nothing. I was only thinking how lucky I am that you didn't know my grandfather."

A Guinea is Scarce Yellower

Than the complexion of a person becomes who omits to regulate his liver when that important gland grows neglectful of its secretive function. Moreover, the stomach under such circumstances becomes disordered, the bowels are constricted, pains in the side and between the shoulder blades are felt, the head aches, and the nervous system shares in the general derangement. This concatenation of evils is, however, easily remedied by that matchless regulating tonic, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which insures the secretion and flow of healthy bile, acts gently but effectually upon the bowels, and removes every symptom of nervous or digestive trouble. The result is that renewed tone is given to the entire system; the sallow, haggard appearance of the face to which biliousness gives rise is superseded by the glow of health, and the frame gains in substance as well as vigor.

The Glory of Woman

Is a fine set of teeth as well as a fine head of hair. How the enamel glistens after a good brushing with fragrant SOZODONT! Nothing destructive to the teeth can exist on the surface or at the roots, if this vegetable antidote to corrosion is duly applied.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevailing sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the causes of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over some places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If need be, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!

Convenient alike to the business centre and the best resident portion of Philadelphia, and conducted as a model first-class hotel, the COLONNADE has achieved a deserved and enduring popularity.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, will sustain its well-merited popularity, and earn greater, by the sensible reduction of its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

A great discovery of more value than gold—Adamson's Botanic Balsam for all diseases of the throat and lungs. It seldom fails to cure. Price 35 cents.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION.

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has become almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvelous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its result.

—When Senator David Davis wants a new suit of clothes, he sends a slim friend around and gets the tailor's terms. Then he appears on the scene and the tailor has his choice to back down on his contract or go ahead into utter bankruptcy.

—"The baby has got a new tooth, but the old lady is laid up with a cold in the head," remarked a gentleman to a defeated candidate. "What do I care?" was the reply. "Well," said the gentleman, slowly, "before the election, you used to take me aside and ask me how my family was coming on, and I've been hunting you all over town to tell you, and that's the way you talk to me. But it don't make any difference. I voted for the other candidate, anyhow."

—Postmaster James of New York pays the postage on letters deposited in the Post Office without the necessary stamps, and forwards them to their address, with a circular letter informing the receiver of the letter of his action. From 411 letters thus forwarded, during the last three months, he has received 251 responses enclosing the postage and thanking him for the courtesy. He is thus out of pocket about $5 in a quarter, or $20 a year. One grateful person some time ago sent the Postmaster $10 for "the Careless Fund," out of gratitude for a valuable letter forwarded to him.

ESTABLISHED IN 1853.

THE OLDEST ESTABLISHED HOSPITAL

—IN THE—
UNITED STATES.
No. 9 Beaver Street, - - - Albany, N. Y
SURE CURES AND LOW PRICES.

Dr. YOUNG,
SUCCESSOR TO
Dr. TELLER,
DECEASED.

The above named private Hospital was established in Albany in 1825 by Dr. Lindemund and for a number of years its affairs were presided over by that gentleman, but for the past 20 years, Dr. Teller, who is now deceased, transacted the business of the Institution.

Owing to the great demand for more spacious apartments on account of the large increase of business, the Hospital has been removed to No. 9 Beaver Street, two doors above its old location, where patients will find magnificently furnished rooms for their reception, and are so arranged that patients do not come in contact with one another, seeing only the doctor, thereby avoiding the unpleasantness of meeting strangers, which always occurred at the old office.

Ladies will find rooms provided for their especial accommodation and entirely private.

YOUNG MEN, addicted to secret habits, who have impaired their health and destroyed the vigor of their minds, thus depriving themselves of the pleasures of married life and also those afflicted with private diseases of any nature, are advised that in consulting Dr. Young they will find a physician fully qualified to cure and restore them to full health and manly vigor.

Dr. Teller's great work for the married, or those contemplating marriage—200 pages—full of plates—price 25 cents. Sent to all parts, under seal, by mail post paid.

TO THE LADIES—DR. YOUNG still retains the only agency in America for the sale of Dr. Vichot's Italian Female Monthly Pills. Sent by mail on receipt of $1.00, price per box.

DR. YOUNG is the only agent for Dr. La Mott's celebrated Galvanic Belts.

Invalids out of the city can be cured by consulting Dr. Doctor by letter, and enclosing remittance. Medicines sent by mail or express, securely packed from observation. All letters must be addressed to COMMENCED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the same money by numbers of most expensive books devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

DR. QUAIN'S
MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken only package of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $2.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indivised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, and I did not need them, for he has not been an free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twenty years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could not get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for about the last five winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case as worse and more stubborn than they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. T. M. Morris, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to one also to Mrs. Laura Sherer, Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who meet them. Please send me five packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Scientific and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While it contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and obtained for me hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. Have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.
Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER,
BOSTON, January 1, 1871. 3tawtjan1

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the industrial arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. Sold by all of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest established business in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Model of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are thus kept before the public, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice.

A Pamphlet, containing full direction for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Decisions of the U. S., and 140 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative arguments of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is always learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no effort will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to pre-ent in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the same distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it castaloftly and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with the errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice and rights to all classes at the ballot, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Sketches, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which reaches them."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Including Commercial, Daily and weekly it almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. Farmer and Grower, Miller and Other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the educated people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded its independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and is constantly received from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to commend what is beyond praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future promise is bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. Its common reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and pleasant the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless due to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present, with the utmost practicable completeness, able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages it represents the choicest and most eminent authors as Prof. MAX MULLER, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Moloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Alfred Austin, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the reading of both books and periodicals, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and any one magazine or the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The new volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

In the House Fifty Years Ago.

A large, fine-looking man, of commanding presence, is the Speaker, and arraigned before him, in the custody of the sergeant-at-arms, is a tall man of more than six feet and finely proportioned; in the prime of life, with personal advantages scarcely rivaled by any notable man of his day, dressed in faultless style, with not the least of defiance or swagger, yet with perfect ease, self-possession and calm dignity, the culprit stands at the bar of the House awaiting the reprimand which the House has decreed shall be administered to him by the Speaker. The House is a study; breathless silence reigns; the members are looking on in eager interest; the bearing of the culprit makes sympathy and everything of the sort impossible, while that of the Speaker makes it difficult in the extreme for some of the representatives to restrain themselves from violating the decorum of the House by laughing outright; the Speaker is by far the most embarrassed man upon the scene, suggesting the idea that he is the one to be punished rather than the one to administer punishment. In a hesitating, perturbed manner, he at length tells the culprit that the House has ordered that he should be reprimanded before its bar by its Speaker; and he [the Speaker] begs him [the culprit] to consider himself reprimanded according to the said order; the culprit bows in a graceful and dignified, almost lordly manner, an almost audible smile spreads over the House, and the scene closes. The Speaker is Andrew Stevenson of Virginia, and the culprit is Samuel Houston. A member from Ohio, named Stanberry, we believe, had accused Houston of defrauding the government in a transaction with an Indian tribe upon the Tennessee border; the latter had demanded an investigation but had been unable to obtain any satisfaction. Smarting under the charge and despairing of legal redress, he at last gave the accuser a severe caning within the precincts of the capitol. Of course, the House could not do otherwise than arraign the caner, and a reprimand was the least penalty it could adjudge him.

Potter's Monthly.

James Parton's Baby.

It is stated that "Mr. James Parton is rejoicing over his first baby." Parton? Parton? Yes, we remember, now. Mr. Parton married Fanny Fern. Was her third husband. And when she died he married her daughter—his step-daughter. But he could not endure the idea of being a stepfather. It was repugnant to his feelings. So he married her and then discovered the laws of the State did not recognize such marriages, and asked the law-makers to make a little law for him, but they refused, and he moved off the premises without notifying the landlord, since which time we had not heard of him until this baby reminded us of these things. But what bothers us now is to fix Mr. Parton's relationships—to that baby. In the first place, ought we to call him a father or grandfather? Because it is his child and his grandchild. But if that baby is his grandchild and Parton is its father, bless us, Parton must be brother to himself? That is quite clear. And if Parton is his own brother, why, then he must be uncle to that baby. That follows of course. And if he is uncle to that baby his wife must be its aunt. Why, there is no end to this confusion. Of course Mrs. Parton can't be aunt and mother at the same time. The idea is absurd. We see now where we were in error. The exact relationship may be stated thus: Parton is a father and—is it a half or fourth grandfather! No matter; call it a half. Consequently that baby is—. Now, Fanny Fern took him as her third husband, and Parton's present wife being her daughter, and not his, that daughter's baby is no kin to him. That sounds absurd, too; very. Allowing it is Parton's child to begin with. Parton is its father, and he is just as much its grandfather, unless it is the intention not to permit the poor thing to have any grandfather at all. Now if it is his grandchild, and he was Fanny Fern's third husband, and this baby is the child of her daughter, every time he takes it on his knee—it couldn't possibly be twins, could it? No, that isn't it. Yet there does appear to be two generations in that one baby somehow. The idea of dandling two generations on one knee! That is the most ridiculous idea of all. Why, if that child were really Fanny Fern's daughter's child, and Parton was third husband to Fanny, and father to her daughter now, it aint possible Parton could pick himself up and dandle himself on his own knee. This is the most serious matrimonial complication we ever tried to solve. We are unable to do more than crack the shell; the real kernel appears to be shrouded in complications as numerous as the folds enwrapping an Egyptian mummy. We are afraid to pursue the subject any further, lest the horrible suspicion that dawns upon us that baby should prove to be Parton's father should be verified. As it is, we think it ought not to be Parton's father.—Pittsburg Chronicle.

Daily Chronicle.

MONDAY, APRIL 9, 1877.

A Republican Defeat.

On Monday, the 2d inst., the Boston Post said:

"News from Rhode Island is decidedly favorable to the success of the democratic candidate for Governor, Hon. J. B. Barnaby, at the election on Wednesday."

As the Post was even more sanguine regarding the democratic prospects in New Hampshire just before our State election—and in fact always talks that way just before any election—nobody paid any especial attention to what it said. Now, after the election, the Post says:

"The defeat of Hon. J. B. Barnaby in Rhode Island is to be regretted. But the result is also a defeat for the republican party."

Let's see just about how much of a republican "defeat" the Rhode Island election resulted in. Two years ago the republican candidate for governor of that State lacked 2775 votes of an election; one year ago the republican candidate lacked 2888 votes of an election; this year the republican candidate is elected by a plurality of over seven hundred, and a clean majority of between four and five hundred. Yet the governor ran far behind his ticket, owing to the liquor interest going solid in favor of the democratic candidate,—the highest majority on the republican ticket being 4456, only 600 less than Hayes had over Tilden. And this, too, in face of the fact that Mr. Barnaby at the last moment paid the registration fees of all delinquent democrats, amounting to many thousands of dollars, while of the republicans—according to the New York World correspondent—at least 5000 neglected to pay their registration fees until it was too late, and thereby lost their votes. The republicans don't care how often the democrats give them such "defeats" as at this Rhode Island election.

Civil Service Reform.

The Concord People of the 5th says: "We have just completed our compilation of the vote on the Constitutional Amendments, as returned to us by the town clerks, and find that they are all carried but the first and twelfth. The seventh is carried by the bare figure—thirty-two." The twelfth amendment is the one prohibiting the removal of officials for political reasons; so it seems "civil service reform" is not popular in this State, at least one third of all the voters on the question voting against it. It is an odd comment on the professions of both political parties in their National platforms, their State platforms, and their party press. The following was the "civil service reform" plank in the National democratic platform:

"Reform is necessary in the civil service. Experience proves that efficient economical conduct of the governmental business is not possible if its civil service be subject to change at every election, be a prize fought for at the ballot-box, be a brief reward of party zeal instead of posts of honor assigned for proved competency and held for fidelity in the public employ; that the dispensing of patronage should neither be a tax upon the time of all our public men nor the instrument of their ambition. Here again, professions falsified in the performance attest that the party in power can work out no practical or salutary reform."

This plank was made much of by the democratic press during the Tilden campaign, the unquestionable fact that making office a "reward of party zeal" was a democratic invention and has always been acted on to the extreme by the democratic party, having been entirely ignored. Yet when the question came up in some kind of a practical form, the democracy voted heavily against it,—for it was democratic votes defeated the proposed amendment, if it is really defeated.

News and Notes.

Orville D. Jewett, the second victim of the New York explosion, had five bullets in his body, four of them having been fired from above and one (a bullet that fitted his own revolver) from a level with the wound made. It is believed that the hand grenade was exploded against the ceiling, the four small bullets coming from that, and that young Jewett afterwards shot himself again, with his revolver; he served on Gen. Banks' staff during the war, and is believed to have been insane. Dean, the only living witness of the tragedy, refuses to give any information.

Mr. J. P. Stimson of Vinal Haven, Me., who served as a soldier through the war, left his house Wednesday with a piece of rope in his hand, went to Lane's Island and applied to Mr. Lane for work. Not obtaining it, he expressed a determination to go to the southeastern part of the island. In the afternoon a young man gunning on that part of the island found Mr. Stimson's pocketbook and a note to a comrade requesting to be buried under arms.

Schooner E. Neilson was robbed by river pirates in Cow Bay, R. I., Thursday night, of clothing, money and ship's instruments, valued at $1800. The vessel was at anchor, and was boarded by the pirates in a boat.

Mr. Jennings telegraphs the New York World from London that Oakey Hall is not accompanied by any woman, that he can hear of, and seems like an utterly broken down and disheartened man. Mr. Jennings thinks his flight solely due to the "ever recurring spectre of his alleged complicity in the Ring frauds."

The following sentences were pronounced by Judge Barrett at Newfane, Vt., Court, Friday: Solon A. Wooley, for the murder of his brother at Grafton last October, State Prison for life; Harrison M. Townshend, for causing the burning of Asa H. Stratton's buildings at West Dummerston last March, twenty years; Edmund Stone for same offence, twelve years;—— Hurd, for stealing a watch, two years. Jessie H. Lewis, who was convicted of the murder of Albert W. Deming, was not sentenced, exceptions having been taken to the Judge's ruling which will undoubtedly result in a new trial.

It is announced that the United States steamer Plymouth, Captain Edward Barrett commanding, has been ordered to ascend the Mississippi river as far as Vicksburg, visiting the adjacent cities for the purpose of exhibiting a man-of-war in a section where they are rarely seen.

Two married men of Danby, Vt., have recently "swapped" wives.

The publication of John P. Phair's statement in Friday morning's Boston Globe was the occasion of his reprieve. Mr. M. D. Downing, of the Boston Novelty Co., on reading the article was convinced that he sat in the car-seat with Phair at the time he said he was travelling from Providence to Boston; he hurried to the Globe office and the office of the chief of police, told his story, the telegraph was set at work all over Vermont, Gov. Fairbanks was found at St. Johnsbury at a quarter past one o'clock, and at 1:36, twenty-four minutes before the hour set for Phair's execution, a reprieve was telegraphed to Rutland.

The steamers Bristol and Providence, of the Fall River line, which have been laid up at Newport all winter, will be ready to resume their place on the line at an early day. They have undergone extensive improvements at the probable expense of about $50,000 for each boat. During the winter no less than 400 workmen were in the employ of the company in making the improvements.

A few weeks ago Gov. Fairbanks of Vermont pardoned a man who was incarcerated in Addison county jail for intoxication, but the fellow changed his mind and destroyed the pardon, saying that he was not going to leave his present quarters until the weather was warmer and there was a better chance of getting a living outside. Another pardon has been sent to the jailer, and the man will be ousted from his warm nest.

The body of Mr. J. P. Stinson of Vinalhaven, Me., before reported as having probably committed suicide, was found Thursday with a heavy stone fastened to the neck. A letter left by Stinson gives the causes for the act, but Mr. Vinal, to whom the letter is addressed, thinks best not to make them public.

The Seal Rock House at Ferry Beach, Saco, was burned Friday night. A capsized lamp did the mischief.

All the five bullets found in the body of Orville D. Jewett are accounted for; four of them were fired from a small Sharpe's revolver, and the fifth from a Colt's navy. Every bullet penetrated a vital part, and yet the man lived for some hours after. The coroner's theory is that young Jewett exploded the hand grenade to kill his partners, and was shot to death by them—or one of them—in return.

New Hampshire Items.

Seventy thousand trout have been hatched at a fishery in New Hampton, the past winter.

A son of Judge Fessett of Nashua, a little more than eight years of age, weighs 115 pounds.

The coming session of the Legislature will probably be a long one. It must provide laws for the enforcement of the new Constitution as well as the usual legislation. It is reported that one or two railroad fights may be on the docket as well as serious town questions.

Alfred Godfrey, a well-known citizen, and one of the wealthiest farmers in Hillsboro county, died at his residence near Nashua Friday of Bright's disease.

The committee in charge of the recent levee in North Hampton gave one-half of the proceeds therefrom, one hundred dollars, to Stephen B. Tarlton, who lost a leg by having it crushed under the cars last fall. The other half went to the recently-organized Flute and Drum Corps in that town.

The Grand Jury in the Supreme Court at Concord presented thirty-three indictments Thursday. Among them were nine for selling spiritous liquors and seven for keeping liquors for sale.

Semi-annual interest of three per cent. is being paid to the stockholders of the Nashua and Rochester Railroad by the Worcester & Nashua Railroad Company at the Indian Head National Bank at Nashua.

Thursday afternoon George Blanchard, an employe of D. Whiting & Sons at Milton backed up his team to get a load of wood, and, stepping off, slipped and struck a circular saw, which took off his right foot.

Mr. J. W. Smart, of Newmarket, is building at that place a schooner of about twenty-five tons burthen, for Capt. Parsons of Gloucester, Mass., who will command her. She is intended for fishing; is forty-two feet keel, fifty feet over all, sixteen feet beam, and five feet nine inches depth of hold. Mr. Smart has built at Newmarket within a year two other vessels,—a steam tug, and the schooner Lucy, capsized last season off Gloucester, in a squall.

Mrs. James Mahar's house and barn in Keene were burned Saturday. Loss $1000; insured $800.

—A Mrs. Bachelder of Scottsville, Va., married at the age of thirteen years, and a year afterwards gave birth to a daughter, who also married at the age of thirteen. A few days ago a son was born to the latter, making Mrs. Bachelder a grandmother at the age of twenty-eight years.

—The St. Louis Globe-Democrat dryly remarks that "there seems to be a disposition in that city to remove the political disabilities hitherto imposed upon citizens who have the misfortune to be born in America."

JOTTINGS.

Schoolcraft and Coes' Minstrels at Franklin Hall this evening. The company is a large one, and gave a most satisfactory entertainment in Dover on Saturday evening. Reserved seat tickets can be had at Franklin Bazaar; see advertisement.

C. N. Shaw & Co., having decided not to have a set "Spring opening" this year, as they have for many years past, announce that on and after April 12th they will be prepared to display to their patrons an array of trimmed hats and bonnets, and all seasonable goods in their line, which will compare favorably with any they have shown in past seasons. The reputation of the firm is such that this announcement is all that is necessary to draw those who dout on "a love of a bonnet" to their store, No. 3 Market street, as soon as the Spring goods are opened.

The New York Star Alliance, Female Minstrels and "Cabout Dancers" give an entertainment at Franklin Hall to-morrow evening.

Orders were received at the Navy Yard on Friday to discharge all hands in Construction and Steam Engineering Departments, except the time clerks.

The Appledore House, at the Shoals, has been wonderfully improved in appearance during the past winter by the addition of the new wing and a thorough painting of the whole huge building, or pile of buildings.

Rev. J. F. Bingham, D. D., formerly Rector of St. John's church in this city, and more recently Assistant Minister of St. John's church in Waterbury, Conn., has been elected to the Rectorship of the Waterbury parish, made vacant by the death of the former Rector.

Hon. Marcellus Eldredge will shortly remove the buildings on the lot of land on Cornwall street, adjoining his new residence, and erect a fine stable there to correspond with the house.

George E. Hodgdon, Esq., of this city, is shortly to remove to West Virginia, to engage in the lumber business.

Parties at Winthrop, near Lynn, Mass., on visiting the beach Friday morning, found abundant evidences of a wreck in the shape of the timbers and planking of some small vessel, and a quarter-board bearing the name "Queen of the Bay." From the size and shape of the timbers the wrecked vessel was supposed to have been a South Shore fisherman, and it was thought all the crew must have perished, though no bodies were found. This wreck stuff was evidently from the "Queen of the Bay" and "Flying Fish," lost on Newburyport bar March 29th; and the fact that the former vessel did not go to pieces until April 3d, and her quarter-board was picked up at Lynn, on the other side of the Cape, on the 6th, shows how strong the westerly set of the current has been recently. Fishermen out of this port say the current has set stronger to the westward during the past week than for years previously.

Jordan & Cutts, plumbers, of Taunton, Mass., were burned out on Thursday night, their loss being about $4500, with no insurance. Mr. John S. Cutts, formerly of this city, is the junior member of the firm, having left here some two years or more ago to engage in business in Taunton.

Messrs. J. E. Ham & Co., at No. 27 Market street, advertise a full line of all the goods kept in a first-class merchant tailors establishment, which they will make up according to the fashions or to suit the tastes of their patrons at reasonable rates; also shirts at all prices, gentlemen's furnishing goods, etc., in great variety.

On Monday, April 2d, the fishing schooner Mary Roundy, of Lanesville, Capt. Gilbert L. Stevens, picked up off the Shoals a pair of pants in one of the pockets of which was found $1.72, several business cards of Boston houses and of parties on Deer Island, also a money receipt signed by A. Beck written upon a letterhead of Pitcher, Flitner & Co., 209 Commercial street, Boston. No owner has yet been discovered.

Col. William H. Hackett on Saturday sold at auction fifteen shares in the National Mechanics & Traders' Bank for $110 per share, Mr. Justin V. Hanscom being the purchaser.

Dearborn & Co., who last year commenced the manufacture of wrought-iron furnaces in the old Came Carriage Factory on Hanover street, finding their business has grown too extensive for their present quarters, have leased the large building on Charles street owned by Mr. B. F. Webster, and are fitting it up for immediate occupation.

The old Akerman house, on Islington street, was sold on Saturday for $25, to be removed. Capt. Jacob Haddock was the purchaser.

Schooner Leonessa, Capt. Achorn, arrived at this port on Saturday from Charleston, S. C., with a cargo of yellow pine for the new ship now building at Kittery for Capt. Marcy and others.

At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Mercantile Library Association, held Friday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing term: President, William H. Sise; Vice President, William A. Hodgdon; Secretary, Albert H. Sides; Treasurer and Librarian, William C. Robinson; Directors, Charles A. Hazlett, Thomas H. Odion, Floren Barri, C. Morris Tredick, Frank L. Pryor, Charles H. Marston. Adjourned until next Friday evening, when the Association will consider the feasibility of celebrating their twenty-fifth anniversary.

The Woman's Temperance League have elected the following officers for the ensuing quarter: President, Mrs. John A. Goss; Vice Presidents, Mrs. Alfred W. Haven, Mrs. Freeman F. Sanborn; Recording Secretary, Miss Garrie E. Randall; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. B. F. Thorndike; Treasurer, Mrs. A. L. White; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. Samuel Taylor; Pianist, Miss Florence Edgerly; Trustees (for the year,) Mrs. Joseph Grace, Mrs. Joseph M. Edmonds, Mrs. Andrew J. Beck. This society is in a very flourishing condition, and increases weekly in numbers and interest. All ladies interested are invited to join. The meetings, in Grange Hall, are free to all.

Lieut. Comdr. Richard P. Leary is detached from the U. S. S. Adams, and ordered to the Enterprise as executive officer.

No lack of entertainments in Portsmouth, this week. Monday evening, Schoolcraft & Coes' Minstrels; Tuesday evening, New York Star Alliance & Female Minstrels; Thursday (Fast Day) evening, "Ten Nights in a Barroom," by Portsmouth Dramatic Club; Friday evening, Berger Family, and Sol Smith Russell; Saturday evening, Tyler & Furbish's Dramatic Company.

The annual examination of the seveaal Grammar Schools will take place this week, as follows: Monday afternoon, Mr. John Durgin's school at the Academy; Tuesday forenoon, the Haven school under Mr. Hamilton Perkins; Friday forenoon, the Hanover street school under Mr. Charles E. Buzzell.

POLICE COURT.

Saturday, April 7th.

Horatio G. Twombly, adjudged a common drunkard, was sentenced to sixty days at the County Farm and to pay $6.90 costs.

Mrs. Ellen C. Gordon (otherwise known as Kate Emery) was arraigned for shoplifting, she having stolen a piece of veil stuff from the millinery store of C. N. Shaw & Co., No. 3 Market street. She acknowledged the theft, pleading that she was drunk at the time and was now repentant; fined $5, costs $8.04; will probably work it out at Brentwood.

ERRORS CORRECTED.

The Boston Post of a recent date contained the following item, which has been copied into about all the New Hampshire and Maine papers:

"The house of the Misses Barrell at York contains all the original furniture, books, paintings, etc., with which it was furnished by Judge Jonathan Sayward in 1713, whose full length portrait, with that of his wife, adorn the walls; also the full length portrait of their daughter Sarah at the age of twenty-three, painted by Blackburn, a pupil of Copley. The latter was painted at Charlestown in 1716, says an inscription on the back."

Capt. Nathaniel G. Marshall, of York, who is a keen and accurate antiquarian, writes the Biddeford Journal in correction of some errors in the Post's item, as follows:

"Judge Jonathan Sayward was not born until Nov. 9, 1713; his daughter Sarah was not born until Jan. 22, 1738; the portrait of Sarah was not painted until 1761, and has, not 'on the back' of it, but on its face, only this, 'I. Blackburn, 1761.' Judge Sayward married Sarah Mitchell, daughter of Roger and Sarah Mitchell of Kittery, November, 1736. Sarah Sayward was an only child, and married Nathaniel Barrell of Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 23, 1758, who, after the marriage, resided and died in York, in the mansion house now occupied by his grandson, Charles C. Barrell, Esq. I have been told, and believe it to be true, that the portraits were painted at the house of the Judge, now occupied by the Misses Barrell, his granddaughters. Sarah's first child was born Oct. 1st, 1759, and I very much doubt if she left her growing family cares, for she had 'lots of 'em,' and went to Charlestown to have her portrait painted. Had she been unmarried it might have been otherwise."

—In looking over the property left by the late Mrs. Charles Q. Clapp, of Portland, the heirs discovered carefully packed away, a very handsome china service, that formerly belonged to the unfortunate Marie Antoinette, Queen of France, presented to the late Mme. Wingate by Gen. Lafayette, after his visit to Portland.

—That "splendid bass voice" with which President Hayes is said to have sung "Coronation" at church one Sunday, the Ohio State Journal pronounces a myth: "Hayes can't sing any more than a canal-boat. He stampeded Averill's whole cavalry division once trying to sing 'John Brown's Body.' They thought it was the long roll."

—Princess Tizianof and other Russian ladies of good family are zealous promoters of socialism. These fair conspirators disguise themselves in the garb of the peasantry and enter manufactories as simple workgirls, and that not for the mere whim of a few days. They pass whole months in this rude labor, walking with bare feet, filling the commonest offices of servants, and using every effort to conceal their origin. No sacrifice appears to them too great for the end which they have in view; they give their fortunes, and if they have a stake in the paternal heritage which is detained by their parents, they do not hesitate to resort to a fictitious marriage in order to obtain it, so that it may be handed over to the community.

Political.

The Washington correspondents of the democratic papers having asserted that Congressman Ewitt of Pennsylvania had written a letter to Garfield saying he would sooner vote for Randall than Garfield for Speaker of the House, Mr. Ewitt comes out with a letter to the press flatly denying the whole story. Next.

The workingmen of Ottowa, Montreal and other Canadian cities are starving, and calling on the government to aid them with work. This lamentable state of affairs is astonishing, when it is considered that Grant has not been President of Canada, that that country has no war debt and no "ruinous protective tariff," and that it has specie payments and "free trade in ships" and ship-building materials.

A Healthy Town.

Few towns are more generally healthy than the little township of Claremont, N. H. Epidemics and prevalling sickness of any kind are almost unknown here, which is accounted for by rapid streams, entire exemption from fogs, and the coolness of them, pure water, and the generally comfortable condition and regular habits of the people. And yet in any town in New England there are those who are subject to all diseases of the Throat and Lungs. In this particular, Claremont has an advantage over other places, in having a home remedy for these dread evils, in Dr. A. J. Flagg's Cough and Lung Syrup Manufactory. Here is prepared a Syrup acknowledged by thousands as a sure and permanent cure for all throat and lung diseases. Go to your Druggists after it! Keep it in your house! If need be, carry it in your pocket! Try it!! Try it!!

Convenient alike to the business centre and the best resident portion of Philadelphia, and conducted as a model first-class hotel, the COLONNADE has achieved a deserved and enduring popularity.

Dr. A. J. Flagg's

COUGH & LUNG SYRUP.

A Safe and Sure Remedy.

The Cough and Lung Syrup

Is the remedy that during the past fifteen years has won for DR. FLAGG an extended reputation as a SPECIALIST for THROAT and LUNG Diseases. After so many years trial it can be truthfully said that it has NEVER FAILED, even in the WORST CASES. It is purely Vegetable, and its effect upon the system is at once Soothing and Tonic.

It Will Cure a Common Cold

In a few hours, not by drying it up, but by removing it from the system. TRY IT.

It will CURE a Chronic Cough, by soothing the irritated parts, and strengthening the system.

IT WILL CURE CONSUMPTION,

Even after all other remedies have failed. In the earlier stages of this disease it will effect a speedy and certain cure; and in many cases of advanced Consumption its effect has seemed almost miraculous, restoring to full strength and perfect health those whom physicians had given up as incurable. TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE CATARRH

More effectually than any other remedy, by simply removing the cause. TRY IT.

It will Cure Bronchitis, by allaying all irritation of the Throat. TRY IT.

It will Cure Asthma, affording immediate relief and a perfect cure. TRY IT.

It Will Cure Ulcerated Sore Throat.

TRY IT.

IT WILL CURE Loss of Voice, Night Sweats, Hectic Fever, AND ALL Symptoms of Consumption. TRY IT.

For every affection of the Throat and Lungs it only needs a trial to convince the most skeptical of its wonderful curative properties.

Remember that it

CURES COLDS,
CURES COUGHS,
CURES CATARRH,
CURES CONSUMPTION.

DR. WM. M. LADD, a leading Druggist of Claremont, certifies as follows:

For many years I have known Dr. A. J. Flagg as a successful practicing physician, and can assure the public that his representations relative to the Cough and Lung Syrup can be strictly relied upon. It has been used in his extended practice with marvellous success, and I know it to be all that he claims for it.

CLAREMONT, N. H., September, 1875.

DR. FLAGG My Dear Sir: Your Cough and Lung Syrup has proved a great benefit to me, giving relief from severe Coughs and Soreness of the Lungs, when all other remedies and physicians had failed. I have never taken a medicine more pleasant to the taste or more satisfactory in its results.

Daily Chronicle.

—A man in Troy got a pistol cartridge mixed up with his smoking tobacco, and has had to get a new clay pipe and a blue-glass eye.

—Both genuine and counterfeit nickels go under the same good motto, "In God we trust." It is just so, too, with genuine and counterfeit Christians.

—An article in Temple Bar Magazine informed us that "the chief jockey of 1876 received more for his efforts of horsemanship than did my Lord Beaconsfield for carrying on the Queen's Government." According to the writer it has been calculated that Fred Archer acquired last year no less a sum in retainers, fees, and presents than eight thousand seven hundred and forty pounds sterling.

—The other night, says the Virginia Chronicle, Billy Robinson, who is about the most expert man on the Comstock with the cue, was sitting in Spalding's saloon when a green-looking stranger came in and challenged him to a game. This suited Billy, and taking the lead he ran the game out without a break. Then all the boys laughed at the gawky-looking stranger, who was discomfitted. "Want 'nother game?" said Robinson. "Well, don't care if I do, if ye gimme the first shot." The stranger made the first shot, jawed the balls, and then, running the game out, kept right on playing. The boys didn't laugh so much at the stranger now. He ran his points right along until he had struck his third game, and then Billy remarked: "Hold on; I ain't paying for you to practice all the afternoon," and so the stranger was accommodating enough to let up.

MAGIC
CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years and Four. I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for 2½ years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels, have suffered all the pain I could endure and live, have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.
Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 23, 1875
MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.
Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.
JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.
MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I induced him to get some of your Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not send them, and he has not been at free from the Rheuma to Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.
Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.
MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I often do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I at a trial many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time, and tried almost everything, I had heard of, and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most the time. The physicians pronounced my case the worst case of Neuralgia they had had anything to do with. One cold me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and the night that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through your advertisement I got Dr. M. Quain's, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if you pain will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to the above case to Mrs. Laura Sherrill Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.
Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.
THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable from my wife within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend these Pills to all who meet them. Please send two more packages, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of these Pills.
MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative we could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before we was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,
Croup,
Diphtheria,
Asthma, etc.,
— USE —
Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

1877.
ECLECTIC MAGAZINE
OF
FOREIGN LITERATURE.
THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving (usually a portrait)—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Mechanics, Manufactures, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings, of new Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; combining a weekly record, not only of the progress of the industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Mechanics, Farmers, Merchants, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving full rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Model of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice.

A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a 96 page work, containing all the laws and decisions relating to the Patent Laws, Census of the U.S., and 182 engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 cents.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its editorial characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Evening Post and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general contributions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes" and "Robert Falconer."

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with the country and its people from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

For Sale by all Book and Newsdealers.

PRICE, 25 CENTS.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the friend of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with certain Republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith and equal justice to all classes as the Star which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE Has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever entered."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. Cattle, Grain, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. Its contributors and editorial corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that position which may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is no disgrace to the most eminent to praise." The traits of its long-ago attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the goodly hour of prosperity settled around its later and better years.—Brooklyn Eagle.
